Wilson to Appoint Wage Board.

President Says Settlement is Contingent Upon Bill for Roads Return.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—President Wilson has today telegraphed [illegible] A. E. Barker of the [illegible] of Maintenance-of-Way [illegible] asking him to take "at [illegible] necessary steps to withdraw [illegible] strike order, and to make sure [illegible] no interruption whatever to [illegible] occurs on that account [illegible] this critical period."

[illegible] employees' representatives have agreed to accept the recommendations of President Wilson [illegible] their wage demands in [illegible].

President Wilson informed the [illegible] of his intention to appoint a [illegible] of wage experts to go [illegible] into their claims. On [illegible] the union leaders agreed [illegible] further demands for increased wages and called a convention of their general committeemen [illegible] held in Washington February [illegible].

The union leaders' reply to the President's proposal to handle the [illegible] in this manner did not [illegible] question finally. They made [illegible] that they desired word from [illegible] who are in closer touch with [illegible] membership than they, the [illegible] who have been conferring [illegible] Director-General Hines since [illegible] 1.

[illegible] ON RAIL BILL.

[illegible] President set forth these [illegible] covering the manner in [illegible] grievances of the unions [illegible] dealt with:

"In the event that in connection [illegible] the return to private control [illegible] shall be made by law for [illegible] for dealing with railroad [illegible] matters I shall promptly use [illegible], and so far as law confers upon me I shall promptly [illegible] power to bring about the [illegible] practicable organization of [illegible] machinery thus provided.

"In the event that no such provision is made by law for dealing [illegible] these matters, I shall employ [illegible] influence of the executive to get [illegible] railroad companies and the railroad employees to join promptly in [illegible] of a tribunal to take [illegible] problems and carry them [illegible]."

[illegible] IMPATIENT.

The union answer to this proposal [illegible] of their previous [illegible], demanding immediate re[illegible]. They urged that the President [illegible] them to await the creation of a tribunal by legislation. [illegible] that they did not believe the railroad employees would [illegible] to accept any plan which [illegible] delay.

"It is our earnest conviction," the [illegible] letter said, "that the situation warrants us urging that you [illegible] indicate to railroad union [illegible] that you will create by agreement a special tribunal to deal with [illegible] and important problem. [illegible] full realization of our responsibilities, however, we have decided to submit to our constituencies [illegible] of the creation of a [illegible] joint commission composed

WOMEN IN VOTE PLAN

League Organized for Campaign.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt is Chosen as First Head of Political Pact.

Urges Affiliation with the Dominant Parties for the 1920 Contest.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. — Elected permanent convention chairman of the congress of the League of Woman Voters, meeting in connection with the last annual gathering of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt today outlined the policies of the new organization, and declared women should affiliate with the political parties.

Mrs. Catt's keynote address came at the conclusion of the first session of the new league, at which the work of organization was begun.

Today's meetings were concluded with a ratification celebration banquet at which prominent suffrage workers addressed the 2000 delegates.

"There seems to be some misunderstanding regarding the League of Woman Voters," Mrs. Catt declared in addressing the new body. "There is evident opposition, largely political.

"Persons interested in enrolling members in their political parties are making rather cutting criticisms. They think the league will keep women out of politics. That must not be. For sixty years we have waited for political parties to give us the vote. No State has given it until the political parties had consented.

BECOME ASSERTIVE.

"Are we going to continue to petition them as we always have done? If so, what was the use of getting the vote?

"The only way to get things in this country is from the inside of the political parties. More and more the parties have become the agencies through which powerful things have been accomplished. It is not a question of whether it is right for us, but rather a realization of the fact. They are powerful.

"Why have the Governors in the West acted so independently of the women voters? We expected that they would call special sessions immediately after the amendment had passed. The reason is this: That the women voters have been a sort of ladies' auxiliary.

There has been no common body to exert an influence.

MUST JOIN PARTIES.

"Women must get into the parties. Without, we should continue to be auxiliaries. We have been sixty years urging men to confide in the abilities of women. We've got to convert them. Prove your capacities in the parties. You cannot carry the struggle on from the outside."

Only a start was made on the constitution of the League today. Affairs of the League, it was decided, would be in charge of ten national directors elected for a one-year term. Seven of the directors would represent divisions of the country and three would be elected at large.

The directors would elect a chairman, vice-chairman and secretary and also the treasurer of the League of Women Voters, and would meet anually in each of the seven districts.

A national manager also will be chosen by the board "at a sufficient

LANSING TO TAKE REST IN FLORIDA.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Former Secretary of State Lansing proposes to take a long rest to recuperate from his official duties, which the President has characterized as offensive and unconstitutional.

Mr. Lansing, it was learned tonight, will go to Daytona, Fla., arriving there March 1, to remain indefinitely. This was admitted at the former Secretary's home tonight when efforts were made to see Mr. Lansing by newspaper correspondents.

Mr. Lansing excused himself from an interview, stating that he had nothing to say on the subject of his resignation that he had not said in his letters to the President.

LANSING WITHIN HIS RIGHTS, TAFT'S VIEW.

EX-PRESIDENT BELIEVES PUBLIC WILL SIDE WITH FORMER SECRETARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Feb. 14.—William Howard Taft, ex-President of the United States, said here today that the public will side with Secretary of State Lansing in the controversy with President Wilson which resulted in the resignation of Mr. Lansing.

"I believe that Secretary Lansing was acting altogether within his rights in calling conferences of the Cabinet members," Mr. Taft said. "I would not call them Cabinet meetings.

"To my mind calling such meetings does not constitute an assumption of Presidential authority within the meaning of the Constitution."

OMAHA, Feb. 14.—Former President Taft here today commented on the peace treaty situation and the Lansing resignation.

"I cannot see any substantial difference between the Republicans and the Democrats over the treaty," he said. "Really, it seems to me now, it is only a choice of words.

"How it is possible to continue this disagreement over the League of Nations covenant I cannot see," the former President continued. "To all intents and purposes, it seems to me, the two sides have reached a point where there actually is no disagreement that should prevent ratification."

The fact that forty Democrats were reported to be pledged to support of the reservation on Article X of the treaty, as set forth in the Washington account, was a matter of gratification to him. It was then he exclaimed that he could see no substantial difference between these two sides.

"That is my message now," he added. "That is all I can say."

STATE GROWERS HUNT WINE GRAPE MARKET.

BIG GATHERING AT SAN FRANCISCO VOTES AN EXCHANGE FOR THAT PURPOSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—Formation of the California Grape Exchange to find new markets for wine and table grapes was effected here today at a meeting of 500 grape growers who met to consider the status of the grape under prohibition. The new exchange will function along lines laid down by the State Market Commission.

Today's meeting was called by the California Grape Protective Association.

The new organization will undertake the marketing of fresh grapes and also the evaporated and sundried product. A fee of 50 cents a ton will be collected by the organization to develop new markets, maintenance and all other necessary purposes.

The meeting was addressed by Col. Harris Weinstock, former director, and Judge Christopher Bradley, present counsel of the State Market Commission, who explained the exchange plan, and by Edgar M. Sheehan, secretary of the State Viticultural Commission.

The possibility of improperly shipped wine grapes being seized under the prohibition statutes because of the seepage of the juice and its consequent fermentation in or around the container was suggested by Sheehan. He advised that all wine-grape shipments be so put together that the grapes will not crush each other and form wine, as such seepage would render the whole shipment liable to seizure.

It was announced that the California Grape Protective Association will continue to function and that the exchange will be a separate organization.

Resolutions protesting Gov. Stephens's action opposing Rhode Island's attempt to have the national prohibition amendment declared unconstitutional and denouncing U. S. Senator Johnson and others whose votes in Congress indicated they were in favor of national prohibition were passed.

Frank Silva, State prohibition director, was before the meeting to explain enforcement of the prohibition law. The delegates bombarded him with questions on many doubtful phases of the act.

The Governor's offer to aid Maine in that State's fight against Rhode Island's effort to annul prohibition was characterized in a resolution as "high-handed and impertinent."

LANSING SUCCESSOR MAY BE DAVIS OR WALLACE.

Polk, Secretary ad Interim, May Possibly be Named to Finish Out the Term.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Undersecretary Frank L. Polk, John W. Davis, Ambassador to England, and Hugh C. Wallace, Ambassador to France, are foremost among those mentioned to head the State Department as successor to former Secretary Lansing, who resigned after a dramatic clash with President Wilson.

Although Mr. Polk had determined to return to private life and practice law, some friends of the administration were hopeful that he might be induced to serve out Lansing's unexpired term.

The statement of Secretary Lane, who is leaving the Cabinet March 1, that he felt an equal responsibility with Mr. Lansing for holding the Cabinet meetings to which President Wilson objected, seemed to add possibilities of further Cabinet resignations, but this was disposed of by a statement at the White House that there were to be no further retirements as a result of the incident.

Congress discussed the sensation with avidity, but in the cloakrooms, however, as the subject did not come up in debate in either the House or the Senate. Comment was more or less divided, opponents of the treaty praising Mr. Lansing's course and others recalling that one of the President's prerogatives is to select members of his official family.

Mr. Lansing was not at the department today and it was understood was preparing to go to his home in Watertown, N. Y., for a vacation and a rest.

The President's friends made the occasion one to observe that the President's action, like his conferences with Senators Fall and Hitchcock on the Mexican situation several weeks ago, served to emphasize that, while he may be ill physically, he is in full possession of all his mental faculties.

To the Senate, whose struggle with the peace treaty had given it some insight into the condition of foreign affairs, the revelation of President Wilson's disagreement with his Secretary of State caused less surprise than did the time and manner of the final break between them. Privately, many Democratic Senators expressed regret that the resignation came on the eve of another effort to ratify the treaty.

REPUBLICAN ATTITUDE.

Throughout the treaty controversy the tendency of the Republicans has been to exculpate Mr. Lansing from any blame that may have attached to the peace negotiations, and when the Secretary appeared before the Foreign Relations Committee last summer there was said to be a general understanding among Republican members that he was not to be cross-examined or put in an embarrassing position over questions about which he indicated that he was permitted by the President to know nothing.

"I apprehend that neither the President nor Mr. Lansing, if they were free to speak, would deny that it was Mr. Lansing's dissatisfaction with the treaty and his pronounced condemnation of it which had most to do with bringing about his resignation," Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, said in a statement.

"Never in the history of the world has there been a treaty so rapidly disapproved either by those who had to do with writing it or by those who had to do with passing judgment upon the ones who wrote it," he added. "Bullitt, emissary to Lenine and Trotzky, resigned. Lansing has resigned. Clemenceau has retired. Orlando has retired. Lloyd George has stated that he expected to go next."

WILSON-LANSING PRESS VIEWS.

Newspapers of Nation Comment on President's Act in Dismissing His Secretary of State and Upon the Reasons Ascribed Therefor.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

A note of bewilderment not unmixed with irritation and strong resentment runs through the editorial comment of outstanding American newspapers on the Wilson-Lansing episode. Long-loyal party organs like the New York World join the chorus of thinly-veiled displeasure at the President's action. Excerpts from editorials sent last night to The Times are as follows:

New York Times: It is, of course, true that the convoking of a cabinet meeting and the ascertainment of the views of department heads is a Presidential prerogative. But the President was ill; the business of government must go on. Mr. Lansing says that he summoned the members of the Cabinet in conference because such conferences were necessary for the transaction of interdepartment business; he tried to do his duty, without thought of assuming powers exclusively belonging to the President. Has the Constitution suffered injury from the course he pursued? Has the structure of the government become weakened or impaired? We cannot believe it.

New York World: Secretary Lansing's resignation is even more sensational than Mr. Bryan's, for in addition to the sudden retirement itself there is the dramatic fact that the resignation was asked for in most bewildering circumstances. The charge of usurpation made by the President against the Secretary of State is without precedent in the history of the executive department, and the country will not rest satisfied with the cryptic correspondence between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing. There will be a general demand for a bill of particulars to explain the President's extraordinary action. It has been evident for more than a year that the relations between the President and his Secretary of State left much to be desired. Mr. Lansing admits that he was disposed to resign long ago. In waiting until his resignation was requested it is doubtful if he has conferred any benefits upon himself, or the President, or the country.

Cleveland Plaindealer: Secretary of State Lansing is sacrificed to executive irritability. The President dispenses with the services of the particular member of administration, himself alone excepted, in whose abilities and judgment Europe has most confidence.

The President's attitude toward Mr. Lansing, as revealed by this correspondence, is unpleasantly similar to his attitude toward the Senate on the issue of ratification. Mr. Wilson brooks no opposition. His has been a one-man administration. He has demanded of his Cabinet advisers, first of all, absolute self-effacement.

Boston Globe: Some will see in the extraordinary frankness of the correspondence between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing the querulousness of a sick man. To others it will be a sign of convalescence. But whatever the reason for the plain speaking in these letters, they reveal a real conflict. In such a conflict it is to public interest that one should go. The one to go is not the President.

Baltimore Sun: Second thoughts will probably be necessary to appreciate the full significance of this episode. If it means, among other things, that Mr. Wilson is a full working President again, the country will be grateful for that. In any event we must have some sympathy for the unfortunate Secretary. He has been in a situation where to resign his office would have seemed disloyal, where to continue in it inevitably invited some such denouement as this. That was not pleasant.

Baltimore American: The truth of the matter is that there had been ill-feeling between the two ever since the Versailles Peace Conference. President Wilson there assumed the role of the chief and only representative of the United States, leaving to the Secretary a position which could just as well have been filled by any second-rate clerk in the department.

Chicago Tribune: Mr. Wilson's view, if we are to judge by his letters to Mr. Lansing, is that "no one but the President has the right to summon the heads of the executive departments into conference." The necessary implication from all this is that if the President is incapacitated no conferences are to be held, questions arising must go without consideration or action, the government itself must remain headless and, save for routine, inoperative.

This is a theory which calls for the immediate consideration of Congress. Its mere assertion is incredible, and the state of mind indicated by it is a cause for profound disquiet.

No private enterprise could follow such a policy and survive. The government of a nation of a hundred millions cannot sustain it.

At this time with some of the most difficult and momentous questions ever presented to our statecraft in our foreign and our domes-

LANSING'S SUMMARY DISMISSAL IS FINAL SHATTERING BLOW TO PRESIDENT'S WOBBLY CABINET.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—No sensation since the signing of the armistice has so thrilled Washington as the resignation of Secretary of State Lansing. In the opinion of veterans of statecraft and political life the animus shown in the overthrow of Secretary Lansing indicates that President Wilson will make a clean sweep of the old Cabinet.

Secretary Lane has gone, Secretary Redfield has left, Secretary Glass resigned and their places have been filled with men considered of comparatively small caliber who will be, it is thought, rubber stamps and carry out orders to the letter and without question.

As one critic of the administration put it tonight, the members of the Cabinet in the remaining months of the disintegrating days of the Wilson regime will be "theirs not to question why, theirs but to do and die."

It is said in reliable quarters here that but for the Presidential ambitions of Atty.-Gen. Palmer his resignation also would be in the hands of the President. If it is true, as reported, that the administration will support Ambassador to England Davis for the Presidential nomination as against all other administration candidates, it is expected that the Attorney-General will resign forthwith.

Some time ago, Secretary of Labor Wilson was on the verge of resigning, and it is known that his relations are none too cordial at the present time.

Josephus Daniels, under fire for the last eight years, and now facing the bitterest fight in his stormy career through his feud with Admiral Sims, is likely to be unloaded for political reasons.

Secretary of War Baker has about outlived his usefulness, in the opinion of man, political students. The fact that he was unable to hold the Congressional caucus on the military training issue has not endeared him to the administration.

The two men from Texas in the Cabinet—Postmaster-General Burleson and the present Secretary of the Treasury, Houston—are the only ones, seemingly, with a chance to remain. Both have powerful enemies, but, aside from the stigma upon all the Cabinet officers who entrede Lansing's conferences, they appear least of all to have incurred the President's displeasure.

The elevation of John Barton Payne is regarded as an elimination of the present head of the Shipping Board in order to play politics in the sale of ships rather than as noting a high opinion of his fitness for Secretary of the Interior. His appointment was in direct opposition to the crystallized sentiment of the entire western delegation, which demanded the appointment of a western man, familiar with western needs. It is known that western Senators and Representatives are deeply resentful.

McKINLEY'S CABINET MET IN HIS ABSENCE.

FORMER ATTORNEY-GENERAL TELLS OF INFORMAL MEETINGS ON BOXER TROUBLES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—John W. Griggs, of Paterson, N. J., Attorney-General during the McKinley administration, said, "informal Cabinet conferences" were common during the McKinley regime.

"The Cabinet is merely an informal body of department heads acting as advisers to the President and to each other," said Mr. Griggs. "Under President McKinley, I remember many informal Cabinet conferences, at some of which the President was present and at others not. The Cabinet members met to consider various matters and to advise each other. It seems to me that Secretary Lansing no more exceeded his authority or 'usurped' any powers in calling the Cabinet together than an ordinary citizen who calls half a dozen men in conference to ask their advice.

"In 1900 when President McKinley was standing for re-election he spent some time in his home in Canton, O., but during his absence the Cabinet members conferred almost daily (it was during the Boxer troubles) yet there was no protest from the President or even an intimation that the informal conferences were objectionable to him."

SCHURMAN RESIGNS AS HEAD OF CORNELL.

NOTED EDUCATOR ASKS LEAVE TO RETIRE AFTER TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS' WORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ITHACA (N. Y.) Feb. 14.—Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University for nearly twenty-eight years, tendered his resignation to the university's General Administration Committee at a meeting of that body today.

In a letter to the board of trustees Dr. Schurman said he always held the chief executive of a great institution should not retain the post more than twenty-five or thirty years. He had not disclosed his plans for the future and his resignation has not been accepted.

A meeting of the board of trustees has been called for February 28 to act upon Dr. Schurman's request to be relieved of his duties. Efforts will be made, it is understood here, to prevail upon him to reconsider his action.

President Schurman was head of the first United States commission to the Philippines and spent most of the year 1899 in those islands. In 1912-13, during the second Balkan war, he was U. S. Minister to Greece and Montenegro. He is the author of a number of books and is an officer of the French Legion of Honor.

SAYS BRITISH LABOR IS UNFIT TO GOVERN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUNDEE (Scotland) Feb. 14.—Winston Spencer Churchill, the Secretary for War, in addressing his constituents here today, declared that labor was unfitted to govern the nation. This was a reiteration of the statement he made recently which aroused a furor in the press and a storm of indignation among the labor interests.

LANSING RESIGNATION IS LONDON SENSATION.

PALL MALL GAZETTE SEES IN WILSON'S ACTION STRONG SELF-ASSERTION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 14.—This afternoon's London papers print the news of Secretary Lansing's resignation under a variety of prominent captions, such as "United States Political Bombshell," "Washington Sensation," "Great United States Sensation."

The Pall Mall Gazette says:

"President Wilson's return to political activity has been announced by a sensational stroke."

During his illness, the newspaper adds, all kinds of reports were current as to where the real seat of authority lay in the conduct of American administration. "The curtain now has been thrust aside," the article continues, "and we have the lively spectacle of the President not only using his prerogative, but employing it to discharge his chief legal adviser." The newspaper considers the President's self-assertion "emerges all the stronger for his enforced rest and he is evidently going to take up the reins of government again in a spirit that will not parley with opposition."

The Westminster Gazette says:

"The dismissal of Secretary Lansing by the President is a dramatic illustration of the peculiar power assigned to the head of the government by the American Constitution. What it is, exactly, that Secretary Lansing has done is not very clear, but he would appear to have applied on his own account what has been described as the American principle of one-man management, while President Wilson insists on a monopoly of the idea."

ARISTOCRATS HOPE FOR HUNGARIAN MONARCHY

HEADQUARTERS ARE OPENED TO CARRY ON CAMPAIGN DURING PARLIAMENT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUDAPEST, Friday, Feb. 13.—Many thousands of aristocrats have gathered for the opening of Parliament, attracted by the possibility of the revival of the House of Lords, composed of the landed aristocracy and clergy. One of their headquarters is in the palace of Count Ladislas Karolyi, which flies the banner of the royalist party; another is in the palace of Prince Esterhazy, from which the campaign of Archduke Joseph is being conducted. There is much competition between these headquarters, the Karolyi faction working for restoration of the royalist rule, without reference to the choice of ruler, while the Esterhazy group is working for Archduke Joseph.

One of the arguments for the restoration of royalty given by Countess Bethlen, who is supposed to be a descendant of the rulers of Transylvania during the Turkish domination, is: "It is cheaper than a republic."

Many disputes are arising as to the powers and prerogatives of the Assembly, especially regarding the question of dynasty.

Missourian Wins on League Platform.

Congressional By-Election is Carried by Milligan by 1800 Majority.

Senate Leaders Divided on Possibility of Treaty Compromise.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS (Mo.) Feb. 14.—The election of Capt. J. L. Milligan, Democratic candidate and League of Nations advocate, over John E. Frost, Republican and League opponent, as Representative in Congress for the Third District, was conceded at 9:30 o'clock tonight by W. L. Coles, chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Capt. Milligan's majority, Chairman Cole said, will be between 1700 and 1800.

The election was to choose a successor in Congress to Secretary of Commerce Joshua Alexander, and the League of Nations was the dominant issue in the campaign.

The Democrats assert Milligan's majority will be at least 2000.

Unofficial figures given out late tonight by Democratic and Republican headquarters here, with a slight exception, are identical and show that Milligan carried four counties and that Frost carried three. Unofficial figures from the other three counties of the district were still incomplete, but it was said at Democratic headquarters they were conceded to Frost.

STATUS OF TREATY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Peace treaty negotiations still stood at an impasse tonight, with opinion among leaders divided on the possibilities of a compromise to insure ratification when the treaty again is taken up next week.

Discussion centered today on the two revised Article X reservations submitted yesterday by Senator Hitchcock, Democratic leader, but there seemed little disposition by any considerable number of Republicans to accept either of these. The Republican leaders said no formal reply had been made to Senator Hitchcock and that there would probably be none.

Virtually the only difference between one of the Hitchcock proposals and the new Republican reservation recently proposed, it was pointed out, is the insertion in the latter of the words "or by any other means," in enumerating the measures which the United States would decline to bring into use to preserve the integrity of other countries. It was suggested by some Senators that a compromise might be possible by substitution of "or by its resources," for "or by any other means." There was no assurance, however, that leaders of either party would accept such a proposal.

EXPECTS RATIFICATION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Confident that the peace proposal held out by the action of the forty Democrats in presenting two revisions of Article X to the Republican Senators will mean a speedy ratification of the Versailles Treaty and the League of Nations covenant, Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College at Oakland, is preparing to return home. Dr. Reinhardt brought to the Senate the petition of 25,000 California women urging ratification of the treaty. She planned to remain at the capital until America ratified, but, like other hopeful, public-spirited citizens, she did not realize that the deadlock would continue so long. Now she is hopeful that the wishes of her fellow-citizens will soon be heeded.

ANOTHER KAISER NOTE TO HOLLAND TONIGHT.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The Supreme Council in an evening session again discussed the Adriatic question, but chiefly was concerned with the Turkish treaty, drafting of which progressed substantially despite the complexity of the subject as affecting the future of historical cities such as Constantinople and Jerusalem.

Holland will receive the Allied note regarding the former German Emperor Sunday evening.

INSIDE FACTS OF LANSING BREACH

Strained Relations with Wilson Antedate the War.

Lansing Forecast of America's Entry Caused Friction.

Dramatic Scene at Cabinet Meeting is Revealed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Although the correspondence between Mr. Lansing and the President makes the calling of the Cabinet meetings the incident which led directly to the Secretary's resignation, persons "on the inside" of the administration, who know what has been going on, say that was only an incident and that the real reasons for the break go back over a period of many months and come from fundamental difference of opinion in policy.

The disagreements between the President and the head of the State Department even antedate the entry of the United States into the war. The relations between the two men almost reached the breaking point early in 1917, when Mr. Lansing issued his celebrated statement saying the United States was daily being drawn nearer and nearer the war. By some it was taken to forecast the entry of the United States. The President made every effort to overtake the statement after it had been given out at the State Department, but it was impossible.

BREAK OVER TREATY.

When Mr. Lansing went as a member of the American peace delegation to Paris more differences developed. With other members of the American mission he was not in accord with the President's idea of making the treaty of peace and the covenant of the League of Nations one and the same inseparable document. It was Mr. Lansing's idea that such a plan would delay the ratification of a peace treaty and in this he was supported by Henry White and E. M. House.

It may be said with a great degree of authority that while the President and Mr. Lansing were together in Paris other differences of more than minor nature developed.

When President Wilson went back to Paris last March and found that during his brief absence in the United States Mr. Lansing and the others of the American mission had agreed, tentatively, at least, to have the peace terms and the League of Nations covenant separated, the situation came very near a breaking point and probably was avoided only because the President thought it more important not to let European statesmen see a split in the American peace delegation. While Mr. Lansing probably saw and conferred with the President in Paris as much as any other member of the American mission, it was a matter of remark that he saw him very little.

THE BULLIT INCIDENT.

However, the incident which came nearer causing a break than any other was the sensational testimony of William C. Bullit, one of the experts attached to the American peace mission, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Bullit, as will be recalled, reading from a diary, quoted Secretary Lansing as having told him he was out of sympathy with the League of Nations covenant and as predicting that the treaty would fail if the American people ever learned of its full import.

Mr. Lansing, obviously in a very difficult position, did not repudiate Bullit's statements, although it was momentarily expected in Washington that he either would repudiate them or resign his office. President Wilson was at the time on his speaking tour in the West. To say that he was upset by Bullit's story and his quotations of the Secretary of State puts it mildly. Officials in the President's party who know the workings of the President's mind expected to see the Secretary's resignation asked for when the President returned to Washington. These same officials believe now that the breakdown which sent the President home a very sick man was the only thing which prevented it.

NEVER SAW WILSON AGAIN.

Mr. Lansing, however, never saw the President again, and did all his business with the Chief Executive in writing. The relations between the men remained very much strained and then Mr. Lansing's action in calling the Cabinet together brought them to the breaking point.

Those who were present at the first Cabinet meeting describe a rather tense and dramatic scene. Congress was full of rumors that the President was so disabled as to be constitutionally unable to discharge the functions of his office. There was talk of what might be done to place Vice-President Marshall at the head of the government and how Congress might go about doing it. Nobody knew the full extent of the President's illness. It had not then become known that he had practically lost the use of his left arm and leg through an accumulation of blood in one of the arteries in his brain.

UGLY RUMORS.

There were even ugly rumors that the President might not be in possession of all his faculties. Some Senators were even contemplating some action "to find out whether we have a President or not," as one of their number put it. These ugly stories were, of course, all disposed of and shown to be pure and unfounded gossip by the later developments, but they were being circulated and widely credited last November, when the Cabinet assembled for its first conference at the call of Secretary Lansing.

The Secretary of State, it should be said, believed he was supported by precedent in calling the Cabinet together. Looking up the historical record he found it had been done when President Garfield lay ill for weeks after having been shot by an assassin, and that it had been done before that when President Taylor had a long illness and ultimately was succeeded by Vice-President Fillmore.

The Wilson Cabinet assembled the first day with a feeling of apprehension, for none of the members knew the extent of the President's illness, but expected to be informed of it. Secretary Tumulty had informed the President that Mr. Lansing had called the Cabinet together, and the President, somewhat disturbed, gave his personal physician a message to deliver to the secretaries.

GRAYSON CALLED.

The secretaries assembled at their usual places that day and Mr. Lansing sent for Dr. Grayson. The President's chair at the head of the table was left vacant until the physician arrived and he was asked to occupy it.

"Dr. Grayson," Secretary Lansing is reported to have said by those who were present, "we wish to know the nature and extent of the President's illness and whether he is able to perform the duties of his office, so that we may determine what shall be done to carry on the business of the government."

The President's physician is quoted by some of the other secretaries as having replied in substance:

"The President is doing as well as could be expected. He is in full possession of all his faculties, and he has directed me to inquire of you by what authority this meeting of the Cabinet was called, what business is before it and what business it is expected might be transacted at a Cabinet meeting without his participation."

AWKWARD MOMENT.

According to the story told at the time, Secretary Lansing had no opportunity to reply, because some of the other members stepped into the breach and asked Dr. Grayson to say to the President that the only purpose of the meeting was to inquire the state of his health and to send him a message of loyalty and encouragement. At that point the meeting broke up without having transacted any business, but it did not end the so-called Cabinet conferences.

It has not been made plain whether President Wilson knew since then that the Cabinet members had been assembling and talking over interdepartmental affairs, but the meetings have been held in the Cabinet room in the executive offices and if the President did not know it, it probably was because those surrounding him did not think it wise to tell him.

The best opinion of those "on the inside" is that the President did not know until last week of the regularity with which the Cabinet was meeting at the call of the Secretary of State because at about the time at which the President's first letter to Mr. Lansing is dated, the White House offices "let it be known" that the President had ended the Cabinet conferences and there was an inference that he might preside at the next one himself. There was, however, no hint that the ending of the meetings marked a separation between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing.

REVELATIONS NOW.

Now that the break has come and Mr. Lansing has left the Cabinet, much may be revealed of the extent to which the Secretary of State and the President differed in matters of policy. Quite aside from the differences at the Peace Conference, there were other differences in foreign policy, and some of Mr. Lansing's friends say he would have left his office some time ago, but for the fact that he wished to spare the President an upheaval in his official family at a time when Europe was watching the fight over the treaty in America and especially when the President was ill and unable to look after the affairs of the State Department himself.

How much Mr. Lansing and the President differed on the Mexican policy never has been fully revealed, but officials who sympathize with Mr. Lansing's views say that they differed a great deal. It has generally been believed in official circles here that the sharp notes which Mr. Lansing sent to Carranza in connection with the Jenkins case are what the President referred to in his letter to the Secretary when he spoke of the Secretary of State having taken action to forestall his judgment. It is known, however, that Henry Prather Fletcher, former Ambassador to Mexico, who recently resigned, wrote a letter to the President in which he excoriated the administration's Mexican policy, and the general belief in the State Department is that Mr. Lansing and Mr. Fletcher agreed pretty generally.

SUPPRESS FLETCHER.

Mr. Fletcher's letter of resignation never has been given out at the White House. But aside from his differences with the President, it has been common knowledge in Washington that Mr. Lansing has not been on good terms with Secretary Tumulty and from time to time there have been apparently well-grounded reports of friction with Secretaries Baker and Daniels.

In the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, where Mr. Lansing was in frequent touch with Senators, he is regarded as a trained diplomat. Senators remarked when Bullit gave his sensational testimony that they regretted it very much on Lansing's account.

DAVIS MAY BE NEW SECRETARY

Committee investigate "this tempest in a teapot between the ex-Secretary of State and the President of the United States." It went into the hopper without the speeches or debate.

The only comment in the House on Mr. Lansing's resignation was made by Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, who inserted the Wilson-Lansing correspondence into the record after some opposition.

Representative Mott, Republican, New York, introduced a resolution asking that Congress disapprove of the attitude of the President toward Mr. Lansing and express its regret at his retirement and the feeling that he had "in no respect lacked proper regard for and loyalty to the President."

LANE'S POSITION.

Secretary Lane declared today that he considered himself "just as much responsible" as Secretary Lansing for the calling of Cabinet meetings during the President's illness. He said Mr. Lansing called him on the telephone and obtained his approval of the idea before calling the first meeting and "presumably secured the approval of other Cabinet members, also."

"We all thought the meetings were a good thing," said Secretary Lane, who retires as Secretary of the Interior on March 1. "They were often attended by Dr. Grayson and messages were transmitted to the President on questions discussed. The critical situation precipitated by the coal strike came up for consideration as well as matters pertaining to the first industrial conference, and other important questions. I feel that I attended the meetings on a full level of responsibility with Secretary Lansing, inasmuch as I had agreed to the advisability of their being held. Other members of the Cabinet apparently took the same position."

Asked whether the question of the constitutionality of the meetings ever had been raised among the Cabinet members, Secretary Lane replied:

"No; not at all. The question was never discussed in any way."

PORTER'S VIEW.

Chairman Porter of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, commenting today on Secretary Lansing's resignation, said:

"I am not inclined to accept this new and novel interpretation of organic law.

"There is nothing in the Constitution which prohibits members of the President's Cabinet from meeting and discussing any departmental matter. If we accept the President's construction of the Constitution it would be a violation thereof for two of the secretaries to hold a conference in the absence of the President.

"Mr. Lansing has faithfully served Mr. Wilson during both of his terms as President, and in due consideration for his rights I think the President should have asked for his resignation on the ground that they did not agree on the policies to be pursued by the State Department and not to have dismissed him in this harsh way."

NOTIFY FOREIGN POWERS.

Notification of Mr. Lansing's retirement was sent to all foreign governments today by Undersecretary Polk.

It was said at the State Department that Mr. Polk would serve as acting Secretary for a period of thirty days unless a successor to Mr. Lansing is chosen sooner.

Cabinet meetings will be resumed "very soon" and, as announced a few days ago, President Wilson will preside. White House officials reiterated today that he was making rapid strides toward regaining his health.

"I am not going to discuss the Lansing-Wilson controversy—the letters speak for themselves," Secretary Tumulty said.

WILSON-LANSING PRESS COMMENT

tic affairs pressing for treatment, the possibilities disclosed and apparent in our situation are clearly of the most fateful concern, and no time should be lost by Congress in providing by constitutional means against the contingencies involved in the President's extraordinary conception, and against a repetition of the dangerous conditions under which the government has been carried on during his disability.

Springfield (Mass.) Republican: The country must acquit Mr. Lansing of intentionally doing anything to undermine the President's status as head of the government, and it will regret an abruptness and a certain asperity in the President's letter unusual in his official correspondence.

Boston Herald: It is perhaps true that the President is somewhat improved from his illness, the seriousness of which, persistently denied, the country now pretty well understands, but he is obviously in a very querulous mood.

Pittsburgh Leader: Had either President Wilson or Secretary Lansing possessed the courage of their opinions the Secretary of State would have left the Wilson Cabinet several months ago. As a personal quarrel between two Democratic leaders, the public will have little interest in the disagreement. And whatever may be the surface indications, that is about all the Lansing resignation amounts to.

Selma (Ala.) Journal: In view of the fact that the people were kept in the dark concerning President Wilson's illness, and the peace conference proceedings and other important state matters were not fully divulged to the people, we are inclined to believe that Secretary Lansing has been done a great injustice, and that President Wilson acted rather hastily.

Montgomery (Ala.) Times: "Thou shalt not do anything without first consulting me, even though I cannot be consulted. To Hades with the people and the republic."—Wilson's idea.

NORTHERN CAMPAIGN FOR MESERVE BEGINS.

SOUTHLAND ATTORNEY TO MAKE STRONG RACE FOR U. S. SENATOR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—With the opening of headquarters in the Chronicle Building, here, the first guns in Edwin A. Meserve's fight for the Republican Senatorial nomination will be fired in Northern California Monday. Pending the Los Angeles candidate's selection of a northern campaign committee, the offices will be in charge of William J. Jacobs.

Meserve's activities in this section of the State during the past week have caused local political observers to sit up and take a little notice. Those considered in the "know" as regards the several candidates, are now thoroughly convinced that the Southland attorney is in the race to a finish, and is preparing to give the other contenders the battle of their lives.

In all propaganda thus far circulated in the interests of Meserve's candidacy, particular attention has been called to the candidate's unswerving loyalty to the Republican party since the marking of his maiden ballot. This long fidelity to the G.O.P. is certain to mean a tower of strength to Meserve, according to the wise ones, for the reason that early registration reports show Northern California counties more overwhelmingly Republican than ever before.

CIVIL SERVICE FOR REALTORS.

California Commissions Settle Difficulties.

Pay-Roll Privileges Create State House Storm.

Governor's Secretary Helps Calm the Tempest.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13. — The war clouds that for days hovered over the State Real Estate Commission and the State Civil Service Commission have blown over, and the dove of peace has descended upon the respective commissions.

War loomed between the two commissions over the question whether the Real Estate Commission, created by an act of the last Legislature, was not exempt from civil service by reason of the provisions of the Realty Act.

The act gives to the real estate commissioner the right to "employ such deputies, clerks and assistants as he may need to discharge in proper manner the duties imposed upon him by law" and provides that he "shall fix the compensation of such deputies, clerks and assistants."

In its decision upholding the constitutionality of the Realty Act, the Supreme Court placed its O.K. on the provision giving to the real estate commissioner the right to fix the salaries of his employees, and attorneys interested in the test suit agree that the court's ruling exempts the commission from civil service.

Assuming that the Civil Service Commission would adhere to the common belief that the Real Estate Commission would be exempt from civil service, the Governor's office, it is declared, took care of some "patrons" by putting them on the pay roll of the Realty Commission.

But the Civil Service Commission asserted its power, and ruled that the Realty Commission was under the jurisdiction of the civil service law, and consequently relations between the two commissions became somewhat strained.

Martin Madsen, private secretary to Gov. Stephens, and R. L. Riley, real estate commissioner, subsequently appeared before the Civil Service Commission and after both sides had had their say and Riley had agreed to submit to the latter commission's ruling, the white flag was hoisted and peace reigns once more.

"Silent" Carson, murderer, whose mysterious silence saved him from death on the gallows at Folsom prison, and resulted in his committal to the Stockton asylum, continues to baffle the best alienists in California, according to Dr. F. W. Hatch, Superintendent of State Hospitals.

Dr. Hatch says Carson has been at the Stockton asylum for ten years and, as far as is known, has never uttered a word or even a sound. Once, he said, an inmate threw a bowl of hot soup in Carson's face, but he never murmured.

All tricks known to the alienists have been tried upon the silent convict, in an effort to make him talk or to utter a sound, but to no avail. Dr. Hatch states he firmly believes Carson to be insane and not to be feigning, as many think.

According to Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, there is a shortage of 1900 school-teachers in California. He declares the shortage is due to the small salaries paid to teachers. In Oakland where a maximum salary of $150 per month is paid elementery teachers, Wood said there is no shortage.

State Controller John S. Chambers reports that the State paid out $600 in bounties for twenty-five mountain lions killed in January. The lions were killed in the following counties: Los Angeles, 4; Trinity and Santa Barbara, 3; San Diego, Riverside, Tulare, San Bernardino, 2; Glenn, Monterey, Ventura, Mendocino, Siskiyou, Santa Clara and El Dorado, 1.

Three years' service in dispensing soda water and ice cream in a drug store cannot be considered as time served under a registered pharmacist to qualify a person to take an examination for assistant pharmacist, according to an opinion made by Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb to the State Board of Pharmacy.

Webb advises the Pharmacy Board to change the wording of the requirements so as to specifically exclude persons who devote their attention to soda water fountains in drug stores.

No Matter How Bad the Complexion

Stuart's Calcium Wafers Provide the Wonderful Calcium Sulfide that Gives the Skin What It Requires to Prevent Pimples, Blackheads and Such Skin Disfigurements.

The pink freshness of a natural complexion is greatly admired these days because of the too general use of rouge, powders, creams and other make-ups. It goes without saying that a natural, beautiful complexion has health beneath it and with health is vivacity and leadership in social and other activities. No matter how bright and active one may be, a face covered with pimples is a handicap. Never before was the question of healthful appearance so much in evidence. Get rid of pimples, blackheads, roughness, redness, and itching rash by using Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They contain calcium sulphide, considered by scientists absolutely essential to clear, healthy skin.

If you are discouraged you can now cheer up. No matter how bad your skin may be from such conditions Stuart's Calcium Wafers ought to work wonders with it. And then goodbye to blackheads, pimples, boils, rash, and a muddy, sallow complexion.

So don't be blue, don't despair, get a 50-cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers today at any drug store in the United States, and soon you may have as beautiful a complexion as you ever wished for.—[Advertisement.

VILLA WANTS MEXICAN, LOS ANGELES RESIDENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, Feb. 14.—During his recent raid on Lerdo and Gomez Palacio, suburbs of Torreon, Coahuila, Francisco Villa declared that he intended to capture twelve American citizens, whom he would hold as hostages for the surrender of a Mexican resident of Los Angeles, who had been sentenced to death by the rebel leader, according to reports current in Torreon, says the Excelsior of Mexico City.

The first of these Americans was Joseph E. Askew, an employee of the Tlahualilo Company's plantation near Lerdo, it was said.

Villa is reported as having threatened that if the American government refused to deliver the Mexican in Los Angeles over to him he would shoot the twelve Americans.

Pure Olive Oil Soap for the Baby

Red Feather Olive Oil Soap is made especially for the baby and those who have particularly delicate skins. It cleanses and soothes, is fine of grain and delicately perfumed. Being properly aged it "wears" well and is therefore economical. Five-ounce cakes sell for 35c.

Perfumed Bath Crystals

Red Feather Bath Crystals impart to the bath the refreshing and invigorating qualities of sea water combined with dainty fragrance—Cologne, Rose or Verbena. Large glass jars 69c. For a de luxe bath use Red Feather Bath Crystals—the very best obtainable.

Violet Ammonia

The Owl Violet Ammonia for the bath and toilet is a refined preparation which combines the virtues of medicinal ammonia and the delicate odor of violets. A small portion added to the bath destroys all odors and freshens the skin. 16-oz. bottles 40c

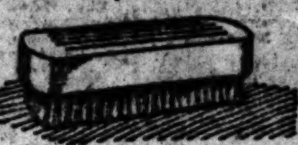
Epsom Salt for the Bath

Adding Epsom Salt to the water makes a bath more invigorating. It cools the skin and allays irritation. Owl Epsom Salt is free from all impurities. 10c a pound in any quantity.

Face Cloths

That Owl Drug Stores still sell face cloths as little as 7c each is an interesting fact. Other feature prices are 10c, 15c, 20c and 25c.

Hand Brushes



—sometimes called nail brushes—are featured at a long list of popular prices beginning with 5 cents and ending with $2.50. The higher grades have ebony backs and the best bristles obtainable.

PEASANTS WANT LAND AND PEACE

Siberians to Insist on the Communal System.

Not in Sympathy with Bolshevism, Says Writer.

Blame Allies for Support of Admiral Kolchak.

BY FRAZIER HUNT.

(Fourth Article.)

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WITH THE PARTISAN FORCES IN THE SIBERIAN HILLS, Jan. 20.—(By Courier to Vladivostok.) This morning the bearded chief of this peasant partian detachment, called the second flying squadron, came to me and said:

"When the peasants first saw you last night they resented your being in their hill village, but after they saw hoy you only wanted to find out the truth and to explain America's position, they cried."

Possibly these words, carried 5000 miles to America, will lose their thrill, but here in this simple country town they buried themselves deep in my heart. For in searching for the heart of Russia I had shown them the heart brought some little new faith and additional confidence in their great fight for their rights.

"You can't know what it means to have come here to prove to us what we have unforgotten, that America wants to know our side of the question," one said to me and for five days now I have been told the same thing.

For it is a dreary fight that these men and boys are putting up, and they need a little encouragement.

RUSSIAN HIGH LIGHTS.

If I could tell of last night's meeting here, just as it happened, America might catch the pulse-beat of this vivid, breathing thing just as I have caught it. It was a drama Gorky might have written—a candle on the table with half a dozen men seated and, crowding close up fifty soldiers leaning on their rifles, while behind a fringe of old peasants stood, sucking in the words like hungry men. There was a story in every soldier, and a novel in every leader there at the table.

An old peasant woman brought in a single great bowl of meat, cabbage and potatoes cooked together and placed in front of each of us a wooden spoon. We fell to eating out of the same dish in true Russian soldier style.

Between bites, questions popped first from me, then from them. For the most part only the men at the table spoke, but now and then some soldier in the circle cleared his throat and asked me a question. The peasants remained silent, except when the word "land" was mentioned. Then all wanted to talk. For "land" is a magic word here—it is their dream and hope in the revolution.

NOT BOLSHIVISTS.

They know nothing about communism or scientific Bolshevism, and care nothing. They want all the land to be owned by whole villages in a communal system, and they want their full rights in the local and national government. They will stand for no tyrants, and if the government doesn't change and give them real democratic government, where the rule of a majority goes, they will pull down Lenine just as they pulled down Kolchak.

For the most part these soldier boys are not really Bolsheviki, although there naturally are a few roving fighters who will fight anywhere, anytime for love of the game. But 90 per cent. of them are plain honest men, battling for their ideals, and they answered my questions straightforwardly and sensibly.

"We all were willing to support the Omsk directory when it promised us democratic government a year ago last fall," the peasant chief explained. "The peasants here took over the church's, the government's and the great landowners' land, dividing it equally among the farmers, and all we wanted was a democratic government. We all were against Lenine then, but the reactionaries here, backed by foreigners, tried to shove Kolchak down our throats. We fought back, and we have eliminated Kolchak. It has been us, not Trotzky who did it. If the Kolchak coup d'etat never had taken place; if foreigners had kept out of our affairs, we would have built up a democratic government here that probably would have the power in Moscow today.

"But the old Czar reactionaries with Allied support have swung all Siberia into the laps of the Moscow Bolsheviki. Today we believe only the Bolsheviki can give us land, freedom and peace. We are going to join them and get what we want. We shall fight on until we do. We peasants are 85 per cent. of Russia, and we are going to get land and a sort of freedom we desire."

These were the same words I had heard everywhere, but they were more dramatically spoken here. The whole evening was full of tense drama, and late at night when most of the peasants and soldiers had slipped away one by one, only those billeted in this house remained.

At midnight the men laid a sheep skin on the floor, took off their boots, unstrapped their pistols and in the small room fifteen men stretched out. Some one blew out the candle, then in the darkness the dreamer who had spent fifteen years of his life in Siberian prisons began humming a revolutionary song. In a minute the others took it up, and soon these fifteen men had thrown their hearts into the singing just as they throw themselves into a battle.

I could not understand the words of the song, but the low, plaintive music swept into your heart, and you could not keep the tears from your eyes. It was an hour no one could ever forget.

JUST KIND TO LADY, HE SAYS.

But She Declares Kindness Extended to Wooing and Asks for Thousands.

J. H. Redman, a Glendale grocer, defending the $25,000 breach-of-promise suit of Mrs. Sarah Donegan, declares in his answer filed yesterday that he had no idea of marrying her, but was simply kind to her. There was no engagement, he states, and no refusal to marry her. He does not now want to marry her and never did, he says.

Mrs. Donegan is a dressmaker, who declares Mr. Redman asked her to marry him, in May, 1918. The marriage was to take place within a reasonable time. She became ill in April and went to a sanatorium, and she says it was agreed that as soon as she recovered they were to be married. Later he refused to marry her, she says.

TINKHAM URGES ATTORNEY-GENERAL BE QUIZZED ABOUT SUGAR FIASCO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Gross mismanagement of the sugar problem has increased living costs for next year between $700,000,000 and $900,000,000, Representative Tinkham, Republican charged today in a speech supporting his resolution to direct an investigation of the Department of Justice by the House Judiciary Committee.

"These increased costs have been accompanied by the most atrocious and shameless profiteering known in this era of extortionate oppression," he said. "The conduct of the Attorney-General can be and should be investigated at once as to his indefensible action in relation to the question of price fixing."

"Utter incompetence, inefficiency and criminal disregard of the interests of the people by the present administration and its agents," were charged.

Agreement with Louisiana sugar producers last fall for 17 and 18 cent sugar at the plantation stimulated the price, Mr. Tinkham said, "because sugar was then selling at 11 or 12 cents per pound at retail. Prices on the Cuban crop were raised from 6½ cents to 11½ and 12½ cents by this action," the Massachusetts member said.

"For the Attorney-General to deny that 'he has neither made, assented to nor approved of the price of Louisiana sugar of 17 cents and 18 cents,' but omitting the words 'in any way,' in view of telegrams sent by him, is for him to quibble and evade in a manner thoroughly audacious," said Tinkham.

"In view of the evasive answers of the Attorney-General by his failures to disclose the complete facts bearing upon the matter," said Tinkham, "and his refusal to state upon what authority of law he acted; of the immunity given to possible profiteers, and finally the effect of his action upon the price of sugar in the United States, a thorough investigation should be had of this entire question."

HONOLULU MENACED BY SUGAR STRIKERS' RUSH.

WORKERS CONGREGATE IN CONGESTED DISTRICTS AND BREED DISEASE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) Feb. 14.—Conditions declared to be dangerous to public health were reported to the Supervisors today by Dr. A. K. Hanchett, city physician, in a review of the concentration of strikers here from sugar plantations.

"Strikers from plantations are coming to Honolulu by hundreds and congregating in congested districts," Dr. Hanchett told the board. "In one building I found that where more than 300 Filipino men, women and children were housed there had already developed measles, chicken-pox, beri-beri and influenza."

"The strike creates a serious situation from the viewpoint of the city's health," declared Supervisor M. C. Pacheco.

WON'T BE FORGIVEN.

Erring Wife Writes Happiness is not for Her.

After Leo Stanley Harding offered to forgive his wife, Ethel L. Harding, and take her back, even under unusual circumstances, she wrote him:

"I am afraid it won't be such good luck for me to enjoy life again."

A passage in a letter from Mrs. Harding asked him to forgive her.

"I am not the only one who has gone wrong," she said. "This I know, I will not be in this world many years more as I am now going. It is killing me every day. Wait until you have heard all. I have been the one that has had to undergo this terrible suffering.

"Leo, I never could be parted from my babies. They are mine, dear . . . I need and love them just as your mother needed her babies."

The court granted Mr. Harding a divorce.

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the quantity of food taken, but the amount digested and assimilated, that gives strength and vitality to the system. It is claimed that only one-half as much food is required when it is thoroughly masticated. If you are troubled with indigestion, masticate your food thoroughly and take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper and see if you do not feel much better in a day or two.—[Advertisement.

GARDEN DRIVE'S SEED PROVIDED.

Supply is Plentiful for Free Distribution.

Congressmen Promise Added Shipments Soon.

Mrs. Anderson Tells of Fight on High Prices.

Recent action taken by the Federal Fair Price Committee insures a plentiful supply of vegetable seeds for distribution in Los Angeles, says Mrs. J. T. Anderson, chairman of the Council of Community Service, which is now acting as the consumer's branch of the Fair Price Committee, in announcing yesterday that plans have been completed for the launching of a campaign to increase production and to fight the cost of living by the planting of home and community gardens in all parts of the city. This campaign will be carried on through the medium of the Home Gardens Association, which will distribute seeds free to applicants through its representatives in various parts of the city, through the schools, and through charitable institutions.

The Federal Fair Price Committee, under whose supervision the campaign is being conducted, recently sent telegrams to Congressmen Osborne, Kettner and Randall, requesting that government seeds be sent to Los Angeles immediately for distribution locally. The telegram was signed by John G. Mott, chairman of the Fair Price Committee, R. W. Pridham, W. E. Chamberlain, R. H. Lacy, and William M. Garland. In reply to this request, Congressman Osborne sent the following telegram, which was received by the Fair Price Committee:

"Regard the campaign by women of Southern California to ameliorate conditions growing out of the high cost of food by home gardening as a very helpful movement. It will give me great pleasure to furnish 5000 packages, each containing an assortment of selected vegetable seeds for distribution by the Federal Fair Price Committee. Department of Agriculture says it will take about two weeks to prepare for shipment. Please wire me under what address to send the seeds."

RANDALL REPLIES.

Congressman Randall replied as follows: "Will send you five packages containing five varieties of vegetable seeds at once. More to follow."

Upon arrival of the seeds, the Fair Price Committee will turn them over to Mrs. J. T. Anderson, who will take charge of distribution through the medium of the Home Gardens' Association. At present $600 worth of vegetable seeds are being distributed through the following institutions, working in co-operation with the Home Gardens' Association:

Los Angeles Settlement House, Brownson House, Boyle Heights Library, Neighborhood Settlement House, Johnson Apartments, Black Diamond Coal Company, Vermont Square Library, Maud Booth Home, McKinley Industrial Home, Episcopal Clothing Bureau, Big Sisters Settlement Home, El Retiro, and by the following schools: Castelar street, Ann street, Macy street, East Ninth, East Seventh, Alpine, Bridge, and Hewitt.

"The present high cost of living," said W. B. Beirne, executive secretary of the Federal Fair Price Committee, "has been attributed to several causes, chief of which are the following: Subnormal production, abnormal spending and extravagance, hoarding and profiteering. The remedies suggested are increased production, moderated consumption, and rigid enforcement of the Lever Act against profiteering.

TO INCREASE PRODUCTION.

"This campaign to increase the number of home and community gardens in Los Angeles through the distribution of seeds is the remedy to be applied to the first cause. Careful and economical buying such as the Fair Price Committee has already outlined is the remedy for the second cause. The active cooperation of the Federal Fair Price Committee with the Department of Justice to assist in the enforcement of the Lever Act is the remedy for the third cause."

It is the hope of the organizations which are carrying on this campaign that home and community gardening in Los Angeles can be re-established on a war-time basis. During the war, hundreds of war gardens and victory gardens were grown in Los Angeles under auspices of the Home Gardens' Association, for the purpose of increasing production of food-stuffs. Since the armistice, these gardens have decreased by about 20 per cent. Through this campaign efforts will be made to bring production back to a war-time basis, and if possible to exceed the war record. If this can be accomplished, it is believed that a big step toward combating the high cost of food products will have been taken.

WILSON AVERTS RAIL WALKOUT.

of an equal number of representatives selected by the railroad companies and the railroad labor organization signatory to this agreement and invested with full authority to deal with this particular controversy on the basis of the following principles:

"1—Rates of pay for similar or analogous services in other industries.

"2—Relation of rates of pay to increased costs of living.

"3—A basic minimum living wage sufficient to maintain a railroad man's average family upon a standard of health and reasonable comfort.

"4—That differentials above this basic minimum living wage be established, giving among other things due regard to skill required, responsibility assumed, and hazard incurred; decision of this tribunal to be handed down within sixty days after agreement to establish it and to be final and binding upon all railroads in the United States and the employes whom we represent."

FOLLOWS HINES LEAD.

The President's attitude followed closely the recommendation made to him by Mr. Hines when he broke off negotiations with the union representatives. In his communication to the President Mr. Hines said it was impossible for the Railroad Administration to dispose of such a comprehensive and far-reaching problem in the remaining seventeen days in which it will have jurisdiction and with such expiring jurisdiction the Railroad Administration could not justify itself to the country in settling permanently for the future a problem of this character which involves so much both to the railroad employes and the public which, in some form, must bear the cost of railroad wages.

While the cost of living has in some respects become even higher than when he made his address to Congress in August, President Wilson pointed out that "in other respects it has already begun to respond to the corrective factors which have been and are at work."

"The campaign which the government has inaugurated has been gaining steadily in momentum," the President's letter continued, "will continue to be aggressively conducted and I believe will have an increasingly beneficial effect, and this notwithstanding the fact that some of the most needed remedial measures which I have recommended to Congress have not been adopted."

In conclusion the President warned the brotherhood that any course other than co-operation with the government "will prove not only a grave injury to the public, but a serious blow to the important principle of collective bargaining, and will merely delay rather than expedite the just and prompt solution of these important matters."

BELIEVE STRIKE AVERTED.

Representatives of the railroad employees' unions continued their consideration today of President Wilson's proposal for settlement of their wage controversy. They were in communication with union heads throughout the country and expected to be in session all day.

STRIKE POSTPONED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT, Feb. 14.—The strike of 300,000 members of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers, set for next Tuesday, was tonight indefinitely postponed by Allen E. Barker, international president of the union, in accordance with the request of President Wilson that action be delayed until after the general conference of railway union committeemen on February 23.

Mr. Barker's decision to delay the strike, he announced, was taken on recommendation of the Executive Committee now in Washington, to whom it appeared, he said, that late developments in their wage controversy tendered to place the maintenance of way union in a position apart from the other unions and "seemingly forgetful of public interest." He maintained, however, that immediate relief must be had and that a strike as planned would have been fully justified.

ANNOUNCE DECISION.

Notice of the decision to postpone the strike was communicated to Director-General Hines by Mr. Barker in the following message:

"In compliance with recommendations of the committee of the brotherhood now at Washington, I am indefinitely postponing the strike order, which was to have become effective Tuesday morning, February 17. However, I am confirmed in my belief that strike action would have been eminently justified to force favorable action on the wage demands of the men for whom I speak. It is evident our committee did not desire that the maintenance of way brotherhood should be driven into a position seemingly forgetful of the public interest due to unfriendly interests including the avenues of information by which the public can be reached, the people being ignorant of actual conditions among these railway workers. I desire to impress upon you with all the force at my command the absolute necessity of relief for our members immediately if a most serious situation from which there will be no retreat is to be avoided."

HIGHEST PRAISE GIVEN HOOVER.

Danish Food Expert's Commendation Enthusiastic.

Says Californian has Done "The Greatest Work."

Organization of Relief Result of Immense Energy.

BY ARNO DOSCH FLOUROT.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HUSAM (Schleswig-Holstein) Feb. 10.—(Via Copenhagen, Feb. 14.) I had an interview today with the very well known Danish food expert, Prof. Moellgaard, who has been the leader and organizer of Danish food rationing and who is now leader of food distribution in the plebiscite area of Schleswig. This position he obtained at the request of the International Commission, which was aware of his great ability in that line.

I asked Prof. Moellgaard in what way the Scandinavian people regarded Herbert Hoover, the American food director.

"Hoover's work," Prof. Moellgaard said, "is the greatest work any man living has done. He has simply saved thousands and then other thousands of people in Europe from starvation. His name must be named with thankfulness by all peoples. Not the least bit those from the starving countries, Finland and the Baltic states.

IMMENSE ENERGY.

"I have not met Mr. Hoover personally, I regret to say, but during my work in helping Finland with food from Denmark I was lucky enough to get behind the scenes and I saw what his wonderful food administration really has done for the poor Finnish people who were almost dying from starvation. It was so well done that it proved that the man in charge, the starter of the organization, must be a very able man with immensely energetic power.

"The whole system worked perfectly. I saw an illustration of it when Mr. Hoover's friend, Magnus Swenson, who resided in Copenhagen was in charge of the Food Administration in the Baltic states. There I happened to work together with the great organization's best men and saw the great work Mr. Hoover had started most cleverly fulfilled.

"We of Denmark also owe much thanks to Hoover. In 1918, we had food only for fourteen days, but America, or rather Hoover, helped Denmark with supplies just as he later sent oil cakes to save Denmark's milk production. Herbert Hoover is a man Europe, especially Scandinavia, always will remember with the utmost gratitude."

SAY PHELAN STARTED BOOM.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—U. S. Senator Phelan of California, whose term expires this year, according to California Democrats at the Waldorf Astoria, is the author of the "Hoover-for-President" boom.

It was Senator Phelan who persuaded the Democratic national committee to fix upon San Francisco, his home, as the place for holding the national convention this year.

It was Senator Phelan alone who put up $125,000 as a bonus for the national committee, his bid being greater than those from St. Louis or Chicago. The national committee has his money and the Senator is waiting for San Francisco business friends to come forward and share in the financial burden he incurred for himself when he put up his own money. As yet they have made no move to help him.

Senator Phelan invested in the national convention venture as a sort of last-chance gamble, figuring that if the convention is held in his home city pressure can be exerted to make Hoover the candidate.

The Democratic chances in California seem almost hopeless this year, but Senator Phelan, it is said by his friends from the Coast, believes that with Hoover running and with a platform holding out some hope to the wets in the Coast State that the grape-growing and wine-making industry can be saved, he can carry the State for Hoover and beat any Republican candidate pitted against himself.

Senator Phelan and Hoover have long been friends.

HOUSTON BASEBALL CLUB BRINGS $65,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Feb. 14.—The Houston baseball club was sold today by Otto Sens and Doak Roberts to a number of Houston business men for $65,000. Sens and Robertson are to retain about 20 per cent. of their stock.

Mental Work Needs a Stomach

Great Mistake to Imagine You Can Work Better and Faster on the Starvation Plan. Eat What You Like But Follow With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mental work uses up energy fast. And energy comes from food. To eat little or nothing in order to do more work is a fallacy that has created an army of dyspeptics. A better plan is to eat the regular portions of food such as make up the average meal and follow each meal with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

You will then get a double benefit—energy from food and sociability with meals, for as a rule, the light eater, or those who skip meals, get into a bad habit, a rut, of hermit-like isolation. Do not be afraid of gassiness, sour stomach, heartburn, heavy feeling or coated tongue after meals. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets arouse the stomach to secrete the juices necessary to relieve these troubles that so frequently distress the mental worker. They contain harmless ingredients which act with an alkaline effect, so you may eat the rich things of the banquet or the savory sausage for breakfast with utmost freedom.

Get a 50-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store, eat freely of what you like and you will do more and better work than on a skimpy diet. Try this plan.—[Advertisement.

PHOENIX PLUMBERS DEMAND $12 A DAY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, Feb. 14.—The Journeymen Plumbers, one of the tightest-organized trades of the city, has struck for a rise from $9 to $12 a day.

This ties up most of the plumbing work on several hundred buildings under construction.

The Master Plumbers absolutely refuse the demand and will bring in other men. The larger building contractors already have united in an open-shop agreement, while most of the electrical work is done by nonunion firms.

salary to get the best available talent in the country." The manager's term of office would be determined by satisfactory service.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL.

An executive council also was provided for, to be composed of the presidents of State auxiliaries and chairmen of standing committees.

Evidence of partisan activity was given repeatedly. Four women, although declared out of order by the chair, rose to insist that the word "nonpartisan" be kept in sight and another delegate asked that "unpartisan" be used in the permanent name of the league, yet to be chosen.

Following the morning session, at which a resolution praising Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, for aid rendered the suffrage cause was adopted, Democratic adherents, especially delegates from the south, complained openly that the convention had been packed with Republicans.

Victory for suffrage is celebrated tonight, although five States must ratify the nineteenth Constitutional amendment before it will become law. Suffragists are confident that the necessary ratifications will be forthcoming within a few days.

In the afternoon the new League of Women Voters, which had already held several preliminary conferences, was called together by Mrs. Charles H. Brooks to elect permanent officials and receive the report of its credentials committee.

SUPPORT REPUBLICANS.

The suffrage association came to the defense of Will Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who has been attacked by anti-suffragists for aid rendered to the suffrage cause, and congratulated the Republican party "for having a chairman who is astute enough to recognize the certain trend of public affairs, and to attempt to lead his party in step with the inevitable march of human progress."

Democratic women then adopted a resolution thanking Homer Cummings, Democratic National Chairman for help he rendered their cause.

The association decided to establish a foundation for the study of politics at Bryn Mawr and to establish a chair in the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania, both as a memorial to the late Anna Howard Shaw.

FIVE ST. LOUIS BOYS TO PLAY IN DALLAS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Feb. 14.—Five local boys tonight announced they would play with the Dallas club of the Texas League this season. Arthur Forest and Dave Greenburg, catchers, and Joe Hahn, outfielder, announced they had mailed their contracts today. Gene Dale, a pitcher, and Joe Slattery, first baseman, have been sold to the team by the Salt Lake City club and the Tulsa team, respectively, it was said.

Ted Menze, third baseman, mailed an unsigned contract to the Houston team of the Texas League, he said, announcing he was holding out for more money.

Extraordinary Reduction Sale of Oriental Rugs

DICTATION NOT LIKED BY DUTCH

But Holland Might Agree to Moving Wilhelm Inland.

Exile from Europe Meets with Unfavorable Comment.

Slight Opposition to Joining League of Nations.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

THE HAGUE, Friday, Feb. 13.—Holland probably would not be unwilling to accede to a polite request from the Allies to put former Emperor William farther from the German frontier than he is at present, it has been learned here, but would undoubtedly resent any dictation as to sending him to a Dutch island or any particular place.

Only slight opposition developed to Holland's entrance into the League of Nations when discussion of the question was opened in Parliament today. The speaker proposed a tentative reservation to the effect that if any other nation entered the League under more favorable circumstances (such as the United States,) Holland should enjoy the same privileges.

TEXT OF NEW NOTES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The notes to Germany and Holland approved yesterday at the meeting of the Supreme Allied Council in London constitute an important step toward conciliation, the Matin believes.

It says the note sent to Holland recognizes the possibility of Holland's refusal to surrender former Emperor William on condition his residence is removed to territory outside of Europe, the Dutch East Indies for instance.

The note sent to Berlin, according to the Matin, demands extradition only of Germans charged with the commission of direct crimes, and admits the difficulties Germany would encounter in attempting to surrender those whose responsibility is more distant and general.

Former Emperor William's disapproval of the offer recently made by his son, the former Crown Prince, to surrender himself to the Allies, was so strong that he made representations to the Dutch government, according to a Berlin dispatch quoting a report printed by the Gazette of that city.

The ambassadors' conference this afternoon decided to refer to the Allied governments the Austrian request that the reparations commission for Austria be organized without waiting for ratification of the St. Germain treaty. This was asked so Austria might organize and regulate her finances for the purpose of raising money for foodstuffs.

PRIVATE RESIDENCE OR LIQUOR STORE?

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A test case to decide whether a man can convert his liquor store into his private home and store liquor there will be fought in the Federal courts between John H. Brede of Brooklyn, who tried it, and revenue agents, who seized nine barrels of wine and 1500 bottles of whisky, gin, champagne and other liquors. Brede tacked a card on his liquor store door reading: "Private residence of John H. Brede" as soon as prohibition went into effect.

TRANSFER TITLE FOR HOG ISLAND

American International Company is to Give up Land.

Shipping Board Exercises an Option on Future Purchase.

Payne Wants Oil Land Royalties Paid Over in Crude.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. — An agreement with the American International Shipbuilding Company was reached today by the United States Shipping Board by which the board takes title to the land of the Hog Island shipyard at Philadelphia.

Approximately $4,000,000 is involved, Chairman Payne said. The board exercised an option to purchase the land for $1,700,000 and also allowed the shipbuilding company $2,000,000 for the cancellation of contracts for fifty-eight ships. In addition an allowance of $79,000 each was given for the completion of twelve vessels now being constructed.

Under the agreement the International Shipbuilding Company is to continue operation of the yard until the twelve ships are finished, Chairman Payne said.

By taking title to the land, the chairman declared, the board now is in a position to dispose of Hog Island and negotiations for the sale probably will be opened soon.

Shipbuilding materials for seven big ships now at the yard will be turned over to the Navy

GOVERNMENT OIL ROYALTIES.

Chairman Payne of the Shipping Board today asked Secretary Lane to exercise the authority given him in the oil-leasing bill to take the government's royalty on oil produced in oil instead of cash and to sell it to any government department.

Mr. Payne said such action would enable the Shipping Board to obtain its requirement of fuel oil.

Chairman Payne in his letter to Mr. Lane said the provision permitting the government to take its royalty in oil was inserted in the bill at the request of the Shipping Board.

"The purpose," he said, "was to assure its necessary supply of fuel oil on the Pacific Coast at reasonable prices. For the past two years the board has been forced to purchase its supplies on the Pacific in the open market at almost prohibitive prices and it is now confronted with the additional possibility of having even this supply cut off. By taking the royalties accruing to the government under the leasing act, estimated at 4,000,000 barrels in 1920, in the form of oil at the producing wells rather than in the form of payment by the producers the board may be in a position to force the Pacific Coast operators to provide for its requirement of fuel oil at reasonable prices."

CANADA'S CONSTRUCTION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MONTREAL, Feb. 14.—Eighty vessels with a total net tonnage of 99,340 were built in Canada during the last year and sent overseas without being registered, the Department of Marine and Fisheries announced today. The ships were constructed for French interests, the imperial munitions board and Norway.

Sixty were wooden steamships with a total tonnage of 68,522, eighteen were steel steamers with a tonnage of 30,071, and there were two wooden sailing vessels built totaling 747 tons.

ARICA PACIFIC PORT CLAIMED BY BOLIVIA.

"DEFINED RIGHTS" DENIED CHILE AND PERU BY CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUENOS AIRES, Friday, Feb. 13.—Bolivia has formally laid claim to a Pacific port in the province of Arica, according to dispatches from La Paz, which say the Bolivian Chamber of Deputies has passed a resolution declaring: "The time has now come to incorporate in the dominion of the republic a port in Arica over which the bordering nations of Chile and Peru will have no defined rights."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Recent developments indicate a tendency to a more friendly feeling between Chile and Bolivia and officials here in close touch with South American affairs see a possibility that the two countries may reach an agreement allowing Bolivia a Pacific port.

It is regarded here as likely that the demands of the Bolivian Chamber of Deputies for a Pacific port were inspired by Chilean authorities, who are believed to be willing to allow Bolivia an outlet to the sea to secure that nation's support against Peru's [illegible] Arica. FORCE ACTION ON ARMY BILL

Leaders in Both Houses Line up for Training Fight.

Kahn Says He has Just Begun His Little War.

Compel Vote in Committee Next Week, He Declares.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Congress has got to toe the mark on universal training and efforts in both houses to dodge the issue or sidetrack it until after the election will be unavailing, according to emphatic statements today by leaders of the fight for adequate national defense.

Senator Wadsworth of New York, chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, announced that he would move to take up the army reorganization bill at the earliest parliamentary opportunity and that the universal training sections would stay in the measure until a majority of the Senate ordered them eliminated. He declared that there was no possible way in which a roll call on the question could be avoided.

Representative Kahn, of California, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee declared he had "just begun to fight."

KAHN WILL FORCE VOTE.

He insisted he would force a vote on universal training in the committee next week and would demand a showdown on the floor of the House. He spurned a plea of some of the leaders to consent to the inclusion in the army bill of a provision for the appointment of a commission of three Senators, three Representatives and three army officers designated by the President to study the subject and report to the next Congress.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, Democrat, former chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, roundly berated both Republicans and Democrats in the Senate for trying to get under cover on the universal training issue.

"Our Democratic friends took to the woods on this subject when the President showed a willingness to stand for it," said Senator Chamberlain. "There are indications that our Republican friends are planning to follow the same course. They are getting ready to take to the woods. I cannot believe that the Republicans, the party in power in Congress, who have stood for so long for universal military training intend to desert the cause now."

DEMOTIONS ATTACKED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—attacking the policy of the general staff in demobilizing officers as having resulted in "discrimination and favoritism," affecting hundreds of officers, Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, told the Senate today he hoped the facts he would present would influence Secretary Baker to "direct a change in the policy of demotions to remedy the discriminations already inflicted upon hundreds of army officers."

Senator Harrison was speaking on his resolution directing the Secretary to furnish a statement of the policy governing demotions.

Many older officers of the service, Senator Harrison said, have recently been reduced, while young officer, their junior in service, retain high rank and high pay under the general staff policy.

The prevalent belief among the officers of the army, he declares, was that "favoritism and incompetency" was displayed.

"The Washington clique retained their advanced rank," said he, "and I am told that colonels at Hoboken would greet returning veteran brigadier-generals and order them to adjourn to a reduced rank. Generals, colonels and lieutenant-colonels, before starting home from abroad were ordered to carry in their baggage the insignias of captains, majors and lieutenant-colonels."

CITES CASES.

He cited cases of former Brig.-Gens. C. W. Kuntz, John N. Hodges, Henry C. Jewett, Leroy S. Upton, Bryant H. Wells, W. C. Langfitt, Mason M. Patrick, and Maj.-Gens. W. H. Johnston and Preston Brown as instances of injustices he charged.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—House Republicans in favor of legislation in behalf of soldiers agreed at a meeting today with the Republican steering committee not to call a caucus until the House has disposed of the railroad bill, which probably will not be ready for consideration before Wednesday.

A committee of which Representative Morgan, Oklahoma, is chairman, obtained sufficient signatures for the caucus and so notified the steering committee. The suggestion of the latter committee that the whole question be deferred one week was accepted.

HIS INCOME TAX BLANK BLANK ENOUGH FOR HIM

HE MUTTERED A FEW BLANKETY-BLANKS AND DECIDED TO END IT ALL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—"Accrued or received, if not why not, see line 1-X and use another blank."

The man paused and gazed aimlessly out over the lake. In one hand he held an income tax blank, in the other a revolver. Detectives Seyferlich and Waters were watching him.

"Rents, royalties or other sources," the man muttered. "Net income minus the exemption allowed, answer yes or no—it's too much, too much, too much."

The detectives drew nearer as the man resumed his study of the income blank.

"Subtract the sum total from—see question No. 34 and turn to the opposite page. Then use another blank—"

The man thrust the blank into one pocket, the revolver into the other and started for the lake. The detectives came up swiftly and seized him. He was taken to a station where he gave his name as Clarence Stebbins, 52 years old. He was sent to the psychopathic hospital for examination. One bullet had been fired from the revolver.

DRAFT SUFFERS A HARD BUMP.

Local Baseball Fans Pleased Over its Downfall.

Coast Managers Relieved Over Flivver of Measure.

Bill Essick Gets Into Another Signing Mood.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

General satisfaction prevails here as a result of the knockout landed on the effort to have the baseball draft restored.

When it came to a showdown the movement to deliver the minors over to the majors by resubmitting to the draft fell flat.

It is believed now that the draft as far as class AA leagues are concerned is dead as the well-known dried herring, although there will be efforts from time to time on the part of the major leagues and their friends to resuscitate it.

Fans believe that ultimately this freedom will result in a higher grade of baseball on the Coast. True, to retain the best men, will necessitate somewhat higher salaries, but the increased attendance doubtless will justify this.

FEEL RELIEVED.

Baseball players expressed no disappointment over failure to restore the draft, while it is only natural the managers feel relieved that the measure flivvered.

Proponents of the draft claimed that it inspired young players to better effort. That is, they would make the big leagues their goal, and become all fired up with ambition. However, last season nobody heard the throaty, bronchial-like sound of youthful ambition being strangled inside the growing athlete. The Coast League sent up a very respectable contingent to the majors last fall. And the avenue to advancement never will be entirely blocked. When a player proves himself of major league caliber, receives an offer from the majors and is determined to play there, he will be permitted to go. But there will be none of the unloading of players each fall which formerly was precipitated by the draft.

MINORS GROWING.

Hang up another score for the growing minors, which now have their own world series and everything.

Bill Essick yesterday signed up Beck Lanfranco, who has been winning games in the box for Anaheim. This is the fourth fledgling flinger signed by Mr. Essick this winter. The others are Moffitt of Norwalk, Kessler of Redondo and Lefty Mann of the Sub Base, who turned in another win yesterday. Bill signs bushers, not because he needs them, but because he hasn't anything else to do. Dame Fortune bequeathed a full and experienced ball team to Bill from last season, leaving him feeling as rich and with as little to do as a landlord.

SIGNS BUSHER.

Occasionally the tempo gets to surging around inside of Bill when he is playing the piano, and he gets to feeling that he simply must sign something. When feeling this way he sometimes signs a check. At other times he goes out and signs a busher. This is as much sport as signing checks, and less expensive. And, again, there is an element of chance in signing bushers which appeals to Bill's sporting nature. It is said that out of every 100,000 bush pitchers signed, one proves to be a second Walter Johnson. Walter was in the first 100,000 signed. The second 100,000 isn't complete yet, but Bill is helping to swell the figures up to that mark.

Babe Borton was out to the park yesterday seeking a playmate. Babe felt the surge of the natural baseball athlete bounding around inside of him and craved a workout. But none of the other athletes at the park was in a similar mood and, as about the only way Babe could work out by himself was to juggle three or four baseballs in the air, he was forced to forego the pleasure of exercising his strength and skill.

ONE AT A TIME.

Babe says a guy gets enough chance to juggle one ball at a time in the regular season without going out by himself and juggling three or four in the spring. Anyway, his is the proper and commendable spirit. He seeks to get in shape early, and play the game of his life. Last season Babe played under a flock of handicaps. His was a painful but uncomplaining service. He had a busted bone in his foot, and one thumb was torn loose from its hinges. In fact, Babe was a badly-cracked up athlete most of the season, but he played on and on and on, and never a bleat.

Secretary Lorenz passed the day in the Vernon offices waiting for the valentine that never came. All that he got was a gas bill. He was seen to shudder violently. "We all get 'em," remarked a visitor soothingly.

DOVE IN CENTER.

"It isn't the gas bill that's the matter with me," said Lorenz. "I was just thinking how near Abraham Lincoln came to being born on Friday the 13th. As for the valentines, what do you suppose has come of them? Remember the fancy kind with a dove or a heart in the center and seventeen layers of fluffy paper. Then there were the comic ones which your enemies sent you. Wish I could get hold of one of these. Would send it to my plumber. What I want is a picture of a yegg slamming one of his customers on the bean with a lead pipe. They both belong to the same lodge. The yegg uses a piece of lead pipe to put a bump on your head, and the plumber takes a piece of lead pipe and puts a dent in your pocketbook. Selah."

ATHLETIC ALMANAC.

The Athletic Almanac, the first of the sport annuals of the year to make its appearance, has just been issued from the press of the American Publishing Company. In addition to Secretary Rubien's all-American selections for A.A.U., collegiate and scholastic titles, the Almanac contains all the official records in track and field sports and swimming, besides Olympic and foreign statistics.

FRENCH CHAMP KNOCKED OUT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Feb. 14.—Ted "Kid" Lewis of England tonight knocked out Prunier, the runner-up for the welterweight championship of France, in the fifth round.

Ferry quit to Phil Bloom in the ninth round.

TEXAS POLO TEAM WINS FIRST MATCH.

DEFEATS COLORADO SPRINGS ON BARTLETT FIELD IN A PEPPY GAME.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 14.—The Fort Bliss (Tex.) polo team defeated the Colorado Springs team in the opening match of the polo tournament this afternoon on Bartlett Field, Montecito, by 6½ to 5½. The match throughout was spectacular. During the last part of the game the teams were but half a point apart. Earl Graham and Edward McVitty played star parts for the Colorado Springs team.

The cavalry victory today was but a continuation of their good fortune which began at Del Monte. They came up from the border with mounts carefully selected from 3000 ponies, beat the Army team and the Santa Barbara team, winning two championships, and today's victory lands a third wreath to their credit.

There will be a match Monday between two Santa Barbara teams and on Tuesday the Santa Barbara regulars play the cavalry team in the contest for the $5000 high-goal cup offered by Cornelius K. G. Billings.

Today's match was witnessed by 5000 persons, including many distinguished men and women from over the United States and England.

PASADENA IS AFTER NATIONAL A.A.U. MEET.

Pasadena will be a contender, not only for the Pacific Coast tryouts for the Olympic games to be determined this summer, but will also strive to get the National Amateur Athletic Union track and field meet in 1921. On Tuesday the City Commissioners are to confer with a committee composed of Robert S. Weaver, president of the Southern Pacific branch of the A.A.U.; Coach William Stanton of Occidental College and Coach Raymond Call of the California Institute of Technology, with reference to improvements at Tournament Park, where a quarter-mile running track will be constructed.

YOUNT MAY GO EAST FOR MAY TRYOUTS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 14.—William Yount, star all-around athlete of the university, may attend the big athletic carnival and tryouts in Philadelphia in May. Colin Kilby had planned to attend, but it is understood that no quarter or half, his events, will be run. Yount wants to compete in the all-around championship, for it is believed that he can win a place that will put him on the Olympic team.

The merchants of Redlands have announced that they will help in any way possible to send the boys East.

LINCOLN HIGH EASY FOR L.A.A.C. TEAM.

The L.A.A.C. baseball team easily defeated the Lincoln High School ball tossers by a score of 8 to 1 on the Downey playgrounds yesterday afternoon. The heavy hitting of Baily, Dascomb and Hillman won the contest for the clubmen. The summary:

	R.	H.	E.
L.A.A.C.	8	11	2
Lincoln	1	4	3

Batteries—Tracy and Dascomb; Trautwein, Fisher and McMullin.

WIDDESS SETS A NEW RECORD.

Pomona Weight Heaver Makes Great Discus Throw.

Seniors Carry Off Track Meet in Close Score.

Daggs, Freshman, Finishes First in Three Events.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLAREMONT, Feb. 14.—Widdess, Pomona College's husky weight heaver, in the annual interclass track meet here today established a new intercollegiate record for Southern California when he hurled the discus 132 feet, 11½ inches. His throw bettered his own, and former record by eight feet.

The record books fail to disclose who holds the Pacific Coast mark in the Grecian event, but Pope of Tacoma won with a throw of 133 feet 2 inches, during the holding of the Pacific Coast championships at Tacoma last July.

WINS SHOT PUT.

Besides his win in the discus, Widdess accounted for another first in the shot put, and placed second in the hammer throw.

The seniors won the meet with a total of 45 points, the freshmen finishing three points behind. The meet was not decided until the running of the relay, which was won by the upper classmen.

Daggs of the freshman class finished first in three events, winning the 100 in 10 2-5s., the high hurdles in 16 1-5s. and the low hurdles in 27 flat.

The sophomore and junior classes finished in the ruck, the former with 24 1-2 points and the latter with 22 2-3. The results follow:

TRACK EVENTS

100-yard dash: Daggs (Freshman) first, Arnold (Freshman) second, Hollingsworth (Sophomore) third. Time 10 2-5s.

120-yard hurdles: Daggs (Freshman) first, Crosswhite (Senior) second, Chambers (Senior) third. Time 16 1-5s.

440-yard dash: Payne (Sophomore) first, Ellis (Senior) second, Mitchell (Senior) third. Time 54 1-5s.

Two-mile run: Curtis (Freshman) first, Handley (Freshman) second, Storm (Sophomore) third. Time 11m.

OXNARD IS TO HOLD AUTO ROAD RACE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, Feb. 13.—The automobile road race to be held in Oxnard probably on Decoration Day, May 30, was the chief topic of discussion at the bi-monthly meeting of the Ventura county Motor Car Dealers' Association held at Pierpont Inn last evening.

The proposed race which would be held under the auspices of this association, would be for stock cars, and if the present plans materialize, the event will be the biggest thing of its kind ever pulled off in Ventura county.

STANFORD AND BEARS EACH WIN A GAME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 14.—Stanford and the University of California divided honors today in intercollegiate athletic competion here. The Stanford Rugby squad defeated the California fifteen, 14 to 5, while California won the soccer contest, 2 to 0. Permanent possession of the Lathrop cup went to California as the result of this victory. This trophy had been contested for between the two universities for the past five years.

JACK MUST GIVE UP UNCONDITIONALLY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—If Jack Johnson wishes to return to the United States and surrender to Federal authorities to serve a sentence of a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary it must be unconditionally, Charles H. Cline, District Attorney, announced today.

Mr. Cline said he would pay no attention to Johnson's plea that he be allowed thirty-six hours' grace to arrange bail if he returned. Johnson fled the country after being sentenced for violation of the Mann Act.

ONLY ONE MEASLY AUTO IS STOLEN.

Locally, February 14 was a holiday for the automobile thieves. One of the members of the fraternity, however, slipped it over on his fellow-brothers by swiping an Essex 1919 touring model, green body, license 426-422. Anyone seeing this car is requested to report the matter to the Auto Club theft bureau or to police officials.

GOLF TOURNEY TO BE HELD AT LONG BEACH.

The Fourth Invitational tournament of the Southern California Golf Association will be held on the links of the Virginia Country Club, Long Beach, on February 19, 20 and 21. The qualifying round will be played on the morning of February 19, and will be for eighteen holes. Match play will start that afternoon. The first flight of sixteen will play from scratch, and all other flights will be handicapped. Entries can be made up to 10:30 a.m. next Thursday morning.

Announcement also has been made of a tournament to be held at the Coronado Country Club on February 17 and 18. The entry list contains the names of a number of well-known California and eastern players. Among the latter are Tom McNamara, Jack Dowling and Tom Kerrigan, rated among New York's best players.

ANZAC CHAMP BOXER TO MEET MITCHELL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Feb. 14.—Lew Edwards, champion lightweight boxer of Australia, today signed articles to meet Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee, in a ten-round, no-decision contest, in Milwaukee on or about February 26.

HAWAII INVITES OUR TENNIS CHAMPIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK. Feb. 14.—The Hawaiian Tennis Association has invited William M. Johnston, the American champion, and Roland Roberts, of California, who ranks in the first ten, to compete in the championship tournament at Honolulu, the United States Lawn Tennis Association announced today.

The tournament to be held probably in April, will be part of a centennial celebration of the Hawaiian mission founded by American missionaries.

SUBMARINES SURELY SWAT THE OLD APPLE.

The Submarine baseball team turned in another win yesterday, when it defeated the United Paints, 6 to 2, on the Exposition Park grounds. Mann and Rego were in the points for the winners, and Moses and Kellar for the vanquished. Mann pitched shutout ball until the ninth, when Bienkiron got hold of one for three bases, scoring Moses and Cully. Mann, who has been signed to a Vernon contract, whiffed eight batters.

OLYMPIC TRYOUTS TO BE HELD IN JUNE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The American Olympic Committee has decided to consider the national outdoor track and field championships as the final tryouts of the American team that will compete in the Olympic games at Antwerp next August. F. W. Rubien, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, announced today. Sectional tryouts will be held in San Francisco, Chicago and the Harvard stadium.

Mr. Rubien, who is chairman of the National Championships Committee, said the national events would be held in June and July.

ANNAPOLIS VICTORS OVER VARSITY MEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Feb. 14.—Athletes of the University of Pennsylvania were no match for the Annapolis midshipmen, the latter taking dual engagements in wrestling and gymnastics this afternoon. There were seven wrestling bouts in classes ranging from 115 pounds up to the unlimited weight and the middies took two by falls and three on decisions of aggressiveness. Both of the falls were in the big events, Gates, Navy, throwing Rosenberg in the 175-pound class, while Wilke, navy, threw Myers in the unlimited. One second longer and this round would have gone to a no decision, so stiff was the defense shown by the Pennsylvanian. The score by points was Navy, 22; Pennsylvania, 8.

RALPH DE PALMA HERE.

Ready and anxious for what he admits will be one of the hardest-fought battles of his long racing career, Ralph de Palma arrived in Los Angeles last evening. His speedy French Ballot racer had arrived in Los Angeles earlier in the day, and De Palma plunged at once into the task of seeing that it was prepared for Monday practise. With the elimination trials so close at hand, De Palma will have but a very brief time to learn the track, but no driver will need less opportunity in this direction than Ralph.

Richard Kennerdell, chairman of the contest board of the American Automobile Association, likewise arrived last evening and was welcomed at the depot by Manager A. M. Young of the Speedway Association.

Tommy Milton and Jimmy Murphy in their Duesenbergs turned up for practise yesterday afternoon, and right away threw considerable jazz into the proceedings. Art Klein had been turning some fast laps in his wicked black Peugeot, and he proceeded to introduce Milton to the new track. Though Milton's motor was not well worked in, and though it was the first time he had appeared on the track, he forced Klein to lower the track record in order to keep the Peugeot in front.

Klein was caught by several watches in one lap at 40⅛s., or almost 112 miles an hour. Milton was a fifth of a second slower, but still rolling at an average of 111.38. It was the most interesting workout so far, and held plenty to interest the crowd of more than 2000 spectators who saw the practice.

STANFORD GIVES OUT SCHEDULE.

Many Track Meetings Arranged for this Season.

Freshmen Events are Named with Seven Schools.

Coach Maloney to Get up a Rugby Olympic Team.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 14.—Tentative track schedules for the spring meets for Stanford varsity and freshmen teams were released yesterday. Meetings have been arranged with the Olympic Club, University of Southern California, University of Redlands, Pomona College, Oregon Agricultural College and the University of California. The Pacific Coast conference meet will be held at Stanford this year.

Track meets for the freshmen have been scheduled with the high schools of Berkeley, San Jose, Mountain View, Palo Alto, Lick-Wilmerding, Lowell and Polytechnic, the latter three of San Francisco, and with the University of California freshmen.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 14.—Harry Maloney, the Stanford coach who is directing the movement for a team from the Pacific Coast to represent the United States in Rugby at the Olympic games in Antwerp next summer, announced yesterday he had received a letter from Secretary Rubien of the Amateur Athletic Union requesting him to go ahead with organization of a finance committee and a Rugby selection committee.

A meeting of Rugby leaders from the bay cities will be held at Stanford after the Stanford-California game Saturday to complete organization of the committee. It will be necessary to raise $15,000 to finance such a Rugby team, according to Maloney.

Secretary Rubien's letter requested Maloney to see that all players considered for the American team were American citizens. This will eliminate any Australian or New Zealand players who are on the Pacific Coast, but will not shut out Jim Wylie and Danny Carroll, former All-Black stars, who became American citizens after entering Stanford.

AGGIES LOSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CORVALLIS (Or.) Feb. 14.—Oregon Agricultural College dropped the second game of a basketball series with University of Oregon here today, taking the short end of a 37-to-21 score.

GREEN BENNY HYPNOTIZES GOLF PLAYE

BY ONE UPPE.

To alibi myself for a defeat in an athletic event is something I would never do under any circumstances. And yet, so much has been said about my defeat in the golf tournament at Altadena, and there has been so much criticism of my play and that of some of my friends who were also defeated through hard luck, that it seems only just to explain publicly about these unmerited defeats

In the first place, I wish it to be understood that I am certain that none of us were the victims of any crooked work on the part of the Altadena officials. There is no question that these men are absolutely square. I know this because they did not match me with Elmer Ralphs in the first round, as has occurred everywhere else when I was in the first flight. The fact that the bird they did match me with played a mile over his head and scratched out a victory over me was simply a matter of chance for which no one is to blame.

COAT THE CAUSE.

The only occurrence during the tournament which savored of anything but honesty was the matter of the Ralph brothers and the green coat. It is the opinion of the writer and of several other experts that this coat was the direct cause of the defeat of my friend, Mr. Guyer, at the hands of Elmer Ralphs. In this round W. Ralphs appeared in a coat of the most violent Kelley green, and it was apparent there was some motive in his wearing this garment, because no one would wear it otherwise.

And it appeared to me that the idea was for brother W. to play just ahead of Elmer and Mr. Guyer, and by moving about to make it appear that the putting green was in motion. This plan seems to have disconcerted Mr. Guyer, for he kept shooting here and there all through the match and had the greatest difficulty in locating the real greens.

NOT TO BLAME.

Some of my acquaintances have attempted to kid me because I did not win the low net prize as I expected to do in the qualifying round. But, as a matter of fact, I was not the least to blame, and I still contend I should have won but for the matter of the caddy and the flea bite. I am still certain it was a flea bite, because no scratching so sudden and violent could have resulted from the hives.

It happened on the ninth green. Up to that time I was going like a house on fire, but here, just as I was about to putt, the caddy who was standing in my rear began to scratch his leg with the utmost vigor. Of course, the uproar disconcerted me, so I turned about and advised him not to scratch his bites until the end of the match.

ARGUE WITH CADDY.

The incident might have passed off harmlessly had I not foolishly allowed myself to be drawn into a heated argument with the caddy. He was certain it was the hives and not a bite, but I cannot bear to be contradicted, and the fact that he had been eating fish and eggs was no excuse for his arguing with me.

Well, the result of this affair was that when I did putt, I ran a mile over and missed coming back. This put me in such a mood that I began to tighten up and dub my shots. This feeling of tenseness or tightness stayed with me through the match and until after a nourishing lunch which my opponent generously paid for.

THE AIR LIGHTER.

My second defeat was due to a combination of unfortunate incidents. The elevation at Altadena is greater than I am accustomed to, and the air seemed lighter. The result of this was that my ball carried over the green on many occasions when I should have been on.

And it seemed that I had the most astounding run of bad luck in general that I have ever experienced. I sometimes think that if I could hole out a three-foot put once without some piece of misfortune intervening I could retire from the game and live the rest of my life in happy contentment. But I suppose a man who can hit a tree two inches in diameter twice in succession with brassie shots when he is trying to miss it, is lucky to be alive—or maybe unlucky.

LEGS GREW TIRED.

I had a fine chance to win this second match. All I had to do to win was to hole a two-foot put on the last green, but my legs were tired, and as a result my knees trembled so that I missed it. Some of my friends are trying to get me to wear knickerbockers with the idea that they are easier on the legs. But I heard one of them tell another that he was curious to see what a bird as thin as I am, and with such big feet, would look like in short pants. But, at that, I have a pretty-good-looking calf, if I cared to show it.

The aviation field near the links caused one of my friends to lose a match. This gentleman was about to put, when suddenly one of the aviators started his engine with a noise that much resembled a machine gun.

DROPPED PUTTER.

My friend, who has been in the service had been so thoroughly trained in seeking cover that, upon hearing this sound, he immediately dropped his putter and tried to dive into the cup. This incident totally demoralized his play for the rest of the day.

The Altadena people put on a fine tournament, but it seems to me that in another year they ought to try to eliminate some of the disturbing elements. I complained to Mr. Guyer about the caddy and the bite, and he tells me that the club is planning to install a tank like the sheep-dipping tanks where the sheep are dipped to kill the GLORIOUS! I'M NOT BILIOUS NOW!

Yesterday I was Sick, Headachy, Constipated but I took "Dodson's Liver Tone"—not Sickening Calomel!

If bilious, sluggish, constipated, you feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous Calomel to start your liver and bowels. Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than Calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take Calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.—[Advertisement.

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

Try These SIMPLE TESTS

Dr. Connor, formerly of [illegible] Hospital, says: Many [illegible] smoke, chew or snuff incessantly who are seemingly healthy [illegible] from progressive organic [illegible]. Thousands of them would [illegible] had it not been [illegible] of tobacco, and thousands [illegible] get well if they would only [illegible] of tobacco. The chief [illegible] principle of tobacco is [illegible] deadly poison which, when [illegible] by the system slowly affects [illegible], membranes, tissues and vital [illegible] of the body. The harmful effects [illegible] varies and depends on [illegible]. One will be afflicted with [illegible], others with catarrh of [illegible], indigestion, constipation, extreme [illegible], sleeplessness, loss of [illegible], lack of will power, mental confusion, [illegible]. Others may suffer from [illegible], bronchial trouble, hardening of arteries, tuberculosis, blindness, [illegible] cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you [illegible] in any form you can easily [illegible] the harmful effects by making [illegible] simple tests: Read aloud [illegible] page from a book. If, in the [illegible] reading your voice becomes [illegible] and indistinct, and you [illegible] clear your throat, the [illegible] that your throat is affected [illegible] and it may be the beginning [illegible] trouble. Next, in the [illegible] before taking your usual smoke, [illegible] two flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or snuff to quiet the nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process irrespective of the dangers and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the dangers. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula. Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system, your general health will quickly improve.

NOTE—When asked about Nicotol tablets, one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including The Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.

Break a Cold In Few Hours

[illegible] dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all [illegible] and distress—No quinine! Costs little!

[illegible] "stuffed-up!" Quit blowing [illegible]! A dose of "Pape's [illegible]" taken every two [illegible] doses are taken [illegible] up a cold and ends [illegible] misery.

[illegible] dose opens clogged-up [illegible] air passages of head; [illegible]; relieves headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness, stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. Insist on Pape's!—[Advertisement.

SERVICE NOT CUT BY PHONE STRIKE

Company Officials Declare There is no Curtailing.

Usual Conflicting Statements on Number of Men.

But Indications Point to Another Union Abortion.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—No serious curtailment of service of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company was apparent tonight, according to company officials, as the result of a strike of electrical workers employed by the telephone concern, in California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada and a portion of Idaho, which became effective today.

Conflicting statements regarding the number of men on strike continued to be issued by company officials and heads of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers whose officers are directing the strike.

According to company officials, all electrical workers in Washington remained at work; only fifty out of 300 struck in Oregon; between 75 and 80 per cent. of the men in Southern California, including Los Angeles and San Diego, remained at work. The only places affected by the walkout, according to corporation officials, were Sacramento and Santa Rosa, where practically all electrical workers struck.

UNION CLAIMS.

The union officials asserted 250 workers failed to report for work in San Francisco; 200 struck in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, the entire force in Sacramento and Santa Rosa, 500 in the Los Angeles district and practically two-thirds of the workers in Washington and Oregon failed to report for work.

Telephone operators are not affected by the strike.

The electrical workers demand an increase of $1 daily, the existing scale being $6.

Seattle reported that none of the workers had answered the strike call. Throughout Oregon two-thirds of the linemen were out, according to union officials. This was denied by the company.

Spokane locals said they had received no strike orders. The linemen were reported to have gone out generally in Sacramento and throughout the Sacramento Valley, but the company said that the working force was but little impaired. None of the workers was said to have obeyed the strike order in Stockton.

THE COMPANY STATEMENT.

The company issued an official statement, which said:

"All men in the State of Washington are at work. In the State of Oregon, out of an approximate force of 300, 250 have remained at work. In Nevada one man out of a force of approximately forty left the job. In Southern California, Los Angeles, San Diego, etc., out of approximately 830 men, between 75 and 80 per cent. are at work and more are returning every hour.

"The only places affected to any extent are Sacramento — approximately forty-five men — and Santa Rosa — approximately ten men — where practically the entire force of men left our service.

"All operators in the entire system of the company are at work this morning."

REJECT MAYOR'S PLEA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FRESNO, Feb. 14.—After receiving orders from San Francisco, about seventy-five union electrical workers employed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company here went on strike this morning, it was announced by union officials. A conference of union wire men was called for noon today at strike headquarters opened this morning. The strikers said it was too late to call off the strike here, following the written appeal from Mayor Toomey yesterday to postpone any strike action until after the influenza epidemic is ended.

NONE OUT IN SAN PEDRO.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Feb. 14.—Fred W. Smith, local agent for the Pacific Telephone Company, stated today that none of the members of his force went out on strike today when the strike was called by the electrical workers. All the men reported for work as usual this morning, he said.

CLAIM IN PORTLAND.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PORTLAND, Feb. 14.—Union telephone linemen claimed here today that two-thirds of their number in Oregon struck. Officials of the telephone and telegraph company stated that a few linemen had quit, but not as many as claimed by the union.

J. P. Noonan, president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and L. O. Grasser, vice-president, left today for San Francisco after a meeting here which lasted until well after midnight.

SANTA CRUZ, Feb. 14.—None of the electrical workers employed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, obeyed the order calling upon them to strike today, according to company officials.

WALKOUT IS A FIZZLE IN SOUTHERN DIVISION.

TELEPHONE MANAGER SAYS 77 MEN QUIT FROM TEHACHEPI TO MEXICO.

The strike of the plant and construction men of the telephone companies on the Pacific Coast is a grand fizzle, locally and in the entire territory included by the union-labor officials in their strike order, according to a statement made here yesterday at the office of Ned R. Powley, commercial superintendent of the Southern California Telephone Company.

More than 50 per cent. of the total of men affected, and in some localities every man on the job, have walked out and are on strike, is the claim of various officials of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and employees' committees, reported to F. B. Spencer, chairman of the executive board.

Such were the claims made by both sides following the calling of the coast-wide strike. Each side claimed the second day of the strike will show more advantage for their cause, and the strikers' officials added the prediction that the telephone operators would join in a few days.

OPERATORS ARE LOYAL.

"Every operator is on the job and will remain there," was the reply of the company officials. In the meantime, the telephone service is absolutely normal, and nothing has been reported in Los Angeles or the near-by cities to indicate any discomfort or lack of service on the local or long-distance lines.

Reports received at Mr. Powley's office up to a late hour last night indicated the dismal failure of the strike.

"In the entire southern division of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, extending from Tehachepi Mountains to Mexico, and including the territory operated by the Southern California Telephone Company, there are only seventy-seven men on strike. This is the number, excluding the outside heavy construction gangs, who represent only a limited number employed in the operation of the company's plant," Mr. Powley said. "All operators are on the job here and also in the five States involved, according to my information at the present time," he added.

FEWER "FLU" CASES.

County Hospital Quarantine Swamps Phone Service There.

There were 310 new cases of influenza reported to the health department yesterday, as compared with 385 new cases in the preceding twenty-four hours. Nineteen new cases of pneumonia were reported, the same number as the day before. There were 13 deaths yesterday from both influenza and pneumonia. There are 2122 houses in this city quarantined because of influenza.

Because the County Hospital is quarantined against visitors, the officials are swamped with calls from relatives and friends of the 1700 inmates, and the doctors and others are having difficulty getting into communication with the outside so that supplies can be ordered. Because of these conditions the authorities at the hospital have made an appeal to the public to refrain from calling the hospital except in cases of absolute necessity, so that the congestion on the telephone switchboard may be relieved.

WAITERS THREATEN TO STRIKE FOR PAY.

EMPLOYERS WILLING TO GIVE HALF OF DOLLAR RISE EMPLOYEES DEMAND.

A threatened strike of waiters, which would affect many cafes and restaurants in the city, was announced yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the leading restaurateurs.

After a meeting held the 6th inst., the members of the Southern California Waiters' Association notified their employers that they would strike unless a one-third increase in wages was granted to them by tomorrow. According to S. McKee, proprietor of McKee's cafe, waiters in the first-class cafes are receiving tips aggregating $7 and $8 a day, though R. E. Fennelly, manager of the Waiters' Association, states in his notice to the cafe and resturant men that "tips have gone down considerably."

The cafe and restaurant proprietors, at their meeting yesterday, unanimously agreed to grant a wage increase of 50 cents per day to the waiters, instead of the $1 increase demanded.

"Though the cafe and restaurant men are willing to meet the waiters half way in their demands," stated Mr. McKee last night, "we do not feel justified in granting them increases without granting proportionate increases to other employees. Since cafe profits have decreased greatly, due to prohibition, if a wage increase is granted to the waiters, the public will be compelled to suffer, for the price of meals will probably be increased about 10 per cent."

CHARGE BONUS FRAUD.

Service Man Brought Here from Ohio to Face Grand Jury.

Federal officers from Cincinnati, arrived yesterday with Glenn M. Ashbrook, who is wanted here on fraud charge in connection with the cashing of a $60 bonus check issued in the name of George P. Finkler.

Both Ashbrook and Finkler were soldiers in the Regular Army, serving with Pershing in Mexico and with the army of occupation in Germany. Finkler cashed the first bonus check for $60, that he received, but through some mistake in the War Department a second check for a similar amount was sent to him. It is claimed that Ashbrook impersonated Finkler in getting the second check cashed. Ashbrook lives in Cincinnati, and Finkler in Williamsport, Pa. The case is pending before the Federal grand jury.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from you druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—[Advertisement.

Judge Your Store by Its Daily Average Values

It does not take a wise merchant nor yet a wonderful organization to extend exceptional values once or twice a year. This can be done and is done without a view to profit—in fact, in most cases there is a distinct loss that can be charged to publicity.

But when a store can and does give good values every day in the year you may rest assured that shrewd merchandising, good buying and modern business methods stand back of this condition which is fair alike to patron and merchant.

Judge a store by the daily average of its values rather than by its special efforts to give you something at a low price,—the long-run saving in daily fair prices is far greater than that in spasmodic outbursts of "sale."

The Lyon-McKinney-Smith Company believes that every piece of merchandise it offers is up to a standard and knows that the price-marks at which it offers its merchandise are fair and carry only a low margin of profit which is sufficient to cover the overhead expense and to allow a bit over as is expected by all fair-minded folks. It is the aim of this company to have the daily average low price that is desirable rather than the lower-than-should-be price to entice customers into the store and to mislead them into believing that all prices, always, are to be based on this special selling event.

The daily low prices here are guaranteed by the heavy showroom stocks, by the wonderful choice and assortments, by the quality that is built in when the goods are made, by the volume of business done and by the reserve stocks ready to be used to fill in the gaps made by heavy buying from the regular stocks.

The present market conditions have caused furniture prices to soar higher than ever before. This is not due to any fictitious or too-high profits on the part of the manufacturer or the retailer, nor yet on the part of labor which is receiving only its just compensation, but is the result of a combination of all things together with the natural workings of the law of Supply and Demand.

As soon as the country is in position to produce more furniture, just so soon will the prices begin to break.

We are hoping for this time to come soon but we as yet are unable to see the break.

It is our advice that those of you who need new furniture buy it now and buy it where the daily prices are always fair and low.

The store that Value Built It's Merchandise—

This is one of the stores that attributes a great portion of its success to the values it has given through the years of its existence.

A safe store to tie to is that this principle of value giving eliminates all the usual inconveniences of buying and accents only the desirable features.

The Lyon, McKinney Smith Company shall in the future as in the past, endeavor to live up to this feature in the most orthodox sort of way. It shall be the store's continued aim to give full value for every cent we take from our customers and to stand ready to make any adjustments when necessary to the complete satisfaction of the client who asks it.

TAFT EXPLAINS LEAGUE POWER.

Believes That Viscount Grey's Views on a Possible Conflict Between the American Constitution and Covenant Obligations Lack Clarity.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

Lord Grey, in his letter, has used language concerning the United States Constitution and the effect of the covenant unamended which would have been clearer if he had specified the case or cases he had in mind. He says:

"The American Constitution not only makes possible, but under certain conditions, renders inevitable a conflict between executive and legislative. It would be possible as the covenant of the League stands, for a President in some future years, to commit the United States, through the American representative on the Council of the League of Nations, to a policy where the legislature at that time might disapprove."

The American representative in the Council could not commit the United States to any policy to which the Council itself could not commit the United States. To what policies can the Council by unanimous consent commit the United States?

NOT ON ARMAMENT.

Under Article VIII it formulates plans for a reduction of armament for the consideration and action of each government, and after these plans shall have been adopted by the several governments, they are not to exceed the limits fixed. Certainly under this provision its representatives on the Council cannot commit the United States to any reduction until Congress acts.

Under Article X "the members of the League undertake to respect and preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the League. In case of any such aggression, or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the Council shall advise upon the means by which this shall be fulfilled."

Now the commitment of the United States under this section would not arise from any action of the Council but from the words of the article itself, "undertake to preserve, etc."

COUNCIL ONLY ADVISES.

The Council is merely to "advise" how the obligation should be fulfilled, leaving it to the constituted authorities of each member to accept or reject the advice, and thus bringing the question home to the Congress of the United States for action under the obligation of the instrument, but not under the commitment of the Council or the United States representative in that body.

Of course, we know that the representative of each country represented in the Council would, before voting, consult his immediate principal, the executive of that country. In Great Britain this would be the Premier, who can speak both for the executive and the legislative branches of the kingdom, and, therefore, it could be inferred that advice by the Council concurred in by the British representative would be accepted and forwarded by the British government and Parliament. On the other hand, the action of the American representative, who would be the representative of the President, would indicate the concurrence of the President in the advice, but not that of the Congress. To this extent Lord Grey's language is borne out. But there would be no commitment of Congress by the Councils advice under Article X unamended and Congress would be at liberty under the article to fulfill its obligation as it in good conscience might decide.

AS TO ARBITRATION.

Under Articles XII, XIII and XV, providing a method for settling disputes by arbitration or by mediation and recommendation of compromise the representative of the United States would not sit in the Council if the United States were a party. Therefore, he could not commit the United States in such a case. Under Article XVI when a nation breaks its covenant and resorts to war the boycott against that nation becomes a binding obligation of all the other members without the intervention of the Council at all. In such a case the function of the Council is not to commit the members to any actions but in the words of the article, "to recommend" to the several governments concerned what their subsequent military action, if any, should be.

Only if the election of new members to the League and in their expulsion under Article XVI can the representative of the United States in the Assembly, or in the Council, commit the United States, and after all, in the latter case this is a judgment rather than a declaration of policy.

IN JUDICIAL SESSIONS.

Where the Council or the Assembly sits to hear disputes, in cases in which the United States is not a party, its representative will be a member, but in such cases the body is a quasi judicial body, the members lose their representative character and assume a judicial character and cannot be said to commit the United States any more than a member of an arbitrating board under Article XIII who might be an American nominated by the President would commit the United States to the award.

The more the League is studied the more clearly it will be seen to be a partnership agreement in which the obligations of the members are specifically set out in the covenant for each member in conscience and good faith itself to construe and perform, with the aid of the advice or recommendation of the Council or the Assembly. There is no supervising with power to construe and enforce obligations of the members. We can hardly suppose, therefore, that Lord Grey means that under the League as it stands the Council could finally commit the United States to policies under such important articles as VIII and X and without Congressional action.

RESERVATION NEEDED.

But, if this is his meaning then reservations may well be needed to prevent such an interpretation of the obligations of the United States under the League.

As to Article VIII, this result is accomplished by reservation No. 10 as tentatively agreed in the bipartisan committee as follows:

10—No plan for the limitation of armaments proposed by the Council of the League of Nations under the provisions of Article VIII shall be held as binding the United States until the same shall have been accepted by Congress.

As to Article X, the Hughes reservations expressly recited that the advice of the Council should not commit the United States, and the Lodge reservation, by substantially destroying any legal and binding obligation of the United States under the article, of course, prevents the possibility of any commitment of the United States by the Council.

TAFT EXPLAINS LEAGUE POWER.

The seventh Lodge reservation has been tentatively amended in the bi-partisan committee to read as follows:

THE LODGE PLAN.

"No person is or shall be authorized to represent the United States, nor shall any citizen of the United States be eligible as a member of any body or agency established or authorized by said treaty, except pursuant to act of the United States Congress providing for his appointment and defining his powers and duties."

Under this clause provision doubtless will be made for an appointment of the principal representatives by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. Under the Constitution it could not be done otherwise. The constitutional relation between the President and his appointees in such a permanent matter of foreign relations as the League, is one which must give him the same power that he has with respect to ambassadors, and Congress cannot curtail it. He is, by fundamental law, the initiator and conductor of our foreign relations. Ambassadors cannot finally bind the country, neither can representatives in this Council bind this country. They can only do by his direction what the President himself can do.

POWERS OF CONGRESS.

Performance of obligations under the treaty that involves boycotts, war or any other similar affirmative action must be left to Congress for consideration of its obligations and independent action. One cannot be assured whether the American Congress will conform to the vote of the American representative in the Council any more than it was possible to foretell what the Senate would do after the President had signed the treaty. Nor does the League require such conformity on the part of Congress. There is this difference, however: In the case of the action of the Council, if it is advice or recommendation as to an obligation binding on the members of the League by its terms, it will be left to the conscience of the Congress to determine finally what the obligation is and how it ought to be performed, whereas, in respect to the ratification of this treaty, the Senate is wholly independent and under no covenant to ratify or take any particular action.

BREEZE LANDS MAN IN PRISON.

Wind Lifts His Coat Tails and Reveals Whisky Flask to Policeman

A gentle breeze landed Frank Canono in the City Jail yesterday when it lifted his coat tails and revealed to the gaze of Patrolman G. H. Taylor a bottle of whisky in the man's hip pocket. He is booked on a charge of transporting liquor. The arrest was made at Seventh street and Grand avenue.

SUES FOR DAMAGES.

Mathews Asks $74,500 on Contract for Razing Old Church.

F. B. Mathews, former contractor for wrecking the old First Methodist Church building at Sixth and Hill streets, filed suit yesterday against the Hill Street Fireproof Building Company for $74,500 damages.

The complaint asserts that the building company made a contract with Will W. Beach to raze the church edifice and that Mr. Beach assigned his contract to Mr. Mathews. After the latter started work, it is asserted, the company annoyed and harassed him in his attempts to demolish the building. It is also said that there was interference with the sale of materials.

The alleged loss of the contract by Mr. Mathews was followed by a suit filed by W. Goldstein for $1787, for wages asserted to be due him as superintendent under Mr. Mathews.

STEEL COMPANY CLAIM FOR SHIPS IS SETTLED.

FLEET CORPORATION WILL BUILD OIL TANKERS AT PLANT IN PORTLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND, Feb. 14. — Private dispatches from Washington today contained the declaration that a contract has been agreed on between the Emergency Fleet Corporation and the Northwestern Steel Company of Portland, whereby ten new oil tank steamships are to be built at the Portland plant, in lieu of ten contracts for other steel vessels cancelled when the war shipbuilding programme was abandoned. The Northwestern Steel Company had presented a claim against the government for $3,000,000 and this, it was said, would be withdrawn.

REJECT HOUSING BIDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON Feb. 14.—After a hearing of shipyard workers and real estate men today, the Shipping board decided to reject bids totaling $5,541,800 for the Elmwood housing development at Philadelphia, composed of 1479 dwellings built for war-time shipyard workers. The board is to advertise the property for two weeks before making a sale.

Secretary Daniels today wrote Chairman Warren of the Senate Appropriations Committee urging that an appropriation of approximately $10,000,000 for pay of navy yard employees be reinserted in the deficiency bill to be considered by the Senate next week. The appropriation, which was stricken out in the House, is necessary, Secretary Daniels said, to permit urgent repairs to naval craft and to prevent the discharge of some thirteen thousand navy-yard workers.

As Through an Opera Glass

—the whole of Southern California's history, romance and diversion are best seen at San Diego — the splendid, modern city built where California began.

Here the thrill and zest of wholesome enterprise and rapid growth blend with the hospitality and romance of Old Spain.

Squadrons of modern warships steam in and out beneath the ancient Spanish lighthouse on Point Loma. Miles of flower-garlanded modern homes overlook Mission Valley, the site of the first Spanish fort and the first California mission. Quaint Tijuana in Old Mexico is but sixteen miles distant.

San Diego is only a pleasant afternoon ride from Los Angeles by rail or over good roads, and there's frequent steamer service.

Bay, ocean, mountains, parks, abundant recreations and strategic natural position have doubled the population within ten years.

The San Diego-California Club, an organization of one thousand representative citizens, invites you to visit San Diego. On your arrival go directly to Club headquarters, Second and Broadway, and Club members will tell you where to go and what to see.

ES WORKING RANGE SHOW

Even Between Fruit-owing Sections.

Association Spends at Exhibition.

Day to Bring Big of Motorists.

DISPATCH.]

RNARDINO, Feb. 14.— the 1920 citrus fruit crop California stack up of the central part of and that from Arizona? are now awaiting the of the decisions of the judges who this morning started work of testing the competitive displays of oranges and lemons on the fruit racks of the tenth national orange show.

The sweepstakes award on the lemon and orange classifications, of course of the center of the most interest from the standpoint of the growers and the fight of a decade between the northern and southern producing districts for the banner, has grown to be a well-known rivalry.

Southern California won the prizes last year, Riverside taking the orange sweepstakes and Upland landing on lemons. Judges also started inspecting the feature exhibits, which are declared to be the most beautiful ever shown here.

About 100 members of the Southern California Editorial Association held their convention here today and ended with a banquet this evening at which R. C. Harbison of this city presided. John E. King of Hemet is president of the association.

Two trainloads of Canadians, members of a special touring party which annually visits the show, were entertained in the big tents this afternoon. The attendance today and tonight is declared to be close to the high mark in past shows. A special train from Long Beach swelled the crowds. Tomorrow is Los Angeles and all-California day and with indications for fair weather the greatest motor travel to San Bernardino ever registered is predicted. Sacred concerts by Gregory's Marine Band will be the musical feature of the day.

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Feb. 14. — Harry Curtis, who was found dead in the hall way of a local rooming-house partly clothed, was the victim of acute pneumonia, according to the autopsy performed by Dr. R. W. Homer at the Heardon undertaking parlors today. Suicide had been suspected as it was not known the young man, who had been at the house but a few days, was ill. His family is said to be well-to-do, living at Oroville and have been notified. Curtis had come to Ventura a short time ago and secured work in the oil fields.

D RECIPE DARKEN HAIR

knows that Sage Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color to the hair, when faded or gray. Years ago get this mixture was at home, which is mussy ask at any for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a of this old-time recipe the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy and you look years younger.

EXPERT STUDIES FOSSIL REMAINS

Prof. Osborn of New York Museum at Pasadena.

Judge to Face Court on Charge of Speeding.

Aged Minister Passes Away at Crown City.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 14.—For the purpose of making a study of the collection of fossil remains at the La Brea pits, Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn, director of the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, arrived here today and with Mrs. Osborn, and is registered at the Huntington

Prof. Osborn is one of the greatest paleontologists in the world. He stated today that he would devote most of his time on the Coast to study with Director Frank Daggett at the Museum of History, Science and Art, Los Angeles, and at the asphalt pits from which the remains of the pre-historic animals were taken. Prof. Osborn has come to the Coast to get data on the remains, which will enable him to direct the noted artist, Charles R. Knight, in painting historically correct scenes that will depict animal life in the past ages. Mr. Knight may come to the Coast in the spring, according to Prof. Osborn.

Prof. Osborn regards the La Brea beds as the most remarkable in the world. While in Pasadena, Prof. Osborn is to give a lecture at the California Institute of Technology. Prof. Osborn has sent to the Coast a half dozen pictures by Mr. Knight of animals that roamed the earth in other sections of the world at the same period of the world's life as those at La Brea. These canvasses will be displayed at the Exposition Park Museum, Los Angeles.

AGED MINISTER DIES.

Rev. Freeman Franklin, a Methodist minister for half a century, but for the last few years associated with the Nazarene church, died early today, aged 88 years. For many years he held Methodist charges in Iowa and Minnesota. The funeral will be held Sunday at 2 o'clock at the Nazarene Church. Burial will be Monday morning at Mountain View.

JUDGE IS ARRESTED.

Justice of the Peace Benjamin C. Strang will appear in police court next Wednesday to answer to a charge of speeding, having been arrested in Linda Vista for fast driving. Commissioner H. F. Newell of the department of public safety appeared in court today for Judge Strang, asking for an extension of time in the case.

TABLET IS UNVEILED.

ADVENTISTS IN SESSION.

Quadrennial Church Gathering Held at Glendale.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, Feb. 14. — The quadrennial session of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, opened at the newly-complete Adventist church at Isabel and California street yesterday afternoon with delegates in attendance from all parts of California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah. Last night the auditorium was filled with a representative audience.

The first meeting for the transaction of business will be held this evening at 7:30. Delegates arriving yesterday received their assignments of locations, and spent the time seeing Glendale and meeting old friends. Elders J. Adams Stevens and M. A. Hollister, of the reception committee, arranged for the comfort of the guests.

The programme for the convention, as announced last night by Elder J. W. Christian, president of the Pacific Union Conference, is as follows: Devotional, 8:45 to 9:45 a.m.; study of the world-wide field, by Elder Arthur G. Daniells, president, general conference; 1:45 to 10:45, conference, 11 a.m. to 12:30; dinner, 12:30 to 2 p.m.; conference, 2:30 to 4 p.m.; round table talks, 4:14 to 5:36 p.m.; preaching or conference, 7:30 p.m. The programme was varied today, however, the regular Sabbath services being held this morning, including Sabbath school at 9:30, and an interesting discourse at 11 a.m., by Elder Daniells, on "The Providences of God." A Sabbath afternoon service at 3:30 also is being held today.

MANY STUDY OPERAS.

Central Library is Denuded of Books Devoted to Music.

The people of Los Angeles are studious, serious and thoughtful, in the opinion of the staff in charge of the art and music department of the central library. It was announced there yesterday that, despite an unusually large and fine selection of books dealing with music and of scores, more calls are being made than can be filled. Especially are the books on opera and the operatic scores popular. Not one is now in the library.

That all this interest in music is purposeful is indicated by the particular avidity with which the operas are studied in advance of performances here.

FAILS TO SIGNAL: MACHINES CRASH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 14.—Five persons were severely injured when the automobile in which they were driving to this place from Lindsay crashed into a telephone pole to avoid collision with another machine. The injured are R. Hersey, Lindsay business man, driver of the car; Mrs. Hersey, Mrs. F. F. Church, Mrs. Roy Davis, Mrs. Carl Kroelis and Mrs. Ivan Kurta.

According to Hersey the driver of a car immediately ahead of him made a right-hand turn without giving the required arm signal and the accident followed when he attempted to avoid a collision with the second car

BUILDING BOOM IN BEAR VALLEY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BIG BEAR VALLEY, Feb. 14.—Despite the fact that there is from six to eight inches of snow on the ground here there is considerable building being carried on, carpenters working through the winter the being the first time it has ever been done.

Henry Crain, who has the contracts for hauling all the lumber from the sawmills here, has enough to keep him busy from the time he can begin his hauling about the first week in April until the snow flies next fall. This points to the amount of building to be done this summer.

It is estimated that buildings costing more than $250,000 will be erected in the valley before next fall.

HARBOR REAL ESTATE COMMANDS BIG PRICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Feb. 14.—An important transaction in real estate took place here today when Mrs. Emma C. Hunt of San Francisco sold a lot on Sixth street, between Palos Verdes and Center streets to O. B. Sadler, former dry goods merchant here. The twenty-five-foot lot brought the unusual price of $14,000. A wooden structure now on the property will be removed to make way for a modern business building.

REWARDS HONESTY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Feb. 14. — George Chenalis who is employed as a dish washer at a local cafe saw A. K. Edwards of Santa Barbara drop his pocketbook as he got back into his limousine after stopping at a gasoline station. Chenalis picked up the wallet and ran after the car, which stopped a couple blocks farther down in front of the Bank of Italy Building. There Chenalis, considerably out of breath, returned the pocket book. It contained about $500 in bills, and the finder was given $5 for his efforts and honesty. He earns $1.75 a day as a dish washer.

AMATEURS SCORE HIT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS Feb. 14.—The Redlands chapter of the American Legion scored a big hit last night with "Pep," the musical comedy which they gave under the direction of Jack Reber. The principals were Mrs. W. R. Severance, Miss Mildred Wheat, Miss Marie Clark, Miss Mary McCracken, Frank Moore, Wilson Spoor, Robert Scarborough, Merle Waterman and George McIntosh. Many of the high school and university students were in the chorus.

BIG REPAIR JOB.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Feb. 14.—One of the biggest repair jobs yet to be turned out at the plant of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company was completed today when the British steamer Shabonee left the shipyard after a general overhauling lasting two weeks.

The Los Angeles shipbuilding ters working through the winter, repair jobs recently, work that heretofore has gone to the San Francisco shipyards. The Shabonee put in here for general overhauling to engines and boilers after being on the run between San Francisco, San Pedro and the Orient for some time.

HOTEL LEADER URGES THRIFT.

S. W. Straus, Head of Ambassador System, Visits Here.

Sees Continued Prosperity if Waste is Eliminated.

Plans $100,000 to Spend to Improve Alexandria.

A message, in which optimism is tempered with a warning that the country must eliminate waste and extravagance and get down to thrift and production, was brought to Southern California yesterday by S. W. Straus, head of the bond house of S. W. Straus & Co. of New York and Chicago, and of the Ambassador Hotels System, owners of the Alexandria and of a chain of Ambassador hotels throughout the country.

"I am exceedingly optimistic on general fundamental conditions in this country," he said. "There are no basic reasons why the next few years should not be tremendously prosperous, and witness a business expansion such as no nation has ever experienced. But, before this can be assured we must learn a lesson in constructive thrift."

The foreign situation, the large exports, with practically no return for them, and other causes have contributed to the present situation, Mr. Straus explained. The war, he pointed out, has led to some extravagances, and habit, after the war was over, led to the continuation of those and other habits of extravagance. Then came the abnormally high wages and the corresponding increase in the cost of living, a process which he termed as "kiting wages, or moving about in a circle of steadily increasing cost levels."

WARNS OF "WASTE ORGY."

"Bear in mind," Mr. Straus continued, "I'm far from being an alarmist, but truth and duty compel me to say that unless the people of this country cease the orgy of waste, extravagance and speculation now in progress and increase production to a point where it exceeds consumption, we are bound to have a temporary setback. It will, of course, be only a transitory crisis, and its severity and length of duration will be determined entirely by the will of the people to correct their present false standards of living and produce more than they consume."

Mr. Straus, accompanied by several business associates and assistants, and by his daughter, Miss Louise Straus, is at the Hotel Huntington, Pasadena. Mr. Straus is combining a few weeks' vacation in Southern California with an opportunity to inspect the properties of the Ambassador Hotels System here, and consult with his managers regarding the improvements and innovations contemplated for the Alexandria and the Ambassador in Santa Barbara, and the erection of the new Ambassador Hotel on Wilshire boulevard, which, it is expected, will be completed by October 1.

With Mr. Straus in his party are H. R. Daniel of New York, who is attached to the bond-selling organization, and Paul Roberts, also of New York, Mr. Straus's secretary. Mrs. Straus and the rest of the family have been here several weeks. They and Mr. Straus expect to remain in California until April.

EXPECTS MANY TOURISTS.

Mr. Straus was enthusiastic over the prospects of bringing to California a stream of visitors that will result from the completion of the chain of the Ambassador hotels. When the Ambassador of Los Angeles is finished and ready for business, it will be a link in the chain and, together with the Alexandria, will give Los Angeles two hotels that will be architectural and social landmarks.

"Not only will the Ambassador hotel system prove the means of drawing of thousands of visitors to California each year, but through the benefits of a great organization and efficient, business-like management our California hotels will be able to give better service than otherwise would be possible," said Mr. Straus.

Mr. Straus said he was well pleased with his California hotel investments, and with the managers operating them.

The changes planned for the Alexandria Hotel, Vernon Goodwin, general manager of the Ambassador hotels system, western division, said yesterday, will cost the company about $100,000. Enlargement of the main dining-room, change in the appearance and arrangements of the lobby and many other improvements are included in the plans. The ladies' writing-room and other quarters will be finished in Italian style, new furniture and equipment will be added, and some features now being bought by the company's representative in Europe and Asia will be brought here, he said.

"We will make the Alexandria one of the finest and most beautiful hotels in the country, when the remodeling is finished," Mr. Goodwin declared.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, and after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."—[Advertisement.

TWO CASES OF RELIEF CREDITED TO HICKSON.

REDRIDDEN MAN WALKS; DEAF WOMAN ABLE TO HEAR, SHE DECLARES.

Two cases of relief through the ministrations of James Moore Hickson, Episcopalian layman now conducting a faith healing mission at All Saints' Church, Pasadena, were reported there yesterday. It was his third day in Pasadena, and was marked by continued eagerness of hundreds of ill and afflicted to receive divine help.

The first case came to light when Mr. Hickson emerged from the parish house in the morning. Linn Atkinson, of Pasadena, who said he was bedridden Friday, and was visited at his home by Mr. Hickson, grasped the healer's hand and exclaimed, "Here I am. I am able to be out. I am the man you visited yesterday. Thank you."

"Don't thank me," said Mr. Hickson, "but thank God."

Mr. Atkinson said he suffered from a supposedly incurable nervous affliction.

Mrs. A. C. Brice, of Glendale, was the other patient. She said after the meeting that after five years of deafness she was able yesterday to give up her acousticon.

Many eyes were dimmed with tears when a crippled child, with legs twisted and misshapen, attempted to "walk alone and surprise everybody," after he had been treated by Mr. Hickson. He tried it on the soft, green grass—and failed.

The pathetic atmosphere was changed for a few minutes during the morning's session to a joyous one when a wedding procession entered the church, and Miss Lena Beers and Harry Johnson were married by Rev. Leslie L. Learned, rector of the church.

Tomorrow Mr. Hickson will go to Santa Monica to hold a healing mission at the St. Augustine's Episcopal Church at 4 p.m. Fifty persons will be treated. Today, Rev. W. H. Pierce of New York will speak at the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Santa Monica, on the subject, "Does God Heal the Sick in Answer to Prayer?"

CLEARED OF KILLING.

Wife and Father of Bullet's Victim are Set Free.

Following an investigation by Police Detectives Leon and Toomey, Mrs. Jenie Zeoli and her father-in-law, Michel Zeoli, of 637 Moulton street, who were arrested several days ago and held on suspicion of having slain John Zeoli, the woman's husband, were released yesterday from the City Jail.

John Zeoli was found dead in his bed by Mrs. Zeoli, who reported the matter to the police. When the investigation was begun by the police the fact that Mrs. Zeoli and her husband had quarreled a short time before he was discovered with a bullet in his brain, led to her arrest and also to her father-in-law being taken into custody.

Yesterday the detectives announced that Zeoli had committed suicide.

RADIUM

IN THE CURE OF DISEASE

The wonderful element that gives light, heat and electricity—YES, AND LIFE

Electro-Radium promotes the growth and multiplication of healthy cells.
Electro-Radium stimulates the activity of the digestive tracts, both in the stomach and intestines and lessens chronic constipation.
Electro-Radium lowers the blood pressure.
Electro-Radium increases metabolism.
Electro-Radium soothes the nerves and relieves insomnia. Its application brings real and lasting improvement in anaemia.
Electro-Radium stimulates the activity of the liver. Should anyone doubt that emanation has power over bodily functions, a few minutes' trial will be thoroughly convincing, as the influence is immediately perceptible.
No medical man who has had experience with Electro-Radium Ore appliances can doubt its capability of stimulating the activity of the human organism.
The writer can give you a long list of names of modern people, who for decades have used the radio-active applications. They not only lived to a great age, but showed extreme freshness and activity at a very advanced period of life, hence on scientific data, only recently acquired, we can prove that emanation exercises a positive rejuvenating influence on man.
We manufacture Electro-Radium Ore Compresses (or pads,) Electro-Radium Ore Blankets, Electro-Radium Robes, with slippers, Electro-Radium Ore Socks.
Electro-Radium is the most economical treatment yet devised.
The appliances last a lifetime.

B'NAI B'RITH IN CONCLAVE HERE.

California Convention will Continue Till Tuesday.

Election of Grand Officers is Center of Interest.

Formal Ball will be Climax of Social Activities.

Services at Temple B'nai B'rith and at Sinai Temple yesterday marked the eve of the annual convention of the International Order of B'nai B'rith for the California district. About seventy-five delegates from the several cities in the district arrived here yesterday morning. Marco Newmark is in charge of arranging accommodations for the visitors. The convention will begin today and will continue until Tuesday night. The headquarters will be at the Clark Hotel.

One of the principal features of the session will be the election of the officers of the grand lodge, which is made up of past presidents of the several local lodges. Among the officers to be chosen is the second vice-president. Morris J. Finkenstein, an attorney of this city, is one of the candidates for the position, and upon the arrival yesterday of the seven delegates representing Hope Lodge of Stockton the name of Grand Trustee A. J. Shragge of that city was added to the list of aspirants.

Mr. Finkenstein was president of the local lodge in 1908 and it is reported that the Los Angeles delegates, twenty in number, are unanimously for him.

FIRST SESSION TODAY.

The convention will open at B'nai B'rith Hall at Seventeenth and Georgia streets at 10 o'clock this morning. Milton Meyer, president of the grand lodge, assisted by Marco Newmark, president of the Los Angeles lodge, No. 487, I.O.B.B., will preside.

The afternoon session will be held at the Hotel Clark. From there the delegates will proceed to the Jewish Orphanage at Huntington Park, where memorial services will be held after an inspection of the home. The memorial services will be conducted by the grand lodge officers. The public is invited.

The business sessions of the convention will open tomorrow at 10 a.m. Tomorrow at 8 p.m. the lodge will initiate 200 new members, the largest class ever taken into the organization at one time.

Tuesday at 10 a.m. the grand officers will be elected and they will be installed in the afternoon.

MUCH ENTERTAINMENT.

Theater parties, automobile rides and other amusements have been arranged for the wives of the visiting delegates. A luncheon will be given for them Tuesday and a dinner will be served tomorrow night.

The social event of the convention will be a formal ball at the Hotel Alexandria Tuesday night. The dance will be preceded by a large dinner party for the delegates, their wives, visitors and invited guests.

Y.M.C.A. MINSTRELS.

Twenty-five young men living in the Central Y.M.C.A. dormitories will give an old-time minstrel show in the auditorium of the association building February 19, 20 and 21 for the benefit of the social department of the Y.M.C.A. The performance will be repeated on Thursday, February 26, in the Long Beach municipal auditorium for the benefit of the Y.M.C.A. boys' camp.

ACCUSED POLICEMAN TO FACE GRAND JURY.

CHARGES THAT HE HID LOOT FOR BURGLAR BROTHER STOUTLY DENIED.

Although no official action was taken yesterday in the case of Patrolman William Mann, suspended by order of Chief Home late Friday afternoon and charged with concealing loot from a burglary for his brother, Frank Mann, and for Harold B. Faulkrod, it is believed that the entire matter will be placed in the hands of the grand jury tomorrow. The suspended policeman yesterday denied all guilty knowledge in the matter and stated that a grand jury investigation will be welcomed by him.

He asserts the whole trouble is the result of a childhood quarrel with his brother. Frank Mann, in his cell in the City Jail, yesterday denied that he was "sore" at his brother and again stated that the officer had no knowledge of what was in the package and handbag given him to keep. Faulkrod, also in jail, stated that the policeman was a victim of circumstances and had no knowledge of what he was concealing.

William Mann was suspended by Chief Home when it became known, following the arrest of his brother and Faulkrod, that he had for a time concealed a package containing about $7000 worth of bonds and a small handbag, stolen in a burglary at Venice. The bonds were returned by Officer Mann to his brother before the arrest of the latter, but the handbag was still in the policeman's possession when his brother and Faulkrod were taken into custody.

When first arrested, the two men asserted that William Mann was implicated in the burglary, but later declared that he had no guilty knowledge.

TEN THOUSAND ENJOY MINNESOTA REUNION.

FOURTH OF THE MERRYMAKERS SPENDING THEIR FIRST WINTER ON COAST.

More than 10,000 former residents of Minnesota, gathered in Sycamore Grove yesterday for their annual reunion, greeted with cheers the statement of C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of States Societies, that Minnesota is a good State because it affords its energetic citizens opportunities to earn enough money to migrate to Southern California. When Mr. Parsons asked all those who were spending their first winter in Los Angeles to raise their hands, nearly one-fourth of the audience—about 2500 persons—responded. A feature of the affair was the presence on the speakers' platform of twenty men and three women who lived in Minnesota when it became a State in 1855.

The Minnesotans are the only residents of the Southland, hailing from other States, who are not organized and who have no officers. Edward R. Winterer consented to act as chairman yesterday and he welcomed the throng in the name of the Southland.

Another speaker was C. F. Baxter, who said that God smiled when He made Minnesota, but that He laughed outright when He dipped His brush into the dawn, painted Golden California and laid His masterpiece at the feet of the Pacific.

PRODUCE DEALER DEAD.

Former President of Exchange Dies as Result of Operation.

Fred L. Fallas, 53 years of age, of 4926 Marathon street, died at a local hospital last Thursday after an operation. Mr. Fallas was well known in this city as a jobber of potatoes and onions. He was a past president of the Produce Exchange and at the time of his death was a director of that association.

Mr. Fallas was born at Fallasburg, Mich., December 14, 1868. He was in business at Grand Rapids for fifteen years, moving to Los Angeles in 1906 and since then has been in the produce business here. He leaves a wife, Hattie B. Fallas, and two sons, Harry L. Fallas of Berkeley and Dr. R. E. Fallas of this city.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the chapel of Pierce Bros., 810 South Flower street. The Wilshire Masonic Lodge will be in charge.

WOMAN GIVEN DAMAGES.

Bertha Sauvey, Injured by Auto of Contractor, Awarded $3850.

Bertha Sauvey, who was badly injured when the machine in which she was riding was struck by the automobile driven by Mio Chuttuk, cement contractor, at Aliso and Los Angeles streets, was awarded $3850 damages by a jury in Judge McCormick's court.

It was asserted that Mr. Chuttuk was intoxicated. He denied this, although admitting he had had a drink. Two police officers, arriving after the accident, testified they smelled liquor on him and took him to the Receiving Hospital, where he was given the liquor test. The jury found him guilty of negligence. Mrs. Sauvey asked for $30,000 damages.

WOMEN ATHLETES AT UNIVERSITY ORGANIZE.

PROPOSE TO SHOW EQUALITY WITH "MERE MAN" IN EVERYTHING.

In an effort to convince mere man that woman is his equal in everything, and for the further purpose of promoting higher ideals in life, improving physical conditions and as a means of stimulating the esprit de corps of the college, the young women of the southern branch of the University of California have organized an athletic association, and plans are being formed for a series of meets between the several departments of the southern branch in all athletic exercises. The young women also plan to arrange for intercollegiate meets later, with the possibility of meeting the women students of the parent college at Berkeley.

All the students are showing great interest in the athletic association. Basketball teams, swimming teams and track teams have already been organized. Hockey teams, baseball teams and others are being planned.

The point system of awarding credits for the college "C" has been adopted and a large number of the athletic young women are working industriously for the honor of being first to win the required number of points.

In addition to the athletic activities the association will devote some of its time to the improvement of dancing. Classic and interpretative dancing will be counted in awarding points by which the "C" may be won.

Officers of the association elected recently are: President, Helen Hand; vice-president, Catherine Stewart; secretary, Janice Benedict; treasurer, Mary Bohon. Those in charge of the athletic teams are: Mary Lockwood, track team; Freda Schroeder, hiking; Helen Scheck, dancing; Mildred Brunner, basketball; Esther Waite, hockey, and Margaret Miller, tennis.

FUN FOR BUSINESS MEN.

Turkey Dinner and Dance Tuesday at Hollywood Country Club.

The Hollywood Country Club will be host to the Hollywood Business Men's Club at a turkey dinner and dance to be given Tuesday evening at the Garden Court Tea Garden. The dinner will be served by Miss Lelizabeth Webster, Mrs. W. H. Anthony and Miss L. F. Grippen. G. R. Dexter will be master of ceremonies. Among the speakers will be John P. Carter, collector of internal revenue, and his chief deputy, W. B. White.

A unique feature will be the showing of 1000 feet of film taken recently by the Country Club to illustrate the construction of a modern golf course. Little Virginia Lee Corbin and Ben Alexander, screen favorites, will be flower girl and cigarette page, respectively.

Dancing in the Garden Court Garage Service Station will be interspersed with songs and other vaudeville stunts by Amon Dorsey Cain, Lena Baskette, Warren Lee, Virginia Lee Corbin, Miss Oakley Genevieve Hubbard, Miss Clarice Spear, Miss Marion Bemis, Miss Helen Brown Reed, Miss Ellen Brown, Miss Margaret Applewhaite and Joseph Singleton.

A Reliable Cough Medicine.

"I have given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my five children on occasion without number for the past fifteen years. It is the only remedy I could rely upon to cure coughs and colds, and for croup it has no equal. The children take it willingly," writes Mrs. C. O. Nesbit, Vandergrift, Pa.—[Advertisement.

Gray Hair Becomes a Memory

Yes, just a memory, after Co-Lo has brought back the beautiful natural color of your hair.

Prof. John H. Austin's Co-Lo Hair Restorer

Restores the color, life and luster to the hair in a mild, healthful manner.

A scientific process perfected by Prof. John H. Austin, 41 years a bacteriologist, hair and scalp specialist.

Co-Lo is a wonderful liquid, as clear, odorless and greaseless as water—a pleasing and simple remedy to apply. Co-Lo cannot be detected like ordinary hair dyes; contains no lead or sulphur; has no sediment; will not wash or rub off; will not cause the hair to split or break off; will not injure the hair or scalp.

Co-Lo Hair Restorer can be had for every natural shade of hair—

A6—for Black and all Dark Shades of Brown.
A7—Extra Strong, for Jet Black Hair only.
A8—for all Medium Brown Shades.
A9—for all Very Light Brown, Drab, and Auburn Shades.

CO-LO HAIR RESTORER AT ALL STORES OF THE OWL DRUG CO., AND AT HAMBURGER'S, MAIN AND SECOND FLOORS.

ITCH-ECZEMA FREE TRIAL

(Also called Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk-Crust, Weeping Skin, etc.)

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY, and when I say cured, I mean just what I say—C-U-R-E-D, and not merely patched up for awhile, to return worse than before. Now, I do not care what all you have used, nor how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me TO-DAY, I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed cure that will convince you more in a day than I or anyone else could in a month's time. If you are disgusted and discouraged, I dare you to give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me to-day you will enjoy more real comfort than you had ever thought this world holds for you. Just try it, and you will see I am telling you the truth.

EXTENSION OF FIFTH STREET IS SOUGHT.

Several hundred names of property owners are attached to a petition filed with City Clerk Wilde yesterday, and which will go to the City Council tomorrow morning, asking for the extension of West Fifth street from Grand avenue through the Normal Hill Center property, owned by the city, to an intersection with Sixth street at Beaudry avenue. The Fifth Street Improvement Association has been largely instrumental in starting this new movement, as it would give a most useful outlet from the congested district. It is proposed that the grade be divided, so as to give access to the hill district from the northerly portion of the street, while the southerly portion will continue on a lower level to its connection with Sixth street.

SHOT CAUSES DEATH.

Aged Man Leaves Note that Tells of Illness, Insurance.

H. M. Arnold, 70 years of age, who for many years was a mail carrier attached to the Los Angeles office, was found dead with a bullet wound in his head last night.

The body was discovered several hours after the shooting in a room he had been occupying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Rizas, 1208 Cabrillo Canal, Venice. A note addressed to his daughter said that ill health was the cause of his act and that he hoped that with the payment of his life insurance trouble incident to his death would be minimized. Mr. Arnold had been in ill health for many months and had been but recently discharged from the Pacific Hospital in Los Angeles.

There's a Story Told by Every Comb and Brush

—And more often it's the sad story of falling hair and dandruff. Why is it so many men and women absolutely neglect their hair, except to brush it two or three times a day?—asks Prof. John H. Austin, of Chicago, 40 years a Bacteriologist, Hair and Scalp Specialist. If only the hair could ache or cause pain, there would be fewer cases of baldness and more people would have a luxuriant growth of beautiful, lustrous hair.

—Prof. Austin, who is now at Hamburger's, says that people who are at all troubled with any kind of hair and scalp trouble, such as

—Itching Scalp
—Falling Hair
—Excessively Oily Hair
—Dry and Brittle Hair
—Dandruff
—Split Hair
—Gray or Faded Hair

—Should have their hair examined at once under his powerful microscope.

—Prof. Austin says that the use of mange cures, dandruff cures, hair tonics, vaseline and elixirs is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure.

—During the past four years at Hamburger's, Prof. Austin has made thousands of free microscopic examinations of the hair and scalp.

—Prof. Austin invites both men and women to take advantage of the FREE MICROSCOPIC EXAMINATIONS of the hair and scalp this week in his private office on the Second Floor of Hamburger's. Hours, 10 to 12 and 2 to 4 daily.

Lace hosiery is the newest conceit from Paris, and here in a variety of styles and patterns.

The smartest bags are of silk, in various shapes and styles, to meet the fashions of the hour.

Inspirations from Paris

The New in
Frocks

The most original and charming conceits are developed in taffetas, polk de soie, Klimax satin, Fan-ta-si, Yama Naka crepe and Georgette, in plain and flowered effects. The long waist-line is seen in many lovely styles and the basque comes to us again with its quaint fascinations. One bewitching frock of apple-green taffeta shows a dainty apron of tucked organdie, and tiny ruffles, and has the daintiest of short sleeves. Another extreme shows distended hips of sheer laces, over materials of contrasting shades. Sizes for women, small women and misses.

(Second Floor)

The Unusual in Suits

The tailored woman is the well-dressed woman, for this is the day of the tailored suit. Whether it is a "very best" suit, or a knockabout suit built along English lines, there is an indefinable air of Paris about them—a pert little flare, or a temperamental bit of color—and the materials vary from silk faille, taffeta and etoile de laine to tricotine and woolen materials, and the linings are of the kind that tempt one to walk swiftly so as to let the coat blow open. New shades of corn-flower blue, pink and orchid appear in the silk suits, and, as always, navy is a popular shade. Sizes for women, small women and misses.

(Second Floor)

Coats
Choose a New Silhouette

and are here in an abundance of new styles and materials. Sports coats are as unusual as they are practical, and materials are decidedly new. Those in quest of a coat or wrap might spend an interesting and profitable hour in looking through these smart models for women, small women and misses.

(Third Floor)

Paris Has Adopted

for Spring, as quite the newest way of being smart, and, of course, since Paris has adopted it, its success is assured. One may be perfectly correct when wearing any of the fox furs.

The Picturesque in Millinery

—is seen in the sports hats, the street hats, and the dress hats, reflecting many moods of the present-hour fashions. Original creations from the French modistes, together with originations from our own designers.

Delicate Shades in Over-Blouses

—are seen in lovely profusion, and win their way into our hearts this spring—fashioned of tricolette, some with tiny pockets, others showing artistic beaded effects, while quite the newest ornamentations are designs worked in novelty straw braids. All sizes, priced $27.50 and $30.

Corsets

—revealing distinctive lines, superior in fit and quality. The necessary support without constriction, together with graceful lines and superior wearing qualities, are the chief characteristics of the good corset. A corset, to be worthy of its important function, must possess the elements essential to natural poise and visible perfection. Our new arrivals in corsets claim all these attributes, and our expert corsetieres are at your service to assist you in making your corset everything we claim for it. In new weaves of Treco, satin, broche and coutil, lightly-boned and low of bust for the slender and medium figure, or in heavier models for the stout figure. The prices are moderate.

TIJUANA HOME OF HAPPY HYSTERIA

BY CHANDLER CONNETTE.

"They're off."

The words look simple enough in print, but when you hear them [illegible] ejaculated by 2000 persons in the grand stand at Tijuana there is a thrill in them that you never realized before. Out on the track the horses are lined up behind the wire, which looks like a silver thread. There is a hush of expectancy, then the shout as the horses get away. The thing is a blur of color. One sees the vivid spots of red and green and blue of the jockeys' satin blouses. Apparently, the horses are running neck and neck. Behind them the Mexican blue-green hills form a setting. The sunshine pours down on track and horses and crowds. No one pays the least attention to either the hills or the sunshine or even to the leather-lunged gentleman with the megaphone who monotones out something or other that sounds like [illegible] sounds to the speech of a [illegible] guide.

The spots of color come closer. The horses are on the stretch. The crowd stands and yells. There are frenzied calls for the favorite. No crapshooter ever cajoled the cubes the way the crowd begs the favorite of Tijuana to win. The yells grow louder. One feels his nerves [illegible]. There is a clutching feeling in the throat and then in another moment it is all over.

But it all happens again at the next race and it will happen that way for 100 days, for the Lower California Jockey Club, with the best track it has ever had, the finest bunch of horses and a lot of other superlative conditions has opened its season.

LIKE PLAYING HOOKEY.

The thing is rather psychological. [illegible]—that is, the pleasure-loving, free-spending, hip-hip-hurrah crowd—are feeling exactly as the boy who plays hookey from school. The Eighteenth Amendment is with us and the tendency in some quarters is to commit truancy against this latest addition to the Constitution. Mexico, or that land of sand and sun, sage brush and [illegible] that comprises Tijuana, offers a playground and every day thousands of perfectly upright law-abiding Americans are going out to play. Tijuana makes one forget the Amendment and the Plumb plan and the fall of Yudenitch and the navy [illegible] controversy and even the views of the League of Nations. Of course, these are the essentials of American intellectual and civic life, but once across the border, one forgets. The whirr of the wheel of fortune, where even a common old reporter who wears collars of the before-the-war type, wins $20 for the mere chancing of four bits, puts Yudenitch and Denikine into a sort of mental mist.

The races are the thing. To be sure, there is Monte Carlo, where the goddess of chance is enshrined in rough boards and paper chrysanthemums and there is Tia Juana—yes that is the place where the extra "a" goes, the track is all one word—of which more later, but the track is the hub of this land of carefree happiness. There are enough thrills in one race day to last for weeks. It is a regular shower bath of emotionalism.

COLORFUL SCENE.

Picturesque—most certainly it is. There are girls in gowns that are months ahead of Atlantic City's Easter parade. There are men who know New Orleans and Havana as well as the Angeleno knows Venice and Long Beach. Cosmopolitan—goodness yes, all of that, Geraldine. There is atmosphere supplied liberally by Mexican soldiers who wear impressive uniforms and villainous mustaches. One of Cantu's soldiers has on enough garments at the races to supply an entire corporal's guard at Juarez. The Cantu soldier looks well-fed, almost happy. He is smart and has his trousers pressed and he wears regular shoes.

And then, there is the Mexican band that plays between races. It is a nice little band, with an oboe player who has a conscience and much technique. No one pays any attention to the band, though. No one even notices the red geraniums in the prim green boxes. A few brave souls heed the soft Spanish call of the boys who sell deadly-looking black cigars and cigarettes in alluringly foreign-looking cartons.

Between races everyone sits back and relaxes. Girls who look as though they might be from Boston or Chicago, but who are probably residents of El Centro and Anaheim, powder their noses and prepare for the next burst of hysteria.

But the excitement up in the grand stand is but a pale, mauve sort of thing compared with the hectic waves of crimson thrills that surge over the masses of men and women down in the pari-mutuel betting concession. There is what the cinema publicity persons would call super-excitement.

COMPLICATIONS.

If anyone expects a scientific explanation of how to bet, and when, by the pari-mutuel system, he is doomed to disappointment. The thing for him to do is to go to Tia Juana and find out. It is more complicated than auction bridge or the foreign exchange market. But the big idea is that it is straight. That is conceded by the heaviest losers. Also, ignorant as one may be of its innermost soul, or mechanics, or whatever a pari-mutuel has, there is something about it that lures you on and makes you wilder with the sheer joy of living and loving and winning and losing than any crapshooting or poker-playing evening. Morally, it is held to be the cleanest form of gambling. It is the last word in fairness.

And the winnings—oh boy—that is the thing that makes your heart beat faster and the old red corpuscles do a jazz up your arterial canal. When a woman from Muscatine, Iowa, who looks as though she had always made over her own hats and cut down dad's trousers to make pants for little Hector, cleans up $300 on a $5 bet it just naturally makes your emotional cosmos sort of goose-fleshy. It is the life.

After each race there is a rush to collect. One motherly-looking old soul with an Indiana accent and a face that proclaimed her as the natural leader of the Ladies' Aid Society, carried off $200 after the race in which Kuklux won. She was accompanied by Pa, who had a First National Bank president personality. The joy that beamed on their faces was something no cinema ever registered.

TEARS AND CALM.

And there was a wisp of a girl in a cheap, tailor-made suit, who had school-teacher written all over her little pinched face. She pulled out $40 in winnings and was so happy that big gobby tears stood in her near-sighted blue eyes.

There are lots of losers, but they do their losing so phlegmatically that they don't spoil the picture. They lose with a calm that is characteristic of the American people. They shed no tears. They don't even shrug their shoulders. They are game. Anyway, there is always tomorrow.

Putting aside the financial end of the races, there is something about the physical side of them that car-

BORDER FENCE IS NO BAR TO BOOZE.

Thirsty Ones Merely Thrust Mouths into Mexico and Import Liquor via Their Throats; Mexicali is Oasis Flowing with Firewater and Wines.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICALI, Feb. 14.—Completion of the new border fence, painted a bright red, extending through the heart of Calexico and Mexicali, and the coming of national prohibition in the United States, have raised several interesting issues between citizens of the northern district of Lower California and those of the neighboring republic.

In the first place, the completion of the bright red fence has put a stop to a large amount of line running and smuggling of liquor into the United States, and there are those on the American side who feel that they must have their booze. So a new and novel expedient has been resorted to. Sometimes it is worked this way, and then again, sometimes it is worked another way.

The thirsty American strolls up to the bright red fence, preferably at a time when there is no one very near on the American side of the line. He snaps his fingers. This results in a Mexican coming to the Bajana California side of the fence. The American states that he is thirsty and tosses a 50-cent piece through the fence to the Mexican side. Now there is no law to prevent an American from throwing a 50-cent piece into Mexico. So far, so good.

The Mexican reaches into his pocket and pulls out a flask. He places the flask against one of the wires of the fence. Then he slowly tips the flask up and the liquor rolls out. To prevent this booze from going to waste, there is a pair of lips on the American side of the line. Mysteriously, or perhaps not so mysteriously after all, that booze, rolls down into an American stomach.

IS IT EXPORT?

Now come the legal questions. Has the Mexican exported that booze? He says he has not. He has merely attempted to pour it out near the boundary fence. What concern of his is it if an American happened to be near to catch the liquor with his lips before it fell to the ground? None, he righteously tells you.

And the American, has he imported that booze? There may be proof that he has been drinking liquor but there is no proof that he imported it. Maybe his lips were on the Mexican side, but you don't have to have a passport to put your lips on the Mexican side, do you?

And then he laughs and tosses another 50-cent piece across.

And what about Gov. Cantu?

His attitude on the liquor question may be stated as he expressed himself to some interested parties several days ago:

"I have not paid any attention to the imports of American liquor to Baja California. That is a matter which is up to the customs office. "I am much more interested in the agricultural development of this district. It is development along these lines which will make a great future for Lower California."

TRAIN AN OASIS.

The new San Diego and Arizona Railway dips into Mexico twice on its route from Yuma to San Diego. The second dip is from Tia Juana to Tecate and on leaving San Diego a buffet car is attached and opens as soon as the line is crossed. This is already proving a lure for eastern travel to a certain extent. But the big lure is at Mexicali.

Calexico has been a division point for the road, but this is to be changed in the near future. Mexicali is to have the honor.

The Golden State Limited, east and west-bound, will stop thirty minutes in Mexicali on the dip from Yuma to Calexico. Formerly the engines were changed in Calexico, etc., etc., but it has now been found advisable for the railroad company to do this in Mexicali.

You have one guess, but the fact that thirty minutes is plenty of time to lay in a private stock internally was said by one of the higher officials this week to be the sole reason for the change, which was made at the request of the road's patrons.

PRICES STAY UP.

Despite the famine of booze in the United States and the feast in this city, the price has not dropped appreciably. A small glass of extra fine "case" stuff retails for 35 cents and a glass of inferior quality just enough to wet your throat, sells for 35 cents.

Case stuff by the quart is sold wholesale at the rate of $8. This may, however, be secured for slightly less if the buyer happens to be a friend of the wholesaler. In that case the price drops to $5.

Mexican liquors sell for much less.

The conflagration of last Monday will make no appreciable difference in these conditions here. It was then a case of too much fire and not enough water, while the normal con

NEW HOSPITAL FOR CHILDREN.

Mrs. Anita Baldwin to Provide Building Fund.

Able Men are Named as Trustees for Institution.

Appeal for Others to Assist by Endowing Beds.

That a large sum of money has been donated and plans completed by Mrs. Anita Baldwin for the building in Los Angeles of a children's hospital, the first unit of which will be three stories in height and contain fifty beds, was the information given out yesterday by Albert Lee Stephens, who, with Robert A. Anderson and Drs. C. Gustav Biorkman, Robert Ewart Ramsay and Alfred J. Scott, Jr., has been chosen by Mrs. Baldwin to act as trustees for the institution.

The location of the hospital has not been definitely decided upon, but a large tract of land, conveniently situated, is under option and plans for the first unit of the building have been drawn and are being revised. The hospital, which will be conducted by a corporation organized to do business without profit, will be typically Californian and will be a credit, architecturally and in other ways, to Los Angeles, the trustees say.

"The new hospital also will be an institution for the education of doctors and nurses in fitting them especially for the treatment of infants and other children of various ages," said Mr. Stephens. "While Mrs. Baldwin is starting the hospital, it is her hope and the hope of the directors that others will join in furnishing funds and a plan will be worked out whereby beds, wards and rooms will be named for donors. In fact, several wealthy persons have already expressed a desire to assist in the work."

The following letter was received from Mrs. Baldwin yesterday by the members of the board of trustees for the proposed hospital:

PURPOSE OUTLINED.

"Gentlemen: After a thorough investigation of your qualifications, I have selected you to assist me in bringing two ideas, which I have had in mind for some time, to a practical fruition.

"The first of these is that Los Angeles should have a fine hospital for the tender and scientific care of babies and very young children needing medical and surgical treatment. Life holds many and various duties, but none seems plainer to me than that we of this generation owe to those of the next generation, while helpless in our care, every effort toward relief from pain and suffering and every endeavor that they shall be given a fair start with sound and healthy bodies.

"The second of these ideas is but the outgrowth and enlargement of the first and is that Southern California, with all of its superb advantages, owes much to the rest of the world. Southern California must not be content with being powerful commercially or with its already earned title of the world's playground, but should be the art and educational center of the world. The hospital I have just mentioned should therefore not only be a hospital, but should be a center of medical learning and progress and should send out into the world many doctors and nurses who understand the ills and needs of infants. Such an institution I desire to have a hand in founding and, with the unselfish devotion of your time, energies and talents, I hope to see these dreams turned into accomplishment. I am therefore very happy to intrust with you a much too limited fund to be used in the cause herein mentioned, feeling sure that others will see the opportunity to do unlimited good by adding to the fund to such an extent that the work may not only go on rapidly, but on a generous scale worthy of our beloved Southland."

Dr. Scott has been connected with the University of Southern California for eight years and is now physician in chief of the children's department of the university hospital and clinic. Dr. Scott has spent much time in the large eastern hospitals, studying diseases of children, and for several years has devoted his entire time to his university work and the practice of children's diseases. He is a member of the Los Angeles County Medical Association, the State Medical Society, the American Medical Association and a fellow of the American College of Physicians.

Dr. Biorkman received his education and first medical training in Sweden. He is a graduate of the medical department of the University of Southern California, and a graduate house surgeon of the Children's Hospital of Boston. He is now assistant professor of surgical applied anatomy at the University of Southern California, a member of the clinical staff of the city schools and attending surgeon at the university hospital and clinic.

Dr. Ramsay is a graduate of Harvard University, of the medical school of the University of Southern California and graduate house officer of the Children's Hospital of Boston and of the Infants' Hospital, Boston. He is at present assistant professor of pediatrics in the medical department of the University of Southern California, attending physician at the Los Angeles County Hospital and the university hospital and clinic, and a member of the Los Angeles County Medical Association.

FIREWORKS KILLING CHARGES DISMISSED.

Charges of manslaughter against William H. Willson, president of the Los Angeles Fireworks Company, and Joe Lawler, an employee, were dismissed yesterday by Justice Hanby upon motion of Deputy District Attorney Hill. The charge grew out of an explosion of fireworks on the property of the company, as a result of which Vincent Catalina, a boy, lost his life. It was held that the evidence of wrongdoing was insufficient and that the explosion was probably from spontaneous combustion.

Capo-Di-Monte
A Medicinal Hair Tonic
Powerful, but Harmless
Ordinary Hair Tonics Not Strong Enough

HAIR grows when circution is restored. Drying cells and roots revive under this treatment. To have healthy, growing hair you must strengthen the circulation.

Used to Thicken the Hair

Saturate small piece of old flannel cloth with tonic, bind in place, let remain for thirty minutes or more. Repeat every evening until scalp becomes irritated. Then discontinue for a few days and repeat as before; use as conditions warrant.

The usual form of application will be found sufficient for hair falling, dandruff and stimulating growth in any ordinary case.

Its medicinal effect upon diseases or eruptions of the scalp is next to miraculous, often requiring but 3 or 4 applications to completely remove them. You have never seen anything like this medicinal tonic for restoring life to the hair. It will check any case of hair falling, no matter how severe. Ask for CAPO-DI-MONTE HAIR TONIC. At Druggists. Two sizes, 60c and $1.

Stimulates the hair from roots to tips—and it shows it.

Imagine lifeless hair made like silk in a single night—then you'll have it.

CASH FOR PAY OF MORE POLICEMEN TO BE HAD.

Sale of Broadway Lands, Money Due Reserve Fund and Other Means Can Bridge City Emergency.

... hundred additional policemen are urgently needed for Los Angeles. But the city has not immediately in hand the money to pay them.

These facts, embodied in a statement from the Mayor's office, started ... inquiry yesterday and unearthed practicable methods the city ... to meet the emergency without having recourse to the Mayor's unique proposal that the money be raised by popular subscription.

Los Angeles, with 375 square miles of territory, has about 700 policemen while San Francisco, forty-six square miles in area, has 1200. The Mayor, the Chief of Police and others in a position to know united yesterday in the assertion that as Los Angeles stands, she invites criminals from all over the country. With means to pay 300 more policemen until May, they assert, the city can be rid of undesirables and after that time permanent arrangements for a larger police force can probably be made.

HOW TO GET IT.

The Times suggests that without a moment's delay the city officials ... the sale of the property it was forced to take for delinquent assessments in the opening of Broadway from Tenth to Pico streets. The city at present has more than ... tied up in this property, which it was practically forced to ... although there was a well-understood agreement that persons ... interested would provide for the reimbursement of the city ... ago. The money that the sale of this property would yield would meet the present emergency in the policing of the city.

There are other resources available, however, according to officials ... in touch with the situation. Yesterday the City Attorney's office received a message from the clerk of the State Supreme Court, announcing that that court had denied ... appeal for a hearing in the suit of the Salt Lake Railroad Company against the city in connection with title to lands in the river bottom between Eighth and Ninth streets. Both the city and the Simons Brick Company claimed the title when the Salt Lake Company sued for condemnation. The railroad company paid $30,000 in the courts for the purchase. There has since accrued $3600 in interest. The action of the Supreme Court in favor of the city will make this $33,600 available within the next thirty days. It will go into the reserve fund, and can then be transferred to the payment of policemen's salaries.

TO BRIDGE GAP.

In fact, the reserve fund, as it exists today, can be drawn upon, through transfer, to meet the existing emergency—although this, it is shown, would create a problem as to how the city will get through the "dry months" of the beginning of the next fiscal year, up to the time when new taxes will begin to come in.

There are possibly other sources of emergency revenue, city officials state, but the sale of the Broadway lands owned by the city offers the most immediate way out.

Among the suggestions made as to methods for meeting the emergency is that of the Mayor that $108,000, the sum immediately needed, be raised by popular subscription. Various persons to whom this proposal was presented yesterday were of the opinion, however, that it would be much better for the city to secure the money regularly by the use of powers conferred by law.

Existing difficulties in the city's finances will be remedied when revision of the charter becomes a fact, officials declare.

RANCHERS ASK POUND IN ANTELOPE VALLEY.

PERIL TO GROWING CROPS IS SEEN IN UNRESTRICTED CATTLE GRAZING.

Ranchers of Antelope Valley, represented by R. J. Ellis, petitioned the Board of Supervisors yesterday to establish a pound district in a section of the valley six miles square between Lancaster and the Kern county line. It was contended that the valley north of Lancaster is developing into prosperous ranches and cattle grazing unrestricted will, it is feared, injure the growing crops.

A protest was entered by cattle men headed by Charles E. Patterson, who has a herd of cattle in Kern county, the cattle ranging on both sides of the county line. Harry Butterworth also protested. The Southern Pacific Land Company was represented in the delegation.

It was argued that the boundaries of the proposed pound district are larger than necessary. In a portion of it is the bed of a dry lake which is of no benefit except for grazing, the cattle men say.

The Supervisors took the matter under advisement. It is thought that the contending parties will get together and try to adjust matters. The ranchers ask for the appointment of a pound master.

MAYOR, SON IN MUSTACHE RACE.

Hair-Raising Contest Ends Tomorrow at Riverside; Experts to Decide.

A mustache-growing contest between Mayor Porter of Riverside and his son, Sheperd, will end and be decided by expert judges of whiskers today, after a week of hair-raising effort. In view of his son's tender years, the Mayor gave the young man a hirsute handicap of three days. The terms of the contest do not specify whether the mustaches are to be judged on the score of their beauty, their luxuriance or their general utility. But in any event, the William Hohenzollern, Charlie Chaplin and First Chief Carranza styles of hair culture are barred.

DAMAGES REFUSED.

Verdict for Defendant in Suits by Motorists Asserting Injuries.

A verdict in four suits for sums aggregating $31,860.11, growing out of an automobile accident on Chalk Hill grade, July 26, 1919, was given for the defendant, John H. Feers, by a jury in Judge Myers' court yesterday. The suits were brought by Nellie W. Metz, Mitchell K. Metz, R. R. Thompson and Mary W. Thompson. They asserted that Mr. Feers's automobile, driven recklessly, in passing the machine they occupied, struck the hub of the latter, overturning it, throwing out and injuring the occupants.

Mr. Feers contended that the machine the plaintiffs were in was driven so "wobbly" that other machines had difficulty in passing it. He asserted that his machine did not strike the plaintiff's machine, but that it overturned through the contributory negligence of the driver.

UNCOVER MORE RENT GOUGING.

National Black Eye Feared by Apartment Men.

However, They are Minority; Prices are Still Up.

Must Pay Whether You Use Laundry or Not.

With the season at its height, many apartment-house owners are beginning to show signs of worry over next year because of the dissatisfaction of tourists who have been obliged to pay the exorbitant rents demanded by many house operators. While no material decreases in rents have been reported, many owners are wondering what the next season will bring forth.

One man notified his apartment owner yesterday that he had written East and had kept away seventeen families from Los Angeles this winter. He added that he would not come to this city in the future, but would go to Florida or some other Southern State. Other people have signified their intention of remaining away from here, and the majority of them say they have prevented one or more other families from coming.

Apartment owners in the outlying towns are disgusted with the treatment being given visitors here, and are doing all in their power to treat the tourists well.

One of the arbitrary rules in certain apartment-houses that is creating considerable discontent among visitors is the demand that all laundry furnished to the apartment, whether used or not, must be paid for at the regular laundry rate. Permission is denied to use the laundry in the basement of the houses to wash house-linen and where lunch cloths and other light pieces were formerly used, heavy tablecloths are now furnished and the extra laundry charge demanded.

In former years, apartment operators have furnished a certain amount of linen and it was laundered at their expense. This year they began to charge for the laundry used and later they charged for each piece furnished, whether it was used or not, and it must be laundered by the house laundry.

One apartment-house operator is paying $275 a month for his house. The income from the rooms is $1500 a month. This allows $1225 for the employ of one Japanese, steam heat in the morning and evening, hot water twice a day, electric lights and the salary of the operator and the profits. Allowing $625 as the expense of the house, this leaves $600 profit, a month.

Save Your Hair From Seborrhea

Famo Stops this Dread Disease of Baldness and Keeps Your Hair Healthy

Seborrhea is the scourge of healthy hair.

[illegible] is the scourge of Seborrhea and the blood of healthy hair.

Few of us realize that Seborrhea is as fatal to the hair as Pyorrhea is to the teeth.

And yet the disease is so prevalent that almost every person has Seborrhea.

Seborrhea Means Sure Loss of Hair

If you have dandruff you have Seborrhea.

And if you don't rid your scalp of the Seborrhea, you will surely lose your hair.

Use Famo regularly and you need never be bald.

If your hair is sparse Famo will make it thicker and more luxuriant.

It does more than dissolve the objectionable dandruff.

It strikes at the root of the baldness disease. It penetrates and stimulates the glands that nourish the hair. It kills Seborrhea and grows new hair by keeping the scalp healthy.

Everything about Famo is better.

It is purely a vegetable preparation.

None of its ingredients have ever been used before on the hair, although all of them have long been recognized by the medical profession.

No Alcohol to Dry the Scalp

Famo contains no alcohol.

It is well known that alcohol dries out the natural oil of the hair.

Its continuous use is apt to produce premature grayness.

And because Famo has no alcohol and keeps the scalp healthy, it retards grayness.

Again Famo is different. It is not a hair lotion or a massage preparation.

The action of Famo does not require rubbing it into the scalp. Famo absorbs through the skin and reaches the seat of the Seborrhea microbe in the glands of the scalp.

Kills the Disease at the Source

It kills the disease at the source.

It works with nature to improve the texture and hasten the growth of new, healthy hair.

If you have dandruff, Seborrhea has started in your scalp.

Get after it with Famo today. Help your hair fight for its life. In one or two treatments the dandruff will absolutely disappear. And after a few more applications you will be surprised to note the change in the lustre and the texture of your hair.

Famo must satisfy you or you get your money back.

Almost any druggist, or barber shop or hair shop can supply. If they haven't it, they will be glad to order it for you.

Famo comes in a dollar size that makes it the most economical, high-class hair preparation on the market. The smaller size, at 35 cents, will give you a fair trial of its merit.

Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrhean excretion forms in scales or flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

WILSON'S LAST MAD ACT.

Secretary Lansing's retirement from the Cabinet is a severe blow to the prestige of the Wilson administration; more than that, it is a distinct loss to the nation. Of all the men by whom the President was surrounded none was less of a politician and more of a statesman. Secretary Lansing is a man of high intellectual attainments; and he was peculiarly fitted for the position he occupied by reason of years of training in the diplomatic service of his country.

During the critical weeks of the President's illness Mr. Lansing filled a difficult and delicate position with admirable skill and poise. The manner in which he kept the departments working in harmony, enabling the government to present an unbroken front to the forces of radicalism, had won for him the respect and confidence of the country at large. And the fact that the only reward from the President for keeping the machinery of the government functioning is a curt dismissal from office will come to the American people as an irritating shock.

Mr. Lansing will retire from the office of Secretary of State carrying with him the good will of the country. The self-effacement which he practiced, both in Washington and in Paris, will now be remembered; and he will be a greater man out of the Cabinet than he ever was in it. While he does not rank with some of the eminent Republicans who had preceded him, he was a refreshing relief from the loquacious Bryan; and he formed with Fuel Administrator Garfield and Secretary Lane a strong trio about the President. President Wilson may not feel the loss of these men; for he never appreciated the support his administration received from them. But the country will miss them; it will not cease to regret that men of their caliber should be discarded while Burleson and Secretary of Labor Wilson are kept.

When the President was stricken, during his western trip, the Federal government was left without a directing hand. Perhaps the President has forgotten that his condition was so serious that a death watch was kept for eight weeks about the White House. It was at that time that the steel strike and the coal strike were called; each of which proved to be a conspiracy against the government of the United States. There was widespread concern about the public safety. But when the country saw the Cabinet continued to meet and the government departments were acting in unison public confidence was restored. Secretary Lansing, Mr. Lane and Dr. Garfield supported Atty.-Gen. Palmer in making a defense against the conspirators who were striking at the public safety; and by their action they performed a highly-important public service.

But their only reward has been a retirement to private life. In the case of Mr. Lansing the occasion for the President's petulance is not difficult for a student of human nature to discover. It is the result of the jealousy of a sick man who becomes resentful when he sees authority that he has once exercised passing to another. The President is probably unaware at this time that Mr. Lansing was the one who stood like adamant against the proposal that the President should be declared incapacitated for public service and the Vice-President placed in charge of the executive branch of the government. But for the courageous action of Secretary Lansing, supported by Secretary Lane and Dr. Garfield, the affairs of the government would have become so involved that the virtual removal of the President from office would have been necessary. Secretary Lansing was forced to admit during the hearing on the Mexican situation that the President's condition was so serious that he had not been able to communicate personally with him for ten weeks. Probably Secretary Lansing's sharp demand on Mexico irritated the President more than aught else.

Differences between the President and the Secretary of State antedated the present illness of the Chief Executive, however. In the closing weeks of the Paris Peace Conference the President rarely saw Mr. Lansing, did not even make a pretense of consulting with him, although he was one of the American Peace Commissioners, and made plain that he was not relying in any way on the Secretary of State's advice. The President seemed to take a pride in parading the fact that the other American Peace Commissioners were only rubber stamps. Secretary Lansing's resignation was expected on his return from Paris; and he explains in the correspondence published in yesterday's Times that it was withheld only because he feared it might have a disturbing effect on the Senate consideration of the treaty.

No Federal administration in modern times has more completely petered out than that of President Wilson. The service which he rendered to the free peoples of the world during the crisis of the war will not be forgotten; but the querulousness which his illness has accentuated and his inability to work in harmony with his Cabinet are ending an administration that began under favorable auspices in an anticlimax. By his last mad act the President has removed any remote chances that might have existed for Democratic victory in November.

THE DAY OF THE SQUARE DEAL.

DID you ever hear of a man who objected to the square deal, WHEN YOU WERE DEALING WITH HIM? As recipients of its beneficence the square deal has the universal indorsement of mankind. It is only when selfish men are required to give the square deal to others that any objection arises. Selfishness always and everywhere is essentially unfair and unjust. That is the poison from which all oppressions are brewed.

While designing diplomats are quarreling over the square demands of the Allies for the judicial trial and just penalty of some 800 of Germany's murderous highwaymen, it is well for us to consider afresh the attitude of Germany toward the principle and practice of the square deal. It is an astounding illustration of the unethical mind of an immoral people. On this point let Prussian lips confirm their own injustice and perfidy. We are asking that America and the civilized world take notice right now that on December 13, 1900, Prince von Buelow declared in the Reichstag, "I FEEL NO EMBARRASSMENT IN SAYING HERE, PUBLICLY, THAT FOR GERMANY RIGHT CAN NEVER BE A DETERMINING CONSIDERATION." Does any honest person doubt that these 800 Huns whom the conscience of mankind is now calling to account backed up that immoral statement of Von Buelow with all the desperation of demons? And their lying Kaiser with his characteristic diabolism of deception said, when news reached him of the tragedy of the Lusitania, "Too bad; no gentleman would kill so many babies and women." In the spirit of an infamous lie he uttered the truth, "no gentleman would." But HE did. But the day of the Square Deal is Here. The harvest hour of the Hun is at hand. The Judge is the Human Conscience and the Jury is all mankind. Let the judge pronounce the sentence. Let the penalty be what it may, exile, incarceration, hanging or electrocution; but let it be exacted at once, and let it be meted out with the majesty of the world's tribunal. This is but insisting on the square deal of justice. This is but the soul of the judicial opinion of American courts recently gathered by the Literary Digest. This judicial pronouncement shows that America at least has some national valor and virtue left. It shows that we have yet enough moral manhood to insist openly and above board that "The Square Deal" shall not be permitted to go utterly to the devil.

II.

BUT we miss the lesson, if we do not understand that the Day of the Square Deal is at hand for all forms of oppression, organized or unorganized.

We know a man who lived in an American town where a certain class of lawbreakers had intimidated the entire police force of the city. In order to keep up a show of "doing business" officers of the law would arrest a green gawk for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk. They would occasionally arrest some thoughtless and unknowing old man or woman who had driven in from the country to sell a handful of vegetables because, forsooth, these innocent old people had hitched old Dobbin on the wrong side of the street. Under this regime the big and bold criminals were immune from the penalties of violated law. Only the small and defenseless offenders were brought to heel. That sort of thing is Prussianism and Kaiserism in any municipality. But the Day of the Square Deal is at hand, and it calls the big bullies to account. If our civilization is to endure, it must not be preyed upon by any chief criminals. Let the hobo in the back alley be run in. But let the profiteer in the palace be run in also, and by the same runners. This thing must be, if we are to maintain Americanism. We cannot juggle with justice in these matters. The square deal demands one justice for all. There is not one Decalogue for the nabob and another for the hobo. For the same offense there cannot be in this country one penalty for the poor and another for the rich. "God is no respecter of persons." Neither is the square deal a respecter of persons.

The promoters of strikes and bloodshed are now beginning to see this. A tyrannous labor union boss is the same man before the law as a humble worker. He is getting the square deal from the court of public opinion; he can no longer paralyze business and rob babies of their milk with impunity. He cannot tie up the railroads and starve the poor without punishment. There can be no special brand of justice for a labor union kaiser. There must be a square deal for all.

III.

THIS principle applies to marriage, to parenthood and the home. Do men and women realize the amount of injustice that little children suffer in many cases when their parents are divorced? Who dares to slap in the face the faith of a little child? The most confiding and guileless love on earth is the love of the little child. The writer was once awakened by a man at 3 o'clock in the morning who came to his door sobbing that the mother of his little girl had disappeared in the night. He had awakened and listened as long as he could endure it to the heart-rending moanings of his child as she sobbed, "I love mamma, I love papa; I love mamma, I love papa." And that little sufferer was wondering why mamma and papa couldn't love each other.

Surely the SQUARE DEAL DEMANDS THAT MEN AND WOMEN SHOULD SUFFER TO ALMOST ANY LIMIT, RATHER THAN INFLICT SUCH UNDESERVED SUFFERING UPON THEIR INNOCENT OFFSPRING. Surely it is time that this form of parental oppression to childhood should cease. And the courts are seeing every day that in very many cases this oppression of children is the direct result of wanton wickedness on the part of one or both of the parents. Does the Day of the Square Deal have no application here? Of course, the child is helpless. The big man and woman can inflict this undeserved punishment on the little child. In many cases the man and the woman deserve to suffer every throb of pain and penalty which they do suffer, but it is wanton wickedness to punish innocent little children by the perfidy of their parents. We read with horror of "the slaughter of the innocents," but is it not time that we were giving profoundly serious consideration to this domestic oppression of the innocents?

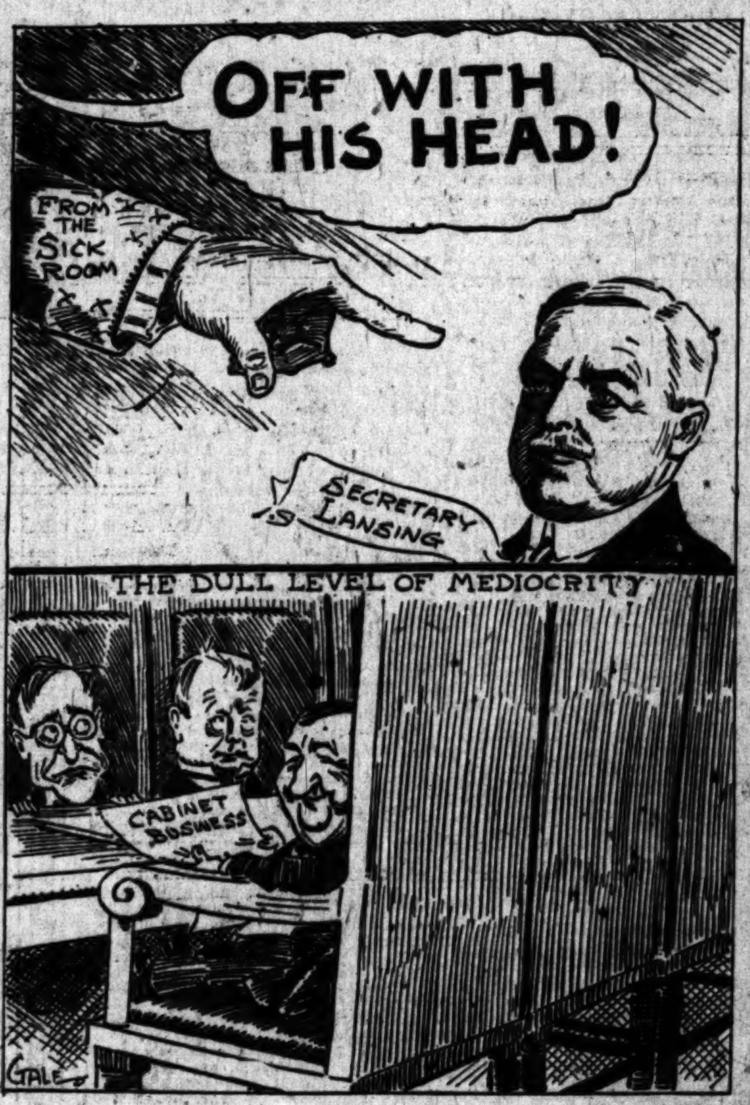
And this home-wreckage is vitally connected with civilization and citizenship. The American home is the first and most important hope of American citizenship. Our welfare bureaus are amply supplied with facts and figures to show that the best citizens are not bred in bad or broken homes. The American homes of today are making or unmaking the American citizens of tomorrow. The public is nauseated with the daily stench of the male and female home wrecker. In the name of God and humanity give us fresh air. Give us some of the life-giving atmosphere of the good, old-fashioned home where the immortal book was read in the morning of each day and the voice of mother and father were heard in happy songs and sweet prayers. Men may scoff, if they will, but that sort of thing made worthwhile citizens. "In God we trust" is still the best slogan for the American citizen.

A few years ago we stood just outside the prison bars with some other gentlemen and saw one of the prisoners, a young man about twenty-five, beckon one of the outside men to him, and we heard the young prisoner behind the bars say confidentially to this man friend, "More than anything else the thing that put me here is that ten years ago my mother and father quarreled and separated. That broke my home in two in the middle, and I said, if they cannot trust each other, then I can't trust either of them; and if I can't trust them, I can't trust God, nor anybody else, SO HERE GOES TO THE DEVIL, and I went, and came here." That boy's home did not give him a square deal, and he lost his way.

IV.

HEAR it, citizen of America, and therefore a citizen of the world; the tide of humanity's ocean has turned. The Day of the Square Deal is written large on the top of the crest wave. The militaristic and materialistic oppressor cannot gamble with human rights forever. The politician cannot continue forever his oppressive pranks on the people. The people even now are demanding a reckoning with the wily demagogue. He will assume any name to put his schemes across, ancient, medieval or modern. His skin is as changeable as that of the chameleon. But Lincoln saw the Day of the Square Deal coming, and said, "You can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, BUT YOU CANNOT FOOL ALL THE PEOPLE ALL THE TIME." New seeing has come upon the American mind and the mind of the world—IT IS THE SURE SEEING OF THE SQUARE DEAL. To think truly and to think and live truthfully we must think and live and work in the terms of the square deal. All tyrannies must tumble to the ground, whether they be domestic, social, commercial or political. The ravishers of human welfare on land and sea, on field and forum, on the play ground and in the political realms and in all marts of trade must be brought to heel by this divine spirit of the square deal. Right will not be forever on the scaffold. Wrong will not be forever on the throne. The spirit of the square deal is widening on the world like the glory of a great sunrise. It brings strength to the weak, it brings help to the hopeless and stands by all honest strugglers until the day breaks and the shadows flee away. The day of the square deal irradiates our skies. Humanity will never return to the kaisers and labor union bosses and monopolies and tyrannies of yesterday

The "Usurper."



MAROONED POLITICIANS.

One of the remarkable developments of the last four years relates to the capacity of the American people to do their own thinking and to find a medium for the expression of their convictions. Political parties may have been originally invented to save people the trouble of keeping informed on public affairs; but they have ceased to perform that service. There is about as much use for the professional politician in the Republican party this year as for a cow-puncher in a garage.

Candidates for President are nominated nominally by party conventions; and these conventions have been more or less under the control of the politicians. But a glance at the political history of the last forty years will show that the politicians have never lost sight of the main chance, that of selecting a candidate popular with the voters of the country at large. The best defense of the convention system is the caliber of candidates who have been nominated.

McKinley was not nominated the second time, however, by a party convention. The only thing the convention did was to register the almost unanimous demand of the Republicans of the country that he receive the nomination. In the same way Roosevelt was nominated in 1904 by the Republicans, and Wilson in 1916 by the Democrats. The people had spoken weeks in advance of the convention; and there are indications that the Republican nomination will be made this year in the same way. A piquant interest is added to the campaign by the fact that the Democrats in some States are trying to abduct Herbert Hoover, the Republican favorite, and nominate him first. Never before in the history of modern politics have the two great parties disputed over which should have the honor of nominating a certain candidate.

Professional politicians of both parties are dumfounded. They are such creatures of system that to them the thing that never has been done is impossible. But the overturning of political traditions may be traced to the growing determination of the people of the country as a whole to have a voice in the selection of a President. Hoover is a doer, not a dreamer, and in an industrial age he is the kind of man to whom the public looks for leadership.

Hoover has proved beyond cavil that he possesses a rare genius for management; that he knows the wants of the people and how to satisfy them. No one has raised the cry of war waste in connection with any of Hoover's activities. He handled hundreds of millions of dollars and wasted none. He knew the needs of the common people and he was not above ministering unto them; and it is for that reason that the people of the country as a whole are telling the politicians to nominate Hoover.

California has grown so enthusiastic over the prospect of landing her favorite son in the Presidency that she may be said to be Hooverized. The spirit is infectious. Who would have believed, even three months ago, that Chester Rowell and his Fresno Republican would waver in their allegiance to Senator Johnson? Rowell was for Johnson, League of Nations or no League of Nations, until the Hoover star rose high in the heavens. In a recent editorial Rowell asserted that Hoover's recent letter stating his position on the questions of the day marks him as a leader of human thought, that he speaks with the voice of the most advanced thinkers of the country. It is evident that Rowell either had broken, or was ready to break, with Johnson when he wrote that.

Here in Los Angeles there are at least a score of Republicans whose names have been prominent in the past in State or national politics, who are sorry now that they indorsed Senator Johnson's candidacy when the Johnson boom was projected three months ago. At that time the word came from the East that certain Republican leaders desired that the California delegation should be pledged to Johnson on the first ballot as a kind of harmony programme. A few fell for it. But they now find themselves marooned on a deserted political islet by the rising tide of Hoover sentiment.

Up in Washington the Democrats are putting Hoover on the primary ticket as the surest method of declaring that they are for him, regardless of party affiliations. It isn't the party, but the man, that they are plugging for. To understand the condition one must remember that party lines were obliterated during the stress of the war and that Hoover proved his worth when partisan issues were submerged by patriotic effort. Democrats and Republicans were united on the various committees working under Hoover. The members of both the great parties worked for a common purpose, and they are not yet wholly separated. Hoover will probably be nominated as a Republican and elected as an American.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

OFFICE.

I have been asked to quit my work and make the race for county clerk. They say a man of princely race is needed for that august place; a man of virtue unalloyed, a man of weaknesses devoid; a gent of great and soaring gifts in whose renown there are no rifts; 'tis such a paragon they need, and so they come to me and plead. But when I see the weary jays who are in office all their days, who sometimes die but don't resign, I say, "No public snap in mine!" When I turn out a handmade song the smiling neighbors come along and say, "Old scout, you're doing well! Your latest anthem rung the bell!" The man who has a private task gets all the praises he could ask, if he gets down and does his best, at duty's eloquent behest. But when he finds himself in charge of public office, small or large, he cannot do his work so well that voters won't rear up and yell, as voters evermore have screeched, and say he ought to be impeached. I get a little word of praise when I produce some ringing lays, but if they made me county clerk the populace would roast my work.

WALT MASON.

WHY BUY MEAT?—BORROW IT.

There are other ways to combat the high cost of living than waiting for A. Mich. Palmer to get an injunction against it. That is the difficulty with too many of us; we are practically spoiled by a paternal government, and the habit has caused us to look to government for relief from every inconvenience. The fellow who is standing on his own two feet and taking care of himself will stop using sugar or overalls or shirts or shoes when the prices become unreasonable, and what A. Mitch. Palmer may do or not do in the cause of lower prices will be a matter of indifference to him.

Have you noted what they are doing to h.c.l. in the sunny South, where so much of the pioneer American blood is centered? Take one item—meat. They have a neighborhood meat circle, one man buys a small piece of meat and passes it around, and if they are careful of it a five-pound chuck is likely to last thirty days under almost continuous use, and the tougher it is the longer it will last. Listen to the Waldron Advance-Reporter tell about it:

"Webb Floyd had a small piece of meat that he lent to his neighbors around to cook with their beans and peas. He lent it to Jim Epperson a few days ago and he cooked it with some turnip greens and ruined it, and the indignant neighbors are now threatening prosecution."—[Minneapolis Journal.

This is the season back East when the fruit in the cellar freezes and blows up with the winter.

THE LANCER.

Reading the record of border crimes in the papers during the last two weeks makes me wonder whether the Bret Harte days are not in reality coming back. There have been more bank robberies in California this winter than in any five years of the pioneer era; more hold-ups in San Francisco and Los Angeles than ever occurred during a similar time in all the mining camps of California.

Cutting out the fiction and taking the records as our base of comparison, we find that California is wickeder, that there is a greater prevalence of deeds of violence and derring-do, than in the days of the Argonauts. I notice that a French author who was here last week expressed his happy surprise that the frontier atmosphere was not a myth. A member of the French realistic school, his heart rejoiced that he could write about bandits and bank robbers and make his heroes true to his preconceived idea of the California type.

There was a true touch of the Goncourt school, too, in his naive assertion that "California is beautiful, but so dry that even the flowers lose their perfume. It is the bouquet of the wine that intensifies the aroma of the violet and the rose; and not even love can bring the ruby to woman's lips and the sparkle to woman's eye like a glass of Burgundy. French women will never lead a prohibition movement, for they know that the women of the wine-drinking countries are as witching as their wines."

Perhaps it will begin to occur to my prohibition neighbors that there is some connection between the closing of the cafes and other places where intoxicating drinks were sold and the increase in serious crimes. I have always believed that the prohibition edicts of the Mohammedan countries had something to do with the proverbial cruelty of the Turks.

In the days of the Argonauts the bad men would gather at the frontier bar and "liquor up" before starting one of their raids; and in nine cases out of ten they kept on liquoring up until they were hauled home on a sled. Ernest Renan always held that French wines and small beer were a greater preventive of crime than all the gendarmes in France.

In the wet days the second-story men were supposed to rendezvous in some cheap grog shop. But the experience of last week shows that they make their headquarters in the first-class hotels. Nick Carter never staged anything more melodramatic than that "monkey burglar," who stopped at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco, at the U. S. Grant in San Diego and the Alexandria in Los Angeles and rode out to the scene of his operations in a limousine. Crime, like love, always finds a rendezvous. Closing the grog shops did not abolish sin.

I observe that the town is so much safer since the saloons and cafes are all closed that the police department is looking for 150 additional policemen, presumably to tell the strangers within our gates where the churches are located.

"We who are vitally interested in the problem of reducing the ever-increasing cost of the necessities of life"—and who have organized ourselves into the Consumers' League of California—wrote an open letter to Gov. Stephens last week advising him that "Stimulated production is not the remedy for the high cost of living. We are not suffering from lack of production," etc.

How nice! Half the world is starving, evidently, because it isn't getting enough to eat; while the other half is suffering from indigestion because it has eaten too much. Such is the condition by which the Consumers' League is confronted; and it has discovered the talisman which will carry food to the lips of the hungry and raiment to the backs of the nude. Gather about while I make the secret known. STATE MARKETS! If the farmers will only turn their crops over to the politicians all the vexed problems of the high cost of living will be solved.

Of course, Los Angeles has municipal markets right now. But the people in charge of them have not the broad vision of the members of the Consumers' League; so the municipal markets are to be closed, and the superintendent of the municipal markets of Los Angeles is recommended for the now vacant place of State Market Commissioner.

Gov. Stephens is the greatest watchful waiter in public office today; a habit that he learned while serving in Congress. It is an axiom of Federal departments that no public servant was ever fired for what he didn't do. It is action that gets officeholders into difficulty. The man whose desk is piled highest with public business sticks longest. But the Governor has at least this to his credit: it is better to be silent than to be silly; and the recommendation of the Consumers' League is a bit worse than the inaction of the Governor.

The case reminds me of the story of the Dutch Governor and his clock in Knickerbocker's New York. The Governor's clock had not been wound in ten years. He said winding spoiled it; because a clock that has stopped points to the correct time twice a day, while the one that is always running is always wrong.

I happen to know a number of those "vitally interested" members of the Consumers' League; and their sleek and corn-fed appearance does not indicate that the question of food distribution is one of life and death with any of them. They are dilettantes; and their open letter to the Governor discloses that their opinions about the high cost of living are gleaned from some book and are not the product of experience.

Opening State markets would have about as much effect on the high cost of living as writing tracts about it. To say that "stimulated production" will not reduce the cost of the article produced is to deny the law of gravitation.

UNEXPECTED FEE.

Forgotten Law Brings Attorney Cash from Supreme Court.

Attorney Paul Overton, general counsel for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, received from Washington yesterday afternoon a check from the Supreme Court of the United States for $20 for "services rendered." He kept the wires hot asking for explanations, as he could remember no services he had rendered other than his offer to go to war, which was not accepted.

He was informed that the sum was "attorney docket fees" paid under an ancient and almost obsolete law by which the Supreme Court pays to each attorney in cases pending the sum of $20.

As Attorney Overton is regularly employed by the local corporation, he turned the money over to Vice-President Champ S. Vance. The check was photographed and framed and a copy was placed in the archives of the corporation as Exhibit A.

POLITICS.

THE WATCHMAN.

TREND OF POLITICAL THOUGHT AND ACTION.

By the Sentry on His Beat.

Rumors have been current during the past week that from various sources pressure has been brought to bear on A. J. Wallace to withdraw from the race for Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate, and that there is good prospect of the entire Southern California Republican contingent uniting in support of E. A. Meserve. Developments of the next few days on this line will be watched with interest. The action of Southern California Republicans is awaited with interest by other sections of the State.

In discussing the Senatorial situation in California, the San Jose Mercury-Herald says:

"At the present time there is a great deal of sentiment in the central part of California for E. A. Meserve of Los Angeles. Many nurse the fond hope that Republicans of the south may be able to reach an agreement among themselves whereby Mr. Meserve may come to the Tehachepi Pass as the one choice of the people of the southern end of the State. Should this condition be brought about, there is little question that Mr. Meserve will have the backing of the more conservative element of the Republican party in the large districts through the central part of California. Should Mayor Rolph of San Francisco decide to bide his time in order to again be a candidate for Governor, and not enter the Senatorial fight, that would very nearly solve the question as to where the conservative element of this section and sections farther north would align themselves in the U. S. Senatorial fight of 1920."

Regarding the candidacy of Mr. Wallace, this paper says:

"Even the mighty Hiram Johnson organization, or what is left of it, is not very warm toward his candidacy. Many of them recall the days of the first gubernatorial campaign and the humor that was provoked by the 'Holy Ghost Special' when Wallace and Senator Works went about the State."

They Send for Lincoln.

Chief Justice Harry Olsen of the Chicago Municipal Court, who is one of the general committee handling the campaign for Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood for President, yesterday sent a telegram to Dr. Julius Lincoln of this city asking him to make a speaking tour in South Dakota on behalf of the Wood campaign. It has been generally conceded that Illinois was for Lowden, but this sidelight indicates that some of the prominent Republicans of Chicago are for other candidates.

They Would Return.

Congressman H. E. Barbour of the Seventh Congressional District has announced his candidacy for re-election to the House of Representatives, and his renomination by the Republicans is practically conceded.

"If re-elected to Congress," says Mr. Barbour, "my policy shall be in the future as it has been in the past and is at the present time—the strictest economy in expenditures and a return to normal at the earliest time possible."

Congressman Arthur Elston of Berkeley will also be a candidate to succeed himself in Congress. He's a Republican, and it is said that W. R. Geary, who was his opponent for the Republican nomination last campaign, will again try to gain the coveted prize.

Stephens Seeks Judgeship.

Albert Lee Stephens, for three terms City Attorney of Los Angeless, will be a candidate for the short-term Superior Court judgeship now held by Judge Crail, who will go after one of the long terms.

"I have long had a desire to serve a term on the Superior bench," says Mr. Stephens, "and since so many of my professional friends have gone out of their way to urge me to run at this time, I have determined to do so."

Names Woman on Committee.

D. S. Ewing, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, yesterday issued notification that he has appointed Miss Margaret McGovern, 1745 Washington street, San Francisco as a member of the State committee from the Thirty-second Assembly district, to fill the vacancy created by the death of George F. Welch. Mr. Welch was formerly secretary to Senator Phelan and was widely known throughout the State as a Democratic politician.

In the Sixty-fourth.

John A. Kelly, generally known as "Jockey" Kelly, of 251 North Burlington avenue, is grooming himself for the Republican nomination for Assemblyman in the Sixty-fourth District. He has lived almost two decades in that district.

Gov. Boyle to Retire.

Gov. Emmett Boyle, of Nevada, has just made the positive announcement that he will retire from politics at the end of his present term. Gov. Boyle has announced his intention of visiting Los Angeles next month and participating in the convention of the League of the Southwest. It may be that the charm of the Angel City will so captivate him that eventually he will be added to our roll of citizens.

Meserve on the Japs.

Edwin A. Meserve, candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, has emphatic views on the need of anti-Japanese legislation. "Whenever by virtue of race," says Mr. Meserve, "a man or woman should not and cannot become an American citizen by naturalization, the child of that race should not become a citizen by birth, for the same arguments presented against their becoming citizens by naturalization speak with more force against their becoming citizens by birth."

Mr. Meserve declares that statutes should be framed declaring it to be a fraud for the Japanese to use his money to buy or lease land in the name of a Japanese child, whether a citizen or not. "In fact," he says, "to do that thing, on its face is a fraud; so much so that the courts should so declare when the question is presented."

Pasadena's Recall.

Pasadena has just had its foolish season, the same as many another California community, indulging in the expensive recall. As usual, the officials against whom the recall was directed have won in the contest—and the city treasury of Pasadena is out from $4000 to $5000 for the privilege of having a recall election.

She has a speed of between ten and eleven knots per hour and is the largest steel motorship ever constructed on the Pacific Coast. She cost $300,000.

William Terry, formerly of the Mary Dodge, of the Swayne and Hoyt Company of San Francisco, is captain of the Mazatlan. Henry Gelhaus, former superintendent of machinery of the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company, is chief engineer.

Among the Mexican ports to be made by the vessel are Ensenada, La Paz, Topolobampo, Mazatlan, San Blas, Manzanillo, and at times Guaymas.

MUST CAMPAIGN.

The cargo for the initial trip is not as large as was first expected, according to J. McMillan, manager of the local company. Mr. McMillian said that since the announcement of the Los Angeles company that it would establish a line to Mexico, San Francisco operators have placed men in the field to compete with it by offering frequent calls to this port. Heretofore, he said, the steamship lines of the north repeatedly refused to call at the harbor, on the ground that there is not enough business to warrant it.

"We have not the support here that we expected," said Mr. McMillian yesterday. "The business men of this city seem to think that because times are unusually good they will continue so. There is bound to be a reaction and business all over the country will suffer. It is for this reason that the merchants should prepare for such a setback and they should begin now to build a foreign trade that will pay them large dividends in the future.

"The merchants of Mexico and Latin-American countries in general are the most difficult in the world to change from one thing to another. For years they have dealt with San Francisco houses and they cannot be changed in a day. It will take an untiring campaign to divert the business to this port but the men with vision will make tremendous profits if they persist in their efforts."

FIRST LINE HERE.

Mr. McMillan's line is the first steamship company engaged in foreign trade and making Los Angeles the home port. Different companies have made this a port of call, but the local organization is the first to make the harbor its terminal. Future voyages are expected to show increases in cargo, as this is the period between seasons in the West Coast business.

A number of prominent people will make the first trip, including C. E. Utt, president of the First National Bank of Tustin, with his party. Other people are Mr. and Mrs. George M. Ryall of Los Angeles, A. D. McDermott, Mr. and Mrs. R. Russell Coleman of Santa Ana and Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Navarro of Mazatlan, Mexico.

TO WORK UP TRADE.

Mr. Navarro has been in Los Angeles for two weeks in conference with Mr. McMillan with a view of working with the Los Angeles company in the trade on the West Coast. Mr. Navarro is the head of a Mexican company operating light draught vessels in the rivers and along the coast in the shallow water ports. The Mexican company will act as a gathering agent for the local organization and will assemble passengers and freight at the larger ports, where the Mazatlan can pick them up.

The Mazatlan made her trial trip Tuesday out of the harbor and it was said to be very satisfactory. She will go as far south as Mazatlan on this trip but when business demands, will proceed down the coast. The second ship of the company will be completed in April and the third will follow as quickly as she can be turned out by the Long Beach yard.

The Mazatlan will sail from Pier A, shed 2. Freight is now being loaded.

OUR SHIP MEN BUSY IN CHINA.

Arrangements are Now Being Completed There to Run Boats from Here.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

SHANGHAI (China) Jan. 21.—Manufacturing and financial interests of Southern California, with associated interests in New York, are behind the Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company, whose representatives recently have been completing arrangements in the Far East to begin operations shortly with a line of steamers between Los Angeles and Far East ports.

Capt. R. D. Read, former marine superintendent of the old Pacific Mail Steamship Company, will head the new company's activities in the Far East, with headquarters probably at Manila.

WITH PONIES AT TIJUANA.

ries one out of oneself. To see a beautiful horse steadily forging ahead, close pressed by others, is a joy. Craps concern inanimate cubes of ivory; poker has to do with bits of cardboard, but a horse race is a thing of flesh and blood, the evolution of breeding. It makes a difference—that.

Before or after the races there is Tia Juana, the Mexican town across the sand dunes from the race track. It is a twenty-minute walk or a wild five-minute ride in a bus. Tia Juana, like Hoboken in the dear, dead days of Barleycornism, has a saloon in every other building. Those that happen to have been devoted to some purpose other than that of quenching thirst are now being remodeled. There are some grand old American mahogany bars being given a speedy reincarnation at Tia Juana. Soon they will again be functioning in the same old way.

CHEMICAL BLONDES.

There is a cantina at Tia Juana where chemical blondes from Wapakoneta, O., and Skaneatles, N. Y., try to look Spanish by the aid of rebozos and four-bit high combs—and fail dismally. One expects that a cantina will be a bit—well, you know, not at all conventional, but in Tia Juana they don't even shimmy. They waltz the "Blue Danube" just as though it all happened in Oconomowock, Wis., or Evanston, Ill. If there are really any Mexican wild women they are trained to stay in their cages and never, never to cantina.

Then there are curio shops, where the tourists buy post cards showing bull fights and ladies with few clothes. These are sent back to Neligh, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Iowa, to show the home folks how shocking things are in battle-torn, bloody Mexico.

Monte Carlo is between the atmospheric Tia Juana and the emotional Tijuana. It is the "a," I reckon. There is the wild and woolly West of the '49 days. Faro, roulette and a dozen more ways of winning and losing money are freely offered and freely accepted. It is straight, too—at least so everyone says—but in the annex one pays 30 cents for a ham sandwich, which is not a straight game, at all, and the only drawback to living the happy life in Tijuana or Tia Juana.

FIREHOUSE TO BE MOVED.

The City Council yesterday approved a contract with R. C. Bucey for the moving of the bungalow firehouse at Normandie and Western avenue to a location on Terminal Island, where the Harbor Commission has provided a site. After the building is placed in its new location it will be repaired and re-equipped. The city will save several thousand dollars, it is said, by not erecting a new building at Terminal Island.

MEXICALI, SCORCHED, HAPPY

dition is plenty of both, in the well-known combination, firewater.

The biggest liquor dealer in Mexicali is Bonigso Barreiro, a Spaniard, who came to Mexicali, eleven years ago and worked as a clerk until he managed to start a small business opposite the Owl Cafe. He prospered and during several ticklish situations several years ago, came to the aid of the Governor. This favor has been returned.

Senor Barreiro has three large warehouses in Mexicali, 50x40 feet and twenty feet high, and another at Tia Juana, and these are stacked to the roof with hundreds of thousands of gallons of the finest of American whisky. When the Mexicali warehouses are filled, the liquor is shipped to Tia Juana and that warehouse filled.

He has also thousands of gallons of the finest of wines.

Tequilla and Mexican beer is secured from Monterey in the State of Nuevo Leon and comes in cases of sixty-two quarts, a size, which Americans consider huge. This is sold to the Mexicans, as the Americans do not care for it.

Just before national prohibition went into effect, Senor Barreiro had fifteen men working in his warehouses, twelve working at the cars, and eight trucks and four drays busy storing the liquor away. He has enough liquor to last for many months.

ENOUGH MEXICAN TRADE.

"I do not care especially for the American trade," he says. "There are enough Mexicans to keep me busy."

Sr. Barreiro is a character.

"I imagine that for months before prohibition went into effect in the United States the poor saloonkeeper had no friends, is that not so? Ah, but he had many friends in secret, did he not?" he says.

Although he is rated as a millionaire, he is not in the least aloof. As he explained to a party of newspaper men, whom he escorted through his warehouses this week:

"I am always glad to see you fellows come for I love to extend my hospitality to you. If you wish, you may sample every bottle which you see.

"Three hundred and sixty-two nights in the year, just before I retire, I go around and see that all padlocks are locked tight. Perhaps, you would say, this is the secret of my success. It is so.

"Next spring I go to London to purchase all the Johnnie Walker in England. When I purchase heem, he is fifty or sixty years old but when I get heem to Mexicali, he walk like a fifteen-year-old."

FUTURE SUPPLY ASSURED.

The ruling of the internal revenue department that liquor, the shipment of which originates in a foreign land may pass through the United States in bond, will save Mexicali from a prolonged drouth when the present supply is consumed.

Choice Italian and French wines will be imported and whisky from European lands will be brought here in large quantities.

The fact that this ruling was not made until several days ago accounted in a large measure for the stocking of the warehouses in Mexicali so heavily. Had it been known that booze could be shipped across the United States in bond, it is doubtful if there would have been the fevered rush to fill the depleted stocks, other than to get the liquor out of the United States.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacupful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—[Advertisement.

FINDS ROMANCE IN OUR CRIMES.

French Writer Here on Hunt for American Color.

Is Most Impressed by Daily Violence of Robbers.

Also Convinced Prohibition is Work of Vandals.

Bret Harte was not a romancer but a realist, and California is more filled with romance and adventure right now than in the wildest days of Roaring Camp, Poker Flat and Simpson's Bar. Such is the opinion of Valentin Mandelstamm, noted French romancer, raconteur and dramatist, who is now visiting Los Angeles for the purpose of hunting the elusive American type to its lair.

M. Mendelstamm expresses himself as delighted with California. "It is all that I had hoped to find, and more," he said yesterday. "We see the 'bad man' from the West on the stage and in the motion picture screen; but we have thought they portrayed a vanished era, like that of the Leather Stocking Tales of your great Fenimore Cooper.

"But I have been here for three weeks in Los Angeles and I find that hold-ups and bank robberies are of almost daily occurrence. It is wonderfully romantic, the way your burglars ride out in limousines to the places where they are going to operate and stop at the first-class hotels. Your criminals de luxe are a purely American type.

"Your bank robbers, too, are temerity itself. Their daring must be a bit hard on the nerves of the bank clerks and on the police; but they are wonderful makers of copy."

SCREEN VIOLENCE.

"I have been bewildered many times in the few days I have been roving about your city. I have witnessed two or three scenes that I thought were bona fide hold-ups, until I discovered the camera at work in the background. I suppose that if I should see a real murder or bank looting now, I would pass right along, imagining that it was another case where the screen operators were at work. I wonder how the police keep from getting the two confused."

M. Mendelstamm is a typical French romancer of the Goncourt school. He believes that the expression should be an exact replica of the impression. He has found that French audiences are eager for plays in which American types are presented; that they want to learn more about the haunts and the habits of those clean-limbed, bright-eyed young men who were at once so jolly and so unafraid. The French imagine that the country which reared the American troops must be a wonderland indeed; and M. Mendelstamm has come all the way to California to discover whether the cattle rustler, the automobile bandit of the great highways and the bank robber are existing American types.

It is not the first time, however, that he has wandered away from Paris in search of material for his charming plays and romances—he is equally at home while writing a book or a comedy. He went through a campaign in the early Balkan wars, spent a summer at the front in the Russo-Japanese War and went through the Russian revolution of 1905. His books and plays, founded on his own adventures, have had a ready sale in France. "Jim Blackwood—Jockey" has passed through three English editions.

PURSUIT OF ATMOSPHERE.

But M. Mendelstamm is certain that his greatest work will be based on his western experiences. He started seeking the American atmosphere in New York, followed it across the continent and finally located it on the Pacific slope. Judging from the opinion he holds at present of the frequency of deeds of violence, his California romances will fairly reek with adventure.

While here M. Mendelstamm is paying especial attention to the development of the motion-picture business. He says that in this Los Angeles leads the world. One of his romances has already been screened by the Pathe people, and Douglas Fairbanks is now displaying a personal interest in another of them.

During the war M. Meidelstamm was connected with the French Foreign Office, and his liking for America was awakened by the members of our Expeditionary Forces, whom he met. He says the ideals of France and America are very similar, except on the subject of the use of wine and beer. Our views in that regard are hopeless to a Frenchman, especially a Bohemian. Mr. Mendelstamm thinks that the "movies" are a great agency for the approchment of the two peoples, and he would like to see more typical American reels in Paris and more French reels here.

Los Angeles is going to get a vast amount of publicity in France by reason of M. Mendelstamm's visit. But will it cause us to beam or to blush? There's the rub. Those French idealists are merciless.

COAL-OIL THEFT BREAKS UP GANG

Auto Balks at Kerosene and Arrests Follow.

Loot Obtained Here is Said to Aggregate $20,000.

Plot to Kill Policeman Who Shot Pals Uncovered.

Theft of coal oil by mistake for gasoline led yesterday to the breaking up of a well-organized gang of bandits upon the arrest of five supposed members of the gang. The arrests were made by Deputy Sheriffs Bell and Couts, assisted by Chauffeur Holbrook. The arrests also disclosed that Charles W. Riley and Ray Lawrence, shot and killed by Patrolman Barlow, were members of the band and that one of the arrested bandits, said to be the leader, swore that he "would bump off Barlow, so help me God."

It was asserted by the officers yesterday that admission by members of the gang link them with numerous burglaries and robberies committed in and near Los Angeles since early in November. According to these statements crimes of this nature were committed in Kansas City, St. Louis, Oklahoma City, Cheyenne, Wyo., and San Francisco as well.

Those under arrest are Ralph Schrader, called "Frisco Red," who says he owns a restaurant on East First street; Louis Dixon, called "Cotton Kid;" L. B. Young, known as L. Moore; Lether B. French, called "the Soldier;" and Clarence St. John, called "Wingey," because of having but one arm.

According to admissions of French and others, following the Willetts burglary at Colton, in which Riley and Lawrence are said to have taken part, the bandits were making their escape in a stolen car when they ran out of gasoline. They stopped at a gasoline station and took some coal oil, thinking it gasoline. The car soon stopped and forced the party to divide loot and go in by Pacific Electric car. They were identified by the conductor and arrested later as they tried to sell the loot separately.

According to the officers, the operations of the gang were directed by Riley, Lawrence and a woman, known to the officers. The loot said to have been obtained since November is valued at more than $20,000.

In a statement made to the officers by French, he says the gang held up and robbed a doctor at the end of York boulevard and a man in Hollywood, and committed numerous burglaries.

French claimed and then denied that he is really Richard Lancaster, said to be a brother of Roscoe Lancaster, known as "Kansas City Blakie," a member of the Dale Jones gang. This story is discounted by the officers, though French seemed familiar with the operations of that gang.

FUND FOR MEMORIAL DAY.

The sum of $250 was appropriated by the City Council yesterday to be used by the general Memorial Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic for providing a proper observance of Memorial Day.

Y.W.C.A. CAMPAIGN NEARS.

Drive for Hundred Thousand Opens Tuesday; to Bulletin Results Daily.

Daily reports on the Y.W.C.A. campaign for $100,000, which will open Tuesday, are to be given to the public from the top of a tall flagpole in Pershing Square.

The plan is to raise on the flagpole a huge triangle, the national emblem of the Y.W.C.A. This will form the framework for a great white sign on which will be shown the total of subscriptions gathered in the campaign daily.

Another feature in connection with the public announcement of the campaign's daily progress will probably be the giving of a short band concert in Pershing Square each day just prior to the triangle raising. The big sign will be hoisted by the captain of the campaign team turning in the maximum sum.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the campaign, which will be under the general direction of C. H. Dreshman, representing the National Board of the Y.W.C.A., and will be continued ten days, until the 27th inst.

Luncheon will be served in the association building each day at 1 o'clock, under the supervision of Mrs. C. Q. Stanton. At these mid-day gatherings reports will be made by the team workers, who will include approximately 250 prominent women.

At a preliminary luncheon tomorrow general instructions will be given, cards distributed among the workers and prospects selected.

The use of automobile banners is urged by the campaign executive committee, which announces that some 1500 attractive "triangle" banners, emblematic of the association, have been made and are being distributed through several mediums, including the Friday Morning Club, the Ebell Club and the Woman's City Club. At each of these clubs a committee has been appointed to handle the banners.

Members of the Y.W.C.A.'s campaign executive committee are: Mrs. W. A. Moses, chairman; Mrs. Seeley W. Mudd, associate chairman; Mmes. C. Q. Stanton, S. W. Crabill, Jay Spence, William J. Chichester, Chester C. Ashley, George H. Bishop, E. S. Pauly, E. F. Bogardus, O. P. Clark, O. C. Bryant, J. B. Long, W. Rhodes Hervey, E. J. Marshall, Frank Gibson, George H. Wadleigh, Eckhart, William D. Robertson, Harry Chandler, G. Warren, Weirick, F. W. Herman Sloan-Orcutt, Wesley W. I. Hollingsworth, W. S. Bartlett, J. Hare, Nichols Thomas, Charles Lacy, O. Shepherd, Misses Rose F. and Alice Members of the "triangle" committee are: Mrs. Seeley W. Crabill, Mrs. C. H. liam D. Armstrong, and C. H. Dreshman.

And by history. one might ex- style to build his view from of tall trees, hundreds of which were planted in the form of a green cross by the hand of the poet; the mountain flowers, the birds, the great quiet, the wooded ravines and cool springs truly inspire a poetic nature.

DAILY PILGRIMS.

By a visit to the poet's home one realizes the thought and interest given the famous of our land. I saw people arriving by foot and by auto, practically every hour in the day. And they come not only from every State in the Union, but from foreign lands as well. Not the least interest in the beautiful spot attaches to the poet's wife, Mrs. Abbie, and their daughter, Juanita, a cultured, bright nature-woman. They are hospitable and kindly. Juanita recites her father's verse, sings and helps to make the visit one of pleasure to last a lifetime.

Joaquin Miller was a great traveler, as he was a hard and persistent worker. A lover of the simple in life. A seeker after the just and the true. He was a part of the life he exemplified in his verse—in his manner of life and in his dress. Ten years he spent in Europe. He had traveled in China, Japan, South America and Mexico, yet he loved the West, whose history he helped to make with a law book, two long-barreled revolvers, a rifle and a bowie knife. And California he loved best of all.

There are a number of cottages on the heights built by the poet One was for his mother, who died at the age of 90 years, one for his wife, and one for his daughter, Juanita, who confessed that her father was the only man she has ever loved. And there are a number of stone monuments which the poet built with his own hands from stones dug up from the hillside. He also built a pyre from which his ashes were scattered to the winds after his death, February 18, 1913.

HIS FINAL WISH.

He expressed his wish in this respect before his death in these lines:

"The old desire for new lands, the thirst to learn to still front storms,
To bend my head and bow my knee
to God in all His thousand forms,
These lure and lead as pleasantly as old songs sung anew at sea—but storied lands or stormy deeps,
I will my ashes to my steeps; I will my steeps-green cross of trees,
To those who love the beautiful, come learn to be of these!"

And again he wrote:

"Come here when I have gone far away, fond lovers of this friendly land, and sit quietly and do not say,
Turn right or left or lift a hand, but sit beneath my kindly trees and gaze far out on yon sea of seas.
These trees, these very stones could tell how long I loved them and how well.
And maybe I shall come and sit beside you, yet so silently you may not know."

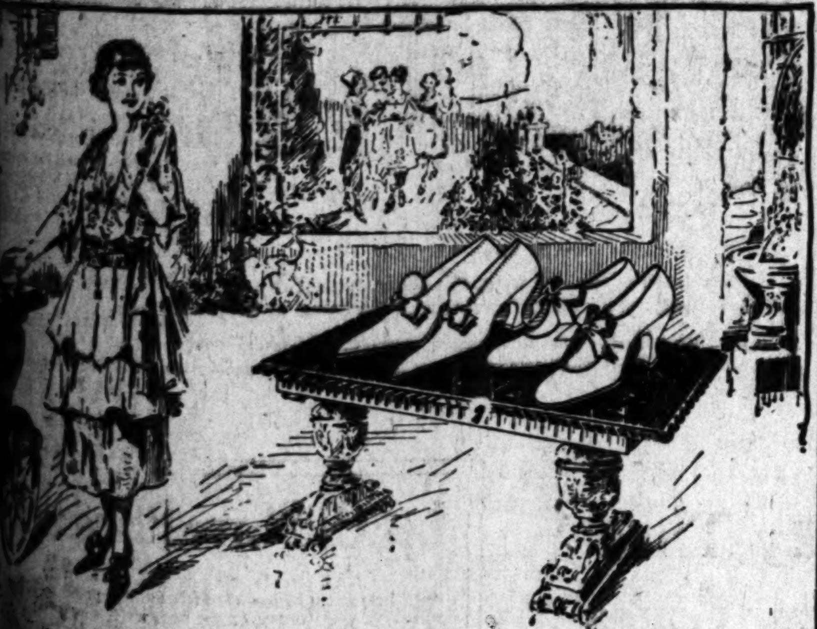
Peace be to his ashes!



Walk-Over New Spring Styles

THE new Walk-Over Spring Footwear, with its soft, handsome leathers and glove-fitting qualities, correctly forecasts the mode for the coming season.

The new French last, typified in the "Parisian" instep tie model, with its short vamp and high heel, is one of the style leaders. The "Vanity" one-eyelet tie, with modified vamp and stylish lines, will be much sought. The Sport Oxfords, admirable for outdoor and general wear, are exceptionally stylish.

These and many other models are on display. Prices range from $10.00 to $15.00.

(See our full-page announcement in another part of this paper today.)

Prologue

[The scene of our story of domesticity is laid in the immediate environs of Los Angeles and though reached by interurban car line is a trifle beyond the convenience of city gas. While our novelette is in the nature of a soliloquy, being a chapter from the life of Mrs. Average Housewife, it well typifies the housewife's daily program in 'most any modern home.]

Scene 1.

The time is late afternoon. Mrs. Average Housewife has been downtown shopping. Yesterday was Sunday, so she has put in a rather strenuous day responding to the tempting offers of the Sunday ads. We find her laden with small parcels just before the doorway of her home. Although the street car had seemingly poked along all the way home, the preparing of dinner hadn't troubled her peace of mind—she entertained no visions of an irate husband—for all the while

Dinner Had Been Merrily Cooking in the Duplex Fireless Cooker

Scene 2.

Here we find her taking the roast and the vegetables out of the fireless cooker. The escaping steam as it emerges from the cooker foretells a delicious repast. The roast is delightfully tender and the vegetables perfectly done. The three-well cooker is so spacious; how fortunate she had chosen the Duplex.

Scene 3.

Still a few minutes before her husband's homecoming. Why not make hot biscuits for dinner? A great idea! It would be but a minute's work with

The Accommodating McDougall Kitchen Cabinet

Quick as a wink she released the catch that held the flexible wooden curtain Auto-Front, and down it dropped out of sight and out of the way. A slight pull and out came the porceliron extension top—a large and roomy work table without swinging doors that threaten to knock off something.

In a flash she had whisked together from out of the recesses of the McDougall, the flour, lard, baking powder and salt. The yellow mixing bowls, the bread board and the cooking utensils, too, had their place in this "filing cabinet of the kitchen."

Scene 4.

Now to bake the biscuits quickly. Naturally her first thought is the intense heat of the Red Star (Detroit Vapor Oil Stove) oven. This range burns gas, which it makes from kerosene, gasoline or distillate. It has no gas pipe connections and may be moved about as a woman wills.

Red Star Ranges Are Independent of the Gas Meter

They'll give 19 hours of the finest cooking or baking heat from each gallon of kerosene. You can cook a 5-lb. rolled rib roast in 90 minutes in the Red Star. (Detroit Vapor Oil Stove.)

Scene 5.

While the biscuits were baking Mrs. Housewife set about spreading the tablecloth over the table and placing the napkins. Every time she had occasion to use her Barker Bros.' linens she felt wonderfully proud of the fact that they came from a linen department second to none in the West.

Barker Bros. Have Patterns in Linens That Are Unobtainable in the Market Today

—and the prices on these patterns are less than market quotations on some lines of inferior quality. Among items of special interest the Linen Dept. offers Monday are these:

8 BEAUTIFUL PATTERNS IN LINEN WEFT DAMASK OF 70-INCH WIDTH AT $3.25 AND $4.00 THE YARD.

100, 72-INCH SQUARE CLOTHS OF LOOM DAMASK IN FOUR PATTERNS, FOR LESS THAN WE CAN BUY THEM FOR TODAY. WE CAN MATCH THREE OF THESE CLOTHS WITH NAPKINS. 2x2-yd. cloths, $6.00. 22-inch napkins, $7.00 dozen.

TABLECLOTH REMNANTS of about the size for small breakfast cloths. Just a few pieces.

Scene 6.

It is now nearing the dinner hour, so setting the table's Mrs. Housewife's next pastime, or would you call it task? If

The Bungalow Dinner Set Is One of Barker Bros.' Pretty Yellow and Black Sets

Setting the table would be almost a pastime. Name a housewife that doesn't delight in handling pretty dinnerware. The set in question, as depicted by our sketch, is of English origin, semi-porcelain, and comprises 52 pieces—a service sufficient for six persons. $52.50.

Scene 7.

Time—The following morning. Dinner and dish washing, likewise breakfast and dish washing, over. We draw the curtain at dish washing—no housewife likes it, anyway—so we'll pass on to something more pleasant, like

Cleaning House With an Ohio-Tuec Electric Cleaner

(Housework turned into fun.)

Company's coming this afternoon and Mrs. Housewife wants to serve tea. Of course, the whole place must look as neat and clean as a pin. The Ohio-Tuec is easily equal to the task. Its motor has the implied strength of Hercules, yet it's as careful with your rugs as you are with your daintiest linens. It doesn't cost as much as most cleaners and gives far greater satisfaction.

Scene 8.

Time—That same afternoon. The expected guests have arrived. Mrs. Housewife makes preparations to serve tea. This is her opportunity to display her anniversary gift—

A Tea Service of Sterling Silver—the Sedan

Named in honor of a little city in Northwestern France. A fine example of French period design and American craftsmanship. From among the many sterling silver pieces in Barker Bros.' Department of Silverware it is an easy matter to make a satisfying gift selection.

In Woman's Own Sphere—Her Home—Her Opportuniti for Interesting Development are Infinite!

Have What You Want Upon Your Floors

To be told "it's not what you want but what you can get" that must determine the nature of your floor-coverings is not an encouraging way to begin furnishing a home. And we are more delighted than we can say to be able to assure you, now, that we have the Rugs and Carpets that YOU WANT! Our stock is superb—and, more than that, it's satisfying. Even Linoleums are shown in supreme variety now at Barker Bros.' Please let us help you choose your floor-coverings to be the most enhancing backgrounds for your furniture and you!

There are women who have professions and women who have careers, and then there are women who have—just HOMES.

And the woman with the home sometimes fancies she is lacking in opportunities to make herself the attractive, charming, constantly-advancing person that—for her husband's and her children's sake—she wants to be.

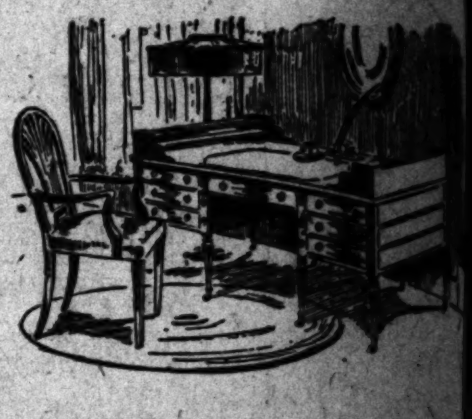
Perhaps she may even wonder if it is not dreadfully monotonous being "just a home-maker" and vaguely envy, just a little, those sisters whose work keeps them "interesting and up-to-date."

Of course, as a matter of fact, the woman with a home possesses, in it, both a profession and a career—the most important and glorious in the world.

And her OWN work gives her the best opportunities of all for stimulation, inspiration, education and interesting development. Think of the beauty of her business in life! Think of the lovely things she may have about her in her home to create a sympathetic background for her personality!

Think what an alluring picture of tasteful, purposeful, delightful femininity she may constantly present—the very picture the world most needs to gaze upon for strength and renewed faith in the sincerity and sweetness and nobility of life and homes and families!

And this picture needs not expensive furniture and sumptuous appointments to make it beautiful. It is the SPIRIT which is the vital spark, and Barker Bros. have the understanding and the resources to express the spirit of YOUR home in the terms which fit your circumstances and your desires.



Rarely Roomy is the "George Washington"

—and that's not all!

It's a beautiful, stately, substantial Desk with the quality of aristocracy that was possessed by the great A can from whose patronage it gained its name.

We have so considerable an assortment of George Wa ton Desks in fine mahogany that we feel you would be in ested in seeing them—this week.

Especially the man who has quantities of papers desk and needs generous writing space and "lots of d will recognize the "George Washington" as his own because it is!

An Aristocratic Hepplewhite Bedroom Suite

The most fastidious taste and the one which delights in a savor of the Old World in bedroom furniture which yet anticipates all the ultra-modern demands will find special joy in this mahogany bedroom suite of Hepplewhite design.

Each piece of the suite—twin beds, dresser base, mirror, chiffonier, toilet table, desk, stand, chair and bench—each is in itself an exquisite article of workmanship of the highest quality. A decorative touch of inlay adds to its distinction of appearance.

This is but one of a number of beautiful new suites of bedroom furniture in our display, each with a character all its own.

—Have You Ever Thought of This?

—If you knew a father who was aware that a grim disease was imperiling his home and did not seek to protect his children from it, would you not feel justified in calling him unworthy?

—At the present time we are told that anarchy, sedition and bolshevism are being advocated and even our politicians sometimes bow their heads in assent to its propaganda.

—These doctrines may be far more dangerous to the children of this generation than any possible disease.

—Consequently we believe it is just as much the duty of every citizen to register and protect his home by his vote as it is his duty to guard his family against physical harm.

—And let us not stop at registering but, when the time comes, let us vote and express ourselves with sanity, intelligence and judgment.

"Veltoone," the Cotton is Like Velvet

Here is a new fabric that will interest you, because it is made of your old friend, cotton—ALL cotton-woven with a depth of texture that gives it the general effect of beautiful Italian velvet, although, of course, it is much less expensive.

In its new guise, this cotton fabric gracefully promises to aid and abet any scheme of furnishing, because of its many styles and colors.

There are various patterns to meet the demands of the different rooms. And there are plain tones of sand, red, mulberry, rose, blue and green shades.

Again—Imported English Chintzes

All fresh and gay, and not a bit war-worn, come these hand-blocked chintzes from England, after a four years' absence. It seems good to be able to get them again, for they are delightfully quaint and marvelously full of character.

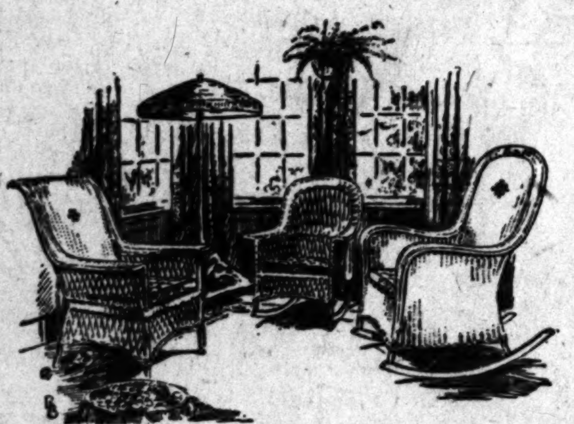
Besides that, you will like them because their designs are so accurate in detail and every color is brought out perfectly. When you have fallen in love with their prim little nosegays, you will be glad to feel that they come out smiling from the wash and wear extremely well.

More Old Friends Returned

Brisbee lace panels are made in sections that make them particularly adaptable for French doors, or long windows, or for small glass curtains. You may get them in any number of panels you want.

When they are mounted on shade rollers, they are just the thing for day shades.

If it is lace panels you want, you are sure to find the kind you want here at any price you care to pay, because there are so many designs, such a great variety of patterns and such a large range of prices.



Here Are Three Reed Chairs We'd Like to Have You Know

One rocker of especially remarkable quality, so superior is its material, so excellent its workmanship, and so generous its lines, is priced at $45.00 (right, group above.) It fairly exudes comfort. Another one of its recommendations is its adaptability for all-round use.

There is another very good model, a high-backed chair and rocker, fashioned with graceful curves, which is less expensive—$38.00 (left, group above.)

For porch use or for the summer home, a natural reed rocker which was designed especially for comfort and service, but achieves charm as well, is priced at $15.00 (center, group above.)

Collapsible reed chairs that have been decorated in pleasing tones of green and brown, with cretonne cushions of contrasting colors, are to be recommended for the porch or for the sunroom.

The Vitality That Sound Sleep Gives will be yours if you woo Morpheus on a mattress of Barker Bros.' Own Manufacturing in this store's cleanly Los Angeles Factory.

These mattresses are not "stuffed." They are built with architectural precision that insures the absence of bumps. They yield gracefully, allowing perfect relaxation, which is so necessary to sound, refreshing slumber.

Because of the variety of the materials that are used in these mattresses and of their ranging prices, every taste and purse may be suited. So, even though the purse may be limited, you will find quality—sleep-encouraging quality—in any mattress you choose of Barker Bros.' Own Make.

RADIANT STAR SHINES AGAIN.

Mae Marsh Charms Anew at Gasnier Studio.

Even More Vivacious than of Yore, She Seems.

Tiny Mary Reflects Her Mother's Personality.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

Mae Marsh is coming back to you fans! The "little sister" of "The Birth of a Nation," the unhappy little wife of "Intolerance," who yet remains despite her long absence from the screen, the favorite of thousands and thousands of film followers, is returning to the drama, her art enriched through the deeper experiences of wifehood and motherhood.

How does she look, this Mae, who is perhaps your favorite star, after a year and a half of absence? Rosy and radiant, that's how—in fact rosier and more radiant than she ever did in her life before, and with even a greater charm of vivacious expressiveness, if that be possible. Oh, and quite a bit plumper, too, which is very becoming! Miss Marsh has the sort of beauty that doesn't soon fade, because it has its roots in brains and genuine power of feeling.

Maybe you wonder what she's been doing all the time. As a matter of fact she's been busy taking care of little Mary Armes, her daughter, born eight months ago. And little Mary Armes is worth it, too, I'm telling you. I saw her, the other day, out at Miss Marsh's home in Hollywood, and she's just the radiant, rosy counterpart of her mama, radiant and rosebuddy and always smiling. No wonder the baby is rose-cheeked, for back there in Forest Hills, where she was born, Miss Marsh and little Mary slept out of doors on the sleeping porch all during the child's first winter in life.

"Goodness, no, I wouldn't let any nurse take care of my baby those first six months, I should say not! I hate to do it now, but have to on account of my work. Society mothers who leave their children to the care of nurses don't know what they miss!"

DADDY'LL BE HERE SOON.

Tiny Mary's dad, Louis Lee Armes, is soon to come West. He did not expect to reach here until June 13, which is his daughter's birthday, but he wired his wife a day or two ago from New York that he misses his family so much that he cannot wait, but will come on in the course of a month. He has left his old calling, the newspaper business, and has gone into the oil business, having acquired by inheritance oil lands in Texas to the amount of 35,000 acres, which are now being developed. The Armes family is planning to build a home out here, probably in Hollywood, though Mr. Armes's business will naturally keep him away from home a great deal of the time.

Miss Marsh will start to work tomorrow on her first story under her contract with Louis Gasnier. It is Mrs. Vosher's story, "Mary Cary." Later, provided things go right, she is planning to do Louise M. Alcott's "Old-Fashioned Girl." She isn't going in for any "dress-up" stories, she says, but those of mixed comedy and drama, which are her forte.

"Will you come in and see my tests?" asked Miss Marsh, when we arrived at the studio. "I'm just a bit worried about 'em of course!"

UNQUESTIONABLY HAPPY.

But she needn't have been. On the screen, as in the flesh and blood, Miss Marsh looks far, far prettier than she ever has looked in her life up to this minute. Her wistfulness is just as appealing, and her comedy more sparkling. Happiness is a great beautifier and Miss Marsh is unquestionably happy.

The screen came very near to losing Miss Marsh and the stage almost won her, last fall, soon after the baby came. In fact, she might have been on the stage right now, if she cared to do it. She received three offers from as many New York managers, but finally decided that living a stage life is no way to take care of a baby. Edward Sheldon, the playwright, even went so far as to write a play for her. She means, however, she says, to go on the stage some day.

Miss Marsh, you will remember, used to have a talent for sculpture. She has kept it up, in her spare moments, which have necessarily been few. She has molded the head of—Oh, of course, you have guessed it—little Mary Armes! Also you may get a very good idea of how her nice husband appears from the bust of him, which she has made, and which adorns her library table.

NEW LYONS-MORAN SPECIAL.

Lee Moran and Eddie Lyons are making such rapid headway with their first feature comedy drama, "Everything But the Truth," that plans are already being discussed for the second in the series, the title of which will be "Five Fridays." It is by Frank Adams, scenario by Philip J. Hurn.

BETTY COMPSON HAS FILM UNIT.

Betty Compson, star of George Loane Tucker's "The Miracle Man," is to head her own company. She has just returned from New York, where she made affiliations which assure her of ample financial backing. She received many offers from big concerns, but preferred the individual method.

Asked concerning her plans yesterday, Miss Compson admitted she had formed her own company and said that details concerning its workings would be announced later. She will work at the Brunton studio and has already secured three stories.

Success Smiles on Stage Enterprises of Recent Weeks.

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT.

The dream of the revival of the stage, which, during the quick and stupendous growth of the picture business, remained little else but a dream, is only too evidently reaching the point of realization. Recent events in the theatrical world have increased the indications, which were beginning to be apparent even last summer upon the starting of a second stock company here.

Now, plans for the inauguration of a third company have assumed definite shape, with the locale as the Little Theater. The first presentation at this house will take place a week from tomorrow night. And, while the Little Theater has in the past always been something of a hoodoo as a house, I fully believe that the day of such hoodoos is past and that Frank Egan's project is likely to meet with as generous a share of success as has attended the productions at the Majestic, which, until recently, has also been rated as suffering from a jinx.

All those jinxes were merely camouflage for the fact that no house had a chance in the stage attraction until the time had arrived for the revival of the so-called legitimate drama—and until the suitable type of plays and the right kind of players were secured. A number of the actors have come back to the stage after playing in the pictures, or make a practice of dividing their time between the two lines, so that the shortage of talent which existed for several years exists no longer. If the expectations for the productions staged by Mr. Egan are realized, and the gloomy tone of the theater is relieved in the decoration, there is no doubt about the success of a playhouse, even as far out of the center of town as Pico and Figueroa. The fact that the people are willing to go clear out to Ivar street in Hollywood to see the performances of the Community Theater is proof sufficient that a house does not have to be in the downtown section to attract its audience. The capacity of the Community Theater is, of course, very small, but it could be filled twice over for most performances.

THE THEATER SITUATION.

As regards downtown theaters, there is little doubt that if another house were available another stock company would be started. I believe that Morosco has considered another organization, because "Civilian Clothes" has demonstrated the possibility of keeping one house for long runs, while the second theater could be used for a general type of stock plays. The arrival of Morosco in this city may prove the means of bringing about a new enterprise.

One thing at least is assured—with the opening of Pantage's new theater, Los Angeles will have an-

SPIRITIST FILM IS THE LATEST.

Vaudeville Star and Lecturer to Make Picture.

Story of Alleged Psychic Phenomena in War.

News Happenings and Gossip in Show World.

Psychic phenomena as the subject of a motion picture production is the latest curiosity proposed in filmland.

Such a picture is proposed to be made by Eva Anna Fay, lecturer on psychic subjects and known also to the vaudeville stage for her mind-reading feats.

Miss Fay arrived in town last week, with her husband and manager, D. H. Pingree, and at once set about obtaining a studio in which to make the picture, which she will name "The Voice of the Silence." The story is a very human one, but involves certain alleged psychical phenomena and supposed experiences, particularly in relation to the late war, which are now being investigated by the research societies both here and abroad.

It is expected that a studio will be secured this week after which a cast and director will be engaged to film the story. It is possible the production may be made at the Balboa, in Long Beach. The picture will be given as much time as necessary for painstaking filming, probably about three months. Miss Fay will return to London next fall, taking the picture with her, to exhibit it for the benefit of disabled soldiers and their wives and families. Of course, it will also be shown in this country.

Miss Fay returned from London last September, and while in that city during a several weeks' engagement at the Coliseum was in close touch with Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, both of whom have written books on psychic and spiritistic phenomena. Indeed she claims it is due to the inspiration afforded by these gentlemen that she is undertaking her present work.

Because of the innumerable fakers in spiritistic fields, picture producers have been loath to make a picture bearing in any way whatsoever on the subject of psychic phenomena. Now, however, due to

The Famous "Templeton's" Victorian Chenille Rugs
Direct from Glasgow, Scotland

THE "CALIFORNIA" is honored with the exclusive Southern California agency for these celebrated Rugs.

They are the very highest type of floor covering—unusually compact in weave and remarkable for their wear and quality.

A very important and characteristic feature is that even the oval rugs for bedroom use, and the very large room sizes up to 12 and 15 feet in width, are strictly seamless.

For living rooms many of the rugs are in entirely plain solid colors, in various shades of taupe, beige, mole, gray, sand and other tones which provide most effective backgrounds for the decoration and furnishing of the modern room.

They are very beautiful rugs—suggestive of luxury, and possessed of unlimited decorative possibilities in association with the silk damasks, brocades, velvets and other fabrics now so much used for furniture coverings, and for hangings.

We shall indeed be glad to have you come and see the display, whether you are prepared to buy or not.

Some very beautiful "Templeton" Victorian Chenille Rugs in oval shapes for bedroom use are shown this week in one of our windows.

"The Silent Avenger" has been selected by Albert E. Mr. Duncan has reached the fourth episode of the new serial, which follows Antonio Moreno's "The Invisible Hand" on the Vitagraph programme.

This will be his first production under his new three-year contract. Edith Johnson appears opposite him, with Jack Richardson and Virginia Nightingale heading the support

Popular in Far East.

Motion pictures are taking the Far East by storm, according to Harry Corson Clarke, the dramatic actor, who has just returned to Los Angeles from a tour including Australia, China, Java and other Oriental points.

"The movie epidemic is taking the place of the cholera epidemic and converts are being rapidly made to the cinema," says the stage actor to be starred here in "The Rotters." with which Frank Egan will on February 23 reopen the Little Theater for a season of dramatic successes.

"American films are leading the list, but producers here must be careful when they reproduce far eastern scenes to do so with fidelity. I saw a mob wreck a picture theater in India because they were insulted by the fact that a Hindu woman of high caste had been played by some American character woman, much the same as she might have portrayed a southern negro mammy."

Clarke declares that William S. Hart is regarded as the ideal of Americanism by the natives of the Far East. H. B. Warner is a prime favorite in India, being first given a cordial reception because of his father Charles Warner, an eminent English actor, and continuing to build popularity through his own work. Blanche Sweet and Bessie Barriscale are popular in Port Moresby, on the island of Papua, Maassar, in the Celebes, Surabaya, Batavia in Java, Sabang in Sumatra, Penang in the Straits.

William Desmond is highly regarded in Australia. He is remembered for the work he did in that country as leading man with the J. C. Williams studios.

Charlie Chapinfi is, of course, a universal favorite, while J. Warren Kerrigan and Eddie Polo were found to be the idols of the Chinese.

—o—

South Versus North.

Southerners play northern parts and vice versa in "Held by the Enemy," the Civil War play being made into a Paramount-Artcraft special by Donald Crisp. Agnes Ayers of Chicago and Wanda Hawley, Scranton, Pa., play dashing Confederate belles, while Jack Holt, Winchester, Va.; Walter Hiers, Savannah, Ga., and Clarence Burton, Tennessee, interpret Unioin officers.

—o—

Will Film "Great Lover."

The Goldwyn Pictures Corporation has announced the purchase of the motion picture rights to "The Great Lover," y Leo Ditrichstein and Frederick and Fanny Hatton. This is the fourth important play which Goldwyn has purchased from Cohan and Harris within the last few weeks. Recently announcement was made of the buying of "Officer 666," "Stop Thief," and "A Tailor-Made Man." They are scheduled for early production.

"The Great Lover" possesses romantic interest, together with excellent pictorial possibilities. The play served Ditrichstein as ar starring vehicle in New York and on the road. It was produced at the Longacre Theater November 10, 1915, and ran for a full season in the metropolis before going on the road. In the original cast, Virginia Fox Brooks played the leading feminine role opposite Mr. Ditrichstein, and Beverly Sitgreaves appeared as one of the supporting characters.

Besides "The Great Lover" and the other plays recently purchased from Cohan and Harris for picturization, the Goldwyn company is now preparing to produce "Bunty Pulls the Strings," by Graham Moffatt; "Milestones," by Edward Knoblock and Arnold Bennet; "The Truth," by Clyde Fitch; "Madame X," by Alexandre Bisson; "The Christian," by Hall Caine, and "The Slim Princess," by George Ade and Henry Blossom.

—o—

William de Mille on Trip.

William de Mille left last week for New York City on business. He will confer with the officials of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, with whom his particular work of production and direction brings him into contact. Mr. De Mille has just completed the first of his big serial productions, "The Prince Chap," with Thomas Meighan starred. He will now make arrangements for material for his next picture.

—o—

Ex-Convicts for Atmosphere.

Detectives who see "Marked Men," Harry Carey's latest Universal picture, which will show for a second run the coming week, at the Superba, may recognize among the extra players five noted criminals of the last twenty-five years. The men long since have been pardoned or completed their sentences. They were summoned to Universal City to appear in the prison scenes shown in the picture.

The director wanted the men so as to make sure that the hundreds of extra players who depicted the convict roles would conduct themselves properly in accordance with prison etiquette. If Harry Carey ever goes to prison he will be familiar with the lockstep, for he learned it thoroughly.

—o—

Will Direct Hallroom Boys.

Al Santell, director of comedies and animal pictures for Universal, is to direct the new series of "Hallroom Boys" to be filmed at the Frances Ford studio at Hollywood. Santell has been "loaned" to the Hallroom Boys Photoplay Company for this special series, through courtesy of the Universal Film Company.

—o—

To Film Circus Stories.

Under his new four-year contract with Universal, Eddie Polo, serial star, is to make about ten two-reel stories of circus life. In order to do this Polo will travel one season with the Barnum & Bailey shows. The actor, who is an old-time performer, plans to build the stories around incidents in his circus career. Instead of carrying a cast of players with him, Polo declares he will use just circus actors. He believes this will give the films real circus atmosphere.

"Famous for Diamonds"

It may be paradoxical, but it is nevertheless entirely natural that as perfect gem diamonds become scarcer and more difficult to obtain, and as they continue to command higher and higher prices they become more expressive of caste and culture, and more desired by people of refined inclination.

Catering to only such a patronage, Feagans & Co, maintain the very highest standard in all their diamond selections, restricting their offerings to perfect stones, properly cut and of purest color.

Our house has long been famous not alone for the quality of its diamonds, but for the characteristic smartness of the mountings, many of which are the handiwork of our own skillful designers and platinum workers.

Youth and Beauty Dominate These Lovely Spring Dresses

Just arrived direct from America's fashion center to the fashion center of California and Los Angeles—The New York Store

—We could hardly unpack them without stopping and enthusing over the beauty of each model. And you are invited to come here tomorrow and see them. You will enthuse over them, too, for they are quite the prettiest dresses that Fashion has sent us for many a season.

—You know New York values. And you know that these dresses will be just a little more advantageously priced here than anywhere else in the city.

These Smart Little Taffetas Contain the Secret of Youth

—So piquant and youthful are they that they will invest their wearer with a grace and charm that can come only from a crisp taffeta frock.

—And such a beautiful variety of colors and styles, featuring pleated skirts, knife pleats and filet lace trimmings, ruffled tunics, vestees, little white organdie collars and little whims and moods of fashions that defy a minute description. Prices $39.75, $42.50, $59.75 up to $75.

Beauty in Every Frill of these More Elaborately Trimmed Taffetas

—Never was taffeta more popular and surely never were styles more charming than these more elaborately trimmed taffeta dresses.

—One that has almost an hypnotic charm is trimmed with a beautifully conceived design of new "vermicelli" lace on back and front of skirt and bodice. Another appealing model has a harem skirt and allover hand embroidered. Others have puff hips and cuffs, peg sides, knife pleats, French sleeves lined with old rose.

—Copies from Jenny and Callot. Prices $75 to $167.50.

Flowered Georgette Dresses—As Beautiful as the Season that Inspired Them

—They will be particularly favored by women who seek distinction in afternoon dress.

—One model that is an inspiration is a chiffon Georgette in a beautiful large rose design with a finish of black beads and trimmed at cuffs and bottom of skirt with Chantilly lace.

—Others display trimmings of crystal beads, one model has a metal colored vest. The hand embroidery filet lace that appeals in still another. Prices $75 to $167.50.

Lovely Styles in the New Spring Wool Dresses

—They are in Serge, Poiret Twill and Tricotine and have plenty of new style features such as French elbow length sleeves, gold embroidery designs, filet vest, hand embroidery batiste collars.

—And if you prefer long sleeves, they are here too.

—And the very fashionable pleats are to be found in knife pleated skirts with fancy tops. Serge, $35 to $69.50; Tricotines, $42 up; Poiret Twills, $75 up.

Calling Them Plain Georgette Belies The Beauty of these Charming Dresses

—To the beautiful material of Georgette, Fashion has added many beautifully conceived trimming designs to produce the charming models found at this store.

—They may be had in all colors, and are exquisitely trimmed with knife pleated ribbons, crystal beads, filet lace, collars of hand made batiste. In some models it is the trimming of pastel shades of crystal beads that appeal. Prices, $42.50 to $125.

Sports Frocks that Will Lend Their Charm to the Wearer

—Days of sunshine with a scent of orange blossoms in the air challenge milady to select smart sports apparel that will give her distinction.

—Stylish women who invariably come to the New York Store will choose Fantasi silk sports frocks with pink blouses and white pleated skirts; novelty basket weave tricolettes with heavy fringe and hand embroidery, white Shantung pleated skirts and hand embroidered in light shades of flesh and white and combinations of blue and white. Prices $69.50 and up.

Just as interesting as the dresses are new suits of Serge, Tricotine and Poiret Twill, sports coats of Jersey and Camel's hair and the brand new millinery, all only five days removed from Fifth Avenue, New York City all, but wants to come back at once to California. In any case, after a visit to her parents on their native heath she expects to take them on a trip with her through France, Belgium, Spain, Switzerland and Italy. Some time is to be spent in the Swiss Alps, according to present plans.

Rumors that Miss Nilsson was engaged to wed a wealthy New Yorker, she admits, were true, but the affair is now, according to her own words, "completely off."

Impressive Set.

It is like stepping from the sidewalk into a modern bank to enter the setting built for "Alias Jimmy Valentine," under the direction of Sidney Ullman, Bert Lytell's technical director in the Screen Classic production of Paul Armstrong's drama.

The bank setting covers floor space thirty by fifty feet. It is a maze of mahogany and frosted-glass partitions with floors covered by expensive carpets. The floor is of stone, and the counters and the teller cages are finished in marble. A steel vault, the door of which is twelve feet in height and four feet wide, is built into the wall of the setting.

Eighteen banks of Cooper-Hewitt lights, two Sunlight arcs and numerous arc spots are used to illuminate the setting. Twenty-five people have been working with Mr. Lytell the last few days on this stage.

Without Accessories

The final love scene of "The Fighting Chance," just completed for Paramount-Artcraft from the Robert W. Chambers novel, is a very beautiful thing of strong dramatic power.

To describe it two whole pages were required on the script.

To film it Director Charles Maigne used the following notes, made from the voluminous description:

"She says,
"He says,
"Final clinch!"

Sounds Like a Laundry.

A veracious (as far as we know) western newspaper says that King Albert was asked while in Chicago if he would not like to take a little trip up to Walla Walla, Wash., and replied: "Indeed I would. I've heard so much of your Chinatown."

DRAMATIC MUSE IN FESTIVE MOOD

other musical comedy or vaudeville location. It is not out of range of probabilities either that the old Pantages house may be turned into a home of plays, if the more serious entertainment continues to grow in popularity as now indicated.

SHAKESPEARE, TOO.

Along with the rest of the dramatic activities, Shakespeare seems to be enjoying a new lease on favor. Reginald Poel has mustered up courage to present "Othello" for two nights this week, at Trinity Auditorium. He has a company made up of professional talent, which is so bountifully available here.

The really startling happening in regard to Shakespeare productions was the success which attended the Pasadena Community's performance of "The Tempest" recently. This is the first time that a play by the dramatist ever really had a run in Southern California within my memory. One week was not sufficient length of time to allow the people to become reacquainted with the beauty of the romantic comedy. Gilmor Brown and his associate players had to stage four extra performances to take care of the public.

When a company of professionals mixed with amateurs can perform a play by Shakespeare for more than a week, there is no doubt about the outlook for the play being decidedly radiant. Of course, "The Tempest" is a rare play even for Shakespeare. It is as good in its way as "Robinson Crusoe" or Barrie's "Admirable Crichton." It has never been appreciated at its true worth as entertainment. But the point is established that what Pasadena has done in so notable a way can be done not only in the large cities like Los Angeles, but in the smaller towns as well. For the days of the legitimate drama are not numbered, except in the golden letters of promise.

FINE ETCHINGS SHOWN AT LITTLE GALLERIES.

C. J. HALLE EXHIBIT INCLUDES WORKS OF THE MASTERS IN ALL AGES.

The collection of etchings shown during February at the Little Galleries, 426 South Broadway, in charge of C. J. Halle of New York, from whence the collection comes, affords an unusual opportunity to study the works of the greater as well as the lesser masters. Rembrandt is amply represented. The work of Albrecht Durer, one of the world's greatest painters and one of its greatest wood engravers and etchers, is shown in many of his renowned masterpieces. Works of Durer, one of the gians of his art, are there.

The group known as "The Little Masters" of the nineteenth century are displayed alongside the Rembrandts and the Durers, notably Beham, George Pencz, Heinrich Aldegrever, Van Ostade, Bega, Everdingen, Claude. Among the moderns, Whistler is unusually well represented.

Others represented in the exhibition by numerous and important examples are Meryon, the architectural Frenchman, who while slowly going mad from neglect and absolute hunger, yet spurned every aid that looked like charity; Van Dyke, the associate of kings and nobles, whose portraits are so skillfully reproduced with the needle and burin; Zorn, the virile Swede, with his bright, vivacious plates; Cameron, the Scotsman; Sir Francis Seymour Haden; Otto Bacher, who first interested and instructed Whistler in the art of etching; Joseph Pennell, Whistler's biographer and life-long friend; Muirhead, Bone, Hedley, Fitton, McBey, Legros, Stephen Parish, Charles A. Platt, Frank Brangwyn, Lester Hornby, C. J. Watson, Baron Huard, Lumsden, Beaurdeley, Strang, Synge, Walker, Fantin and Latour.

More than 500 old English color prints are also on exhibition.

WILL READ "LINCOLN."

Berkeley Professor to Interpret Drinkwater Play.

John Drinkwater's "Lincoln," a play that has created much comment in theatrical and literary circles of the country, will be read February 26 in the auditorium of Cumnock School of Expression, 200 South Vermont avenue, by Prof. S. H. Clark of the University of Chicago. Because of his reputation as a dramatic reader, Prof. Clark's visit to Los Angeles is being looked forward to with interest.

While the "Lincoln" of Drinkwater will be his principal role while a guest of Cumnock School, Prof. Clark also will essay David Copperfield on February 25 at 11 a.m. The Dickens reading, it is expected, will be largely attended by members of the Dickens Fellowship in Los Angeles and by admirers of the English novelist.

SNAPPY DOMESTIC DRAMA.

Enid Bennett's latest Thomas H. Ince starring vehicle, "Hairpins," the script of which is hot off the C. Gardner Sullivan typewriter, promises exceedingly well. Mr. Sullivan's story tells how continually-slipping hairpins and the resultant untidy coiffure figure largely in a domestic near-tragedy. Miss Bennett, as Muriel, the home-loving wife of Rex Rossmore, an up-and-coming young lawyer with fanatical ideas concerning the import of "snappy" clothes, has ample opportunity to display her screen versatility in scenes of humor with an under-lying note of pathos.

Under the direction of her husband, Fred Niblo, the star is supported by Matt Moore, the Irishman whose work in "Still Jim," "A Studio Cinderella" and various other pictures has proven him a leading man of no mean ability; Grace Morse, the young actress who recently appeared with Douglas MacLean and Doris May in "Let's Be Fashionable;" Margaret Livingston as an ultra-modern young matron under whose tutorage Muriel, with the aid of non-skid hairpins, becomes proficient in the gentle art of keeping a husband.

The Barlow Reception.

The largest and one of the most brilliantly appointed receptions of the season was that of Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Walter Jarvis Barlow entertained for her mother, Mrs. Ella Brooks Solano, who is just home from the East.

The rooms were gorgeous in their gay floral adornment, done in many-hued blossoms and palms. A large number of matrons assisted in receiving, and during the afternoon 600 called.

—o—

Mrs. Hoyt's Musicale.

Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt will have as honor guests at her Tuesday morning musicale at the Alexandria, several distinguished visitors—John Burroughs, Raymond Blathwayt, Mr. and Mrs. Montague Glass and Capt. The programme will comprise a flute trio by Messrs. Leonard de Lorenzo, Bela Adamson and Van Deëver of the Los Angeles Symphony and a harp solo by Mme. Lucia Laraia.

—o—

Stimson-Dulin Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Jane Stimson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stimson of 20 Oak Grove avenue, Ooak Knoll, to Garretson Dulin, a member of the firm of Blankenhorn-Hunter-Duling Company, took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church. The bride wore a gown of white satin with silver brocade and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. She wore a lace veil. The maid of honor was Miss Theodora Robbins, whose gown was of cream lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The train bearer was little Billy Berg and the flower girls, two little nieces of the bride, were Lorraine Hopkins and Louise Stimson. Edgar Dulin, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Following the ceremony there was a reception and supper for a large and fashionable gathering.

—o—

Fullam-Welch Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Rhoda Fullam, younger daughter of Rear-Admiral and Mrs. William F. Fullam, to Raymond Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Welch of Spokane, took place yesterday at noon, the ceremony being performed in the music room of the home of Mrs. Florence Kennett Dupee, Ocean boulevard, Coronado, the Reverend Father J. W. Collins officiating. The house was decorated with spring flowers and foliage. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white duchess satin with court train, the trimmings of duchess point lace. Her veil was edged with lace and fell to the hem of the train and she carried white orchids and valley lilies. Mrs. Austin Ledyard Sands (Mariana Fullam) was matron of honor, the other bridal attendants including Mrs. Monroe K. Miller (Eleanor Welch,) sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Nion Tucker (Phylis de Young) and Miss Helen Garritt of San Francisco; Mrs. Robert G. Neustadt (Altadena Green,) Mrs. E. Winfield Spencer (Wallace Warfield) and Miss Mary Keck of Coronado. James A. Welch was best man, and the ribbon bearers were Freddie Sands, nephew of the bride, and Jack Miller, nephew of Mr. Welch. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Welch left in their automobile for a honeymoon trip, returning to Coronado, however, before leaving for their future home in Spokane.

Several attractive affairs were given in honor of Miss Fullam and Mr. Welch last week. A surprise dinner party in the Silver Grill of Hotel del Coronado Monday evening celebrated the birthday anniversary of Mr. Welch. Guests were Commander and Mrs. Irving Hal Mayfield (Juliet Borden,) Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. Daniel A. McElduff, Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. E. Winfield Spencer, Maj. and Mrs. William Abbott Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Welch, Mrs. Monroe K. Miller, Mrs. Austin Sands, Mr. and Mrs. John Edan, Mrs. Helen P. Griffin, Miss Mary Keck, Commander Paul Bastedo, Lieut. Lynde McCormick, Lieut. Richard Bates and Lieut. Kendall Preston.

Musicale and Supper Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Deardorff are entertaining this evening at the home of the former at 100 Fremont place, with a musicale and buffet supper.

The dining-room is to represent a huge old-fashioned Valentine, and boxes, heart-shaped and filled with pink roses, are to adorn the entire reception suite. Charles Wakefield Cadman and Miss Margaret Messer are to give the programme, and those who will assist are Misses Virginia Deardorff, Campbell and Mmes. Charles Howard Lippincott, Harmon D. Ryus, W. A. Moses, Seeley W. Mudd, Alexander Pantages, William Maurice Duncan and Frederick Elbridge Keeler.

—o—

Bridge Tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Kennelly gave an elaborate bridge tea at the California Club yesterday for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schwarz of London, who has been stopping at Hotel Maryland and Hotel Darby. The Schwarzes lost their son, Maj. Reggie Schwarz, a famous cricketer, in the war. Mr. Schwarz is recuperating from a serious illness.

Mrs. Spencer Kennelly, who wore deep violet carhmeuse and Georgette, with corsage of orchids, was assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. L. Kennelly, of Santa Monica, in brown brocaded satin, with hat to match. Mrs. Schwarz, a stunning brunette, wore midnight blue Georgette heavily embroidered, and picture hat to match.

The six tables of bridge were terminated by a tea and reception at 4 o'clock, the husbands of the players joining them at this time. The rooms were bright with spring flowers.

—o—

Beautiful Reception.

Mrs. Richard M. Bishop and her daughter, Mrs. William Howard Thomas, were hostesses at a reception on Wednesday that was one of the most charming of the month. The rooms were gay with spring blossoms in yellow, pink, lavender and blue. On the dining table was a large tall silver vase filled with multi-colored blooms and at the corners were similar vases of flowers, only smaller.

Among those assisting were Mmes. William T. Bishop, Jr., Burton Green, Roland Bishop, Edward C. Bosbyshell, Godfrey Holterhoff, Jr., Wells Morris, Frank Gross, Thomas A. J. Dockweiler, Roy Brooks, King, Alvin Frank, Paul Grimm, Lawrence Barker, E. R. Maier, George M. Wallace, Thomas Ridgeway, Everett H. Seaver, Miss Eleanor MacGowan and Miss Gwendolen Laughlin.

—o—

Joint Hostesses.

Mrs. W. A. Moses and Mrs. Seeley W. Mudd were joint hostesses at a luncheon at the California Club on Wednesday.

—o—

Supper and Shakespeare.

Following the presentation of "Iago" on Friday evening at the Trinity Auditorium there are to be many fashionable supper parties. The play is a benefit for the Children's Hospital. Reginald Pole is directing. A performance will also be given Saturday evening at the same place. Sylvain Noak, of the Philharmonic Orchestra, is arranging the old English music.

All the costumes and lighting effects are being done by Frank Lloyd Wright. Among those who will entertain either before or after the Friday night performance are Mrs. Russell McDonnell Taylor, Mrs. E. S. Rowley, Mrs. Michael P. Connell, Mrs. William Maq Garland and E. D. Roberts.

—o—

Valentine Dinner Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Valentine Price were hosts at a dinner-dance Thursday night at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

The ceiling of the private dining-room was done in Iceland moss, with a turquoise blue heart in the center, from which Cupids and hearts were suspended in tulle ribbons. The table was heart-shaped and the chair backs also. A large heart centered the table, with a miniature fountain playing upon it. The favors and place cards all suggested St. Valentine's Day, and the lighting effect, in turquoise blue and roses, was attractive.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Clemson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colby, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander B. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. George Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gates, Harold Gates, Mrs. Mark Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Souden, Owen Churchill, Mrs. D. Edwin Hartwell, Mrs. M. H. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew S. Robertson, Matthew S. Robertson, Jr., Mrs. Charles H. MacFarland, George J. Birkel, Miss Florence Summers, Mrs. Fredhold, Miss Janis Fredhold, Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Erasmus Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Crenshaw.

For Miss Barnard.

Miss Corinne Eisenmeyer is planning a tea for the middle of next week, at which the honoree will be Miss Harriet Barnard, who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Miller of Pasadena.

—o—

Honoring Sister.

Mrs. Fred A. Boyce, 1237 South Alvarado street, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. George Godfrey Crackel, of San Francisco.

Mrs. Boyce gave a dinner and theater party Friday night, with seven guests, for Mrs. Crackel, and is planning a bridge tea for next week.

—o—

Surprise Birthday Luncheon.

Unusual in detail was the elaborate surprise birthday luncheon in honor of Mrs. Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith, given Tuesday, at the Elks' Club House. Members of the Philanthropy and Civics Club, of which Mrs. Goldsmith is president, were the hostesses. Valentine suggestions with crimson flowers were used to decorate the entire motif representing an old-fashioned Valentine. There were 200 guests, among whom were Mrs. Harry S. Duffield, Mmes. Clarence Van Graham, C. L. Miller, John W. Burton, James Hamilton Cruger, W. W. Slayden, Charles P. Kitts, Harry Wier, Grover James, Carl Walker, Carl Stiwell, W. W. Colwell, Martin Barber, W. S. Valrance, George Adair, Martha Kaschub, Elsa Higgins, Ben F. Gray, Herman Brisacker, Florence Dodson Schoneman and Judson Mitchell.

—o—

A First Baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Price Felts of 1739 Bronson avenue are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, Gordon Price Felts, Jr. The marriage of the then Ensign Felts and Miss Elizabeth Carpenter of Hollywood was one of the smart affairs of the spring of 1918.

—o—

By Mrs. Harrington.

Mrs. Harry Harrington gave a luncheon at the Athletic Club in honor of Miss Ella Royce of Decatur, Ill., and Mrs. Rose Dana of San Francisco. This is the first of a series of luncheons by Mrs. Harrington.

—o—

—o—

After the Tournament.

Following the mixed foursome tournament today, Mr. and Mrs. John Black will entertain friends at tea at the Los Angeles Country Club.

—o—

Weds in Oakland.

An interesting wedding was that which took place at Hotel Oakland last Sunday afternoon, when Miss Jeanette Ruth Jonas became the bride of Felix J. Jonas of Los Angeles. Rabbi Harvey B. Franklin, assisted by Cantor J. Rabinowitz, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate members of the two families and a score of close friends. The bride was attired in white satin fashioned with rose point lace.

Miss Cludine Jonas, sister of the bride, and Miss Edith Jonas, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids, the former wearing rose satin and the latter turquoise blue. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Jonas will make their home in Los Angeles, where the groom is engaged in business.

Spring Furs

In the smartest modes for Spring milady's chin is entirely concealed beneath the graceful folds of her softly crushed fur choker.

But, the smaller the fur piece, the more care she should exercise in its choice. It must have the artist's touch that removes it from the commonplace.

Colburn furs are luxuriously soft and lustrous—they are perfection in every detail of styling and quality.

For a quarter century Colburn has specialized in the manufacturing of furs of individuality.

PASADENA.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Emily McBride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James McBride of Bellefontaine street, to Capt. Paul Perigord of the French high commission to the United States, and a member of the faculty of Throop College of Technology. The ceremony will be performed at 5 o'clock the afternoon of February 17, at All Saints' Episcopal Church and with Rev. Leslie E. Learned, D.D., the rector, as the officiating clergyman. Mrs. Paul A. Scherer, formerly Miss Margaret Hale, will be the matron of honor. Capt. Perigord will be attended by Dr. James A. B. Scherer, president of Throop College of Technology, and who was for several years engaged in war work with Capt. Perigord. The ushers are to be Capt. David Fallon, Dr. Adrian van Maanan, Rufus Spalding, Prof. Clinton K. Judy, Frank Mosher, David Blankenhorn, Donald Dickey and Frank Badgley.

Garretson Dulin, a member of the firm of Blankenhorn, Hunter & Dulin Company, was the guest of honor, on Monday evening, at a stag dinner party, held at the home of David Blankenhorn on South Orange Grove avenue. There were twenty guests present, associates of Mr. Dulin. On Saturday afternoon his marriage to Miss Jane Stimson, a charming Pasadena girl, is to take place.

On Wednesday afternoon Miss Margaret Mortenson of South Orange Grove avenue was hostess at a farewell luncheon for Mrs. Branden Bruner of Los Angeles, who was formerly Miss Evelyn Johnson. She is to leave shortly for Phoenix, Ariz., to reside. Covers were laid for nine.

Miss Edith C. Egbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Egbert of Altadena, left several days ago for the Orient, going to Tokio, where, on Washington's Birthday, she will be married to Frank Nelson, a young American engineer, who represents big American mining interests in Korea.

On Tuesday afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock, Mrs. Benjamin Folsom of South Orange Grove avenue entertained with an informal tea to compliment Mrs. George Granger, who is her guest. Seventy-five guests were present. Mrs. Joseph Johnson, Mrs. B. M. Wotkyns, Mrs. W. A. Brackenridge and Mrs. F. M. Dickey assisted in serving.

For Miss Emily McBride and Capt. Paul Perigord, who are to be married next week, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen of South Orange Grove avenue entertained at dinner on Monday night. Covers were laid for twelve.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Williamson of 1335 North Catalina street observed their twentieth wedding anniversary on Saturday evening, entertaining the members of the Poppy Club at their home. The evening was spent in playing five hundred. The guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Williamson with some handsome china.

A kitchen shower for Miss Idaline Scott was given by the Misses Ruth and Irene McConnell of 555 North El Molino avenue, on Friday afternoon. Miss Scott's engagement to A. S. Curtis of Los Angeles was recently announced. There were twenty-eight guests at the shower.

A pretty home wedding on Saturday afternoon was that of Miss Hasel L. Martin and David R. McFarland, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Martin of South Parkwood avenue. The house was decorated with violets and yellow acacia. The marriage service was performed by Rev. B. B. Jacques of the Calvary Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. M. Pyke, grandfather of the bridegroom. The wedding music was provided by Miss Marguerite Martin, sister of the bride, and Mrs. B. B. Jacques. Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. McFarland will make

We Thought It Was a Novelty Only

One week ago Hamburger's installed a concert record booth. We considered it a clever novelty—a convenience for the accommodation of the patrons of our Phonograph Salons de Luxe.

It was only necessary to Call 1-4-9-2-5

—on the telephone and ask to have a record played. The music number called for would be played for you over the telephone. You might order the record if you wished. The service was complimentary.

A Discovery Which Pleases Us

In the six days during which this idea has been in operation, an altogether unlooked for possibility has arisen—a possibility we had not anticipated. Of the many hundred calls which we have received for this service there have been literally dozens of calls from people who could not leave their homes—invalids and people to whom a trip downtown was difficult and in many cases impossible.

"Music Her Chief Joy"

The nurse of an old lady who is unable to leave her room wrote the manager of our phonograph department as follows:

"Your idea of playing records over the phone has proved an undreamed of diversion to my patient. Her phonograph is her chief joy. And yet she is unable to go personally to your store. So that it has been necessary for her to depend on others for her selection of records until now. Through your enterprise she now has the selection of all the records offered to the public. Your idea is a boon to humanity."

Spring Evokes Alluring Styles and Fabrics

—Fashions of Quaintness, of an Ever-changing Charm—and Fabrics that are Material Means for Portraying the Ethereal Delicacy of Sunlight and Flower-hues, of Moon Beams and Dew—are Found at Hamburger's.

The Flower-Brimmed Ways of Hats
Are Often Delicately Veiled

—Every woman is blissfully aware of the becomingness of a posy-brim, or a flowering turban. And nothing is more effective with a light, airy gown!

WE could think of no more delightful way to spend charmed hours than to wander through the Rose and Gray Millinery Shop these spring-time days. Butterfly-looking hats with wide brims vie with those flitting, glittering turban-jewels made of celophane. And filmy braids of visca and Batavia are triumphs of millinery art.

—Lisere, the exclusive, and faille silks, so lustrous, have found new ways of being lovely in these new and bewitching hats—that you must see.

—Hats for evening, for afternoon, priced anywhere from 10.00 to 35.00.

(Hamburger's—Rose and Gray Hat Shop—Second Floor—Monday)

Blouses
Have Blossomed Forth
In Their Spring-time Glory of Perfection

—Perfection, indeed, is a very fitting word to describe these blouses that fill every blouse-need of the fashionable woman.

AND subtly intrenched in every woman's heart is the blouse of Georgette—and such gorgeous blouses as these in Hamburger's Blouse Shop are instinctive with every grace and beauty that master-workmen can instill into blouses of Georgette. Normandy laces, Irish and filet either find themselves in exclusive possession of these blouses or else they are graciously combined to make one blouse beautiful.

—There are times when the tailored crepe de chine blouse has a decided advantage over its dressier sister, Georgette.

—And do not let us forget the beauty and sheerness of the exquisite French voiles—some are all made by hand! Every style, every kind of a blouse—priced 6.95 to 50.00.

(Hamburger's—Second Floor—Monday)

Negligees
for Leisure hours!

—Can one describe a little bit of fairyland? For that is where these filmy, dream-garments came from, or at least you'd imagine that would be the most likely place for their creating.

EVERY one whether 'tis made of witching golden laces and trailing ribbons, whether of soft lingerie and cobweb-like embroidery, whether of gauzy nets and chiffon, of heavy silks, satins and Rodier plush, they each and every one look as if they were made by fairy-hands.

—The intriguing loveliness of them—the winsome beauty of them—Oh, you must see them yourself, for words fail!

[illegible] of the most charmingly-[illegible] weddings of the season [illegible] on Saturday, Feb[illegible] at 3:30, in the Clare[illegible] when Miss Daisy Ernest became the bride of Harold Caldwell of San Dimas, more than a hundred friends and relatives of the couple being in attendance. Before the ceremony Miss Louise Stover presided at the organ and Mrs. Smith L. Russell sang. The Lohengrin march heralded the approach of the bridal party and the double ring ceremony was used by Rev. A. B. MacLeod, pastor of the Claremont church. Miss Ernst was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Laura J. Ernst, and attended by her sister, Miss Edyth Ernst, as maid of honor. Roy Caldwell, brother of the groom, was best man. Six girl friends of the bride, the Misses Lutie Carpenter, Dorothy Moles, Susie and Dorothy Case, Jeanette Chaney and Hazel Teague, assisted as ushers and also served the wedding supper, which followed the ceremony.

The church auditorium and reception rooms were beautifully decorated in almond blossoms, greenery and pink and white carnations. Bouquets of the same flowers marked the entrances to the pews and the ushers wore corsage bouquets of harmonizing colors.

—o—

MONROVIA.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Northup celebrated the fourteenth anniversary of their marriage on Saturday, a delightful luncheon marking the occasion. A centerpiece of Chinese lilies adorned the luncheon table.

Mrs. Charles J. Dixon was hostess to a number of friends at a charming little luncheon on Saturday at her home on East Orange avenue. Mrs. Dixon used a lovely color scheme of yellow and carried that motif out in all the dainty appointments. A centerpiece of marigolds adorned the luncheon table at which covers were laid for Mrs. Elizabeth Reeder of Pasadena, Mrs. E. H. Grasset, Mrs. M. R. Conable and the hostess. Bridge furnished entertainment for the afternoon.

Rev. W. D. Landis, former pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, was a visitor recently in Monrovia. Rev. Landis is now head of the Community Presbyterian Church of El Sereno, Bairdstown, Sierra Park and Farmdale, and resides in Los Angeles.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Clark were Mr. and Mrs. John Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Carey and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer. The visitors were old friends of the Clarks, coming from their former home in McPherson, Kan.

SANTA MONICA.

An elaborate social, at which were present more than 250 people visiting the bay from other States, was presented by the Utah guests recently in the ballroom of the Ocean Park Hotel. An excellent programme of songs, dances and readings began the evening. A Five Hundred card party followed and many people who had not danced for twenty-five or thirty years joined heartily in the famous Virginia reel and showed the younger people how it was done in the olden days. Red and white carnations were distributed among the visitors and special entertainment features were introduced during the evening.

As a compliment to her house guest, Miss Barbara Hartman of Santa Cruz, Mrs. A. C. Mott of Ashland avenue, Ocean Park, entertained with a dinner-dance recently. Dinner was served at the Mott home, where the table was adorned with red carnations. The color scheme was further carried out by the use of tall red candles under rosy shades. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Noland, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Layne, Mrs. Isabelle Vawter, Miss Ouida Mott, Mrs. J. T. Neale, Mr. David Barmore, Mr. Walter Balfour and Mr. Leroy Neale.

One of the enjoyable affairs of the week was the army band dance given by the band of the Thirty-second Infantry, which is in the valley this week on a recruiting mission. It took place Saturday night at the Barbara Worth Hotel.

Several social affairs have been postponed because of the untimely death of Mrs. J. E. Seymour, Jr., a member of the Woman's Ten Thousand Club, and an active worker in the Episcopal Church.

—o—

ATASCADERO.

A "big brother" movement was instituted on Thursday evening when 100 men of the Federated Church sat down to a bountiful supper prepared and served by a committee of their members, each with a boy whose ages ranged from 10 to 18, as their guests. A splendid programme of talks included Dr. Carl Bryant of Missouri, who was the honor guest of the evening, and whose work as chairman of the Boy Scout movement in Missouri made him eminently fitted to tell of his years of labor there; Mr. E. G. Lewis, who gave an outline of the policy of the C. H. C. regarding the carrying out of the idea and ideals regarding the work of betterment along all lines; Rev. W. J. Wilhoyt of Templeton, who led his audience from smiles to tears at will; Rev. H. J. Loken, A. H. Wooden, and others who spoke tellingly of the work they wished to accomplish among the boys of the community. Several musical numbers were given. It was strictly a man affair, no ladies being admitted. They, however, spent a very delightful and no less profitable evening with Mrs. W. B. Ewalt.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brouhard returned the last of the week from Los Angeles, and are temporarily located at Eaglet while awaiting the building of their home at Blue Bird farm.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Spaulding, who spent the week-end at the inn, were tendered a congratulatory reception at the Baptist church in San Luis Obispo on Friday evening. Mrs. Spaulding is a bride of a few weeks and Mr. Spaulding returned from France but a short time ago.

Cornelius, and Andrew Hansen, the cashier, were elected delegates to the convention of the chain of stores comprising the Pacific Co-operative League, to be held at Richmond the last of the month, and L. D. Beckwith and A. R. Sprague, were elected delegates at large.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Bryant, formerly of Missouri, but recently of Redlands, arrived on Tuesday and are guests of Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Loken. It is hoped that they may be induced to remain.

Mr. T. W. La Fetra of Glendora is spending a short time at the inn. Mr. La Fetra was one of the visitors at the 1914 convention.

At the Sunday evening service Mr. C. Crystal of Vacaville, who, with Mrs. Crystal, spent the week end with Rev. and Mrs. Loken, spoke very feelingly and earnestly of the high esteem in which Mr. Loken had been held in his former pastorate in Berkeley, and congratulated Atascadero on having induced so emi-

SANTA PAULA.

Mrs. E. E. Whaley and little daughter, Betty Lou, of Springfield, O., are spending the winter in Southern California and arrived this week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Strong for a few weeks' visit, motoring from Los Angeles with Mr. and Mrs. Cedric E. Johnson of Occidental boulevard, with whom they have been stopping. Mrs. Whaley is a sister of Mrs. Strong and Mr. Johnson.

Mrs. George Legg and son of Nevada City are with Mrs. Legg's sister, Mrs. M. B. Hogue, at the Corbett apartments and will remain through the month of February.

Mr. and Mr. Charles Lund of Searchlight, Nev., have been in Santa Paula this week, visiting with friends and with Mrs. Lund's family, the C. W. Willard's. Mr. Lund has been a mine operator in Las Vegas and Searchlight and is now retiring, making this Southern California tour on his way to Reno where they will settle, in order to be near their son who is in the State university.

In compliment to their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Carpenter of Battle Creek, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carpenter, assisted by Misses Margery and Marian Carpenter, entertained on Saturday evening with an informal reception and dancing party at the Ebell club house. About fifty guests were invited to meet the visitors who are here for the winter and an evening of dancing and music was made delightful for those who attended.

POMONA.

San Antonio Parent-Teachers' Association had the opportunity of hearing Mrs. Harold C. Dewey, president of Pomona Ebell Club, speak Wednesday afternoon on the subject of uniform dress for school girls. This question is now receiving considerable attention from different women's organizations now and the idea is becoming so popular that it will probably be put into effect here in the near future. Mrs. Dewey did not hesitate to come out strongly in favor of the innovation and in her talk she told of experiences in other cities where the uniform dress idea had been adopted and had been found to be a big success. Superintendent Guy V. Ahaley, of the Pomona city schools, is also an advocate of the uniform dress and spoke in its behalf at the meeting.

Katherine Loney Llewellyn, well-known Red Cross worker who saw service overseas during the war, spoke at the regular meeting of the Pomona Women's Club here Monday afternoon. During the course of her address she declared that she did not approve of the suggestion that the bodies of the soldiers be brought back to this country. She declared that she thought the bodies should lie where they had fallen in the defense of the great principles of liberty and justice.

News was received here today of the wedding, performed quietly last Friday, of Elen Shewman, daughter of Fire Chief Jack Shewman, and Robert N. Branch, who is connected with the Pomona Manufacturing Company of this city. The wedding took place in Santa Ana. The young couple have a home at the corner of Gordon and Grand avenue. The marriage came as a surprise to the many friends in this city.

Anxiety was turned into joy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reiss, 370 North Towne avenue, Tuesday evening. They were told by their landlord to remain at home that evening as a prospective buyer of the property would call to look over the place. They remained at home, of course, but with hearts filled with forebodings and minds filled with pictures of "moving day." Responding to the call of the door bell, they expected to find the prospective purchaser, but instead they were greeted by a jolly laugh and before them stood the employees of the Russell Dry Goods Store of this city where Mr. Rice is employed. The whole affair had been arranged as a jolly surprise. The evening was spent in playing games and later with a bountiful picnic dinner.

At the regular meeting of the Mary Milliken Guild of the Presbyterian Church on Monday, Mrs. A. M. Lichty was named president, Miss Anna Ewart, vice-president; Mrs. J. E. Clancy, treasurer, and Miss Cora Maher, press reporter. The American negro was the subject of study for the afternoon and the life of Booker T. Washington was reviewed by Mrs. F. E. Grote. The meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. M. M. Livingston, was well attended. The women brought their sewing and spent a large part of the day in sewing. A dress was made to be used as a model at the Americanization center. Mrs. Frank Hyatt was with the guild for the last time as she is soon to move away from the city. She was presented with a beautiful potted fern.

BRAWLEY.

The social event of the week was the high school operetta "Miss Cherry Blossom" and the playlet, "The Double Proposal," given by pupils of the Brawley High School at the High School building. The auditorium was crowded.

About twenty tots of 2 and 3 years, the primary class of the Presbyterian Sunday-school, were the guests of their teacher, Mrs. H. P. Sears, at a party at her home Wednesday afternoon. The youngsters enjoyed a merry afternoon playing games. Refreshments were served at the end of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Roke and daughter, Miss Fern of Kansas, are visiting Miss Fern's sisters, Mrs. T. J. McNearney and Miss Dot O'Roke.

Mrs. Jack Keck and little sons have returned from Long Beach.

—o—

CALEXICO.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Edmunds have as their guests for a few days Mr. and Mrs. William Ross of Waterloo, Iowa.

The Kalex Club have issued invitations for a valentine party to be given February 14. The affair will be in the nature of a dance and promises to be largely attended.

Miss Majorie Long, Miss Gladys Forrest, Miss Florence Martin and Will Van Dusen, Ted Curry, Jack Hefferman, Knox Phelps and Earl Roberts were guests at the home of Miss Floy Lee Phelps last evening, at which time they were entertained with dinner. Later in the evening refreshments were served.

Mrs. B. L. Glasby is spending a few days in Los Angeles visiting her son Kenneth. Mrs. J. O. Bacon is accompanying her.

The Twice Told Tales section of the Woman's Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. William Fawcett Smith on Rockwood avenue.

C. B. Williams has returned from Pasadena where he visited Mrs. Williams, who is recuperating from a long illness.

H. S. Abbott returned this week from London.

—o—

PERRIS.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Mapes entertained at dinner Sunday four relatives and friends. Among those present were the following from Riverside: Mr. and Mrs. Ray P. Small and son Waldo and Miss Grace Kingston, Mrs. Edith Harmer and little daughter, Pauline, from San Bernardino, Mr. and Mrs. George Cummis and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mapes.

Several members of the County Christian Endeavor Union, accompanied by County President Glen Wright, conducted the services Sunday evening at the Methodist Church. Mr. Wright read a letter from World President Dr. Francis Clark written on the eve of his departure for Europe to reorganize the Christian Endeavor in that country. A great deal of enthusiasm was aroused by the visitors, and as a result of their coming, the local Endeavor society will no doubt be organized in the near future.

Last week Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Boget of Lakeview entertained some friends at dinner. Covers were laid for eleven. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. T. D. McDonough, Mrs. H. G. Spaulding and children, Dr. Brown, Miss Hazel Harris, Mr. Stean, Mr. and Mrs. Boget and daughter Evelyn.

—o—

BAKERSFIELD.

Mrs. Edward Hendrickson entertained very delightfully for the Sunset Embroidery Club, the usual pleasant session over the needlework being spent.

Mrs. Malcolm McLachlan of Los Angeles, who has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. Wright Jewett for the past fortnight, has left for home.

Following their pleasant custom of several months past, the women of the First Methodist Church met in all-day session in the church parlors. The ladies' aid and home and foreign missionary societies were present, luncheon was served at noon, to which the women were invited.

The woman's auxiliary of Whittier College met with Mrs. Harry N. Wright of Earlham drive Tuesday afternoon. The feature of the day's programme was the report of Prof. Ostrum on the student volunteer convention held in Des Moines recently. Whittier College was represented in th convention by Prof. Ostrum and by two students.

ONTARIO.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dickins, 317 West H street, was the scene of a pretty wedding, at high noon Saturday, when their daughter, Miss Catherine Blanche Dickins, became the bride of William McKinley Martin of Oskaloosa, Iowa. The ceremony was witnessed by near-relatives only and the Rev. Lorenzo Dow Van Arnam, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, was the officiant. Bright spring blossoms and fernery adorned the home. The bride was attired in a smart traveling suit. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Martin, upon their return from the wedding trip, will make their home for the present at Arcadia.

Miss Grace Humphries entertained with a bridge supper Tuesday evening at the ranch home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price Humphries, in Bon View avenue. Feathery acacia blossoms and foliage were used in decoration and supper followed the card tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gurley entertained at dinner Wednesday, at their home in West Dessau street. The menu was followed by cards.

Mrs. Louella Seapy entertained the members of the Ramblers' Club Friday afternoon, at her home, 118 West H street, with an afternoon of French music. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stinton, tenor and pianist, were the artists of the afternoon and papers were given by Mrs. Harry I. DeBerard and Mrs. W. G. Conley.

Miss Beulah Bassett, a missionary to China, home on furlough, was the guest of honor when members of the Woman's Missionary Society entertained members of the world-wide guild at dinner, Friday evening, in the social rooms of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. John Campbell were hosts Saturday evening at their attractive new home, 125 East G street. A card tournament occupied the evening, nine tables being used in the play.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lincoln Swift have as their guests for the winter at their delightful Alta Loma rancho home Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eulass of South Orange, N. J. Mr. Eulass has just retired as vice-president and executive head of the $20,000,000 Jewell Tea Company of New York, and is considering locating here permanently.

Mrs. George Owen Knapp entertained with a musicale at her home, Arcady, in Montecito, Saturday night, the musicians being Miss Amy Emerson and Miss Mary Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. William North Duane were hosts on Tuesday evening, inviting a group of friends to a dinner party given at their Montecito home. Mrs. Oakleigh Thorne, Mrs. John Edward Beale, Mrs. Warner M. Leeds, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Spaulding, the Hon. Myron T. Herrick, Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor and Wallace Rice.

Miss Geraldine Graham was hostess at a luncheon given Thursday at the Santa Barbara Polo Club in honor of Miss Adee of Tuxedo Park.

Miss Amy DuPont entertained with a dinner party at El Mirasol on Tuesday afternoon.

VENTURA.

Mrs. Charles Barnard entertained very charmingly at her home Tuesday afternoon, the guests being members of the Tuesday Club, and the party being a welcome home for Mrs. D. S. Blackburn and Mrs. C. B. Stevens. Mrs. Stevens has returned from several months' visit in Cincinnati, and Mrs. Blackburn from an extended visit in Chicago and other places in Illinois.

The wedding of Miss Charlotte Kimball and Allan Halls of Huntington Park took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Kimball, at their beautiful home, east of town, in the presence of about fifty guests. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James B. Stone. The bride, who wore white net over white satin, and a bridal veil, was attended by Miss Elizabeth Marble, a half-sister of the groom and a Berkeley student. Eugene Kimball, the bride's brother, was best man. Little Alice and Arta Duval were flower girls and Miss Zelta Duval sang before the ceremony and played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Halls have gone to Huntington Park, where the groom has a responsible position with the Shell Oil Company. A feature of the wedding day was the announcement of the engagement of the bride's brother, Eugene, and Miss May Peterson of Los Angeles. It is said that this wedding is to take place in the near future.

FULLERTON.

The ladies of the Missionary Society of the Baptist Church held their last meeting at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. C. Craft, in Anaheim, about thirty members from Fullerton being in attendance. It was one of the most successful and interesting meetings ever held by the society, and at the conclusion of the business session a most enjoyable social hour followed.

Friday was guest day of the Ebell Club, each member being accompanied by a guest. Prof. Thomas Atkins of Anaheim gave a Shakespeare play and Joseph Sanchey rendered some solos which were greatly enjoyed.

A number of Fullerton's younger social set attended the dance given by Miss Faye Kern, one of the leaders of Anaheim's younger set.

S. Silverman, one of Fullerton's popular business men, and Miss Irma Rheinhaus of Santa Ana were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents in Santa Ana, the ceremony being performed by

Fashions of Assured Correctness

"Everything That's New"

This "differentness"—this intangible something that makes for charm—is attained by Harry Fink and Company models through specialized methods. It is the complete absence of the commonplace that distinguishes them. They are refreshingly "different," yet there is nothing of the freakish about them.

New Eton Suits

Especially adapted for slender girlish figures, these suits are decidedly chic and youthful, featuring different attractive versions of the jaunty Eton jacket. Developed in Tricotine and Poiret Twill, they feature braid, bound and scalloped edges, roll collars, fancy weaves, embroidered designs and tunic, plain and accordion plaited skirts.

Jersey and Heatherweave Suits

These materials have already established themselves as the leading material for street, outing and general wear. Fashioned on sprightly, youthful styles, with many innovations in tucking, narrow pleats, pockets, belts—in all the desired colors.

Specially Priced at $32.50 and $45

Exclusive Spring Frocks

In shimmering Taffetas one finds an ideal interpretation of youth in the quaint, beruffled models, while the spirit of spring is in all the afternoon frocks for maid and matron in Satin Mignonette, Tricolette, Flowered Georgette and cleverly designed combinations. Simplicity combined with audacity is the keynote of the more formal street dresses of serge and tricotine. Colorings and designs in embroidered patterns. We have new surprises arriving daily.

Jersey Dresses

Jersey is such a satisfactory material for general utility wear and so much in demand at this time that the prices quoted should be of great interest. Coat and tunic styles, some featuring vestees, Tuxedo collars and blazer reveres. Hand embroidery, Soutache braid embroidery, silk chain stitch and sash girdles are style treatments. All the wanted colors.

Specially Priced at $29.50 and $35.00

Sports Apparel

SMART COATS in Jersey, Serge, Duvetyn and Baronets. Every new style idea is shown. A very interesting assortment in Jersey in all the season's colorings.

NEW SKIRTS — Plaids, Velour Checks, White Wool, Jerseys, distinctive patterns and clever styles—box pleats, side pleats, cluster pleats or none at all—wide belts and smart pockets.

Skirts priced $19.75 to $35.00.

New Spring Hats

An almost endless collection of the sort of hats which will be seen wherever smart women congregate. Distinctive style touches that reveal the reason of the style supremacy of this shop. Hats of Visca braid, Sippu braid, Batavia, Taffeta, Satin and straws of many kinds. Colors are spring-like and show decided Egyptian and Oriental tendencies.

Cinema and Stage

THE STAGE IS EXPANDING.

Balmy Days Forecast for the "Legit" Shows.

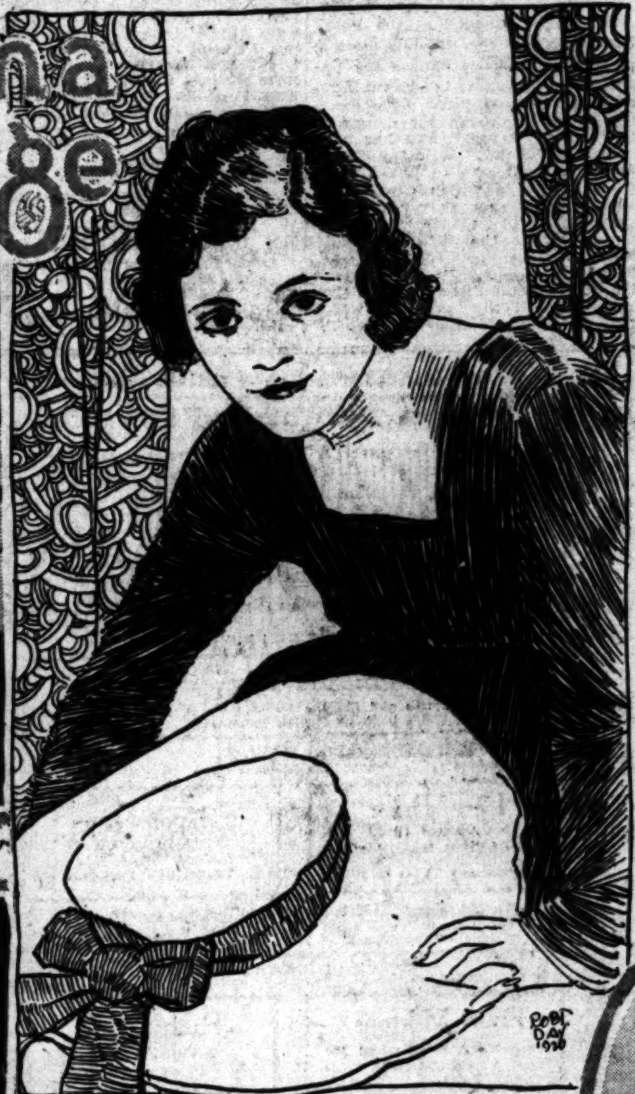
Little Theater to Reopen; "Othello" at Trinity.

Stock Plays are Winners; "Maytime" Returns.

That there is a new boom in stage productions is indicated by forthcoming projects that will claim the attention of the theater patrons. This week an especially noteworthy production of "Othello" is to add quality to the programme, while a week from tomorrow the Little Theater will once more be lighted up for regular attractions, with the presentation of "The Rotters" by Harry Corson Clarke, under the management of Frank Egan. This play is to be followed, it is announced, by "Please Get Married," the Morosco success. The general success that has attended recent legitimate performances makes the outlook bright for this newest enterprise.

Popularity of last week's stock attractions is shown in the fact that "I Love You," is being held over, while, of course, there is no such thing as discontinuing the run of "Civilian Clothes." The road attraction of the week is that unusual play with music, "Maytime."

Alla Nazimova in "Stronger Than Death," Miller's.



Beatrice La Plante in "The Stranger," Tally's Broadway.

Lewis Sargent in "Huckleberry Finn," Grauman's Rialto.

Emmett Dalton in "Beyond the Law," Symphony.

Girls with "Extra Dry," Orpheum.

Harry Carey in "Marked Men," Superba.

Roscoe Arbuckle in "The Garage," Garrick.

Bill Tilghman in "The Passing of the Oklahoma Outlaw," Palace.

Frederick Warde in "The Mission Play."

Charles Ray in "Alarm Clock Andy," Grauman's.

The Orpheum will have a musical special, called "Extra Dry," which is said to be anything but dry. Pantages will have a novelty bill. Peggy Hyland will be the film star at the Hip. The Armstrong company is staging "The Love Kiss."

—o—

Little Theater.

Preparations are being made for the reopening of the Little Theater, February 23, for a season of drama productions under the direction of Frank Egan. The playhouse is to be known as the "Egan Little Theater," and will have as its initial play, "The Rotters," by H. F. Maltby. Harry Corson will appear in the leading role. Rehearsals have been in progress for the past two weeks.

"The Rotters" is said to abound in the ironical type of comedy, for which George Bernard Shaw, for instance, is noted.

Mr. Egan plans to follow "The Rotters" with "Please Get Married," having made arrongements with Oliver Morosco for the use of that well-known dramatic success and a number of other big hits now running in New York.

The Little Theater is being redecorated and refurnished for the reopening.

—o—

Mason.

"Maytime," one of the genuine successes of recent stage history, will open an engagement of a week at the Mason Opera House, tomorrow night. The company is made up from the two "Maytime" casts which have alternated throughout the two years run. The featured artists are William Norris, Carolyn Thomson and Melvin Stokes. Mr. Norris, comedian, formerly a character actor of distinction in serious plays, was the original Matthew of the initial Broadway presentation. Carolyn Thomson, the charming young prima donna heard last season, returns in the role of Otillie after having achieved recent success in "Little Simplicity."

Melvin Stokes, who succeeded Charles Purcell in the original New York cast, has sung the romantic role of Richard Wayne for over a year and a half, it is stated everywhere.

Douglas Wood, Nina Valleri, Arthur Albro, Patsy De Forrest, Edward Nannary, Izeth Munro, Teddy Webb, Ruth Watson, John Wheeler, Isabelle Vernon, William Blaisdell, Amy Lester and Owen Hervey are others in the production.

The four acts or "episodes" of "Maytime" are as distinct one from the other as tragedy from comedy. The first occurs in 1840.

The lovers, Dick and Otillie, are in their teens. Fate separates them, and fifteen years later, Dick, now wealthy, returns to New York (where all the scenes, by the way, are laid) to find that Otillie is married to a drunkard.

—o—

Orpheum.

Futuristic musical comedy, a new version of that variety of entertainment, is heralded as a feature of the Orpheum programme commencing with tomorrow's matinee. This new bit is entitled "Extra Dry," and is described as a sparkling draught. Music, lyrics and staging are by William B. Friedlander and the book by Harlan Thompson. Girls, comedians, costumes and scenery enhance the performance, it is said.

Several acts of prominence are included in the coming Orpheum bill. Lew Brice, with Adelaide Mason and Rube Beckwith, will be seen in dances and tuneful melodies. Lyons and Tosco, favorites of vaudeville audiences, will introduce their own exclusive compositions with accompaniment of harp and violin. Ruth Budd, remembered as the girl with the smile and shapely figure, will scatter her pleasantry, from the unique position on two rings suspended above the footlights.

Bob Hall improvises instantly a smart ditty to fit pieces of music the audience suggests. The ditty usually refers agreeably to someone prominent in the public eye. Mortimer MacRae and Gertrude Clegg, the intruder and the queen of the wheel, and Elfrieda Wynne with the assistance of Raoul Paniagua, Guatemalan pianist, are other newcomers. The Four Mortons will remain another week.

—o—

Morosco.

"Civilian Clothes" at the Morosco Theater will enter its thirty-fourth consecutive week with today's matinee. The play is now nearing its ninth month, and the record already established here premises to remain unbroken for many years.

Herbert Heyes and Eleanor Woodruff play the leading roles. Others in the production whose work is highly commendable are Helene Sullivan, James Corrigan, Harry Duffield, Alfred Whitman, Joseph Cox, Dora Mae Howe, Joseph Eggenton, Leta Nelson, Arline Griffith, May Hanna and Charles Geggus.

—o—

Majestic.

"I Love You," the three-act farce by William Le Baron will enter its second week tonight at the Majestic Theater. This laugh-producer is playing to capacity business and is bringing forward the best abilities of members of the Wilkes Stock Company.

Evelyn Varden and Edward Everett Horton are giving an excellent interpretation of their parts while others appearing to advantage are John Elliott, Alice Elliot, Marie Curtis, Eleanor Magnuson, Jerome Sheldon and Franklin Pangborn.

How the theory that music and moonlight have power to weave love spells works out in a group of New York society people is the basis for the smart plot.

—o—

Burbank.

The Burbank Theater will offer for the first time in Los Angeles the eastern musical success, "The Love Kiss," with Ed Armstrong and his baby dolls, a chorus of forty girls.

The plot has to do with a mythical island in the ocean of nowhere that has lost its ruler, the chief potentate. His last words were that in order for his people to get another ruler they must wait until a foreign vessel is shipwrecked and the first man to land on their island from that ship is to be proclaimed king. Ed Armstrong, a stowaway on a shipwrecked vessel, happens to be the first man to set foot on their soil and he is proclaimed king. Of course, his premier edict is to behead every man on the island so that he can have all the women for his own harem. From this time on his troubles begin.

In the cast are "Rookie" Lewis, Harlan Thompson, Fred James, Irene Brooks, Grace Newton, Bobbie Dean, George Rehn, Howard Evans and Harry Barnes. Among the new songs are "You Don't Need the Wine to Have a Wonderful Time," "Buddha," "Rosebuds" and "Ireland, the Shamrocks and You," sung by George Rehn. Bobbie Dean gives "The Songs of All Nations," and Mr. Armstrong has written a song about things locally that he calls "The Things I'd Like to See."

Pantages.

Headed by a troupe of French acrobats, with three expert tumblers, a comedy midget gymnast and a girl who is clever at acrobatic stunts, a novelty programme will be offered at Pantages beginning tomorrow. The opening of the acrobatic act shows a bellboy holding an enormous envelope, from which emerge the two men and the girl, who proceed to do gymnastic stunts.

The Hendrix Belle Isle company consists of three girls and four comedians, who cut up all sorts of schoolboy capers.

Irene Trevette sings and exhibits some wonderful gowns. Roach and McCurdy represent two rubes who have dabbled in magic sufficiently to mix up all the mysterious tricks. Patton, Yantis and Rooney are a trio of girls who sing. Frank Shields appears in western costume and dances in ranch style, while he spins lariats.

Antonio Moreno in "The Invisible Hand," "Snub" Pollard in a Pathe comedy, furnish entertainment.

—o—

Hippodrome.

The Hippodrome announces the William Fox photoplay, "A Girl in Bohemia," starring Peggy Hyland, with Melbourne MacDowell heading the supporting cast, to open today. How a simple country miss is lured by the glamour of Bohemia and goes to New York to seek her desires makes an interesting picture.

The Surprise Comedy Four top the vaudeville bill in a blending of harmony and humor; the Three Ambler Brothers are equilibrists. Frank Gould is a blackface comedian, the Douglas family in "Sprigs o' Heather an' Shamrock," will offer music and dances; Jerome Merrick and company will stage "The Merchant Prince," a comedy sketch, and Elaine and Titania are dancers.

—o—

"Mission Play."

In addition to the interpretation of the role of Fra. Junipero Serra by Frederick Warde, the Shakespearean actor, in the "Mission Play" at the San Gabriel Playhouse, where each performance brings a packed house, the new Spanish orchestra, which gives a daily open-air concert in the gardens of the old mission, and the Indian basket weavers and lace makers, have proved a big attraction. Mrs. Tyrone Power ably handles the role of Senora Yorba. The "Mission Play" is now in the fifth week.

VITAGRAPH FILMS NEW CURWOOD TALE.

TENTH OF STORIES PURCHASED FROM AUTHOR NOW IN MAKING.

Motion-picture rights to "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," James Oliver Curwood's powerful story of the Canadian Northwest, have been obtained by the Vitagraph company. This is being made as a special production at the Hollywood studios by Director David Smith, with Niles Welch and Pauline Starke in the featured roles.

This will be the tenth of the Curwood novels to be produced by Vitagraph. Famous stars, including Charles Richman, Robert Edeson, William Duncan, Earle Williams, Harry Morey, Virginia Pearson, Nell Shipman and Anita Stewart, have appeared in the earlier productions.

The author knows his mountains and snows, his French trappers and halfbreeds, and has written a story that is tense and exciting, it is said. Marge O'Doone, with a bear as her only friend, is an entrancing figure.

The snow scenes will be taken at Truckee and Donner Lake. A technical staff is now at Truckee constructing the necessary cabins. The company is working in the studio until a heavy snowfall occurs. The bear, several dog teams, notably the rare black team seldom seen and highly prized in Canada, and the same dog which appears as Barrie, the outlaw, in past productions will be seen in this one.

Important parts are taken by George Stanley, Boris Karloff, Billie Bennett and James O'Neill.

TRYOUT ARRANGED FOR CONTEST WINNER.

Anita Davis, an attractive young Los Angeles film fan, may soon gain prominence on the silver sheet, all because she can pen such a wonderful love letter. And because of the same reason, Lewis J. Cody, picture star, may gain a beautiful new leading woman. Miss Davis won the love letter contest conducted recently by the Symphony Theater in connection with Cody's picture, "The Beloved Cheater." Arrangements are being completed to give her a try-out with Cody, it is stated.

WITH EGAN FACULTY.

An instructor in dramatic work, who for many years has been connected with the stage and particularly with the development of talent has lately become associated with the Egan School of Music and Drama in the person of Edward Dvorak, who has enjoyed his most prominent success in New York and Chicago. Among those who studied with Mr. Dvorak in the East, were the late E. J. Morgan, formerly leading man with Daniel Frohman and Liebler and Company; James Carew, leading man with Ellen Terry, England; Edith Browning, leading woman with Chauncey Olcott; Katherine Countiss, starring; Antoinette Walker, leading woman with David Warfield; Kathryn Purnell, starring, and Henry Taylor, leading [illegible] with Mlle. Emma Trentini.

COMEDIES AND OUTDOOR PLAYS.

Varied Gamut of Features at Picture Houses.

Charles Ray and MacLean and May Present.

New Eminent Authors' Film; Katherine MacDonald.

Outdoor pictures and comedies are to have a vogue during the present week, according to indications in the advance heraldings of attractions. Such shining stars as Charles Ray and Douglas MacLean and Doris May mean many a happy laugh. They are to appear in new features. Fatty Arbuckle is also to play a return engagement in "The Garage."

Life in the open will be typified from various angles in the presentation of "The Stranger," and the two banditry subjects, "The Passing of the Oklahoma Outlaw," said to be based on fact, and "Beyond the Law," featuring Emmett Dalton. Harry Carey is holding over in "Marked Men." "Huckleberry Finn," which is, a comedy of the open, also stays.

Two exceptional pictures are Katherine MacDonald's latest, and "The Street Called Straight," an Eminent Authors' release. Other dramas of the social life will be "Eve in Exile," "The Tree of Knowledge," Nazimova's "Stronger than Death," and "The Glorious Lady," starring Olive Thomas.

"Behind the Door" is to have a brief showing.

—o—

California.

"The Street Called Straight," a picturization of the novel by Basil King, will be the feature at the California Theater, starting today. It is the second of the Eminent Authors' productions.

The story is said to differ from the average film production in that its theme involves mental rather than physical complications. It appeals to the intelligence of the spectator as well as to his emotions. The various characters are interpreted by Milton Sills, Naomi Childers, Charles Clary, Alec Francis, Irene Rich, Lawson Butt, Lydia Yeamans Titus and Jane Sterling.

A presentation of elegance and artistry has been arranged for by Managing Director Robert Poole. It is claimed that it will prove one of the most entertaining and beautiful attempted. The principal stage number will be the "Dance of the Hours," presented by the California Concert Orchestra, with Anna Heloise, Blanche Courtney and Virginia Marshall, in the dances. Another number which will prove of interest will be the overture, "Martha," rendered by the California Concert Orchestra, Williams conducting, and introducing "Ah, So Fair," the tenor solo. The short film subjects will be a Prizma, the California Topical Magazine and Review, and Harold Lloyd in his comedy, "His Royal Slyness."

Grauman's.

Charles Ray in "Alarm Clock Andy," a Thomas H. Ince comedy picture, is to illumine the screen at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater. Mr. Ray plays the part of Andrew Gray, a shy young man who stutters; he has an unimportant position with a motor truck concern, and marvels at the rapid advancement made by William Blinkers, a cocky young bluffer, who has kidded Mr. Wells, the boss, into making him sales manager.

Andy tries with little success to model his manners after those of Blinker. The efforts of the youth to cure his stuttering habit, his clever scheme to outwit the sales manager and, of course, his plan to win the affections of the boss' daughter form the plot.

Mr. Grauman announces a unique programme to accompany.

—o—

Victory.

Cosmo Hamilton's novel, "Eve in Exile," has been dramatized for the screen, and will be offered beginning today at the Victory. It boasts of a cast of widely-known players headed by Charlotte Walker.

The story is centered around three men, who loved one woman, and another woman, who tried to destroy her happiness. Eve is drawn into love's whirlpool, and from her experiences, bitter and sweet, she learns of jealousy, feminine trickery and the fierce, consuming passion of a man whose veneer of civilization is of the thinnest.

"Eve in Exile" is said to stand out as a worth-while feature of the season.

Included in the cast are Thomas Santschi, Wheeler Oakman, Melbourne MacDowell and others.

The Victory programme will be enhanced by another Lyons-Moran comedy, entitled "Non-skid Love."

—o—

Tally's Broadway.

That there is a strong appeal in almost any picture breathing the spirit of the West is a subject for little controversy. But "The Stranger," which will be presented at Tally's Broadway Theater beginning tomorrow, is said to be a "Western" just as different as its title implies.

To serve as direct contrast to this picture, Mr. Tally offers Charlie Chaplin in two rollicking reels of "A Day's Pleasure."

Additions have been made to the orchestra and with the combined efforts of A. Merrill Gilbert, conductor, and C. Percival Garrett, organist, a very attractive musical programme has been arranged.

Dorothy Waters well does a cowboy dance and song. News events together with a scenic of rare beauty made at Bear Valley in winter time round out the programme.

—o—

Alhambra.

A stirring story of a nobleman's love for a peasant girl, said to run the gauntlet of human emotions, is "The Glorious Lady" that opens today at the Alhambra Theater. It features Olive Thomas. The cast contains such names as Matt Moore, Evelyn Brent, Robert Tabor, Huntley Gordon, Mary Burke, Mrs. Henry Olive and Mona Kingsley. The direction is by George Irving, and the

SIGNOR ROSI OPENS NEW BALLET SCHOOL.

J. V. Rosi, formerly in charge of the dancing department at the California School of Arts, has started his new school, to be known as the "Rosi Ballet School," at the Ponet Square Hotel. Sig. Rosi is already at work, preparing dances for pupils who will appear before the public in the near future. This dancing instructor began his career at the age of 16 years, and has been master of ballet in many large theaters. He came to Los Angeles from Japan, in which country for several years he endeavored (all in vain, he says,) to teach Italian terpsichore to the Japanese youth. Mr. Rosi discourages the practice of dancing at home, and never allows his pupils to indulge in it until they have reached the point at which they can criticise their own work.

DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.

The two hundred and seventh public production was given by a company of advanced students of the Wallis School of Dramatic Art last Friday night in the Gamut Theater. They played a four-act comedy, "The Lucky Number" to a large and appreciative audience. The players were Alfred Manhoff, Garland Brunton, Armond Patzer, Lora J. Lowery, Leda King, Minnie A. Muckler, Marjorie Prince and Jessie Ruth Elliott. Preceding the play Dr. John T. Miller gave an interesting talk on character analysis. Lucy E. Wolcott, music director, sung, assisted by Miss Dunlap, accompaniste. A company from the children's department gave a class dance, with Miss Carmen Melnotte at the piano.

MATINEE DAILY—

MISSION PLAY By John Steven McGroarty and Mrs. Tyrone

Opened Saturday, Jan. 17, with matinee afternoon (except Monday) including Saturday, 8:15. Ticket Office, Main Floor Theater Ticket Office, Alhambra 198. All $1, $1.50, $2. Take Pacific Electric car, Lean, who were but recently elevated to stardom by Thomas H. Ince. As with their previous pictures "Mary's Ankle" is for entertainment purposes only. The story is about a Dr. Hampton, young and impecunious, who meets a girl on tag day and falls in love with her. In order to claim an inheritance from his rich uncle, the young doctor has fake wedding announcements sent out. His bluff is called, the uncle informing him that he will be on hand to meet the bride and will take them on a honeymoon to Honolulu. In the emergency, fate brings the tag-day girl in the doctor's path and he persuades her to pose as his bride. Then the fun begins. Miss May and Mr. MacLean are noted for their youth and vivacity. Beside the stars, the cast includes Ida Lewis, Lizette Thorne, Victor Potel, James Gordon and Neal Burns.

Augmenting the feature will be a Burton Holmes travelogue, "Gaping Gullett of Gifu," a South Sea Island scenic and Clune's topical news events.

Symphony.

"Beyond the Law," the production which the Symphony will offer the coming week; is a romantic love story of the West, featuring Emmett Dalton, one of the most noted of former outlaws. The naturalness and simplicity coupled with the convincing way in which it is told, stamps this as a really good picture. Dalton will make personal appearances during the week and lecture.

There is said to be nothing gruesome in the telling of the story of the notorious Dalton Brothers' gang. Interest is sustained without bringing in unnecessary details.

Bob, Gret and Emmett Dalton start for New Mexico to begin ranching. En route, they stop at a gambling hall and are relieved of their money. They get it back and this brands them as outlaws. Because of this deed they are later accused of a train hold-up and one is innocently convicted. This starts them in their career of crime.

The comedy, "Ducks," with Earl Rodney and Helen Darling, also will be shown.

—o—

Palace.

The feature attraction beginning today at the Palace, will be "The Passing of the Oklahoma Outlaw," a six-reel picturization, revealing with dramatic attractiveness Oklahoma's successful sweeping of outlawry from within her borders.

The picture is not a novelized version of dramatic incidents, but a reproduction of actual events as they transpired, it is stated. The scenes form part of the record of Oklahoma's early and somewhat reckless history.

Among the prominent characters in the picture are the former U. S. Marshals E. D. Nix, Bill Tilghman and Chris Madsen, who run to earth the Dalton and Doolin gangs, as well as the other outlaws.

—o—

Millers.

Nazimova, in her picture "Stronger than Death" is to be the attraction at Miller's Theater, beginning today.

The brilliant Russian star is seen in a role in "Stronger than Death" that displays her powers as a mistress of the human emotions. She plays a London dancer who finds love in India, that land of mystery which has figured so much in recent prose, poetry and dramatic literature.

The play is an adaptation from the widely-read I. A. R. Wylie novel and recounts the adventures of Sigrid, the dancer, and the man she adores—the hermit doctor of Gaya. It is a suitable vehicle to follow Nazimova's portrayal of the shabby chorus waif in "The Brat."

—o—

Garrick.

A double bill, consisting of two distinct features, will be the attraction at the Garrick Theater, starting today. Fatty Arbuckle will have charge of the comedy end of the programme in his latest Paramount success, "The Garage," while the dramatic feature is "The Tree of Knowledge," a tale of life's forbidden fruit, produced by William C. De Mille, with Kathlyn Williams, Wanda Hawley, Tom Forman, Irving Cummings and Robert Warwick in the leading roles.

"The Garage" is declared to be one of the best laugh-makers Fatty Arbuckle has ever turned out. He is cast as a fireman, mechanic and storekeeper in this burlesque of automobile happenings.

—o—

Superba.

The success of Harry Carey's "special" productions, as distinguished from regular Universal programme pictures, seems to be assured in his latest film, "Marked Men," which has packed the Superba Theater. So popular has been the picture that Manager Arthur S. Wenzel has decided to hold over the feature.

Carey achieves success in a role slightly different from his customary characters, in "Marked Men." He has never done a better bit of acting. The story is laid in the Southwest. When Carey, as Cyenenne Harry, and his two pals, all of whom have escaped from a penitentiary, come across a dying mother and her baby, there is much heart-touching pathos in their actions as godfathers.

The film version was adapted from Peter B. Kyne's famous story, "The Three Godfathers." The Superba programme also has an animal comedy, "Naughty Lions and Wild Men," and L. Earl Abel at the organ and Evans orchestra render special Lincoln-week music.

—o—

Grauman's Rialto.

Another week of laughter and thrills is promised to patrons of Grauman's Rialto Theater, in the announcement that "Huckleberry Finn," the screen version of Mark Twain's masterpiece of the same name, will be continued. Capacity audiences have been viewing this cinema.

Lewis Sargent, the boy actor, who plays the title role, is said to be practically a built-to-order interpreter of the part.

The story of "Huckleberry Finn" is one that is brimful of human interest. It begins where Huckleberry and Tom Sawyer, having discovered the buried treasure of a robber band in a cave, have the money invested for them and derive an income of a dollar a day apiece from it. The Widow Douglas and her prim maiden sister, Miss Watson, with whom Huck resides, are trying to "civilize" him, but he is such a scalawag that their task seems practically hopeless. Huck and Tom start a pirate gang, but, before they can get into action, Huck is kidnaped by his shiftless father. His escape and adventures form the main portion of the story.

De Luxe.

"Behind the Door," the powerful dramatic film drama, starring Hobart Bosworth, which created something of a sensation on its Broadway showing, is to be presented today and tomorrow at the De Luxe Theater. The picture is founded on a vivid story written by Gouverneur Morris, and its situations are characterized by an intensity that has been seldom realized on the screen.

—o—

Kinema.

Katherine MacDonald will make her bow on the Kinema screen today in Robert W. Chambers's "The Turning Point." This is the novelist's widely-read novel of a society beauty

SOCIETY.

Rabbi Hecht of Los Angeles. The bridal couple departed later on a honeymoon trip.

Miss Gladys Rolland has returned from a week-end visit with her sister, Mrs. William Hahn, at Culver City.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Lacy of Hermosa Beach spent a day in Fullerton recently, the guests of Mrs. Lacy's parents.

—o—

ANAHEIM.

A pleasant reunion of old friends was held recently when Mr. and Mrs. A. Nagel entertained at luncheon for a group of former Brookston (Ind.) friends, who are wintering in Southern California. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hildebrandt of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. James French of Brookston, who are making their winter headquarters at Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. George Stoudt, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bennett of Brookston, with temporary headquarters at Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Taswell Geyer, house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nagel.

A delightful dinner and dancing party was given by Mr. and Mrs. William Heger in their new home on North Lemon street. All of the dinner appointments were carried out in soft shade of yellow, yellow acacia forming the flower motif. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Bastanschury, D. J. Bastanschury, John Bastanschury and Sam Ozarart and William Silva of Fullerton, Mrs. Dora Levecke, Hugo Strodthoff and William Heger, Jr.

The birthday of Lincoln was appropriately observed here in all of the schools, each room setting aside a portion of the day for the study of the life of this martyred President.

Mrs. Henry of St. Paul, Minn., who is spending the winter here, was tendered a surprise party on Tuesday evening by a group of friends, the affair having been arranged by Mrs. Montgomery, Miss Annie Crawford and the Misses Aubert.

Mrs. Edgar Hartung of Sun Kist avenue entertained on Tuesday afternoon for the Pinochle Club. At the close of the game Mrs. Maas was awarded first honors; Mrs. Henderson, second, and Mrs. Kern third.

The Social Six held an unusually pleasant all-day meeting on Thursday with Mrs. J. Lakeman. Needlework of various kinds occupied the morning and afternoon hours while at noon a delicious luncheon was enjoyed. Present beside from the hostess were Mmes. Ruby Williams, Ida Chapman, Coykendall and L. Loop.

—o—

TAFT.

The bi-monthly meeting of the Woman's Improvement Club proved to be a delightful social affair. Mrs. E. J. Johnson presided. Interesting papers were read by Mrs. Riley R. Millard, Mrs. Thomas Berry, Mrs. J. L. Martin, Mrs. Guy Menach, Mrs. Parker Fox, Mrs. J. J. Meachan and Mrs. W. D. Candee.

Mrs. Carl Ingalls and daughter, Jane, of Bakersfield, are visiting friends here this week.

Mrs. George Northway and Mrs. E. P. Heck were hostesses for the members of the Five Hundred Club this week. Mrs. Dan McGilvery and Mrs. Jack Radford will next week entertain the club.

Mae and Burt Flannigan entertained several friends at the home of their parents this week.

The Five Hundred party given by the Fellows Parent-Teachers' Association was attended by a large number of the members. Prizes were won by Mrs. Dick Johnson, Mrs. C. W. Chambers and Charles Smith. Mrs. George Northway and Mrs. Willard Smith were hostesses.

Mrs. E. R. Queen of Anaheim is spending a few days in Taft as the guest of friends.

Mrs. Matthew King has charge of the arrangements for a dance to be given next Tuesday night by the ladies of the Altar Society of St. Mary's Church.

—o—

DELANO.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hammer and sons and Miss Julia Flannigan spent Sunday in Tulare, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Luck.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Golden have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kuck of San Diego.

Mrs. Claude Richardson entertained the members of the bridge club at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reyburn are home from Fresno, where they enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Reyburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobsen.

Misses Winnifred Shaw, Dorothy Smith and Margaret Branch gave delightful piano recitals before the Delano Woman's Club this week. Other features of the programme were presented by Mrs. H. O. Howland and Mrs. Hallie Dorsey.

—o—

INDIO.

The Woman's Club of Indio met at the home of Mrs. T. H. Rosenberger on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Harry Marshall assisted the hostess in entertaining the club. The opera "Lucia" was the subject of study and a most interesting paper on this subject was read by Mrs. A. V. Jones, while Labea Steese Kirk sang selections from the opera. Records of the "mad" scene and the sextette were played to illustrate the musical features of the opera. After a delightful afternoon the club adjourned to meet February 18 at the home of Mrs. Brady, where Mrs. White and Labea Steese Kirk will be the hostesses.

Nolan B. Stadley and Corac E. Boos, residents of Indio and Thermal, slipped away quietly to the county seat Thursday and were married by Judge Pat Parker of Mono county, who is there temporarily to assist Judge Craig.

Mr. John M. Ferguson formerly of the Y.M.C.A. in service in France, entertained the service men of the district at his home on Lincoln's birthday, February 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Caldwell of Coachella entertained Wednesday with a musical in honor of Mrs. Clarence Pelty of Riverside.

—o—

CORONA.

One of the pretty, but quiet, weddings of the season was that of Miss Katherine Ware and Mr. Wilford Lambeth, both well-known young people of this city. Rev. S. S. Sampson of the Methodist church performed the ceremony at the Methodist parsonage in the presence of relatives and most intimate friends of the young people, who left immediately after the ceremony for a week's honeymoon in Los Angeles. The bride was attired in a handsome traveling suit of brown jersey, with hat and gloves to match. Mr. and Mrs. Lambeth will be at home to their friends at 508 East Seventh street.

A wedding of interest to their many friends in Corona occured Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Isabel Morrow became

PROPENSITIES OF SPRING

Spring arrives attended by magnificence and beauty, in the blooms with which the earth is clothed and in the songs which birds and breezes carry.

Yet even Spring decides to pause in Fairyland, while woman, ever sensitive to thoughts of finer things, surveys the offerings that Fashion brings.

And Robinson's, as ever prepared with authentic advice from the sources of things, now shows what is favored by Fashion and Women for the season of Spring 1920.

BLOUSES

A blouse and a simple skirt may make a costume—if the blouse comes from Robinson's.

For a great convention of the daintier members of the blouse family is gathered here.

There are spring-like little creations of colored Organdies; there are French Voiles with tiny figures in colors; and there are gossamer Georgettes, from a fairy loom.

Fine frills, laces, hand embroideries and wee tucks are some of the trimmings they choose.

And the styles of them—just Robinson.

MEN'S WEAR

In the better accessories a man not only expresses the newness of the season, but his own good judgment, as well.

Fancy Bordered Handkerchiefs, the sort that are chosen by the man who discriminates between the better things, may be had in silk, imported voile or fine cotton.

English Foulard Ties are handsomely shaped from imported silks in the most desirable shades and combinations for spring wear. And they are not as expensive as one would expect imported things to be.

FIRST FLOOR

Millinery

—Does one want a clever chapeaux that tops the spring costume, in every sense of the word?

—Advance Style whispers—the Flower Hat.

—But if that is a little further ahead, than one cares to venture, there are innumerable creations in dark trotteurs and youthful sport effects.

—Imported models may be had now, from premier French creators.

THIRD FLOOR

FROCKS

—To show at its best a woman's beauty—to lend grace to her figure and to emphasize the high lights of her face—what more can be asked of a frock?

—This is the ideal for which Frocks from Robinson's strive.

—But they really go a bit further. Their "differentness" of style development hints individuality.

—Roshanara Crepe, Fan-ta-si, Rajah Silk, Crepe de Chine, Tricolette, Georgette and every favored fabric are included.

—Spring creations are now being shown upon request.

THIRD FLOOR

SHOES

Merely Shoes — does not begin to describe the dainty Footwear that anticipates the wants of Spring.

And undeniable is the trend of Fashion for Low Shoes, the graceful styles that fit with the snugness of a glove.

One and two-eyelet ties, strap tie effects and tongue pumps are finding favor among the fastidious.

The two-piece vamp is decidedly a new creation of Spring.

Strictly Hand Made models for street and dress wear may be had in black, white and brown kid and several shades of satin.

FOURTH FLOOR

VEILING

—Milady enhances her charm and protects her complexion with a fairy-like web of a Veil, this spring.

—Those favored just now by New York show vividness of color.

—Nattier blue dots on various colored meshes, henna dots on brown, and the new sand shades in mesh or dot, are all good.

—Russian meshes in conventional patterns of brown, tan, black and navy are given their share of popularity.

—Late whims in veil styles are found first at Robinson's.

FIRST FLOOR

Spring Complexions

—Maids must be willing to meet Romance half-way in the spring, by making themselves as fair as nature intended.

—Blemishes should be removed and beauty improved by the remedies that science provides.

—A complete line of effective lotions will be found here and expert advice may be had without charge.

—Elizabeth Arden and Twentieth Century preparations will be found exclusively at Robinson's.

ITALIAN SILK UNDERWEAR

—Quite the smartest innovation in Italian Silk Underwear is very practical. For it is an ankle length bloomer of finest weave, that may be adjusted at the wanted length for the new short frocks.

—Taupe, brown, navy, French blue, old rose and American Beauty are the shades that are now in stock.

—The complete assortment of Italian Silk Underwear for spring includes vests, French pants, pajamas, night gowns, envelope chemise, union suits and other lace trimmed, fancy silk garments.

FIRST FLOOR—SILK UNDERWEAR SECTION.

FINE FURNITURE

There is just that shade of difference, in line, in size, in design, that sets Robinson Furniture apart from the ordinary.

Massive, as well as unusual, odd Furniture and set Furniture show the influence of Italian and early English periods.

Decorated Furniture has the inimitable delicacy of the French.

And Overstuffed Furniture shows the supreme luxury of late American productions.

This is a page of news—good news about superior Home Furnishings—at low prices that those who have shopped from store to store, perhaps from city to city—will best appreciate.

These are the sort of Home Furnishings that reveal the inherent taste of the owner and leave lasting impressions of pleasure upon all who come in contact with them.

—Offerings in many instances are actually less than the wholesale cost today.

Lamps $12.75

—29 Solid Mahogany Lamp Standards, with two-light fixtures and regulation silk cord, may be had in three different designs.

Specially priced at $12.75.

204 SAMPLE LAMPS WITH SHADES

—These are the samples of a very high-grade maker, used in the recent display of advance effects in shades and standards. They are the originals, the copies of which will be featured generally some three months from now. So they would be well worth buying if they were marked at regular prices.

—There are floor lamps, torcheres, bridge lamps and davenport lamps, with artistic finishes and designs that are distinctly different.

—The shades are all of the finest materials, showing new styles and effective adventures in color combination.

—But because they are samples—which in no way detracts from their value to the person who buys them—they had served their purpose to the maker and were obtained by our buyer at great underpricing.

—They are offered at great saving to our customers. And because there is only one of a kind, in most instances, early shoppers will have the greater choice.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

MONTEBELLO.

A social afternoon held recently at the home of Mrs. R. W. Tucker by the Montebello Woman's Club proved an unusually pleasant affair. The club is studying Japan at present and for that reason the Japanese note prevailing in costumes, menu and entertainment features of the pretty function were very appropriate. Mrs. F. H. Allen, hostess of the occasion, was assisted by Mrs. Lillie Martin.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Cash and family of Whittier boulevard, are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Cash's mother, Mrs. Simpson of Yorkton, Can.

The O.E.S. Auxiliary gave a delightful card party Thursday night at Masonic Hall, clearing a neat little sum for their annual bazaar.

Miss Eugenia Banks and brother, Mark, both students at the High School, were given a jolly surprise party one night recently at their home on Poplar avenue, the affair being in the nature of a farewell. Their father, Mr. S. S. Banks, superintendent of the General Petroleum Oil Company, has been transferred to Yorba Linda and the family removed Saturday to the new home.

OXNARD.

Mrs. R. B. Haydock was hostess at a pretty bridge luncheon at her home, Tuesday, her guests being the members of her bridge club.

As a compliment to her niece Mrs. William C. Heck, who is a visitor here from California, Mo., Mrs. J. M. Stimpson was hostess at a very charmingly-appointed bridge luncheon Thursday afternoon. Places were marked for four guests each at small tables, which were centered with bowls of pretty rose buds. Bridge occupied the afternoon following the luncheon and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Floyd Swift, Mrs. John Hunt and a dainty guest prize to Mrs. Heck. Mrs. Stimpson was assisted in receiving and entertaining her guests by her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Livingston, Mrs. Louise Howard and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson.

A merry surprise party was given Thursday evening complimentary to Miss Helen Strobel and Miss Alice Spille at the latter young lady's home. A very enjoyable evening was spent at games and music and places were marked for the twenty-seven guests at a daintily-arranged refreshment table.

Little Miss Carmelita Johnson celebrated her eleventh birthday anniversary on Monday with a delightful party at her home. There were many games played following by refreshments. A dozen of the young lady's friends were invited to the affair.

UPLAND.

Miss Ruth Hermes was the guest of honor Monday afternoon at a tea of delightful appointments with which her sister, Mrs. Robert Klindt, entertained at her home in East Tenth street. The afternoon was passed informally and toward its close a collation was served.

A wedding of more than ordinary interest in Upland was that quietly solemnized Monday at the home of the Rev. S. S. Sampson, former Upland pastor, at Orange, at which Miss Ethel Rohrig and R. Earl Marsh were married. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rohrig of West Twelfth street and is prominent in Upland social circles. The bridegroom is a well-known young rancher. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh are to make their home in Upland.

Among recent winter visitors in Upland are Judge Charles C. Colter and Mrs. Colter of St. Thomas, Can., who are accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Ardagh Gilbert and her son, Laurier Gilbert. Mrs. Colter is a sister of Mrs. Isaac C. Baxter and Mrs. Arthur R. Hungerford and the visitors expect to remain for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Augustus Harison motored to Porterville Friday for a week-end visit with their son, Kenneth Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Badgley of Emmett, Idaho, are here for the winter and are guests of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ross of East Ninth street.

No More Getting Up Nights!

Bladder Weakness Quickly Corrected by Recent Scientific Discovery For Old and Young.

50 Cent Package Free

What a wonderful comfort to sleep all night and not get up at least once, and maybe six or eight times, every night because of bladder weakness. Have you forgotten what the restfulness and luxury of an unbroken night of untroubled sleep is like?

Wonderful! Wonderful! Sleep Like a Top All Night Long! Kellogg's Brown Tablets Make One Feel Young Again.

Among the principal causes of this trouble is chronic enlargement of the prostate gland and bladder irritation and of these and of the scientific discovery upon which Kellogg's Brown Tablets are based, a noted medical authority says: "A symptomatic cure is usually achieved. . . . The frequent impulses to urinate and the recurring desire at night cease. Successes with this salt . . . have been had in men of ninety years."

Every man, young and old, should try this wonderful treatment. It works upon the bladder to correct the faults that are causing a host of men days and nights of untold misery.

Send coupon today, with six cents in stamps to help pay postage and packing for a free 50c trial box of Kellogg's Brown Tablets, to Frank J. Kellogg Co., 2198 Hoffmaster Block, Battle Creek, Mich.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

New Faces For Old

Wrinkles, freckles, sagging, sallow complexion positively removed by the COMAN method. Only facial treatment ever endorsed by the United States Health Report. Can show credentials for twenty-six years continuous practice.

HAND PEELING CREAM

Removes all old weather-beaten skin, only two applications, no pain or soreness; no inconvenience. Complete in four days.

DERMA DE LUXE

Expressly for the hands and arms. Makes them beautifully white. Very necessary for short sleeves. CANNOT BE DETECTED. Call for free demonstration of either toilet articles or treatment. Hours 12 to 4.

SOCIETY.

the bride of Mr. Frank Nowels. Rev. Laughton of Riverside performing the ceremony. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodward, Mrs. Woodward being a sister of the groom. Both Mr. and Mrs. Nowels are well and favorably known here, the bride being the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Morrow, while Mr. Nowels is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nowels. The happy young couple will make their home at 316 Victoria avenue.

Eugene Lutz and Miss Carrie Walters were united in marriage Saturday evening by Rev. C. E. Maimann, of the Episcopal church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Renner. Mr. Lutz has been a resident of this city for several years and is well known as a young man of sterling worth. Mrs. Lutz is a comparative stranger, having come a short time ago from Anna, Ill. Mrs. Lutz is a niece of Mrs. Renner. This young couple will make this city their home.

Mrs. Roy Rice, a talented soloist of Los Angeles, is spending the week end at the home of Mrs. Juliet Powell Rice.

Miss May Barrett who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Georgiana Baird for the past few days has gone to San Bernardino where she will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Merriam.

MONTEBELLO. A social afternoon held recently at the home of Mrs. R. W. Tucker by the Montebello Woman's Club proved an unusually pleasant affair. The club is studying Japan at present and for that reason the Japanese note prevailing in costumes, menu and entertainment features of the pretty function were very appropriate. Mrs. F. H. Allen, hostess of the occasion, was assisted by Mrs. Lillie Martin.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Cash and family of Whittier boulevard, are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Cash's mother, Mrs. Simpson of Yorkton, Can.

The O.E.S. Auxiliary gave a delightful card party Thursday night at Masonic Hall, clearing a neat little sum for their annual bazaar.

Miss Eugenia Banks and brother, Mark, both students at the High School, were given a jolly surprise party one night recently at their home on Poplar avenue, the affair being in the nature of a farewell. Their father, Mr. S. S. Banks, superintendent of the General Petroleum Oil Company, has been transferred to Yorba Linda and the family removed Saturday to the new home.

Mrs. Margaret Meehan and Mrs. Lucy Serrine of Seattle, are guests of Mrs. Isabel Jackson of Washington ave.

OXNARD. Mrs. R. B. Haydock was hostess at a pretty bridge luncheon at her home, Tuesday, her guests being the members of her bridge club.

As a compliment to her niece Mrs. William C. Heck, who is a visitor here from California, Mo., Mrs. J. M. Stimpson was hostess at a very charmingly-appointed bridge luncheon Thursday afternoon. Places were marked for four guests each at small tables, which were centered with bowls of pretty rose buds. Bridge occupied the afternoon following the luncheon and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Floyd Swift, Mrs. John Hunt and a dainty guest prize to Mrs. Heck. Mrs. Stimpson was assisted in receiving and entertaining her guests by her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Livingston, Mrs. Louise Howard and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson.

A merry surprise party was given Thursday evening complimentary to Miss Helen Strobel and Miss Alice Spille at the latter young lady's home. A very enjoyable evening was spent at games and music and places were marked for the twenty-seven guests at a daintily-arranged refreshment table.

Little Miss Carmelita Johnson celebrated her eleventh birthday anniversary on Monday with a delightful party at her home. There were many games played following by refreshments. A dozen of the young lady's friends were invited to the affair.

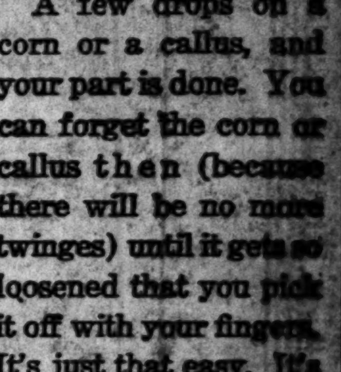
Hurting Corns Peel Right Off!

"GETS-IT" LOOSENS THEM SO THEY LIFT OFF IN A JIFFY.

Your calluses and corns are only hanging on for a little while. They are doomed the moment you make up your mind to let "Gets-It" get them. Off they come—cleanly, smoothly and painlessly—as soon as "Gets-It" gets in its work on them.



A few drops on a corn or a callus, and your part is done. You can forget the corn or callus then (because there will be no more twinges) until it gets so loosened that you pick it off with your fingers. It's just that easy. It's a shame to suffer pain and inconvenience when its source is so readily and easily removed. You've put up with that corn or callus long enough now. There's a limit. Show it who is boss by getting "Gets-It" after it. Never fails—can't fail.

"Gets-It" the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfd. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Los Angeles and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by the Owl Drug Co.

IS OUR FAITH A FAILURE?

More than two million Christians died for their faith in the Turkish massacres and deportations of the late war. Is the Faith of our Fathers impotent to save the 250,000 orphaned children of these martyrs? Is the faith for which they died so weak, so contemptible that it will permit more than 500,000 of their daughters to languish in Turkish harems because they cannot be fed?

There is a God for This Hour! Is our faith equal to His occasions?

The world has mingled its tears with the blood of Armenia, and Christians have united in prayer for her salvation. America is ready to give. Her generosity is unbounded. Los Angeles is ready to do her share. Her compassion has not been foreshortened.

This is the spiritual opportunity of the ages. Have Christians lost the courage of faith—will they reject the privilege of service and fear to ask for money even when God has put it into the hearts of the people to give?

This responsibility has been laid on your church! It belongs there.

The cause of crucified Armenia is a Christian appeal.

Is your church organized and ready to do its share?

We call upon the followers of Christ in this city to see to it that the churches are organized this day for Near East Relief!

This is GOD'S testing time. He is proving his His children of every creed.

Will you offer Him temples of praise and ecclesiastical funds as substitutes for the lives of little children and the souls of innocent girls?

Christians, pray no longer for Armenia! Pray for your own immortal souls! We challenge your pastor's right to preach the gospel of hope and comfort this day until your church has consecrated its energies and mobilized its membership in this supreme duty.

LAKE ELSINORE.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Lien and family of Alberhill, who are to move to Los Angeles, a surprise farewell social was extended to them by friends, among whom were a number of Elsinore people. The guests of honor were allowed to partake of the surprise, unawares, until time for refreshments, when E. J. Matthews in a few well chosen remarks apprised them of the purpose.

On Friday evening at the grammar school Mrs. George M. Turner of Riverside, delighted her audience with a lecture upon the subject of birds. She talked particularly about the birds of Southern California. Her lecture was illustrated with some seventy colored slides. This lecture was given under the auspices of the Elsinore Union High School and the Riverside Junior College.

The Woman's Club gave a benefit for the library Friday night. A fine programme was given, including musical numbers and readings.

—o—

BEAUMONT.

There was a large attendance at the Rebekah Social Friday evening and those present enjoyed an evening of unusual pleasure, the following programme was given:

Instrumental duet, Miss Elsie Thomas, Arthue Dysart; trio, R. E. Dillon, Raymond Dillon and Miss Marjorie Dello; dance of the periods, Miss Hildred Lemon and Dorothy Davis; recitation, Mrs. M. J. Sears; dramatic song, "Barbara Frietchie," R. E. Dillon; social games and dancing were enjoyed after the programme.

The regular meeting of the Beaumont Woman's Club, held Febraury 3, was an event of unusual literary and social interest, the Saturday Afternoon Club of Banning being guest of honor. Miss Banning of Los Angeles gave an interpretation of several recent Irish plays, among them "The Land of Heart's Desire" by Yeats, and "The Red Riders of the Sea" by Synge.

Mrs. Charles Hannon contributed greatly to the programme with three Irish lyrics, "Wearing of the Green," "Killarney" and "Those Endearing Charms" by Moore.

The next regular meeting will be on February 17, in charge of Mrs. Curtis Clemenceau, Paderewski and Lloyd George will be discussed regarding their predominating principles and ideas.

REDONDO BEACH.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sullivan entertained with a dinner Monday evening at their home in the Golden West Apartments. The occasion was Mrs. Sullivan's birthday. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith, Rev. and Mrs. J. Austin Davis, Mrs. Frances Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan.

Mrs. Anna Foote entertained delightfully Tuesday with a bridge luncheon at her home on the Esplanade. A two-course luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, the guests being seated at small tables, which were attractive with luncheon appointments and yellow jonquils. The afternoon was spent with bridge. Mrs. Tower secured the first prize, Mrs. DeGarmo the second and Mrs. Amet, the consolation. Mrs. Hannon was favored with a guest prize.

Mrs. W. W. Waddell of South Irena avenue gave a dinner Thursday for her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mowrer of Unionville, Mo., who are visiting here for the winter. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Dorsett and Mr. and Mrs. F. Waddell.

A box supper was enjoyed by a group of young people Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Savage. Dancing and games were enjoyed.

Mrs. Reginald Washburn of Nowita place, Venice, recently entertained with a luncheon at which a number of the most prominent members of the bay's younger set were asked. Sweetpeas were the predominating motif of the decorative scheme, and pretty fluffy spring maidens were used as place cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Teller Ellis recently entertained at dinner for Miss Sylvia Clevinger and Mr. Dorian Briggs, at their home in East Venice. Mr. Briggs and Miss Clevinger are attending college in Hollywood, and the pretty affair at which the Ellises presided was given in honor of their graduation which will take place in the near future.

The tea which was given at the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club Monday, attracted a large number of club guests. Just preceding the affair, Alma May Cook delivered an address, which consisted of a brief study of thirty paintings of the California Art Club. A business meeting of the club was held at which Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, president, officiated.

—o—

SOUTH PASADENA.

Mrs. Ralph Johns was hostess on Wednesday at a very delightful luncheon given at her home, 1140 Fremont avenue. Red, white and blue were used in the table decorations. The after-luncheon hours were spent with bridge. The following guests were present: Mmes. Harry W. Witten, Don Riddle, Mabel Dunn, Paul W. Quimby, Irene Kydder, Vera Smith, W. R. Laughlin, E. Hewitt, all of Los Angeles, and Grover McDonald, William J. Taylor and Walford Cammer of South Pasadena.

The largest social gathering of the week was the annual luncheon of the El Centro Parent-Teacher Association, which was given by the members of that organization on Tuesday. The afternoon programme was of unusual merit, with Mrs. A. E. Austin and Mrs. Trowbridge, county workers for the Juvenile Court, as the chief speakers. The social committee in charge of the luncheon consisted of Mmes. L. L. Washburn, T. J. Freeman, J. Malone, Herman Miller, J. L. Hines, C. E. Burdge, B. W. McDavitt and L. E. Miller.

Mrs. F. D. H. Banks of 2001 Monterey road entertained about two dozen friends on Tuesday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Page of Philadelphia, who is at present the house guest of friends in Alhambra.

The Owl and Key fraternity of Occidental College, enjoyed a jolly good time on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cass, when they were the guests of the alumni of that organization.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Richards of 1840 Monterey road had as their house guests over the week-end their son, Douglas Richards, wife and baby, of San Bernardino.

In honor of their brother and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Andrews entertained at dinner on Sunday, at which covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Andrews, and son, Mrs. Merrell, Mrs. A. B. Bishop, the Misses Ellen Brown, Mary Niosi, Mr. Charles Coots, the honor guests, and the host and hostess.

Mrs. John H. Gregg of 1224 Hope street gave a very charming luncheon on Thursday, including among her guests several Los Angeles and Pasadena friends. Vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Schering of Marseilles, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, formerly of Newkirk, Okla., were guests during the past week of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lane at their home on Fremont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dickhut of Scott City, Kan., are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Goodwine of 1312 Bank street. Mr. Dickhut is president of the Citizens' State Bank of Scott City.

THE ORIGIN OF WHITCOMB.

The old Massachusetts family of Whitcombs are of Irish descent. The first of the Whitcombs came from Ireland to Boston about the year 1720, and was of the Irish family of Kirwan.

The Whitcomb name was formed under the operation of the penal laws from the two Gaelic words, "cior bhan," pronounced "keer waun"—meaning a "white comb."—[Michael J. O'Brien in Christian Science Monitor.]

If all the diamonds mined in history and existing today as cut and polished gems were gathered from the ends of the earth they would form a pile as large as a wagonload of coal dumped on the sidewalk, says a statistical expert.

The pile would contain 46,355,474 karats and the gems would weigh 10½ tons. If the pile were in the form of a cone it would have a base diameter of eight feet and a height of five feet, and it would have a value of $13,906,642,200.

AND among this "pile of diamonds" would be Brock and Company's beautiful collection of gems and gem-set pieces—

The largest and most remarkable the Southland has ever seen.

INCLUDED therein are many wonder creations—designs of marvelous conception, indicative of the genius that resulted in their production.

Come and see them. Give us the pleasure of showing you some unusually beautiful pieces that would help to build that thirteen-billion-dollar diamond pile.

MADAM! YOUR SPRING HAT IS READY!

ON OUR FIRST FLOOR YOU'LL FIND

TRIMMED HATS

In every department in our store it is our constant endeavor to offer the largest possible range of style and to price each item so that the combination of style and value is well-nigh irresistible. For instance, we wish to call particular attention to our

MALINE HATS

Each one is hand made, of fine quality of maline, trimmed with fancy feathers, flowers or ribbon and the highest priced are only $15.00.

There are hundreds and hundreds of styles in hand-made hats in black and the wanted colors, priced as low as $7.50.

SHAPES

For years we have been known as the shape specialists. On our first floor we carry almost every style in every wanted braid and color. There are the lustrous lisere braids, the porcupine, plain leghorns, fancy edge leghorns, new rough straws and body hats galore. The prices on the first floor range from $5.00 to $15.00 so you can just imagine the wide diversity of styles offered.

READY-TO-WEARS

Where can you find the woman who does not like and cannot make use of a trim sailor for business or street wear, a ribbon sports hat or a genuine Milan for outing wear? One sailor we wish to call particular attention to is a shiny lisere faced with white Milan hemp—a wonderful combination—and priced at only $10.00. Other styles range from $7.50 to $17.50.

DOWNSTAIRS YOU'LL FIND

MISSES' HATS

A full page could be devoted to describing this department with its unlimited variety of hats for misses from 3 to 16 years of age. There are Milans, patent Milans, lisere, rough straws, Milan hemp and hemp in an almost infinite variety of styles and colors. If your daughter needs a hat or will need one, if she is between 3 years and 16 years of age and you cannot find her hat here then your quest will be hopeless.

BRAIDS

This is another department that could easily use a full page to describe its stock. Undoubtedly our stock in both assortment and quantity is the largest west of Chicago—the value of this stock is about $10,000.00 so you can easily picture the department if you have never seen it. Colorings range from the lightest pastels to the deepest dyes and every known style of braid is represented.

FRAMES

Another department that excels any west of Chicago both in size and volume of business done. You'll never find less than 3000 frames in stock, the materials being buckram, willow, rice net, gold and silver wire and silk covered wire. Every wanted style is here and we want to call particular attention to frames for children from 2 to 16 years old.

SHAPES

Table after table just loaded with almost every kind of shape and in every stylish braid. All the good colors, of course, and all priced right—the prices starting at $1.98 and ranging to $4.98.

READY-TO-WEARS

The home of the popular-priced ready-to-wear! Sailors galore in smooth, shiny straws and rough straws, ribbon hats in a variety of styles, body hats in the new spring colors and hand-made woven hats. Prices as low as $2.98 and up to $6.98.

TRIMMED HATS

This department is conducted for the benefit of the woman or miss seeking a good-looking, stylish hat at a most reasonable price. The miss of eighteen or the matron of fifty can be fitted and the price will not strain the pocketbook as the highest priced trimmed hat carried downstairs is marked only $6.98.

RIBBON

We do not carry every kind of ribbon but if you need a millinery ribbon and it's not here, it's because it's unobtainable. Every width in gros-grains from three-eighths of an inch to eight inches wide in every good color and a wonderful assortment of novelty ribbons.

FINDINGS

The home milliner needs wire, buckram, rice net, linings, milliners' glue, willow, milliners' thread, etc., and any need can be taken care of here to her complete satisfaction.

FLOWERS & FANCIES

Out of curiosity we counted the number of flowers and fancy feathers we put in stock and found over 11,000 items. Flowers will be more popular than ever this spring and a glance at our cases makes one fairly long for a flower bedecked hat.

IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Ollie Gray.

Up-to-date:

A revival of the Chinese [illegible] in dress. Rather, one might call it an enhancement of that motif, for the present [illegible] results in a deeper and broader understanding of color and its combinations, rather than a mere crude assembling of discordant blazonry which was once our conception of Chinese attire. Blouses cut on the lines of the Chinese mandarin coat, but much shorter in the skirt than those stately robes. The Chinese colorings are brought out by beaded or embroidered flowers, in sharply contrasting, but artistically chosen, tones. Batik embroidery for the spring and summer hat. Upturned brims, off the face, are embroidered in soft shades of [illegible] as natural, with inter[illegible] reds, dull purples and blues, and sometimes a [illegible] or braided cord of the [illegible] passes around the crown, emerging at one side in the form of a projecting tassel or pouff, as I call those silk brushes.

Now is the Time to Buy:

[illegible] shoes, in popular leathers, English lasts, and at genuine [illegible] in price.

[illegible] for women. So-called "factory imperfects" in high-class high [illegible], in popular colorings, are having [illegible] of about half price, in that [illegible] sale.

"A little bit of heaven," rose-[illegible] framed and ready for loving, [illegible] anniversary price.

New, crisp, sassier-than-ever Sassy [illegible], at a fair-price offering, making them more than ever attractive for home, afternoon and porch wear.

[illegible] Our Fashions?

After the wonderful pageant of [illegible] dress, at the charity ball, at the Maryland the other evening, we were discussing the merits of the various periods so artistically [illegible], and someone asked if we thought the modes of now would go down in history as epochal. "It seems to me," said Katherine, "that our fashions lack originality [illegible] merely combinations of fads [illegible] from this era or that, not [illegible] distinctive or original to [illegible] period."

"I believe," said the lady from [illegible], "that the wired hip tunic [illegible] is quite as distinctive as [illegible] of other times; and although I am not partial to the style, [illegible] it will, at some future day, [illegible] as era marking." Glancing about the ballroom, and observing the real beauty of many of the [illegible] with wired tunics, we decided that this was undeniable; and [illegible] there was born to our eyes [illegible] respect for this mode. "It [illegible] difficult to properly appraise [illegible], in either dress or events, [illegible] we to bend our looks [illegible] the past, or attempt to descry [illegible]," said Louise, in her wise [illegible] poetic way.

[illegible] of them.

[illegible] a group of women discussed, in undertones, the men's [illegible] of former times, as pageantly [illegible] and a general sigh went [illegible] favor of the picturesque attire, as contrasted with that [illegible] "Men are so very, very— I was going to say 'so ugly' — I'll put it plainly 'plain'—that [illegible] ought to adorn themselves," said the Man-hater. "But," [illegible] the lady of all-embracing kindness, "we do not want [illegible] them! We prefer them plain [illegible] and—well, I'll call it [illegible] for want of a better term." [illegible] the wifely one. "If [illegible] were ruffles, I would always [illegible] obliged to keep them in order [illegible] them into his clothes; [illegible] for one, am not in favor of [illegible] for the men of our day."

Los Angeles Leads.

[illegible] know, of course, that Los [illegible] though a designer of sports [illegible] house is located here, [illegible] in the recent Fifth Avenue Fashion Show; and I must tell [illegible] this model originated by [illegible] house. A millinery set, [illegible] of hat, bag and dog [illegible] of silk, to be sure, and [illegible] in wonderful color [illegible]; and made upon [illegible] distinctive as to create [illegible] even amid [illegible] wealth of novelties. And, [illegible] the same house sells [illegible] prominently featured by [illegible] sports goods house on [illegible] Oh, Los Angeles, as [illegible] has truly arrived! [illegible] or banners! Shout—huz[illegible]

[illegible] Contrast.

[illegible] lingerie in shades of ceil [illegible] with insets of tucked [illegible] organdy is one of [illegible] fads.

[illegible] Sashes.

[illegible] no longer content with [illegible] accessories of dress, [illegible] more assertive, often [illegible] the one high color note in [illegible] Wound several [illegible] the waist and in [illegible] the better [illegible] or bodice, these [illegible] of beauty are [illegible] from broad, silk or [illegible] or ribbed of brocaded [illegible] again of floral [illegible] upon backgrounds [illegible] with the remainder of [illegible] in vivid contrast to it. [illegible] or trains are the [illegible] of these smart addenda.

[illegible] Dressing.

[illegible] is extraordinarily [illegible] evening affair, that [illegible] from comment. [illegible] declared, "lies not [illegible] wearing, but in the [illegible] dressing! We have [illegible] installed, and truly, [illegible] ever managed [illegible] before!" Then she [illegible] discovered [illegible] a specialty of [illegible] for milady's [illegible] the electric [illegible] from reflections, to make her cross over her appearance, but instead a clear, unflattering, helpful radiance, which makes dressing for evening a real joy.

Ever Dry.

Every try Ever Dry? It really does. And it really doesn't. I mean it really does do away with perspiration, saving you two expenses, that of frequently renewed and costly shields and that of repairing or throwing away your few-times-worn blouse or evening dress. And it really doesn't injure your skin or abraid it. It comes with a sponge in the top of the bottle so that it is easy to apply; and its odor is that of violets—truly a new daintiness for the dressing table.

Gown Pokering.

At the screen star ball the other night, a group of us—deeply interested in the all-absorbing subject of clothes—wagered with each other to decide the handsomest gown. Made a sort of game of it, you know, although not "making game" of the lovely costumes. We "tied" between a tangerine chiffon velvet, with huge ostrich fan to match, and a glorious gown of cloth of antique gold, with fan of peacock blue.

Spring Buds on Fashion's Tree.

Taffeta and organdie will be a good spring combination.

Foulard silks are in larger and bolder patterns than ever.

Changes in the silhouette are chiefly below the waist line.

Bright-colored guimpes are worn with dark tailored costumes.

The royal combination, velvet and ermine, is seen much of late.

Novelty cords are made of tiny wooden beads crocheted in silk.

Redingote styles are favored for the foulard dresses for spring.

Tiny garlands of fruit or flowers are worn with the dance frock.

Some of the latest ship-over jackets are made like middy blouses.

Bright scarlet leather on blue serge is a delightful combination.

A silver-thread sweater of heavy mesh has an old-pink satin collar.

A coat of brick-red cloth has a novel collar and cuffs of Hudson seal.

Black corsets are necessary for the very low-cut black evening gowns.

An evening wrap of white caracul has collar and hem of Australian opossum.

The chief attraction of many of the new gowns is the many small plaits.

Most favored of all for the narrow girdle is the crisp, new waxed ribbon.

Black velvet is very popular, and is used for suits, frocks and evening gowns.

Many smart French frocks have separate straight collars which fasten in the back.

A charming evening frock of white chiffon voile is belted and bound with gold cloth.

Waxed satin and cords figure among the favorite trimmings for suits and street dresses.

A frock of blue serge is charmingly trimmed with pipings and buttons of rose-colored duvetyn.

Sleeves on separate coats are being cut full at the wrist, no matter how they may be set into the armhole.

THINKS LEANING TOWER WAS BUILT THAT WAY.

A short "filler" in your Sunday issue, says a reader of the Springfield Republican, tells that the famous leaning tower of Pisa is built of pure white Carrara marble, Gothic style, and adds that its departure from the perpendicular is doubtless due to unstable foundations. A picture of that tower in Peter Parley's geography (unheard of by people of the present generation) greatly interested me in my schoolboy days, more than seventy years ago, and aroused a desire and determination to see it, coupled with a fear that it might fall down before I could get there. But in our four visits to Italy, that desire has been abundantly gratified, and having given the subject considerable study and consideration, I am thoroughly convinced that the leaning tower of Pisa is the most successful architectural whim ever constructed. Successful, because without doubt, at least half a million people have visited Pisa to see that architectural curiosity, in the past 600 years, who would not have gone there if the tower had been erected on traditional and perpendicular lines.

The leaning tower was commenced in the year 1174, and completed in 1350. It is fifty feet in diameter and 180 feet high. The walls are thirteen feet thick, and the spiral stairs, with 330 steps, are built in the inside walls. The tower has an inclination of fourteen feet, which is said to be two feet within the center of gravity. It has eight galleries, each supported by thirty marble columns. The top story is somewhat smaller than those below, and is made nearly level, and the heaviest one of the chime of seven bells, weighing 12,000 pounds, is hung on the high side of the tower—which was a very comforting sensation to me, when at the top, and I confess that most of my observations were made from the high side, and when I was obliged to walk around to the lower side to reach the opening to the stairs, my shoulder rubbed the inclining wall. My companion, however, was not thus affected; but to me it was more dizzying than climbing the great pyramid of Egypt.

This matter of the leaning tower has been widely and earnestly discussed by eminent writers and architects, pro and con, and the leveling of the top story, hanging the heaviest bell on the high side, has been used as an argument for the theory of unstable foundations, as appearing before the structure was completed. One writer claims that the inclination of the tower has increased a foot in the last 100 years, but this is doubted. It seems most unreasonable that the builders would continue work on a tower that would be liable to fall over before they had finished it, and, besides, there are several other leaning towers in Italy, and in the near-by and very beautiful cathedral, there are some remarkable architectural variations from established standards, apparent in cut-stone work, and the interior galleries are so made as to produce increased perspective effects, making it seem to be an attractive architectural freak.

Another matter of great interest to the tourist in Pisa is the most remarkable echo to be heard in the beautiful baptistry, near the cathedral, when the custodian sings a few notes, producing the most enchanting and lingering tones to be heard anywhere in the world. To hear them once makes a priceless memory.

THE FARM HAND'S DAY IS COMING.

WAGES ON BOOM, "HIRED MAN" MAY SOON BRING A PREMIUM.

Showing an increase of 255 per cent. in the harvest wage paid in Kansas in 1919 over the wage paid in 1913, the report of Edward C. Paxton, field agent for the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates in Kansas, says, that "it is even conceivable that the time may soon come when farm labor will actually command a premium."

Harvest laborers received, on the average, $5.42 a day and board in 1919, as compared with $2.14 in 1913.

The report continues: "While farm wages for ordinary labor, other than harvest work, have not been as high, they do show even a more noticeable increase. Such wages have risen from an average of $1.53 in 1913, to $3.71 in 1919, including board.

"For farm labor, where hired by the month with board, the Kansas farmer paid in 1919, an average of $49.50 per month; in 1913, only $24.

WORK FEWER HOURS NOW.

"These estimates probably do not reflect the actual increase in cost of farm labor as it enters into cost of production since 1913, due to the fact that number of hours of labor have been disregarded. It is safe to say that the average farm hand in 1913 worked two hours a day longer than in 1919. It is also possibly true that the harvest labor used in 1919 was really less experienced and efficient than that supplied in 1913.

"The price of farm labor in recent years has shown a trend to approximate the prices prevailing in the industrial world. Because of the relative conditions under which farm labor and city labor are performed it is even conceivable that the time may soon come when farm labor will actually command a premium. Obviously, such increases in wages must be charged into the cost of production and covered by the prices of farm products.

FARMER MUST REDUCE COSTS.

"Although labor price enters so largely into the cost of production, it is not to be inferred that the cost of such production finally determines the price of farm products, out of which labor must be paid. The price received by the producer of farm crops is largely determined by the supply, the demand remaining fairly constant. This supply as it reaches the consumer may be controlled from both ends primarily at its source, by regulating production, through a comprehensive marketing programme that will regulate the movement of farm products into commercial channels. Patently, until such comprehensive production and marketing programmes are formulated and carried out through co-ordinated farmer organizations, so that supply and hence price of products can be controlled, it behooves the individual farmer to plan and carry out a programme of his own that will bring the greatest efficiency and thus cut his overhead expenses to the minimum.—[Topeka correspondent, Kansas City Star.

What's the Use?

Wifey: Hub, do you know what day this is?

Hubby (a funny paper addict): Sure thing, precious. It is the anniversary of our marriage.

Wifey (bursting into tears): It's nothing of the kind, you callous brute! I just knew you weren't keeping track of it!—[Cartoons Magazine.

CHINA'S EGG PRODUCTION.

It may be said that eggs are produced in every part of China, and many factories for the manufacture of albumen and other egg products have been established at points convenient to transportation facilities to ports of shipment. As an indication of the growing importance of the egg-drying industry in China, an American milk and egg-drying machinery company recently opened offices in Shanghai. In addition to the egg-products business a very large trade is carried on in fresh, preserved and frozen eggs. China exported in 1918 egg albumen and yolk to the value of moe than $9,000,000, nearly $2,000,000 of which was imported by the United States and about $4,000,000 by Great Britain. In 1917 the amount of egg albumen and yolk exported by China amounted to $12,000,000, more than $6,000,000 of which was purchased by the United States and about $5,000,000 by Great Britain.—[Indianapolis News.

"CLOTH" THAT IS NOT CLOTH.

The decorative material known as tapa cloth is in reality not cloth at all. It is a form of paper. In the South Sea Islands it is made from the pounded bark of the paper mulberry, but it occurs in some form in every tropical country in the world. In the jungles of Brazil, in the steaming swamps of Africa, natives still make tapa. The ancient Aztec and Mayas and Egyptians, the early inhabitants of China and Japan, had learned the use of tapa in its modern form of paper to convey literary thought as well as artistic efforts. And in Mexico and the Chinese republic it still holds its early usage in offering a simple and easily decorated material for ceremonial costumes.—[M. D. C. Crawford in Asia.

Novel Proposal.

Hook: Oldboy is the most melancholy fellow I know.

Crook: You're right. He proposed to a girl once by asking her how she would like to become his widow.—[Stray Stories.

Diamond ...Jewels

In the constant whirl of social activities Diamond Jewels form a most important part.

To the Woman who values a modish appearance, Jewels afford her a satisfying sense of ease and a pride of ownership.

It has been our pride for over twenty-five years to emphasize the absolute reliability and correctness of our showing of Diamond Jewels.

Our aim has been to present Jewels that express individuality—Jewels that appeal to you like some fine old Tapestry or Master-piece of Painting—Jewels only of recognized artistic excellence and worth—Jewels that express luxury without price penalty.

Art in Feminine Dress

We believe that apparel of true distinction must possess many delicate refinements in design and color—subtle touches here and there that lend it an eminent identity of its own, removing it far beyond the commonplace—

—that perfectly designed feminine attire may be as faithful a reflection of real Art as a masterpiece in oil or marble.

By establishing this thought as our permanent ideal, we shall hope that every day will bring us closer to its perfect attainment.

OPERA NEXT WEEK.

SAN CARLO COMPANY TO OFFER POPULAR REPERTOIRE.

The annual season of grand opera, which Los Angeles enjoys, is scheduled for two weeks at the Mason, opening February 23. The San Carlo Company, which has presented Italian repertoire, with a well-balanced company, for several seasons, is to be heard.

Fifteen different operas will be offered during the engagement, opening with "Rigoletto." This work will feature the new Spanish baritone, Vincente Ballester, and Queena Mario. "Aida," with Zotti and Salazar, is scheduled for February 24; "The Love Tales of Hofmann," Wednesday matinee, February 25; "Mme. Butterfly," with Marcella Craft, February 25 (evening;) "Carmen," with Gentle and Ballester, February 26; "La Boheme," February 27; "Faust," Saturday matinee, February 27, with Marcella Craft, and "Trovatore," Saturday evening, February 28.

The second week's repertoire offers "Lucia," the double bill, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci," with Alice Gentle and Rosita Zotti; "Romeo and Juliet," with Queena Mario; "Traviata," with Marcella Craft as Violetta; the "Barber of Seville," with Mario, and a final performance of "Mme. Butterfly," with Craft, and "Trovatore," with Rosita Zotti, Salazar and Ballester.

The San Carlo Company this year numbers 100, has an excellent orchestra, a well-trained chorus and quite out-of-the-average stage settings for each production. Two of the leading prima donnas, Alice Gentle (who was recently soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra,) and Marcella Craft, are California girls, who have achieved success abroad and at home in opera. This engagement will be the first opportunity afforded the host of friends and admirers of Miss Craft to enjoy her in opera, and it is particularly fortunate that she is to sing two of the roles, which gave her prominence abroad, Violetta in "Traviata" and Cio-Cio-San in "Mme. Butterfly."

Queena Mario, the coloratura soprano, will be remembered by all who heard her last season with the San Carlo, while Salazar and Agostini are known here.

—o—

New Godowsky Suite.

Leopold Godowsky is to be represented on the programmes of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra next season by a suite now being orchestrated by Frederick Stock, conductor of the orchestra. This will be played exclusively by that organization next season, according to word from the composer-pianist, who is in New York. The work, which is known as "Triakontanerom," was written originally for piano while Godowsky conducted his master classes in Seattle last summer. It comprises a series of musical expressions, all of which are in three-fourths time.

Lonesomeness in the northern city is said to have inspired Godowsky to write the work. It was done entirely in the evenings, after the master pianist had conducted his classes throughout the day.

The themes of the integral parts vary with the mood and, while the composition is by no means as simple as the Godowsky "Miniatures," it is not technically heavy. Godowsky, in addition to playing it himself on tour next season, has been requested by other eminent virtuosi for its use in concert.

Stock first heard the work when Godowsky played it at the house of a friend in Chicago, where he had stopped off on his way East. He was immediately struck with the suite and asked permission to use it exclusively in orchestra form next season.

—o—

Heifetz Tuesday Evening.

Jascha Heifetz, the Russian violinist, who is to be heard in recital at Trinity Auditorium Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoon, arrives here tomorrow. This brilliant young artist has appeared to capacity audiences everywhere this season. A third appearance in Los Angeles was asked for and Santa Barbara pleaded for a date, but Heifetz calmly announced that he is going to see the Grand Canyon and beyond the concerts actually booked he will not appear.

Schumann-Heink's Third Date.

A third date by that always-popular Ernestine Schumann-Heink is announced for February 24, at Trinity Auditorium. So many hundred were disappointed in not being able to secure tickets for the concert of yesterday afternoon or the second one announced for next Thursday evening that it was practically popular request that made this third date desirable. She will be assisted by Mrs. Katherine Hoffman, accompanist, and Miss Nina Fletcher, violinist, and promises an entirely different programme.

—o—

Estelle Dreyfus Recital.

The Estelle Heartt-Dreyfus recital tomorrow evening promises to not only be an interesting musical event, but decidedly picturesque, as many who are attending the bachelors' fancy dress ball are coming in their costumes to the Dreyfus concert first. Jay Plowe, flutist, whose virtuosito is attracting so much attention, will be the assisting artist, playing solos and an obbligato to one of Mrs. Dreyfus's Japanese songs. Blanche Ebert Seaver, the accompanist, will also be enjoyed as composer.

—o—

University Faculty Recitals.

The opening event of the faculty series of lectures and recitals being offered free to the public by the University of Southern California was given Monday evening in the chapel of the university by Davol Sanders, violinist, and Adelaide Trowbridge, pianist, members of the faculty. It was an evening of chamber music, the programme including sonatas by Brahms, Grieg and Dubois.

The next musical event of the series will be given on Monday evening, March 22, and in addition to sonatas by Beethoven and John Ireland, the programme will include the Trio Op. 40, by Brahms, for violin, piano and French horn. The horn part will be played by S. B. Bennett, first horn with the Philharmonic Orchestra.

—o—

Ernest Douglas Recital.

An organ and piano recital was given by Ernest Douglas and Wesley K. Kuhnle, Tuesday evening, at 350 South Westmoreland avenue. Several of Mr. Douglas's own compositions were featured, including four organ etudes, a suite for organ and piano in E Minor, and a Prelude for organ and piano in D minor. Three piano compositions were presented by Mr. Kuhnle—"Tambourin" (Rameau-Godowsky;) Night Piece in F (Schumann,) and Impromptu in F Minor (Faure.)

—o—

Harmonia Club.

The Harmonia Music Club will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Frank Harford, 373 South Reno. The subject is "Fairy Tales in Music." Mrs. William G. Cross will be the leader. The programme is as follows: Current events, Mrs. Joseph Campbell; paper "Myths in Musical Literature," Mrs. Wm. Howard; Piano duets, "Fairy Tales," "The Giant and the Dwarfs" and "The Little Glass Man," Miss Nannie Clayton and Mrs. C. W. Harain; song, "The Little Dust Man" (Brahms,) Miss Esther Burrows; piano, "Traumerei" (Strauss,) Mrs. George Doane; a fairy tale, related by Miss Esther Burrows; piano, "Fable" (Schumann,) "Elfin Dance" (Grieg,) and "Dancing Fairies" (Pascal,) Mrs. George Simpson.

—o—

Programme at Gamut.

A musical entertainment of charm will be given at the Gamut Club Friday evening by Mr. William S. Hooser, assisted by Mlle A. Quaironi, the Misses Norma Beachchamp, Florence Georgia Taylor, Isabel Chandler, Betty E. Richie, Edna May Hoffman, Carrie Smith, Lucy Mertz, Ruth Bronson, Bonnie Hayes, Mildred Gilbreath, Edith Newman, Felice Jung, Mr. Frank Lamming and little Dorothy Warren.

—o—

Ferry Engagements.

Charles T. Ferry, composer-pianist, has filled engagements recently at the Santa Monica Women's Club, with Constance Balfour, soprano; at the Westlake Art Studios faculty recital, at the Matinee Musical Club, with Raymond Harmon, and with Grace Jess, soprano, at the Hollywood High School and the Beverly Hills Hotel.

—o—

Music Teachers' Association.

The manuscript programme of the Music Teachers' Association will be given tomorrow evening at Symphony Hall by Homer Grunn, pianist, who will be heard in some of his own compositions; Julius Seyler, violinist, who will play an Andante Religioso, by Abbie Norton Jamison; Raymond Harmon, tenor, who will sing a group of songs by Charles Pemberton, with the composer at the piano; Frank Geiger, basso, presenting a group of the same composer's songs; Harold F. Schwab, pianist, who will play three new works written by Gertrude Ross, and Howard Martindale, 'cellist, who will render a selection of his own compositions for 'cello.

—o—

Soloist with Band.

Pearle Cole McMullen, mezzo-soprano, will be soloist with Gregory's Royal Marine Band at the annual Orange Show in San Bernardino February 21 and 22.

—o—

Concert in Hollywood.

An event of interest in the social and musical circles of Hollywood is a concert to be given at Hollywood Woman's Club House Tuesday evening. The affair is for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of a new pipe organ for the church of the Blessed Sacrament of Hollywood.

Leading artists have contributed their talent for the programme, which is to include selections by Mrs. W. A. Banks and Miss May Trude, sopranos; James Burroughs, tenor; Miss May Le Grande, pianiste; Misses Lysbeth and Carolyn LeFevre, 'cellist and violiniste.

—o—

Returns to Teach.

Miss Rhea Foster of Artesia, associate piano teacher of the Davis Musical College, has returned from an extended auto tour through the East, and has resumed her work as teacher and student. She will be heard in a recital in the near future. Her trip to the East included visits to Denver, Chicago, Detroit, Washington and other cities.

—o—

Plays American Scherzo.

Miss Florence Gleason Davis, artist pupil of Vernon Spencer, played at the Wa-Wan Club at the Alexandria Thursday afternoon. Among her numbers were the Scherzo in E Flat Major, by Samuel Bollinger of St. Louis, heroic and rhapsodic work of beauty. This was its first performance in Los Angeles.

—o—

Big Symphonic Work.

Music lovers are promised rare enjoyment at the next concert of the Los Angeles Symphony Friday afternoon in the performance of the "Symphonic Epos," by Hugo Riesenfeld, said to be one of the biggest compositions of the kind.

The composer, one of the most promising of American musicians, will make a special trip from New York to hear his symphony. Riesenfeld's work is considered one of the most ambitious attempts ever made by an American in the field of music.

Adolf Tandler, conductor of the symphony, declared, after reading over some of the scores, that musicians and instruments would have to be imported to execute the composition. Instruments almost unheard of in the usual symphony orchestra are called for in the "Symphony Epos." The violins are divided into three sections. Six French horns are called for in the score.

The number will be played from manuscript and it is remarkable in that the difficulties for each instrument are extraordinary. The "Epos" has been rehearsed for some time past under Tandler's direction.

—o—

John Hand Concert.

The programme for the concert to be presented by John Hand under the auspices of the Matinee Musical Club Friday evening at the Ebell Club auditorium has been announced as follows:

"Cielo e Mar" from "La Gioconda" (Ponchielli,) Mr. Hand; "Twilight Dreams" (Sibelius,) "Kiss Me, Love" (Tosti,) and "Adoration" (Rosas,) Mr. Hand; waltz, E Major (Moskowsky,) Mr. Jensen; "Booted Hens" (Treharne,) and Negro spiritual "Didn't It Rain" (Burleigh,) Mr. Hand; "Vesti La Giubba" from "I'Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo,) Mr. Hand; Turkish march from "Ruins of Athens" (Beethoven-Rubinstein,) and Scottish dance (Beethoven-Busoni,) Mr. Jensen; "Lift Thine Eyes" (Logan,) and "On Away Awake Beloved" (Cowan,) Mr. Hand; "The Crying of Water" (Campbell-Tipton,) and "Hymn to the Night" (Campbell-Tipton,) Mr. Hand.

La Var Jensen will be accompanist.

Mr. Hand has attained prominence through his recitals in various sections of the country. He achieved especial success at a recent musical festival given in Tacoma.

Prior to his appearance here a reception with musical programme will take place. The following will render musical numbers: Ruth Hall Kennedy, soprano; Mellicent Virden-Jackson, pianist; Edmond Gattone, violinist (pupil of Theodore Gordohn;) Mrs. E. J. Parker, contralto, and a trio composed of Dettie A. Lee, piano; Mrs. Harry Underwood, violinist, and Mrs. Frederick Jungquist, saxaphone. Hilda Nolte, chairman of the programme committee, will be in charge.

The following will be guests of honor at the reception: Messrs. Walter Henry Rothwell, Adolph Tandler, Charles Wakefield Cadman, L. E. Behymer, Clifford Lott, Jaroslaw de Zielinski, Louis Dreyfus, Frank Colby, Carl Bronson and Edwin Schallert; Mmes. Lili Petschnikoff, Cornelia Rider-Passart, Bessie Bartlett-Franckel, Graham Putman, Constance Balfour, L. J. Selby, Abie Norton Jamison, Estelle Heartt Dreyfus, H. V. Goodfellow, Grace Widney Mabee, Albert Sherman Hoyt, Joseph Zoellner, James Henry Ballagh, Thomas E. Exley, Gertrude Ross, Clifford Lott, Florence Lawrence and Florence Pierce Reed, and Miss Fannie Dillon.

certainly feels like home to here in California," he and when I smiled, thinking that this was what every visitor says, he hastened to tell me why.

AS BAND IMPRESARIO.

"I originally brought Creatore's Band here in 1901. I had a band at Chutes Park, in 1902, '03 and '04. In 1905 I brought Ellery's Band here, and in 1911 and '12 the Lombardi Opera Company. I also managed the Pacific Coast Opera Company in that same year, so you see that I am really at home here. And again," he added, "you know I married a San Francisco girl."

"Judging by the names of your principals for the San Carlo Opera," I said, "they are mostly Italian and French."

"Not at all," he answered, "every-one of them is a thoroughbred American. Some of their names are foreign, but you will see when they sing that there is no accent. I couldn't very well have made the success I have, and in the way I have made it, if my principals had been foreigners. You know we don't only strike the large cities, but we take in scores of small towns where people have only read of grand opera, and heard it on phonographs. You would be surprised how much sensitivity these people, relatively ignorant of music, show, and they demand, and feel more at home with, and are in general more appreciative of, the efforts of their own countrymen and women than they would be of that exotic air which the obvious alien always carries about with him. You might say that what the Metropolitan Operahouse has done for New York, the San Carlo Opera Company has done for the entire country—and our work is only just begun."

"Do you find the response to opera as great today as it has been in the past?"

"Well, when you realize that after we had finished a two weeks' engagement in one large city we were forced by popular demand to stay another week, you can readily see that people are still going to hear the old favorites."

"Are these old favorites your only programme for the coming season, or do you intend to produce some newer opera?"

"Oh, yes, we intend even to produce some of Cadman's work before long and whenever things are presented to us which have a sure popular flavor, we shall give them unhesitatingly."

In connection with Emma Swift Hammerstein, widow of Oscar Hammerstein, Gallo proposes to present not only his two San Carlo companies, for he will have two next season, and his Gallo English Opera Company, but also Thomas Beecham's company from London, the Chicago Opera Company, on its visits to New York, and Anna Pavlowa.

Well Drilled.

"Do married men make better soldiers than single ones?"

"Of course. They're more accustomed to discipline."—[Baltimore American.

THE MUSICAL CYCLE OF LOCAL SUCCESS.

HOW STUDENTS WIN HONORS REVEALED IN CAREER OF YOUNG SINGER.

By James M. Warnack.

The beautiful name, Los Angeles, is the symbol of an eternal round of pleasure for the world's great artists while the artists reciprocate by creating an eternal round of pleasure for the entertainment lovers of Los Angeles. This is the day of "methods" and "systems" and the Los Angeles system is as follows: First, the Angel City, because of its climate, beauty and well-earned reputation as an art center, attracts hither scores of the best teachers of music, drama and terpsichore. In addition to the local pupils who seek these teachers for instruction, the latter are usually followed here by many of their old students of other cities.

Within a few months after a teacher's arrival in Los Angeles he announces that his star pupil, Miss So-and-os, has been engaged by the Orpheum management for a year's engagement. Miss So-and-so travels around the world on Orpheum time, returns to Los Angeles, entertains her old friends as headliner on the Orpheum bill, decides there's no place like home and settles down in Blanchard Hall or the Majestic Building to cultivate the talents of other local dancers, singers or actors.

An example of the Los Angeles system is to be noted in the appearance, last week at Pantages, of Miss Helen Thompson, who has just closed an engagement to appear, as prima donna, for fifty-two weeks with Lieut. Harrington Reynolds in "The Haberdashery." Miss Thompson is a pupil of Mme. Newcombe-Prindell, with whom she studied for six months just prior to signing the Pantages contract. Miss Thompson was a pupil of Mme. Prindell when the latter was in New York two years ago. Following a successful season in concert, she followed her teacher to Los Angeles to finish the course in voice culture which she had started in the eastern metropolis.

Although she has been in Los Angeles only a short time, comparatively, Mme. Prindell has had eighteen years of experience as a teacher of voice and the dramatic art. She has many pupils in professional work. One of her most prominent pupils is Miss Virginia Gage, niece of ex-Governor Gage, a mezzo soprano, who has been enjoying remarkable success this season as a singer at the Hotel Virginia in Long Beach.

"How old am I? Who were my ancestors? Where and by whom was I educated How many years have I been teaching? I know you will ask all these questions," said Mme. Prindell when seen by the interviewer at her studio yesterday. "Well, to begin with, I don't see the necessity for answering such queries. What difference does all that make? The point should be, what have I done, what are the results of my work in your city? I am ready to give full credit to my instructors, but it is not so much what I learned from them as what I impart to others that really counts. No, I never studied abroad. I am strictly American, but I have studied some at home and 'study is another form of travel.'

"The big question is not how many years one has 'practiced' playing, singing, speaking or painting, but, rather, did the pupil have any mind to start with and to what degree of intensity has he applied himself? One's attention is his very life, and I do not hesitate to say that, if the pupil be really interested, he can be taught more in an hour than he could learn by 'practice' under the average teacher in a week. It is purely a matter of application—continuous, unbroken application. In regard to my method of teaching, I believe the key to success is the fact that instead of continually pointing out students' faults, it is essential to eternally suggest the correct method."

Mme. Prindell said that it is her intention, in the near future, to publish a technical and practical book of instructions on voice culture.

PLANS BIG TOUR.

New York Philharmonic to Visit Coast Next Year.

A coast-to-coast tour, the first in its seventy-eight years of uninterrupted music-making in America, is now being planned by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the oldest symphonic organization in the country, and the third oldest in the world. The tour, which is scheduled to bring the Philharmonic in the vicinity of Los Angeles about April 22, 1921, is also the first trip further west than Detroit that the orchestra has made since 1915, when the Philharmonic successfully undertook an extended middle western and southern journey.

The noted American critic, James Gibbons Huneker, now writing for the New York World, has declared that "the history of the Philharmonic Orchestra is the history of music in America."

The first conductor of international fame with the Philharmonic was Carl Bergmann, who was a pioneer in introducing the music of Wagner to symphonic audiences in this country. Theodore Thomas, whom all Americans revere as the man who did more to spread the love of good music in this land than any other one person, was conductor of the Philharmonic for many years. After Theodore Thomas came Anton Seidl. At the time of Seidl's death he had been conductor of the Philharmonic for eight years. Among other famous conductors who have wielded the baton over this famous institution are Colonne, Wassily Safonoff, Henry Wood, Gustav Mahler and Josef Stransky.

DANCERS ARE BUSY.

Students of the Norma Gould School for Dancing have been in demand for programmes during the past two weeks. Miss Martha Gill, who appeared with Sadie Hindman as soloist at the charity ball given by the Million Club at the Gamut Club Tuesday, was also engaged for a number on the John McGroarty programme at the Pomona Ebell Club Friday. Miss Doris Carl gave her services, as soloist, to aid the girls' gym club of the Franklin High School in their dance pageant recently. "Le Probleme," a popular number by Dorothy Lyndall, Grace Williams, Elizabeth Schreiber and Dorothy Harris, will be presented as an interlude between two one-act plays offered by the drama section of the Wa Wan Club Thursday.

Musical.

take place this afternoon at Trinity Auditorium.

There will be two soloists at the concert—John Smallman, the baritone, who is well known here as conductor of the Los Angeles Oratorio Society, and Henry Svedrovsky, one of the gifted first violins of the orchestra.

Svedrovsky is a graduate of the Vienna Conservatory, having won, in open competition, a free scholarship, and graduated with the much-prized gold medal. During the last two years of his studentship at the conservatory he was also on full pay as a member of the Royal Opera of Vienna. He was brought to this country by Alfred Hertz, then conductor of the Metropolitan.

He will play the Vieuxtemps Concerto, his playing of which won his musical education.

The programme proper offers, also, the overture to the "Marriage of Figaro" (Mozart,) "Orpheus," the symphonic poem (Liszt,) the three pieces from "Sigurd Jorsalfar" (Grieg) and the rollicking "Carnival de Princesse d'Auberge," by the Belgian composer, Blocx.

Sunday afternoon, February 22, Sylvain Noack, concertmaster of the Philharmonic, will be soloist, while the next symphonic pair announced for February 27 and 28 will feature Marcella Craft of the San Carlo Opera Company.

Demonstrate New Method.

One of the most interesting recent recitals was that given yesterday evening by several pupils of Mrs. Winifred Stone Heaton, at the latter's home, 170 South Virgil avenue. The audience was given an opportunity to see, or rather hear, a demonstration of the "efficiency" method of teaching piano, recently evolved by Mrs. Heaton, who has written a book on the system, called "The Efficiency Idea." Among those present yesterday was Charles Wakefield Cadman, who expressed himself as well pleased with the results accomplished by Mrs. Heaton with her young pupils, and who predicted that the new method will be of great advantage to beginners on the piano.

"The inability to read is the most common deficiency of the music student," declared Mrs. Heaton. "It is the 'skeleton in the closet' of music, the bugbear that causes millions of bright students to give up in discouragement, yet there should be nothing laborious about reading notes, any more than there is about reading words. Every one who has ever taken music lessons will usually remember the notes on the treble staff, even if he has not tried to play for years.

"Why are these particular notes, and no others, remembered? Because they were the first impression on an undisturbed mind. Why are the others not remembered, since they are all of the same kind and quality? Why should the "lass notes" and those on the lines above and below have more terrors for the student?

"The usual method has been to teach the student the names of the notes on the keyboard—a, b, c, d, e, f, g. His attention is then drawn to the five parallel lines called the staff, and he is told that the notes e, g, b, d, f, are written on these lines in that order, starting from the lowest, counting upward. Then he is told that the four notes in the spaces are, in order, f, a, c, e, and he memorizes these symbols in this fashion.

"Then follow tedious five-finger exercises to drive this lesson home—and then the trouble begins. The pupil is given the combinations of notes in the lines and spaces above the treble staff and then the combinations in the lines below, in which the order is reversed and the combinations are different. All this is unnecessary."

You Cannot Hide Your Fat

Overfatness is the one misfortune you can not hide from yourself or from those around you. If too thin, your dressmaker or tailor can supply the deficiencies, but the overfat carry a burden they can not conceal. There is one sure way to reduce your weight safely and quickly. The harmless Marmola Prescription, which changes the fatty tissues and fat-producing foods to solid flesh and energy, helps the general health and digestion, permits you to eat and live as you like, and leaves the skin clear and smooth. This famous prescription is now condensed into tablet form. Each tablet contains an exact dose of the same harmless ingredients that made the original prescription capable of reducing the overfat body at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week without the slightest ill effects. Take but one tablet after each meal and at bedtime until the normal weight is reached and the bodily health completely restored. Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets, or send to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., and you will receive for $1 a full case—enough to start you well on your way to slimness and happiness.—[Advertisement.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—[Advertisement.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—[Advertisement.

Quick, Safe Way to Remove Hairs

(Toilet Talks)

Keep a little delatone powder on your dressing table, and when ugly, hairy growths appear, make a paste with a little of the powder and some water, apply and let it remain on the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. This treatment is quite harmless and rarely more than one application is required, but to avoid disappointment care should be used to buy the real delatone.—[Advertisement.

Remove Those Hairs —Roots and All!

(Absolutely New Method)

The new way to remove disfiguring growths of superfluous hair, roots and all, will astonish and delight you. You never saw or heard of anything like it before. It is not a depilatory and not electrical. You simply get a stick of phelactine from your druggist and follow the easy directions at home. In a few seconds you have removed the offending hairs, roots and all. With your own eyes you see the roots come right out. Phelactine is absolutely harmless, non-poisonous and perfectly odorless.—[Advertisement.

WEARS COAT OF "PRINCESS PAT."

Mrs. Lance's Uniform Recalls an Act of Heroism.

Member of Famous Regiment Willed it to Soldier.

Canadian Major Killed, but Remembered Private.

Today and for two weeks to come the uniform of the famous Princess Pat Regiment of Canada will be seen on the streets of Los Angeles. It will be worn by two persons, namely, Louis Lance of that regiment, and his wife, Gladys. She, however, is familiarly known as Princess Pat.

Lance and his wife come as attaches of the big free war exhibit of the Wortham shows. These open an engagement of two weeks in Prager Park tomorrow night under the auspices of Los Angeles Interpost Council of the American Legion. Mrs. Lance wears the overcoat of a major in the Canadian service. On the shoulder of the garment are the letters P.P.C.L.I. meaning Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Louis Lance,
One of the fourteen survivors of the noted Canadian regiment.

The story of how she got the coat is one of two game men who fell in the same battle. One was a major, the other a private. The major was killed outright, but the private lived to tell the story. He is Louis Lance.

HOW LANCE ENLISTED.

When the war broke out Lance, a western boy, rode across the Canadian line from North Dakota. In a few hours he had enlisted and was on the way to Toronto. He enlisted in the Princess Pat Regiment. He fought with it until wounded and sent back to Canada. When he returned to the ranks he was one of the fourteen men in the original regiment that went into the first action.

Lance was in the battalion commanded by Maj. Reynolds. Early in the war Reynolds took a liking to the American and showed him as many privileges as the rank between the men would permit.

Lance wore a wrist watch that caught the eye of his superior. Maj. Reynolds tried so often to beg or buy that watch that it became a joke between the men. Finally, in a spirit of jest, Maj. Reynolds said: "Lance, nothing but death would permit you to part with that watch. Now, if I outlive you I will get the watch, and if you outlive me you will get my overcoat, which you admire so greatly."

Lance agreed to the proposition.

A short time later Lance fought a duel with a German sharpshooter at 600 yards. At that distance the shots were fired with the aid of microscopic sights. Below the marksmen were observers who watched the hits of the bullets. Finally the men fired the fifth round at each other.

Lance fell back with a hole in his left forehead. His helmet had been struck by an explosive bullet. A part of the missile and a part of the helmet were blown into his head. He was taken back to the field hospital. By degrees he found his way to the general hospital in Halifax. From the time he was shot until he was discharged was fifteen months.

The night Lance was shot the battalion of which he was a member made a raid. This was to cover other activities on its right. The observer for Lance went forward in the charge, and crossing the spot to which he directed Lance's fire earlier in the day, he found the German sharpshooter dead.

MAJ. REYNOLDS FALLS.

Maj. Reynolds also fell in this fight. His wound was mortal. If he spoke after he fell no one knew of it. Lance was in the hospital at Halifax as a convalescent when one day the postmaster came through. He called for Lance, and then laid on his bed a big box.

Lance did not know what it might contain. The nurse opened it and found a note and the overcoat Maj. Reynolds had worn. The note was from the major's sister. It recounted the agreement between the men. This was set forth in the will of the officer. The family had located Lance through the London War Office, and the garment he so much admired was forwarded to him.

On his return to the United States his wife begged—or borrowed—the coat. Lance said he would never give it away. She was anxious to wear the garment. So Lance set about fitting it out for her. He ordered plenty of the British khaki and then a couple of trench caps. On these he put the emblem of the regiment. Giving his wife the cloth he sent her to a military tailor for a uniform like that of Princess Pat's. Mrs. Lance has worn it ever since.

When she arrives today you can easily pick her out of a crowd. The Canadian uniform is distinctive and the jaunty way she wears the trench cap give her almost an English appearance. Mr. Lance is the principal lecturer in the free war show. He brought with him from England on his last trip an English scout plane that made 229 successful flights over enemy lines and was shot down five times by the Teutons. Every time it fell within the Allied lines.

WOMEN.

Female workers in Japanese factories number 500,000, of whom 300 are under 20 years of age.

Polish women are renowned for the beauty of their hands; they place gracefulness of the hands above all other charms.

There have been a limited number of women admitted to the Order of the Garter, though for nearly 400 years no English sovereign conferred this honor on a woman.

Girls in England are said to have grown larger during the war. Waists now measure on an average 26 to 28 inches, while 7½ in gloves and sizes 7 and 8 in shoes, are sold.

That cotton can be grown in central Wisconsin has been proved by Mrs. Charles Meyers, Seven Mile Creek, Juneau county, who has raised several sturdy cotton plants from seeds, the stock of the most thrifty plant having on it ten perfectly developed cotton bolls.

Many of the factory women workers in Great Britain are widows of soldiers or sailors killed in the late war.

Women assistants are employed in nearly all the barber shops throughout Great Britain.

Five women are included in the membership of the municipal council of Amsterdam.

A strike of factory workers in Cocolpam, Mex., was broken by the women there, who went into the factories and did the men's work until the latter decided to return to their machines.

Among the Riffian pirates of Morocco the women do all the agricultural and other hard work, while the men, when at home, do the cooking and mend the clothes, including the women's.

Queen Elizabeth was much interested in the Girl Scouts while in this country and requested that full information be sent to her. A Girl Scout organization in Belgium may be the tangible result.

Miss Alicia I. Brown, a Wellesley College graduate and former Philadelphia girl, is director of welfare of Dallas, Tex.

Mrs. William Ewing, who recently died at Kansas City, had been attended continuously for seven years, seven months and fourteen days by Miss Laura Dean, a trained nurse.

The attendance of women at the English football games has increased to such an extent that most of the professional clubs have decided to withdraw the special concessions heretofore granted the fair sex in the way of free or reduced admission.

The wives of Siamese noblemen cut their hair so that it stands straight up on their heads. The average length is about one inch and a half.

The married Kaffir women are compelled to speak a language different from that of their husbands. They may not even pronounce their husband's name, but commonly refer to them as "the father of So-and-So."

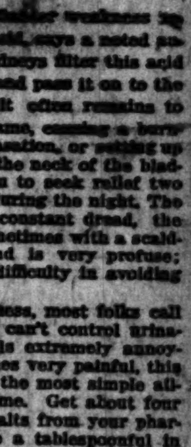
Yellow Mustard For Rheumatism



A good hot mustard plaster or poultice is pretty sure to overcome most rheumatic pains and even sciatica and gout, but it's a mussy affair and generally blisters.

Heat is absolutely necessary if you want permanent relief. Begy's Mustarine, made of true yellow mustard with pain relieving ingredients added is just as hot, is cheaper, cleaner and more effective than the old fashioned poultice or plaster and cannot blister.

Besides rheumatic pains and swellings Begy's Mustarine is speedily effective for lumbago, backache, neuritis, pleurisy, bronchitis, sore throat, chest colds and all aches and pains because heat eases pain—30 and 60 cents, at druggists or by mail, S. C. Wells & Co., LeRoy, N. Y.

BEGY'S MUSTARINE

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—[Advertisement.

Alkali In Soap Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless,) and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy; it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—[Advertisement.

To Remove Discolored, Coarse or Chapped Skin

If your skin is chapped, rough or harsh, dab a liberal amount of mercolized wax on the face and allow it to remain over night. When you wash off the wax in the morning, fine, flaky, almost invisible particles of cuticle come with it. Repeating this daily, the entire outer film skin is soon absorbed, but so gradually, there's not the slightest hurt or inconvenience. Even the ugliest complexion yields to this treatment. The underlying skin which forms the new complexion is so fresh and youthful looking you'll marvel at the transformation. It's the only reliable way to actually discard an aged, faded, freckled, blotchy or weather-beaten complexion. One ounce of mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store, is sufficient in most cases.—[Advertisement.

The People and Their Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

Women are Bad Sports.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

The most serious fault that I have to find with my sex is that women are bad sports. They do not know how to play the game, and when things go against them whine and howl.

You see this illustrated in a thousand ways at every turn in life. Women are such notoriously bad losers, for instance, that men dread to have any business dealings with them. A woman will implore a man to invest money for her, or she will importune him to let her go into some deal with him. The man will explain to the uttermost detail every risk, and tell her that there is nothing on earth she can put her money in that is absolutely safe except government bonds.

The woman will understand the situation thoroughly, and yet if the investment turns out badly, or she loses money on the speculation, she will overwhelm the man with her reproaches, and go through life feeling that he has robbed her.

For a woman to welch on a bargain is almost a habit of the sex. A woman will tell you in a most positive manner that she will take some article you have for sale, or she will make such and such a bargain with you, and then she will calmly repudiate the whole arrangement. She calls this changing her mind, and she considers it her inalienable right to do so, no matter even if she has made you miss a sale to some one else, or if she sends your whole scheme to pot by her defection.

There is no such thing as a "gentlewoman's agreement" among women, for women know better than to trust the word of another woman. Until you have a woman's check in your pocket you never have any idea of whether she is going to make good on her agreement or not.

This is not because women are less honest than men about money. It is simply that they have not developed in them that sporting spirit that makes them feel that they must stand by a good bargain, and that very often the less you want to do a thing, the more bound in honor you are to do it.

It is because women are bad sports that so many marriages end in divorce, for it is notable that far more women ask to be relieved of their matrimonial vows than men.

This is not because wives do their duty any better than husbands, or because men are less disillusioned by marriage than women are. Probably just as many women are bad wives as there are men who are bad husbands. Probably just as many men realize that they made mistakes in marriage and picked out the wrong woman for a wife, as there are women who realize that they missed their soul mate, and are tied to uncongenial and distasteful husbands.

But the men are good sports. They have assumed certain obligations, and they set their teeth, and determine to fulfill those obligations. They made bad bargains and they blame nobody else but themselves, and so they grimly go on enduring the unhappiness they brought upon themselves, as best they may.

But the women are not good sports. They also assumed obligations. They also made bad bargains, but when they realize what they have done they do not even try to make the best of their bad bargains. They go weeping to the divorce court.

Every young girl marries with her head full of impossible, romantic notions about matrimony. She expects it to be a perpetual picnic in which she will be fed upon strawberries, sugar and cream, and have nothing to do but to enjoy herself. Furthermore she expects her companion at the picnic to be a combination of a matinee hero, Mr. Rockefeller and Job — a superman who will always make romantic love to her, furnish her with unlimited money, and be a meek and humble door mat for her to tread upon.

The fact that she has observed that her mother has not had this sort of a life, nor any of her friends, and that she has not personally encountered any husbands who have any of the earmarks of the one she is confident that she will get, does not shake her faith in her belief that she will escape the common fate of married woman, nor the common variety of husband.

And when she marries and ascertains that she also has to work and economize, and nurse teething babies, and put up with an imperfect husband, she throws up her hands and howls out that she had been goldbricked in the matrimonial transaction, and she gets cold feet, and turns quitter.

Half the married women you know are whiners. Their only conversation is about their troubles. They go about with drooping shoulders and sagging mouths, railing at fate because of their hard luck, and when you sift their grievances down, nine times out of ten, it amounts to nothing except that they are too lazy to work and too cowardly to fight, and they haven't got enough pluck in them to take a little punishment without howling to heaven over it. They lack the sporting blood that makes an individual win out because he doesn't know when he is whipped, and keeps fighting on.

Women are bad sports in the face of disaster. There is nothing else more pitiful in the world than the fact that when a man comes a cropper in his business the thing he dreads most about it, the hardest thing about it, is having to tell his wife. Often rather than undergo this awful ordeal a man commits suicide.

It is a time when a man needs to be cheered, to be braced up, to have his heart filled with hope and courage by his wife, but instead of her doing this, she rends the air with her lamentations, or goes about looking like a persecuted early Christian martyr. She hasn't got the sporting spirit that mocks at danger, and fights its hardest when the odds are all against it.

They say that athletics will teach women to play the game of life fairly and squarely, and develop the sporting spirit in them. Lord send it. They need it.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Question: What is the world's largest poisonous snake? A. M.

Answer: The bush master is the largest known venomous snake. It inhabits the Amazonian region in South America. Its teeth and poison apparatus resemble those of a rattlesnake, and the fangs are very large. Death has been known to occur within ten minutes after the bite of one of these reptiles. It lives in dens and holes in the ground, frequenting river banks, and does not climb trees. This snake attains a length of twelve to fifteen feet; the color of its body is yellowish pink, with brown patterns and tints of purple.

Q.: How does the number of Protestants compare with the number of Catholics in the United States? C. L. E.

A.: According to the latest statistics available the total Protestant church membership is given at 25,980,456, and the Roman Catholic figures at 17,549,324. The Protestant figures include only church members of a family, while the Catholic statistics represent adults and children. There are also estimated to be 260,000 members of Jewish synagogues and 494,338 Mormon church members.

Q.: What are the tallest lighthouses on the Atlantic Coast, and how far can they be seen? E. B. I.

A.: They are the Navesink, N. J., lighthouse, which can be seen for a distance of twenty-two miles; the Chapel Hill, N. J., which can be seen twenty-two miles; the Staten Island lighthouse, which can be seen for twenty-one miles, and the Block Island, R. I., lighthouse, visible for twenty-one miles. These structures range in height from 200 to 246 feet.

Q.: Last year my wife earned $1000 and my salary was $1500. How much income tax will we have to pay? R. E. S.

A.: If you have no children or other exemption you will have to pay income tax on your combined income over $2000, which is $500. The rate is 4 per cent., which makes the amount of tax you will have to pay Uncle Sam $20.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Is Purity Squad Pure?

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—[To the Editor of Times Times:] I am a reader of your paper and I see you have a column where the people can at least have some say as to what's right and wrong. I have been coming to California for many winters and think your city by far the most attractive of any on the Coast. Of course, all large cities have their problems to contend with, but in doing so I can't see why they will allow the tourist and the strangers within your gates to be annoyed while walking on the brightly-lighted streets. I believe in trying to keep the city clean as far as possible of all objectable persons at the same time I think people have some rights and are entitled to some protection from being annoyed by the disgraceful habit of the purity squad using Uncle Sam's sailor and soldier uniforms to carry on their work. We are taught to look upon the uniform as almost sacred and to always hold it in the highest respect, but when you are approached on the brightly-lighted streets at night by sailors and soldiers trying to do the he vamp stunt on you so as to get you into trouble, I think it is time to make a kick and protest to higher ups. Am I right or not? We all recall the recent trouble in Newport, R. I., about the sailors being sent out to try and rope civilians into the meshes and the bitter protest from seven of the leading ministers there. Well I think it high time that some of the ministers here take up the matter and put a stop to this dirty low habit of sending young sailors out on Broadway to act as stool piegons for the Purity Squad. I often wonder if the so-called Purity Squad would bear a close investigation. A. TOURIST.

An Open Letter.

WICHITA FALLS, (Tex.) Jan. 28.—Horatio Bottomley, Esq., Editor of John Bull, London:

Sir, I have just read, in the evening paper, of an editorial attributed to you, questioning the good faith of the United States toward its Allies, both during the war and since. I regret this editorial very much. I do not doubt the honesty of your intentions; but I do say that there is rejoicing in Berlin whenever, in one of the Allied countries, any kind of an attack is made upon another.

In the American army, during the war, were thousands upon thousands of men who are German by birth and descent. Many of them are good citizens and were good soldiers. On the other hand, many of them were in the army only because they were drafted and were at heart traitors to America and to the Allied cause. These men did not dare to shoot in the wrong direction, nor did they dare declare their true sentiments, but they did dare attempt to poison the minds of their comrades against any and all of the allies of America, and naturally, though unfortunately, some of this seed fell upon fertile ground. There was such propaganda in the ranks of your own army and among the French and Italians. And there was fertile soil there also.

I have said that there is rejoicing in Berlin over its success. I go further and say that I believe it had its inception in Berlin. We must remember that in dealing with Germany we are dealing with a beast that has human intelligence—with a human intelligence that has no conscience and we must watch lest we be entrapped.

When I was in England in the uniform of an officer of the American army, I heard remarks which were not pleasant to American ears and one of the most offensive of these speeches came from a man in British uniform; but I made allowances, for I knew that an Englishman expressing anti-American sentiments was either a pro-German or else had been misled by someone who was. He was certainly not representative of the English nation.

You may be assured that the same may be said of anyone in America who expresses similar sentiments toward England. If it were possible to identify such persons and exclude them from governmental positions, high and low, in England and America, we would have far less cause to fear the Hun than we have at present.

I urge that hereafter, when you read American dispatches or publications, you keep in mind the fact that in America, as in England, the population may be classed under two heads, namely, patriots and traitors, and that when one of the latter spreads the propaganda of his Kaiser, he gives it as many American earmarks as he can. Remember also that by unity of action, made possible by mutual confidence, the Allies wrought upon the Hun such defeat as he suffered, and that only by a continuance of such mutual confidence can they keep him within bounds.

If some braggart in my country claims that America won the war, remember that he is either a fool or a liar and that no one with intelligence believes him. If Tommy Atkins makes such a claim for England I shall not dispute him. Perhaps it will make Tommy feel happy and it certainly does not harm me. You and I know that history will place the glory where it belongs—upon the banners of the Allied countries. Let us not dim the luster of that glory by petty quarreling.

Let us then both be careful, you in your high calling as editor of John Bull, and I in my humbler sphere, that we may not exert our influence in behalf of the beastly Hun.

Respectfully,

J. L. DeGROOT.

Children Undervalued.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Excitement is running high about the great menace of the Jap baby outnumbering the white; but the fact that the white man sets less value on the children of his race then any other man in the world is never touched upon. No other race has exploited the young women of their race as has the white man. From a girl's fourteenth year and all through her early twenties she is betrayed, assaulted and her body commercialized on stage, screen an brothel, and never a voice raised against it. Read the advertisement telling of "girls show." Not long ago in one of the Broadway movie houses they had young girls in transparent skirts come down the aisle to let the male audience feast upon their exploited bodies, and never a word of this menace does Senator Phelan mention.

Well, if the white man is not conscious of this menace the woman of the white race is, and she as the real custodian of the race, has without words or demonstration of any kind, except mental telepathy, renounced her motherhood until the bodies of her little girls will no longer be the targets for the lust of those responsible for her being, and until then let the white man cease his whining. When the government considers the women of equal value with mail boxes and other federally protected factors in life, perhaps the male lepers may become extinct through starvation or suicide, until then the fewer white children born the better for the white race. JULIA MORGAN.

About "Standards."

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In one of the recent incitements to race hatred by which the press is fostering and festering the personal political ambitions of a few of our provincial Chauvinists, are the following two statements:

(1.) The Japanese produce and control about 75 per cent. of the vegetable crop of California, having sold their share for some $62,000,000.

(2.) The Japanese can and do undersell the white producer, owing to their "lower standard of living."

The question is: What would we, the consumers, have had to pay for our vegetables if the white producer had been able to get his price for them without the competition from the Japanese, and with his "higher standard of living" to maintain?

And since we consumers are supposed to want to pay extra for this high standard of living for our farmers, what is it, anyway? Two Patterns of English Porcelain Sets At $29 and $30

—This porcelain is from Johnson Brothers, who have one of the best potteries in England. We have complete assortments in two patterns—one has a lace-like, conventional design in black, gold edged. Fifty pieces compose a set. Another has pink roses in the border, artistically combined with blue, green and a bit of yellow.

—A service for six persons may be had for $29.00.

Japanese Tea Sets $5

—Three different decorative designs are available in these quaint Japanese tea sets—one is in blue and gold; the others characteristically delicate water scenes. Each set consists of teapot, sugar and cream pitcher and six cups and saucers.

Handled Nappies at 25c

—that are suitable for jelly, olives, etc., five and a half inch size. Fifth Floor.

After Many and Various Delays a New Shipment of

HAVILAND CHINA

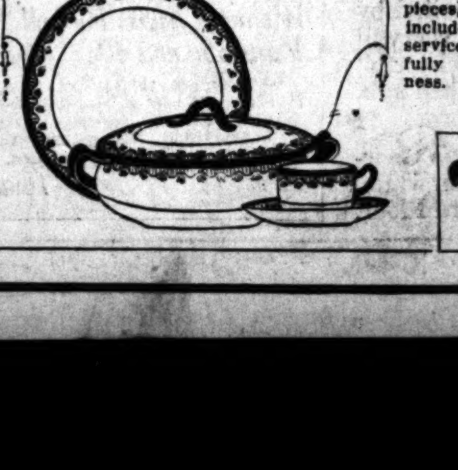
Has Come from Limoges

—One entirely new and very beautiful design is noted: it has a broad, old ivory band, with a border of black and yellow, tiny pink roses and a gold edge; gold handles; the whole makes a lovely and rich combination that must be seen to be appreciated.

—A set consists of eighty-two pieces — a complete service for six persons—and the price is $163.00.

—Another popular pattern has a border of combined green, tan and pink, with black and gold lines.

—Fifty-piece sets of this pattern—a service for six persons — at $85.00, which is dollars less than the marked price.



—It is interesting to note that in both these patterns, one may choose various odd pieces, which while not included in the usual service, yet add delightfully to its completeness. Fifth Floor.

If You Plan the Purchase of Material for Suit or Dress, Be Sure You See

These New Weaves

—Let us suppose that the idea of getting some navy blue serge is uppermost in your mind—and a very wise idea it is!—you will find, among these newcomers, qualities that will surely please you. For instance:

—40-Inch French Serge at $3.00.
—42-Inch French Serge at $3.50.
—44-Inch French Serge at $4.00.
—56-Inch Tailors' Serge at $4.50.
—54-Inch Tailors' Serge at $5.00.

—Among silk weaves, we suggest:

Foulards at $3.50
—In the new designs and colorings; width 36 inches.

Suiting Pongee $3.50
—Of very heavy weight and rough finish; natural color; suitable for suits or coats.

Silk Pongee $3.25
—A quality of smooth, lustrous finish, suitable for dresses; natural color; width 40 inches.

Symphony Crepe
—A new sports weave that comes in two-tone effect, plain colors and in brocades. Price, $8.00 and $9.50.

—Suitable linings for the spring coat or suit are:

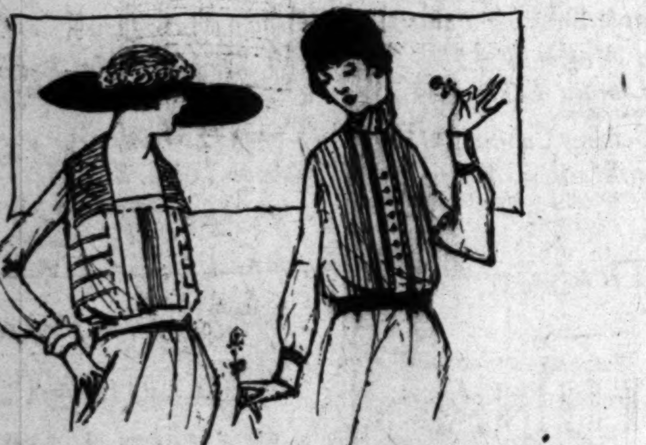
Printed Linings $2.00
—They show the new Greenwich village designs that are so much in demand just now. Width 32 inches.

Satin de Chine $3.00
—Also cotton-back satins; both weaves to be had in attractive printed patterns for linings. Width, 36 inches. Second Floor.

A Diverse Showing of New Silk Petticoats $6.95 to $16.95

—They are of crepe de chine and of washable satin in flesh tint and in white. Some have the double panel in front and in back and are plainly tailored; others are beautiful with rufflings of lace and net.

—Second Floor.



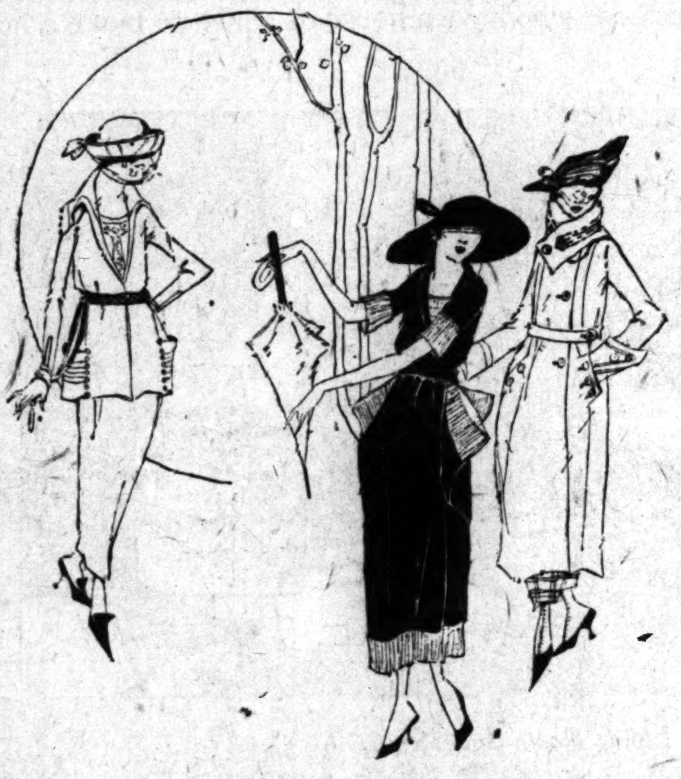
A Just-in Shipment of Welworth Blouses at $6.75

—The "Welworth" make of blouses needs not to be exploited by us for its perfection of detail, materials used, etc., so we will merely say that, in this just-received assortment of "Welworth" blouses, there are models in crepe de chine, tubable striped silk, crepe de chine and crepe Georgette.

—All of the springlike colorings are to be had in the crepe Georgette blouses, brown, taupe, flesh, dark blue, and, of course, white.

—Third Floor.

—Perhaps there is no season of the year when femininity gives itself up, quite so happily, quite so whole-heartedly, to the choosing of new raiment, as is the case in this blithesome season upon which we are now entering!
—Winter-worn things seem somber, cumbersome; the new spring apparel that one sees in the shops has a lightness, an abandon of charm about it that seems in tune with the pretty days that we're all enjoying to the full—small wonder that we feel the buying of spring clothes to be a matter of momentous importance!



—The departments at The Broadway are replete with, oh, such pretty things!—quite irresistible you'll find them!
—We mention specifically:

Spring Suits at $95.00

—Charming models they are, to be sure, made of tricotine, Poiret twill and beautifully fine serge.

—Plainly tailored suits—others that are semi-tailored—still others that are more ornate in design, lovely embroidery being used with charming effect in some cases.

—We picture a model of navy Poiret twill which has a modish vestee of Morocco red duvetyn embroidered in silver. It is but one of many lovely suits to be had at $95.00.

Spring Coats at $95.00

—Just made for slipping lightly over pretty frocks and to perform their protective office without any unwelcome crushing.

—We illustrate a particularly attractive coat of very fine Bolivia in soldat bleu with silvery over-surface. It has a large collar of the adaptable sort, is belted all-around, has slash pockets and the sleeves are generously cuffed.

—This coat is lined with color-dappled silk and is effectively trimmed with buttons and with stitching in heavy silk.

Taffeta Dresses at $49.75 to $65.00

—Rarely have we had such beauties to show—the variety of models and of colors combine to make this collection of dresses one from which you will enjoy choosing yours!
—The model shown in the sketch is of navy taffeta. It has the new scarce-elbow sleeves which are finished with flat cuffs formed by closely-lying pleats of silk. The cross-over bodice reveals a wee chemisette of fine white net; the skirt has the high-in-favor bouffancy at the hips. This dress is priced at $65.00. Third Floor.

Women's Mercerized Lisle Stockings, 75c

—They may be had in black, white and navy, and are made with deep garter tops, soles, heels and toes. Exceptional value at 75c.

Women's Full Fashioned Silk Stockings $1.10

—They have elastic tops, soles, heels and toes of lisle and are well reinforced. These stockings have slight imperfections, which should in no way affect the wear. They make it possible, however, for us to sell them at $1.10 a pair.

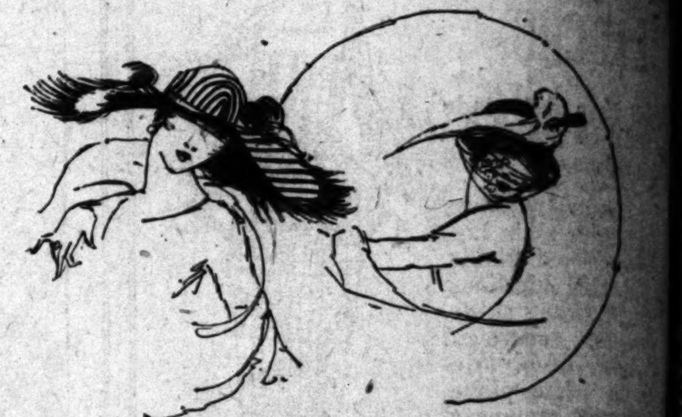
Women's Knit Union Suits 69c and 79c

—They are low neck, sleeveless union suits with tailored band-top finish, choice of loose or tight-fitting knees. In regular sizes the price is 69c; in outsizes they are 79c.

Women's Swiss Ribbed Vests 35c and 40c

—They are to be had in pink only; a choice of two styles—low neck, sleeveless with narrow shoulder straps, or with bodice top. Exceptional value, 35c for regular sizes, 40c for outsizes.

Aisles 6 and 8.



The Vogue for Black Hats Is Exemplified Here

—and they are black hats that will commend themselves to Madame Ma'm'selle alike—light, airy creations that weigh no more than the feather—many of them transparent, so that they reveal the shining beneath—others of more practical, but no less attractive designing.

Two Models Are Shown Herewi

—One is a big picture hat of maline, whose narrow-at-front-and-back, at-sides brim is partly underfaced with black satin, while wee rows of braid are sewed closely upon its upper edge and upon its soft crown.
—Flat mounts of burnt goose are laid upon the edge of the brim at side. Price $32.00.
—The other hat is a small affair of black Italian milan, the trimming ing white wings, held in place by a lovely pin of black jet and

SWINNERTON'S "SEPTEMBER."

A New and Powerful Novel by Leading British Writer in Which He Makes an Intensive Study of the Soul of a Woman.

SEPTEMBER. By Frank Swinnerton. George H. Doran Company, New York.

A new novel that every reviewer in England and America is certain to open with special interest is "September" by Frank Swinnerton. For in his last book, "Nocturne," Mr. Swinnerton revealed a remarkable power of analysis, a subtle realism, a clarity of vision, and an intensity of visualization that insure an eager reception on the part of the critical public of any book he may write.

We do not read far in "September" without discovering that it is altogether different from "Nocturne," different in theme, in the type of character studied, and in method. We would hardly expect Mr. Swinnerton to repeat himself by resorting to the same dramatic condensation of event and time that marked "Nocturne"—a novel in which the Greek unities were observed with high dramatic effect. Neither could we hope to meet again such a character as "Pa," the father of Emmy and Jenny, a character that is unsurpassed in all fiction for individuality combined with trueness to type.

But "September" appears with an individuality of its own, altogether different from its predecessor, but almost if not quite as remarkable a book.

It is a study of the mind and heart of Marian Forster, "a secret creature capable of baffling one much more subtle than her husband," a woman self-controlled, poised, aloof, credited with coldness and indifference, who secretly longed for happy experience, for love, for the keen zest of living. To this woman, 38 years old, wife of Howard Forster, who is neither deep nor subtle, and who seeks the society of younger and gayer women whom he can fathom and dominate, comes Nigel Sinclair, twelve years her junior, an idealist and an enthusiast, ardent, eager, impetuous.

"He seemed to strike a note in her that had been unmoved for many years and that now vibrated with exquisite sweetness." No longer did she feel set, uneager, tired. The intellectual propinquity with Nigel aroused and warmed her. She spoke with a new voice, moved with new grace, breathed a new joy in life.

Then "trapped by her age and temperament," she sent Nigel away unsure of her love. She withdrew, as she scornfully told herself, "like a cat afraid to wet its paws," because some instinct made her see the impossibility of continued love between herself and Nigel. May and September were unalterably apart.

"It was not cowardice that had made Marian deny herself, nor any sense of moral duty to Howard." If there be readers with a strain of Puritanism in them who are old-fashioned enough to prefer to see a high-minded creature like Marian hesitate before taking on a lover, on the old grounds of morality, it must be admitted that this is far from Swinnerton's view. Like the other newer British novelists, he scorns conventional morality as he scorns all other conventions. What the effect of this attitude of the keenest and freshest minds of a nation is going to be on the life of that nation is a problem of more than literary interest. At least one may be sure that those whose philosophy of life accords with the author of "September" will live candid, open, God-fearing lives according to their own standards. But can the individual, who is inevitably a part of society, live according to his own standards? If so, what is going to happen to society?

Contrasted with Marian, yet subtly like her in her deeper and more permanent aspects, is Cherry Mant, a young girl at times cold and calculating, cruelly selfish and self-willed, bitterly determined, jealous, envious, scheming, but foiled in her own bad intent by a conscience that would assert itself, by a longing for uprightness and decency and candor and self-respect.

Cherry is intrigued by Marian, whom she alternately loves and hates, and who eventually becomes her ideal of womanly character. The efforts of these two to understand each other, to come together, to harmonize, are delineated with a depth of psychology that is beyond compare.

Cherry's abortive fling with Howard, her cold devilitry in resolving to win Nigel from Marian, her chagrin and real repentance when Marian is kind to her and tries to help her, and her final definite acceptance of Marian as guide, philosopher and friend are told with an astonishing realism.

The character of Howard is as true to life in its way as that of his vastly more complex wife. In the end we look upon him with the sympathetic toleration that Marian accords him, realizing the frailty of human nature and the limitations of life.

The story unfolds through the medium of Marian's mind. We see the characters as she saw them, being permitted to follow her stream of consciousness and so to have life reflected from her mind. There is an impressionism in the method that reminds one of Dorothy M. Richardson in "The Pilgrimage," though Mr. Swinnerton refrains from the nonessential, the mere mental reactions that lead nowhere. He focuses the attention on the vital moments of Marian's life and thought, and so his book never lacks movement, intensity, vitality.

"September" is a thought-provoking book that will be read and enjoyed by the more discriminating class of readers.

Little Boy Blue

wasn't such a naughty boy to fall asleep under a haystack—and Little Bo-Peep wasn't such a naughty girl either, if the truth were only known.

—Why, do you know? Little Boy Blue and Little Bo-Peep didn't have a Book Corner of their own to go to, where there were lots of interesting books for children—such as are to be found in Bullock's Book Store.

—Maybe Little Boy Blue's mother and Little Bo-Peep's mother didn't know of that Children's Corner in Bullock's Book Store, either.

—If they did, they could have gone there and found just the right kind of books for children.

—There are pretty pictures in these books—and there are stories in lots of them for mother to tell at bedtime, with suggestions on how to tell them, too—and then there are books for boys and girls who read themselves.

—All of these books have been chosen with great care—so that Little Boy Blue of today may read of the beautiful things that Little Boy Blue of yesterday probably saw in his dreams under the haystack.

—And Little Bo-Peep of today may read about the sheep and the meadows and the flowers out over the horizon where the sheep of Little Bo-Peep of yesterday wandered unattended.

—Yes, there are just such books as these—lots of them—and attendants who know children and their book desires—in the Children's Corner—at Bullock's Book Store.

—P.S.—Thomas Bird Mosher, who made the Mosher Books, created an ideal in book making that is difficult to mistake—have you seen the Mosher Books at Bullock's Book Store? Second Floor.

POPULAR WRITER SUGGESTS SLOGAN.

"If You Want it Enough You will do It."

BY JULIET WILBOR TOMPKINS.

Juliet Wilbor Tompkins, author of "A Girl Named Mary," "The Starling" and other popular books of current fiction, in a recent interview had some interesting things to say regarding the questions that were asked her about herself and her books.

"If I were interviewing writers, I should not ask them to say something to the public, but instead I should ask what the public is saying to them. Nothing I could say about 'The Starling' would be half so interesting as the human documents it has brought me. It has rediscovered for me one of the eternal minor tragedies of the world—the loneliness of youth. The starling's cry, 'I can't get out,' has echoed through impetuous young letters. 'My life has a hedge around it, too,' they write—'oh, how can I get out into life?' How can they? My starling found the way, but that is only a story. I can give them a slogan: 'If you want it enough, you will do it.' But if they seize on the promise with excited hope, it only means that they have not taken the measure of that tremendous 'enough.' When they cry out for a shining thing called 'life,' it is an ungracious return to give them a sentence to hard labor.

"There are several questions that I should like to see eliminated from the interviewer's list," the writer said, smiling. "The first of these is, 'What are you doing now?' So often one is covering sofa cushions or inventing salads or otherwise off the key expected of the woman writer. Recently I evaded the question from a gracious and lovely visitor with, 'Well, I published a book last week.' The kindest of hands touched my knee. 'My dear, you must be so tired!' The implication was that she could scarcely have expected to find me sitting up yet. I did not explain how many months had passed since 'The Starling' had left my hands. It was simpler to look languid.

"Another objectionable question is, 'Do you get your characters from life?' The only truthful answer to that is 'Yes and no.' One borrows a trait from a living model and fashions a whole being of it as Adam's rib was fashioned into Eve; but in the interest of making Eve live and move, the creator forgets Adam's contribution, and it is a stupid business to find others tracing back the rib. Thrice stupid when they recognize its origin in their own sides and grow indignant about it. Suppose one did catch up one's grandmother's penuriousness or one's child's temper to feed the vital spark? One has already made relentless public use of every mean rib in one's own anatomy, if they only had the wit to see it."

EPIC OF SPORT.

REYNARD THE FOX. By John Masefield. Macmillan Co., New York.

"Reynard the Fox" is an English epic of the national sport of fox hunting. That is to say, it is a voluminous and enthusiastic description of the chasing of a fox—for as long a period as he could travel at his best speed over an English countryside.

The pursuers are a choice and individually described lot of men and women, mostly of high degree, mounted on swift and strong steeds, preceded by a pack of trained hounds.

A spectator from some other planet, where fair play is the rule of action, might imagine that if such a worshipful company of hunters had trained themselves to follow the fox on foot, thus testing the worth of their own cunning and the speed and staunchness of their own legs, in just comparison with the wiliness and wiriness of the fox, the tale might better be worth a poetical setting.

In the present story, the fox was saved by the merest fluke.

That all this is hardly a fit subject for a heroic poem must be the feeling of most Americans, who have never been able to enter zestfully in any race for the tail of a fox. Despite Mr. Masefield's fluency and clarity of style and his keen descriptive power and generally acclaimed poetic ability, "Reynard the Fox" is far from being a great poem.

ART AND ARCHAEOLOGY.

Beginning with the January, 1920, number, Art and Archaeology again returns to the monthly basis, as in 1917. In response to the great demand that has come from readers for articles in the American field the publishers are devoting the January and February numbers to the American Indian, the material for which has been gathered by Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, director of the School of American Research, Santa Fe, N. M., one of the board of editors.

These articles naturally group themselves under two heads—(1) Native American Esthetics, and (2) The American Indian—and really form parts I and II of one treatise—an admirable continuation of the American numbers published in former years. The contents are as follows: "America in the Evolution of Human Society," by Edgar L. Hewett; "Red Man Ceremonials: An American Plea for American Esthetics," by Marsden Hartley; "The Fiesta of Santa Fe," by Paul A. F. Walter; "The Survival of an American Art," by Olive Wilson; "Recent Southwestern Art," by Edgar L. Hewett; "Current Notes and Comments and Book Critiques."

Psychological Analysis.

Frank Swinnerton,
Author of "September."

WHEN THE WORKMEN HELP MANAGE.

WHEN THE WORKMEN HELP YOU MANAGE. By William R. Basset. The Century Company, New York.

The author, who is an industrial engineer of many years' experience, has attempted to analyze the causes of friction between capital and labor and to arrive at the method that should be adopted to remove the friction.

While the book is written from the manager's standpoint, there is much in it that will give the average large employer of labor a distinct shock.

For instance, in his chapter entitled "Preserving the Wage System," he says: Not wages alone, but the whole wage system, is today on trial throughout the world. The test has not yet come in America, but it will come, and we shall either have to reply with an adequate wage system or accept the principle of Marxian Socialism with its total abolition of capital and wages. . . . If the wage system is to survive the coming test, it must be sound and equitable.

"If the wages of both capital and labor are so nicely adjusted that each is better off in union than it would be apart, then the capitalist system—the wage system—is justified. Otherwise it is not.

"The object, then, is to adjust these wages to a nicety, so that the benefits will be mutual—so that each will get its fair share and each will know that it is getting its fair share. There is no innate compatibility between capital and labor: they are bound only by money ties—which, until human nature changes, will be the strongest ties known. If capital cannot have a fair share it will not bother to employ itself and will seep away. If labor cannot make any money out of capital, it will conclude, with the Bolshevists, that production for profit is a failure and that capital had best be abolished, and production for use substituted."

With this statement of principles the author advocates the guarantee of year-round employment, increasing the production efficiency of the individual laborer through enlisting the interest, and self-interest, of the worker, the encouragement of creative craftsmanship, and above all the adoption of a new attitude toward labor.

While favoring business, he belittles profit-sharing and the devices that he calls palliatives. Of special value to the employer of labor is the author's account of various concrete problems he has met and helped to solve.

BUSINESS BOOKS.

ADVERTISING AS A VOCATION. By Frederick J. Allen, A.M. The Macmillan Company, New York.

The author, who is connected with the bureau of vocational guidance of Harvard University, lecturer of vocational guidance, Boston University, and author of "Law as a Vocation," "Business Employments," and "The Shoe Industry," has given us a work that bears the stamp of eminent authority.

The purpose of the book, which is to show the nature, growth and probable future of advertising as an important department in the business world, is on the whole well carried out. The divisions and extent of the field, the various mediums employed to reach the buying public, and the opportunities to be found in publicity work are all treated fully.

The rewards of the successful in this field strike the reviewer as being somewhat overstated. But the book is cram full of valuable suggestion and information, not only for the student of advertising, but for those actually engaged in the business.

MERCANTILE CREDITS AND COLLECTIONS. By Charles A. Meyer. The Macmillan Company.

A book written by an experienced credit man intended to aid the student of credits and collections in acquiring the necessary knowledge of the technical side of the work. The fundamentals of credit and the methods of securing information are dealt with.

TRAVELING SALESMANSHIP. By Archer Wall Douglas. The Macmillan Company.

The author is chairman of the Committee of Statistics of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and author of the book "Merchandising." He speaks from an experience covering forty years of close contact with the traveling salesmen of one of the largest merchandise distributing organizations in the country and has succeeded in making himself exceedingly clear.

The chapter titles are as follows: The nature and function of salesmanship; preparations for the road; work on the road, contact with customers; competition and prices; some phases of selling. This last part of the book will be the most interesting to the man in the game as it is one of the most comprehensive coverings of the subject we have ever come across either on the printed page or otherwise. It also includes advertising, claims, and the human equation.

THE FLOW OF VALUE.

THE FLOW OF VALUE. By Logan Grant McPherson. The Century Company, New York.

This book traces in broad outline the sequence of cause and effect in the determination of prices, wages and profit. It demonstrates that as all things and services bought and sold are produced by the application of human effort, the greater volume that is produced in relation to the effort applied, the greater will be the supply and thus the greater will be the supply that each person will receive. It is only by the means of capital that there can be the greatest volume of production. Business cannot be provided except through the investment of profit by the employer, or of savings, which are in the nature of profit, by the employee.

Those who do not spend all they receive have property in capital, and may derive profit from its use under the direction of employers with the brains and capacity for co-ordinating both capital and labor. The employer employs the employees for the purpose of obtaining a greater profit than he could otherwise secure, and the employee employs the employer for the purpose of obtaining a better living for himself than he could otherwise secure. Effective co-ordination in the production of things and services in due relation would mean employment for all who are employable, and abundance for everyone.

The author first became known through his studies in transportation and research under the auspices of the Johns Hopkins University, where for nine years he was lecturer on transportation. He was also director of the bureau of railway economics.

A BOOK BY JUSTICE HOLMES.

Lawyers and many laymen will find unusual interest in the announcement that Harcourt, Brace and Howe have arranged with Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes for the early publication of his "Collected Papers," which will include all of Mr. Justice Holmes's legal papers and addresses from 1880 to the present time. The opinions of Mr. Justice Holmes have been more than judicial decisions; vigorous and often pungent expressions of one of America's real personalities, they may be regarded among the most important milestones on the road to a better democracy.

BOOK NOTES.

A Suffragist Problem.

An amusing story comes from the Sons about the proofs of "Basketball Sons aboutthe proofs of "Basketball and Indoor Baseball for Women" which they have just published. The authors discussing a play in baseball quite innocently spoke of "the man on third." This offended the sense of verities of the proofreader (probably a suffragist) who suggested a change to "the woman on third." The editors, however, feeling that the book was a manual of athletics and not for women's rights, played safe with "the player on third."

Oppenheim Farce Comedy.

E. Phillips Oppenheim, author of "The Great Impersonation," (Little Brown) has at last achieved the goal of his ambition—he has written a successful play "The Eclipse," a farce, which is drawing large audiences at the Garrick Theater, London.

Spirit Communication.

"A Cloud of Witnesses" will be the title of a book by Mrs. Reginald de Koven, to be published soon by E. P. Dutton & Co., in which she will recount her experiences in communicating with those who have passed beyond, experiences so many that they have convinced her that the spirits of those who die pass on into another form of existence in which it is possible for them to communicate with their friends upon the earth.

Critical Analysis of Foch.

"Foch: Winner of the War," by Capt. Raymond Recouly, which the Scribners are publishing in the latter part of February, will be the first book in English on Foch written by one who has had an intimate association with the great commander. Capt. Recouly's book ought to prove particularly interesting and significant as he worked personally under Foch and saw him during the greatest crises of the war and as he gives both an authoritative picture of the personality of the great Allied commander and a critical analysis of his military techniques.

Nancy Hanks in Fiction.

The latest book by Maria Thompson Davies, author of "Blue Grass and Broadway," etc., is now on the press and will be published in March by the Century Company, according to a recent announcement of the publishers. The new book is reported to be a romance telling the story of the meeting, the courtship and the married life of Lincoln's father and that little known character, Nancy Hanks. The title of this novel is to be "The Matrix."

"The Rolling Stone."

Alfred A. Knopf has just published "The Rolling Stone," by C. A. Dawson-Scott. This book marks the first American appearance of this English novelist, whose work is published in London by William Heinemann. It is the story of a boy who is "different" from the rest of his family and how he works out his destiny from his early youth in England to his adventures in India and then in South Africa, where he fights in the Boer War.

"Harper's" New Editor.

Thomas Bucklin Wells, new editor-in-chief of Harper's Magazine, is a man of strong literary tastes—which he refuses to divulge publicly, knowing from long experience that an avalanche of manuscript on one particular subject can be brought down on the editorial head by an indiscreet remark. Mr. Wells served for many years as the associate of the late Henry Mills Alden, in the editorship of Harper's, his connection dating from the time when, as a young man in the publicity department of the publishing house, he used to submit suggestions for articles. He is quite as keenly interested in the technical side of magazine-making as in the literary one, and all of the pictures, as well as stories, poems, and articles that go into Harper's Magazine, pass through his hands.

Books in Third Editions.

Of their new fall publications, Dodd, Mead & Co. announce that three or more editions have been printed of "Sir Harry," by Archibald Marshall; "The Disturbing Charm," by Berta Ruck; "Sherry," by George Barr McCutcheon; "Deadham Hard," by Lucas Malet; "The Winning Clue," by James Hay, Jr.; "You Never Saw Such a Girl," by George Weston; "Batiks and How to Make Them," by Pieter Mijer.

Tagore Renounces Knighthood.

Sir Rabindranath Tagore, the internationally known Indian writer, whose "Gitanjali" the Four Seas Company is publishing in one of the volumes of the International Pocket Library, has renounced his knighthood as a protest against British misrule in India.

BOOKS ON IRELAND.

Several books on the troubles of Ireland are among the timely publications scheduled for midwinter appearance from the press of E. P. Dutton & Co. "Ireland: An Enemy of the Allies?" translated from the French of R. C. Escouflaire; "Red Terror and Green," by Richard Dawson, who makes a study of Sinn Fein and Bolshevist friendship; and "Elizabethan Ulster," a graphic portrayal of Northern Ireland in the days of Elizabeth, by Capt. Ernest Hamilton, who has represented an Ulsterite constituency in Parliament and is the author of "The Soul of Ulster."

NEW BOOKS BRIEFLY REVI

THE MUD LARKS. By Crosbie Garstin. The George H. Doran Company, New York.

A series of rollicking sketches of army life in France, Flanders and Italy. The stories appeared originally in Punch and are of a quality of humor that only their desperate surroundings could inspire. The most serious circumstances are made the subject of jokes. Enables us to understand how the British Tommies kept their courage high and their spirits strong in those dark days of the war.

IN THE SHADOW OF THE HILLS. By George C. Shedd. The Macaulay Company, New York.

The story of a man with a grim purpose, a legacy of hate, and the adventures and perils he met in carrying out his purpose. The setting is western and there is a plentiful supply of gun play, rapid action and thrill. Love, too, plays its ever essential part in the story. The lover of wild western romance will read this book spellbound; for it's a real thriller.

THE MAN ON HORSEBACK. By Achmed Abdullah. James A. McCann Co., New York.

This is one of those yarns dealing with a cowboy, his love for a dashing girl, and a mine that he took in payment of a poker debt. The mine turns out to be a bonanza, not only in gold, but in a heretofore unknown chemical substance, the possession and control of which becomes an international stake. There is plenty of action, a duel, a court-martial, and other happenings that make for excitement.

THE BARREL MYSTERY. By William J. Flynn. James A. McCann Company, New York.

An "inside" story of the tracking down and final disposition of one of the most daring and unscrupulous gangs of criminals that ever infested the country. They perpetrated every class of crime from murder to arson. It's thrilling and yet it's true to life. This book, written by the famous detective, shows how far the real facts, where crime is concerned, surpass the wildest imagination of the fictionist.

THE TOUCH OF ABNER. By H. A. Cody. George L. Doran Company, New York.

The author has just missed creating a second David Harum. But at that he tells a lively yarn that will repay the hour spent reading it. Abner rather surprises his neighbors by subscribing $1000 to an orphanage. He is as innocent of that much money as a newborn slum babe, but this troubles him not. He starts on a career of high finance and the account of the methods he employed in getting away with it makes good light reading. The love story is unobtrusive, but nevertheless lends a pleasant element of cohesion to the whole.

BANKED FIRES. By E. W. Savi. G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York.

An Anglo-Indian story depicting the love of a strong and at times unscrupulous man, mostly those tense desire a man who damnation "for heart."

The word "smart" adequately describes the clever originations in diamond and gold jewelry now shown by S. Nordlinger and Sons.

We have endeavored to select those decidedly different ideas which emphasize the wide breach between the distinctive and the commonplace.

Those who demand quality, smartness and true value confine their jewelry purchases to Los Angeles' first jewelry house. Fifty-one consecutive years in this city.

SHIP AHOY!

BY MARY STEWART DAGGETT.

Chang, "the yellow angel," was at last wise to ways of a western world. We no longer spoke of him lightly—as our China boy. That first day when he sat under a Temple Hill peppe rtree shelling peas for dinner, still marked his humble beginning during a quarter of a century's service; yet, withal, time had dealt him immunity from age. He was strong, confident; no longer confounded by difficult points of Christian warfare. Occidental ideals had hastened Celestial evolution without ruining his cooking. As a family, we could not contemplate life in California without a yellow angel. For Chang had gradually become a personality outside of his kitchen. We felt him to be the exponent of his noble race. When the destiny of far-away old China began to trouble him, to move his soul and stimulate his ambition with dreams of her rescue from Manchu power, we were not surprised. And, shortly, Chang no longer hailed from a land of tyranny and ignominious queues, for the dynasty was fallen. The dragon had been slain! Now, Celestial cousins in the little clan-village of his birth, a young wife and his son, born six years back—during a visit home—all called to him from afar. Strange conditions enjoined by the new republic had brought our yellow angel grave responsibility; and one day he announced, to the consternation of Temple Hill, that he must go back to China—perhaps to stay. Suddenly Chang felt like an independent being—a man. Unjust, mortifying treatment dealt out to him by uncouth government officials in ports of emigration returned to his mind and hardened his heart to advantages in the United States. Perhaps, after all, the land of the free was but a cruel joke (?) The yellow angel remembered once more the flesh pots of Cathay; longed to go home to a republic of his own making. Ego colored his dream. He sang "Pull for the Shore," while he turned the ice-cream freezer and proudly fancied himself Mayor of Hoy Pring! What reforms might he not institute? And at once he was marching to the old market town in view of his own election. A procession of queueless Sues seemed to lengthen out the slouching line that marked him as a returned hero. Thus supported by his village—seventeen families constituting his clan—there would be no chance for a possible rival. In imagination, dear Celestial cousins acknowledged superior education, while a banner held on high furnished a memorial to his fitness as Mayor of Hoy Pring district.

The yellow angel saw himself arrayed in American store clothes with a favorite Fedora augmenting his pose in the community of flowing sleeves and petticoats, still worn by ancient men of a clan-village. Then all at once his dream grew vain. He became modest, humble, with the simple desire to enlighten his countrymen. Passing conceit left only the firm resolve to help old China and the young republic.

As Chang strove above his kitchen range, his mind often went back to logical events connected with the Chinese reform party in the United States. He remembered the initial motley, awkward Celestial drill in the old quarter of Los Angeles. It now seemed years since that eventful evening, when for the first time on record, haughty oriental merchants shouldered muskets in line with household servants, laundrymen and vendors of vegetables. He remembered his own severed queue to recall a transformation of gaily-clad heathen into sober, badly clothed creatures of revolt. For, irrespective of caste or calling, yellow men of the reform party had stood as "sheep before their shearers." Then, dumb, doubtful of consequences in the old home beyond the Pacific, each humble son of progress had gone his separate way to work, to save, to wait. The old quarter had suddenly become queueless; peopled with celestials in strange garb. Amateur barbers flourished. And haberdashers of the Plaza at last treated the yellow man with fair consideration. Pink cotton shirts and purple four-in-hand neckties marked dudes of Chinatown with fresh distinction; while crude color still mingled with their dreams of old China. For the celestials' taste had conventionalized slowly. It was hard to discard the deep blue, delightful green, rich lavender and glorious rose of former holiday attire. Then in time stiff, ill-fitting suits of advancement brought the Chinaman new dignity and seemed to enlarge his command of English.

From the first Sue Chang had felt himself a reformer, destined to deny superstition in his Clan-Village. Yet withal he was torn by conflicting emotions whenever he seriously considered leaving the United States, and Temple Hill where he had lived so many years. But at last duty tugged hard, and one afternoon he sauntered down the terrace to where the mistress of the Hill sat reading. He waited respectfully until she closed her book, then he spoke: 'I not sleep very well last night—thinking 'bout that old ship. Course I go home second-class! I not travel steerage—ever again."

The lady tried in vain to smile. As she regarded her yellow angel's spotless white work-clothes and thought of his impending departure, the flicker between her lips died out. She said nothing and the Celestial went on the explain, "Perhaps, some day, I come back. The United States not very kind any more. Inside me something say—I better go home. Hoy Pring people not have much light 'bout the new Republic. I think I go show them many things. They all very scared; say Emperor much better than President! I must be patient, not scold them; just explain 'bout these United States of America. Then after while they will stop being foolish. My little son must learn, too. I buy California State reader! Teach him myself."

The mistress of the Hill began to feel the dubious uplift of her Yellow Angel's itinerancy. Her expression softened and Chang blazed forth with fresh enthusiasm.

"You see—United States Chinese Reform Party asks us to go back China explain everything! Far up country, my people very ignorant—have much trouble—cannot protect themselves. Sometimes robbers come down from mountains—rob everybody! New Republic must stop that nonsense. Many years, I say, China ought to be like United States; get new guns—show young men how to shoot! When I go home I feel great shame for my old country. Then I say, long time 'fore China be like these United States. Perhaps I not see but my son—see sure. Last month I give $60—all my wages—to help that new Republic. Down Los Angeles, Gen. Lan say: 'Everybody must give! That Republic of China shall not have disgrace. Now I go home—see for myself. I very sorry I make you trouble, but cannot stay any longer. I say—God bless Temple Hill! Make old China strong. Then some day United States of America not call us heathen! Not hate us when we work hard—earn honest wages."

The Yellow Angel's valedictory was delivered. At once the mistress of the Hill seemed to see his ship sailing slowly away. Wings brushed the air above her; and she looked up to see Chang's doves—a brood he had nurtured and fed. The snow-white leader flashed west, before the fire of the sun dropping down to old China. A gentle trade-wind swayed tree-tops where leaves all whispered—"Yellow Angel! Yellow Angel!" Summer haze overhanging mountains merged to blue, then purple, that blent with tones of deep, religious rose. On distant snow-capped peaks the glow of evening lingered. Temple Hill, for so many years the alien's home, seemed to be tempting him from every side; or was it Nature's tribute to faithful service? Again the mistress of the Hill saw a ship drift out from port.

She heard the cry, "Ahoy! ahoy! for China and the New Republic of a great old nation."

February VALUES Mean More This Year

IT'S A fact that clothes are cheaper during February than they will be later in the year.

Here's a proof, in fact, suits which the Paris Store is now selling for $39.75, $45 and $49.75 are sold for that only because they were bought about three weeks ago. The same suits, if bought today, would cost us so much more that we would have to ask $49.75, $55 and $69.75.

You will see the advantages of buying now while our present stock continues as we can't even guarantee future sales at the above prices.

The world market was never so erratic as now. And nobody is able to foresee long enough ahead to guarantee anything beyond present stocks.

It will pay you to be on the safe side and buy now when such extra values are offered. "Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today" applies particularly to Paris Store February VALUES.

Springtide Blouses

$6.50 to $55.00

Blouses of every kind and description, Wash Blouses, Suit Blouses, Costume Blouses, Sports Blouses and now, THE HIP-BLOUSE, the smartest blouse of all. Exceedingly jaunty is this hip-length Blouse (as illustrated,) with its youthful, "back-to-middy days," low neck and slashed-front. The latter serves partly as a trim, partly to allow the blouse sufficient room to slip easily over the head. The neckline is square, and tied with a smart self-color tie. The sleeves are short, and cut in one with the blouse. Tiny inset pockets trim the front, and a self-fabric sash loops over in back. Neckline, sleeves and hipline are bordered in corded Roman stripe passementerie. The Blouse itself is of fancy woven Tricolette in a wondrous shade of Jade. Priced at fifty-five dollars.

Tomorrow at 4 p.m., the board of directors of the Teachers' Club will meet at the clubrooms. On Tuesday, a general meeting of all kindergarten teachers will be held at 3 p.m.

The February bulletin contains the by-laws of the central committee of teachers' organizations, adopted at the last general meeting at Trinity Auditorium; a report of the new neighborization work by Miss Ruby Baughman, supervisor of evening schools and immigration education of Los Angeles, and an announcement by Miss Florence E. Ringle, educational chairman of the District Federation of Women's Clubs, of the programme of the next monthly meeting of the legislative, civics and educational committees of the federation. Among the speakers on this occasion will be Miss Van de Goorberg, president of the City Teachers' Club, who will speak on the Smith-Towner Bill.

Wednesday Morning Club.

On Wednesday the Wednesday Morning Club will have a diverse programme, entitled, "Original Metrical Compositions," by Maj. S. H. M. Byers, diplomat and poet. There will be a vocal duet by Mrs. Raymond D. Pitts and Mrs. Robert L. Rolye. Mrs. H. H. Harrison will be luncheon hostess.

Last Wednesday the children from the Wallis Dramatic School gave an interesting historical programme. Especially pleasing was the reading of Joaquin Miller's masterpiece, "Columbus," by little Estelle Elliott. A Lincoln sketch was well given by Walter, Dorothy and Hortense Probaska, Garland Brunton and Estelle Elliott.

A drop in the wholesale price of potatoes has occurred since the women's clubs organized their boycott. It was the Wednesday Morning Club that first started the movement.

On Thursday evening, the French section will entertain at the clubhouse with a card party.

Hollywood Women's Club.

At a meeting of the Woman's Club of Hollywood Wednesday afternoon, Rev. E. Stanton Hodgin gave an address on "American Ideals." S. Macdonald-Wright, founder of the modern school of painting, spoke of the exhibition of modern American painters at Exposition Park. The public affairs luncheon was given under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. R. Weirick. The programme included "The Value of Smiles," by James Foley; "The Value of a Department of Public Affairs," by Mrs. Oda Falconer; "Hollywood and the Motion-picture Industry," by Bryant Washburn.

Philanthropy and Civics Club.

The speaker at the meeting Tuesday of the Philanthropy and Civics Clubs will be Mrs. Mary E. Hart, of Nome, Alaska, who will tell of this interesting country and its women. The club will give a card party February 26, in the Elk Clubhouse, with Mrs. Judson Mitchell in charge.

Women's City Club.

Tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the Women's City Club in the Walker Auditorium, Mrs. George Clark, vice-president of the Y.W. C.A., will speak on the subject of "Community Councils; what they Are, and How they Operate." William S. Holman of the U. S. Internal Revenue office, will talk about the "Income Tax."

Serbian Relief.

At a meeting of the Committee for the Relief of Serbia and Northern France last Wednesday, it was decided to discontinue the headquarters at 503 Souht Spring street and accept the offer of George S. Fusenot to hold its meetings at the headquarters of the Fatherless Children of France in the Tajo Building.

Mrs. G. E. Crawford of 2617 Menlo avenue is arranging a benefit card party at her home on the afternoon of March 4. It is planned to have forty tables.

Mrs. W. Carey of 2045 Monterey road, is to have a musicale at her home Sunday, February 29. An excellent programme has been arranged.

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman and Mrs. Hancock Banning are arranging a ball at the Alexandria, the exact date for this affair has not yet been decided, but it will be early in March.

A unique plan for raising money has been planned and is being carried out by one of the women of the committee, who has rented her guest room to tourists who were in despair and about to return to their eastern home.

Entre Nous Club.

A colonial day programme will be opened by Mrs. Mabel Hinman next Wednesday at her home, 3413 Percy street, assisted by Mrs. Wanda Phillips, contralto; Mrs. Joseph Zuckerman, mezzo-soprano, and Miss Elva Hichborn, of Cumnock, reader. Miss Mary Alloway and Mrs. Ella Horner will appear in tableau as George and Martha Washington. Mrs. Hinman and Mrs. May Powell, hostesses, will wear colonial costumes, and a colonial tea will follow the programme, at which Mrs. Marion Chaffin and Mrs. Mary Powell will preside.

Ebell Club.

The address, "Bible and World Events, Past, Present and Future," by Miss M. Winifred Rouzee, to be given at Ebell tomorrow will add a new and delightful note to the programme. This programme has been supplied in response to many requests by Miss Rouzee's friends and pupils, who have great admiration and respect for her Biblical interpretations.

The books and current literature department will have a luncheon Thursday. Several distinguished speakers will be present and address the club.

Women's University Club.

The Women's University Club will have for its midmonthly programme Thursday at 3 p.m., in the lecture-room of the Ebell Club House, an interpretative reading of Percy Mackay's "George Washington, the Man Who Made Us," by Mrs. Elizabeth Burton of the Seven Arts Workshop.

Mrs. Irwin J. Muma, a member of the club, will sing ballads, interpreting the episodes between the readings. The setting will be classical, not colonial. Tea will be served later by Mrs. Edmund Locke and her committee of helpers.

More than eighty new members have joined the club since October

Club Briefs.

Mrs. Grantland S. Long, chairman of United Daughters of the Confederacy convention in May, held a meeting of her full committee at her residence, 671 South Vermont avenue, last week. A card party will be given in the near future by the four Daughters of the Confederacy chapters here. This will be open to the public.

The Women's Democratic League of Los Angeles county will hold a meting at the rooms, 337 Douglas building, at 2:30 p.m. Thursday. There will be an election of officers for president, vice-president and secretary.

In Danger of Being Mixed.

Unless those Russians take some care in the numbering of children, they will make it as difficult to determine the gender of a proper name as it is now under the American system of naming children. For instance, all one knows about Popoff Number One is that the child is the firstborn. You won't know whether it is a boy or a girl any more than you know whether a child named Pearl or Cecil is a boy or a girl.—[Kansas City Star.

Defended His Guard.

A huge, burly soldier was arrested for drunkenness and confined to the guardhouse. His constant atttendant for the next few days was a little, timid guard, who pattered around after him like a child. One morning they were late to mess, whereat the cook assailed the guard.

"Can't you come on time? This ain't no hotel!" he shouted. The guard shrank away, and the cook, emboldened, struck him. Instantly the big prisoner intervened with a well-aimed blow at the cook.

"Hey, you!" he roared, "you leave my guard alone! I ain't going to have anyone at all abusing him."—[American Legion Weekly.

A TRYING TIME.

Harrowing Experience of a Traveler in Pennsylvania.

A pale, haggard, wild-eyed man staggered out of Broad-street Station early yesterday morning. Perhaps you saw him? His hat was thrown back, revealing his ruffled hair; his necktie was loose and showed signs of having been chewed; his collar was badly wilted despite the stinging, chilly morning air.

That was the man who had started early in the day for Philadelphia on a western train, and who had been forced to change his watch so often that he felt at last as if the spring in his brain had snapped.

He passed Pittsburgh before midnight and set his watch one hour forward in accordance with the eastern schedule. At 2 a.m. the train stopped one minute, and the conductor explained to him that the railroad timepieces were being set back one hour on account of the expiration of the daylight-saving schedule. The traveler turned back his watch.

When he arrived in this city, he thought he had traveled the last forty-five miles in less than no time, which gave him an extraordinary, light and hazy feeling in the head, such as is sometimes experienced by young philosophers after sitting up all night discussing the relative nonexistence of space and time while smoking too many stogies.

When the weary westerner alighted on the Broad-street Station platform, he purposely looked away from the clock, for fear of being seized by a dizzy spell. He wandered out of the train shed in search of a cup of coffee or something to steady his nerves. He found a restaurant and the first thing that stared him in the face was a clock which the restaurateur had forgotten to set back.

With beads of cold perspiration on his forehead the traveler, forgetting his quest, rushed out of the place to seek forgetfulness in sleep.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

DOUBLE WEDDING OF TWINS.

Some years ago—twenty-two to be exact—Louis Schroeder paced nervously up and down in the dining-room. Something was going to happen, he could feel it in his bones. Finally the doctor came out.

"Why do you stand there grinning just like a hyena?" questioned Louis. "It ain't no laughing matter. Tell me quick—is it a boy or a girl?"

"Cheer up, Louis," said the doctor; "it's both."

"I knew it, I knew it," mourned Louis; but since he was of an optimistic nature, he consoled himself with: "Oh, well, when they grow up it will mean two to help mamma and me."

Last night, after a fine supper, Louis leaned back in his chair at his residence, 282 South Second street, and looked around with an appraising eye at the twins, Harry and Celia.

"What fine children you are," he said, "and getting to be a great help to papa and mamma."

It was evidently up to Celia to break the news: "Yes, papa," she began, and then: "We were married this afternoon."

"Huh? What?" exploded Louis.

"Yes, papa," said Celia. "This afternoon at Borough Hall the nice judge married Julius Markman and me."

"Oh, well"—Louis's optimism was returning—"Julius is a nice boy; and I still have Harry."

"No, papa," Harry broke in. "I was married, too; Anna Laufer is now my wife."

"What are we coming to?" asked Louis despairingly of his wife, Jennie. "And what's more, not married by the rabbi!"

But Harry and Celia quickly consoled him by declaring that later on they would have a real Jewish wedding. Louis was placated. "Together they came, and together they went," he exclaimed.—[Brooklyn Eagle.

Loved to Linger on It.

The spinster waited two or three hours to be admitted to the presence of the man who visited their town once a month to retail good advice and his own proprietary medicine to the comeons. At last she was admitted. "Yes, yes," said the brusque doctor. "I want to know if influenza can be transmitted by kissing?" "Beyond a doubt, madam." "Well, a man with a pronounced case of influenza kissed me." "So! How long ago was this?" "Well—let's see. I think it was about two months." "Why, madam. No harm can come to you now from the exposure. It is quite too late." "I know it," she sighed, "but I just love to talk about it."—Buffalo Commercial.

PLANS EARTH-WIDE DRY MOVE.

Business Man Who Will Lead Latest Campaign of Anti-Saloon League Tells How Professional Agitator Intends to Go About It

BY JAMES B. MORROW.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Always in dress, manner and conversation, Ernest Hurst Cherrington is a business man. He is tall and robust, brown-eyed and brown-haired.

An appraising and attracted stranger might say: "Manager of a large factory, perhaps, or a banker from a city in the Middle West."

Violently to the contrary, however, Ernest Hurst Cherrington is a reformer—is the reformer, with emphasis on the word "the," who is to lead the international hosts that, after a mighty effort, are to free the world, they hope, of all drinkables containing alcohol.

All drinkables—whisky from Great Britain, wine from Italy, Spain and France, beer from Germany and Austria. "And it can be done," Mr. Cherrington said to the writer of this article.

Said it without fire in his voice or a wild glint in his eyes—said it as an engineer would talk about a tunnel in the Rockies or a bridge over the Father of Waters.

When can it be done? "Probably within ten years," Mr. Cherrington answers.

"In 1910," he said, "we (meaning the Anti-Saloon League of America) predicted that prohibition would be written into the Constitution of the United States. Scarcely any one agreed with us. We were fanatics, it was asserted. Driving alcohol out of use everywhere will be no more difficult that was the work of driving it out of America."

Twelve countries organized as a world league against alcoholism have chosen Mr. Cherrington as their executive director. A main office will soon be established in Washington. Branch offices will be opened in Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia.

Latest World-Dry Reformer.

Ernest Hurst Cherrington,

Who believes he can make the world a Sahara in the next ten years.

The earth-wide campaign, carried on in each country by local and tested leaders, will be planned largely by the veteran strategists of the Anti-Saloon League of America, with Mr. Cherrington as chief of staff. This young man, then (he is 42,) is to become an international character. Who is he, and what has he done?

"A little Methodist parsonage in Southern Ohio," he said, "was the place of my birth. I grew up in a number of small cities and villages, as did the children of most Methodist preachers in those days.

CALLED BY PURLEY BAKER.

"My education was completed at the Ohio Wesleyan University, which I attended intermittently and whenever my cash on hand permitted me to stop working and go to studying. School teaching and selling subscription books were among my earliest specialties. Law, I thought, was to be my permanent business.

"The Anti-Saloon League was making itself felt, politically and morally, in Ohio, where it originated, and Dr. Purley A. Baker, a very successful Methodist preacher, whom I knew, had joined the organization. Young men were asked to make anti-saloon addresses at churches in all parts of the State and I was included in their number.

"My first political work, however, was done in Ross county, which was Republican by about 1500 plurality. Two of us were sent there to beat the Republican candidate for the Legislature, because he had voted against local option.

"We were green at such business and a survey of the situation filled us with discouragement. We didn't know what to do until a policeman told us that all the saloon-keepers in Chillicothe, the principal town in the county, had received letters from the State Association of Brewers urging them to vote for the Republican candidate.

"A man whom we knew got one of the letters from a bartender. We printed several thousand copies and with borrowed horses and buggies spread them all over the county, visiting temperance Republicans in villages and on farms and talking with ministers and church members. The candidate whom we fought was beaten by eighty-seven votes.

"After founding a weekly in the village of Kingston, where my father once had preached, and selling out at some profit, I entered the service of the Anti-Saloon League as manager of the Canton district. Dr. Baker, then superintendent of the league, made me his assistant and I went to live in Columbus.

"A year or two later I was appointed superintendent of the league in the State of Washington. Since 1909 I have been general director of our publishing interests.

"Our printing establishment at Westerville, O., turns out from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 copies monthly of our main periodical. It is valued at $400,000. We use a carload of paper every ten days and employ several hundred persons.

COST OF PROHIBITION.

The American Anti-Saloon League has been spending $1,500,000 yearly. It has 500,000 regular contributors of money, besides millions of occasional contributors. About $50,000,000 from first to last, I should say, has been expended in getting prohibition into the Constitution of the United States. We purpose to collect an equal sum of money in this country for the use of the World League Against Alcoholism. Funds also will be obtained in every country where a fight is made."

Denominationally, Mr. Cherrington is a Methodist. Politically he is a Republican. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta, and a thirty-third degree Mason. In 1911 he was a delegate to the international congress on alcoholism held at The Hague, and in 1913 to the congress that met in Milan, Italy.

He has a wide acquaintance with temperance workers in Europe, and has long been in correspondence with them concerning the world-wide movement in which he is now engaged. Every country on earth, in all of its details with respect to its population, the character of its people, its liquor laws, and so on, is familiar to him.

"Driving alcohol out of the world," he said, "seems to be a stupendous, if not an impossible undertaking. The little group of young and unknown men, each as poor as Lazarus, who organized the Anti-Saloon League at Oberlin, O., were called dreamers and bigots. Their idea, you see, was overlooked.

"They sought, first, local option in townships, then in counties, and then in States. Their work was evolutionary. It went onward by steps and the length of each step increased and local option gave way to prohobition, and prohibition is now the law of the land. The world can be gained in the same way.

"Public sentiment rules in all free countries. The leaders of the Anti-Saloon League clearly understood the psychology of republics and democracies. Forty years ago when a temperance lecturer was billed to make an address every one in the community knew how he would look. Usually he was an old man, a very good man, in a long coat, often with a shine on it, who as a preacher had found it difficult with advancing age to get or to keep a pastorate. So he had turned to reformational work.

"One may look back in sympathy to the old temperance men of the past, but one should also look with profound respect. They were the planters of the seeds of prohibition. Then appeared a new generation to take up the work and drive it on.

"These new men understood that public sentiment could compel the politicians to vote right in town councils, State legislatures and the Congress of the nation. The idea, the principles and the methods of the Anti-Saloon League are to be made international.

"It should be understood that there are thousands of temperance workers in Europe. Great Britain has more anti-alcoholic societies than all the rest of the countries added together. The trouble with them has been their disinclination to combine or even to co-operate.

"Americans, offhand, think of Europe as being saturated with alcohol. There are two classes of countries over there, however, that have adopted some form of prohibition. Absinthe has been outlawed in France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland. The point of the prohibition wedge has been driven into those five nations.

"Then there is prohibition covering local areas in Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Scotland, Australia and New Zealand. In all of these countries and in others war has long been made against alcoholism. Professional men and business men perceive the economic disadvantages that follow liquor drinking. A drunken nation can't compete with a sober one industrially.

"One of our agents has just returned from Japan. The Japanese are an alert and able people. They are never found asleep at their posts. Manufacturers, bankers, railway managers, shipbuilders and great merchants met with our agent and showed active and intelligent interest in what he said to them. Japan, in my judgment, will soon be ready for prohibition. The Japanese are too shrewd to overlook an opportunity to increase their economic efficiency.

"Then, bearing on the world problem, certain great facts are being pressed upon the attention of thoughtful men everywhere. This one for example: Germany and Austria before the war drank more alcohol per inhabitant than did any other nation on earth.

ALCOHOL RUINED RUSSIA.

"In Munich the average consumption of liquor amounted to a pint and a half per day for every man, woman and child. There were 1700 female bartenders in Berlin. I might ask, Where is Germany today? And Austria, which is starving and in rags?

"Of the 18,000 schoolboys in Moscow, a few years ago, between the ages of 8 and 13, 12,000 were drinkers of alcoholic beverages and half of the 10,000 schoolgirls were consumers of liquor. The collapse of Russia, I think, can be traced directly to drunkenness.

"I shall not say anything unkind about Great Britain—that is, I don't mean to show an unfriendly spirit—but that country [illegible] of war spent [illegible] for alcohol as a [illegible] are 4000 breweries [illegible] Nearly 13,000 [illegible] in English [illegible] Great Britain, [illegible] needs prohibition.

"Prosperity and alcohol [illegible] dwell in the same [illegible] in the same country. I am [illegible] ing an argument for [illegible] am explaining why [illegible] tive men all over the [illegible] thinking of a question [illegible] fore has been of little [illegible] them. They desire to see [illegible] nations competing on [illegible] with other nations for the [illegible] of the world.

"You ask me why the [illegible] League, now that it has [illegible] its work at home, doesn't [illegible] enough alone and [illegible] its own particular business [illegible] now, let us look [illegible]

NOW FIGHTING IN SCOTLAND.

"Scotland is to have a great campaign this year. Already the campaign is under way. The movement against alcoholism in that country has been vigorously carried on for a long while. Scottish reformers went to Parliament in 1910 with a local-option bill, but were beaten by Lords Rothschild and Landsdown, who formed an organization against them and called Peers to their seats who hadn't sat in Parliament for years.

"Going home, the Scottish lords heard from their constituents. The result was a temperance law for Scotland and this fall the people in that country will vote on it. Officers of the American league will take part in the campaign.

"We feel certain that the law will be voted on favorably. A victory in Scotland will increase our influence in Ireland and England. After Scotland, as the plans now stand, attacks will be made on alcohol in Norway and Sweden, both of which might be called prohibition countries.

"The sale of liquor is restricted in Sweden and in such places where it is sold can only be purchased at government dispensaries. Purchasers must carry liquor cards, which are punched when a sale is made. Strong liquors are not on sale in Norway at all. Beer and wine, however, are. It is the opinion of Swedish and Norwegian temperance workers that prohibition can be carried in both countries.

"I have spoken of Japan. The pagan religions of the Orient, as Christians call them, teach and are supposed to require sobriety. Whisky, gin, brandy and so on are not familiar names among the common people. The beverages of the masses, however, are often heavy with alcohol. If intoxicants can be prohibited in Japan, they can be in China, where, in the southern part of the country especially, a drink containing from 15 to 20 per cent. of alcohol is consumed by all classes.

ONE OF LEAGUE'S SECRETS.

"On the common platform of prohibition, the leaders of religion in the Orient can be brought together and American missionaries, hundreds in number, representing practically all of our denominations, will co-operate with them and be given a recognition which, as yet, they have never enjoyed.

"As the work develops we are sure that the advantages of a strong federation will be seen in every nation. The anti-alcoholic forces of each country will unite. I can say that the men in the Anti-Saloon League of America have forgotten rivalries, personal interests and differences of opinions in all of their operations against the enemy. They have battled shoulder to shoulder and no man sulked in his tent because he wasn't an admiral or a major-general.

"Fifty million dollars sounds like an impossible sum. The Methodist Church of the United States has recently collected $115,000,000. Southern Methodists have raised $50,000,000 and Southern Baptists $75,000,000. Other denominations have done as well. The funds we get will be spend in ways that will greatly add to the missionary efforts of the United States in foreign lands.

"The campaign in Mexico will cost $2,500,000. Alcohol has kept that country poor, ignorant and revolutionary. Prohibition will be carried into Central and South America and if adopted will make that quarter of the world prosperous and tranquil.

"Countries south of us are our neighbors and we are interested in their welfare. Besides, if one wishes to look at the matter that way, money now spent for alcohol at home will be sent, when prohibition prevails in the countries I have named, to the United States for shoes, clothing, food, furniture and other things.

"As quickly as possible branch offices of the world league will be opened all over the world—in London, Paris, Vienna, Berlin, Moscow, Venice, Copenhagen, Tokio, Peking, Calcutta, Sydney, Buenos Aires and other cities.

"The international battle has begun in Scotland, but the line of fighting runs around the globe."

who began a career as "companion" when she found financial ruin threatening herself and her sister, found a position in the household of old man Rivett, where she meets Col. Rummis, an old roue whose desire for her charms and attractions bring about a series of highly exciting situations. Love comes to the heroine in a strange and unusual manner, and the thread of romance and humor running through the story is further enhanced by the magnificent scenic beauty of the locations where the play was filmed. Miss MacDonald is supported by an excellent cast, including Nigel Barrie, William Mong, Kenneth Harlan, Walter Hiers, Hedda Nova and Leota Lorraine.

Of especial importance today will be the debut of the new Kinema orchestra, under the conductorship of Nicola Donatelli. The overture selected will be Suppe's "Light Cavalry."

PIERRE KEY'S Music Article

BY PIERRE V. R. KEY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—One of these days some enterprising chap will rig up an interopera house bus line service and make his everlasting fortune. Those of you who are familiar with the two spots where stand the Metropolitan and the Lexington auditoriums will appreciate that nothing short of a taxi (which never is about when you want it) can convey one between Broadway and Thirty-ninth street and Lexington avenue and Fiftieth with reasonable dispatch. During recent days, which found the Metropolitan and the Chicago companies starting on their annual contest for the public's good will, there has been one mad rush for the two objectives by those opera fans who cannot hear and see too much of what they best like.

After listening to an act at the Metropolitan the enthusiast dashes out in Broadway and thence in the direction of the Lexington to catch part of what the Chicago company may be doing. Perhaps half an act will be enough for that occasion, then Metropolitanwards moves this person again.

It is really astonishing to observe the interest our public shows in the fortunes of the two companies. In the five weeks comprising the Chicago organization's season here I estimate that $150,000 will have been paid to hear the visiting singers, which is a sum materially less than the Metropolitan will find rolling into its capacious coffers. Nothing like the old days, when an opera singer "guessed" whether that particular day was one on which he would eat.

SICKNESS HITS SINGERS.

At the very outset of the Chicago company's third New York season some of its distinguished artists have fallen ill. We were to have had Rosa Raisa in "Norma" for the opening bill, but some germ intervened. People wondered, straightway, whether Rosa is hoodoed when she comes to, or plans coming to, New York. Last year it was appendicitis that prevented this great dramatic soprano from sustaining a burden which no other available singer could. We are assured that Miss Raisa will "positively sing next week," which we trust is true. Without her the Chicagoans will find themselves in something of a hole.

Mary Garden, who is the "always reliable" Mary, came to the rescue. I don't wonder she is so popular with operatic managements. Oscar Hammerstein used to tell me about Miss Garden's willingness to do almost anything to save a performance. "She never thought about herself," said Hammerstein.

It was a gala night, you may be sure, which saw the Chicago company getting under way while the Metropolitan was putting forward a best foot. "L'Amore dei tre Re," with Miss Garden, Edward Johnson, Georges Baklanoff, Virgilio Lazzari and Gino Marinuzzi effecting his conductorship debut. Simultaneously Mr. Gatti Casazza's forces were appearing in "La Forza del Destino," with Caruso and Rosa Ponselle. Neither the Metropolitan nor the Chicago managements would admit to being swayed in its purposes by what the other did, and yet one observed in both operatic camps evidences of existing tension. The Metropolitan was genuinely upset when De Luca, Amato and Crimi all fell ill in a single day, and made it necessary to change the repertoire.

DIES A PERFECT DEATH.

Never have I witnessed in opera, or the drama either, more deathlike death struggles than Miss Garden exhibited on the evening of the Chicago company's New York opening. It was realistic art or artistic realism (does anyone know just what the difference really is?) that made most everyone forget momentarily some of the strange things Miss Garden had been doing in her first New York appearance as Fiora in the Montemezzi-Sem Benelli "L'Amore dei tre Re." She preferred, it appeared, to make over the romantic princess of the middle ages into a kind of courtesan.

Only Mary Garden could have done this without alienating the admiration of her ever-loyal public. There is no doubt that her eloquent finger-clutchings, as the blind Archibaldo strangled his wayward daughter-in-law, saved Miss Garden's evening for the majority present. She got an ovation, and some of the critics gushed the next day like a bevy of matinee worshipers.

Edward Johnson really outshone his more-famous colleague, though he got no such measure of recognition. It is easy to see why this former New Yorker (who is by birth, however, a Canadian) was so highly regarded in Italy. We so seldom encounter a tenor with brains in the place where the brains ought to be that meeting one induces a sort of shock. I think, though, that some disappointment was felt in the timbre of the Johnson voice, which is not, or was not on this occasion, beautiful.

"Virgilio Lazzari was the member of the cast who most astonished me. I never suspected the basso as capable of singing and acting so fine an Archibaldo. And, of course, there was Marinuzzi, the new conductor. He made a fine impression on the skilled musicians, but not the deep one which had been anticipated. Perhaps this will come later. The Lexington acoustics are very "fast" and when Marinuzzi has gauged them his capabilities may be reflected in a better light.

THE JOLLY OLD CLAQUE.

One of my correspondents wrote to me recently to ask about the claque. "Is it something which actually exists?" As long as opera itself, Miss Blank. It really is a nuisance that should be stopped, but I see no indications to that end. The foreign singers regard it as indispensable; several have frankly confessed to me that they sing with more assurance when they know that there are some "friendly souls" out front—friendly souls, who are being paid to applaud.

The jolly old claque was right busy during the early days of the Metropolitan-Chicago co-season. The Metropolitan has had for years a

They Told the World.

When Michael McGuire
Was out under fire,
He swore by his husky right arm,
When he'd done dodging bullets
He'd start raising pullets—
Leave Gotham and hit for a farm.
"When this war is over
I'll hike for the clover,"
Said Mac as he lunged at a Hun,
"No raising the dickens—
I'll stick to real chickens,
Make hay and long green by the ton."

Then up spoke his buddy
Of countenance ruddy,
Cy Jones from the heart of the prairie:
"That's all very pretty,
But me for the city,
I'm sick of the barn and the dairy.
When I'm a civilian
I'll join the Four Million—
My itch for the pitchfork has gone.
I'm no back-to-the-soiler—
The kind of a broiler
I like doesn't rise with the dawn."

Alas the confusion
For each fond delusion
And sorry demise of their vows!
Those pullets of Mac's?
He's a bouncer at Jack's,
And Cy's jazzing round with the cows.

Is it Nothing to You?

Think of them, Mother, passing by
The firelit door of your child's white room,
Hearing his laughter passing by.
What if he hungered in Erzerum!
Is it nothing to you—to YOU?

Think of them, Father, even as yours,
But old with the eyes of a tortured man,
Starved and tormented without a cause,
Broken and gaunt at Marsovan.
Is it nothing to you—to YOU?

Think of them, Children; it might be you,
Tossing in pain at Erivan!
Is it nothing to you that it may be you
Who shall send succor to Teheran?
Is it nothing to you—to YOU?

Think of them; pray for them, aid them now,
Tarsus is cold in the winter rain!
Succor the little children NOW;
They will not pass this way again.
Is is nothing to you—to YOU?

The Orange Tea Shop, which opened its enchanting doors on Thursday afternoon, bids fair to become most popular! You'll be delighted with it, as I was, and with those three wide-awake college girls, Florence, Velma and Bess Osler, whose idea it is. A more charming place for lunch or tea can scarcely be imagined than this gray and orange shop at 649 South Hope. The appointments are most artistic and the service will leave nothing to be desired. The specialties will be orange dishes.

People are charmed with those orotones by Edward S. Curtis, found at that clever art shop, the Phil S. Bernays Company, 315 West Third. These delightful Indian pictures make such acceptable gifts to send back East—as they are typically Western and decidedly new.

The girls are all wild about Lee's Dye-It. They're dyeing everything with it—not only the daintiest lingerie, but silk or cotton blouses, silk hose, woolen sweaters and delicate laces. It is a liquid dye, all ready to be put into hot water, and it's so easy to use. You can get it at all stores for 25 cents a bottle.

Wouldn't Mark Twain love our Huckleberrry Finn of the screen—I just know he would! Lewis Sargent as this mischievous boy is a decided success—and if you have not seen this picture at Grauman's Rialto you will have an opportunity to do so this week—and you'll be charmed as I was.

Your furs remodeled will be up-to-date and will look like new, if Peter Kadlec makes the over. Fifth floor Brack-Shops. He has some smart chokers on sale.

You get the best that human skill and scientific knowledge can produce if you have your eyes examined and glasses fitted at the exclusive optical shop of Dr. J. E. Landen, sixth floor Brack-Shops. "The best is none too good for your eyes." Prices are very reasonable there.

To make your money go as far as possible is really a great game, and they help you to play it at Seymore's Clothes Shop, 304 S. San Pedro, for here you can choose a suit, gown or coat at really bargain prices. Their spring millinery will interest you, too.

A smart trimming for tweed or homespun is soft kidskin.

At the Assembly Tea Room you can have all the dainties that go to make up an elegant luncheon or a real English afternoon tea, with cinnamon toast or Scotch scones and jams! Their wonderful dinners speak for themselves—you had better phone for reservations, 13857. Fifth floor, Brack-Shops.

Young men love snappy togs—and George G. Grant knows this well—so he makes a special effort to please them when he tailors their clothes. Tell your boys—both young and old—about this clever tailor, at 339 Merchants' National Bank Bldg., 548 South Spring.

The new tailleurs with open-front jackets have a very spring-like effect.

Take your old ostrich feathers to Vallely & Vatcher, 640 Broadway, sixth floor (opposite Bullock's.) Have them made into some of the beautiful new burnt or glycerined effects that are all the rage. They can dye them any color and will show you some smart models to select from. Don't delay until the rush is on, as it takes some time to do this work. They will remodel your Marabou cape, too.

You might easily buy that longed-for home, if you could turn all of those unused diamonds into money. Mr. Hambright will appraise your diamond estate and will gladly buy your diamonds, if you like. Why not talk it over with him? He's at 301 Title Guarantee Bldg., southeast corner Broadway, at Fifth.

Flaring Robespierre collars of organdy are new.

When spring comes we want new things to wear—so why not have your furs remodeled in some new style? Nora Hutchins will make them over at a 50 per cent. discount this week. Call 19966 and she'll call to see you and estimate the cost, or you can see her, 569 South Fremont.

Such a dainty layette I saw displayed at the Baby Specialty Shop, 734 South Hill. There were three pair of cunning bootees, three flannel gertrudes, warm and comfy; one nainsook gertrude, three slips and twelve diapers. There was also a soft and lovely receiving blanket, three nighties, three bands and three warm little shirts, thirty-two pieces for $20! They also showed me some beautiful Philippine baby dresses from $3 up.

Tourists can learn to listen with the eyes, if hard of hearing, while enjoying our sunshine. See Miss Anderson, Pacific Coast School, 608 Citizens' National Bank.

The draped bodice is charming.

Women of Los Angeles are attracted by the nifty hats shown by the eastern milliners who have opened the New Peacock Millinery Shop, 217 Mercantile Place, just off Broadway, between 5th and 6th sts.

Now, he's selling motor trucks—it's a fact! Charles Ray as "Alarm-Clock Andy," surely puts the sale in salesman! This snappy picture will be shown at Grauman's big theater this week—you'll love it. In addition to this an Arabian orchestra will dispense native music for your pleasure.

Can you imagine real sables at $100? Well, they have a splendid line of them at the Liberty Fur Shop, 229 Mercantile place—and other fine furs reasonably priced.

Yes, indeed, they can be dyed on the floor of your home—those faded carpets. They'll look like new and wear like it, too. Write LEE, the CARPET DYER, 718 S. Hope. References are the best stores.

If you're looking for smart suit hats, you'll find quite an array of extremely clever styles in Phipps, Burgesser & Bendel models at Mandel's, 723 South Hill, south of Alhambra Theater. Perhaps you noticed that attractive new Peter Pan blouse in the window? They carry a wonderful line of blouses, too.

You'll look younger if your graying hair is tinted or dyed with Hardin's Harmless Hair Tint. See Lois E. Hardin, of 15 years' experience. 306 Haas Bldg. 63715.

Superfluous hair can be permanently destroyed by Mrs. L. M. Smidt's Follicide Method. Can be used successfully at home. Best of references, call or write, 822 W. Seventh street. Why not have your eyebrows shaped by Follicide, which is painless and will not injure the skin?

There's no use wearing a soiled and worn out looking fur when you can have it beautifully cleaned and relined so reasonably at Chestnut's. Why, he is making a special on this work now—doing foxes from $5 up! Mr. Chestnut is an expert in remodeling, he'll make your old fur over so you'll never know it, it will be smart and up to the minute, too. Brack-Shops, fourth floor.

The famous Nestle permanent wave is really a thing of beauty! Ever done one? No? Then you don't know what joy is. Think what time it saves—not to have to curl your hair every time you do it up! The Nestle wave is not fuzzy nor does it leave the hair brittle. Mrs. Lux is an expert operator and also gives splendid French facials. These treatments remove those telltale lines and give the face that youthful softness! Eighth floor, Brack-Shops. Phone 63332.

New silk stockings have insets of real lace.

A permanent wave is exactly like naturally curly hair when properly done, but it takes a world of experience to do it right. Hudgen's Permanent Wave Shop, located on fourth floor, Brack-Shops, 7th and Grand, has been waving in Los Angeles since 1912; it's the largest wave shop west of New York. They use both the Frederics and Nestle systems. Phone 62863 for appointment.

Long gloves are fashionable for evening wear.

Made in Los Angeles! Yes siree! This 1920 model—sending forth its mellow tones as natural as life, a thing of beauty and a joy—why, of course, I'm speaking about that splendid New Hawthorne, that wonder phonograph! You'll say so, too, when you see and hear it. The marvelous tones produced by its most unusual tone chamber are perfect reproductions, and the gracefully-built cabinet combine to make this phonograph a work of art. At the Smith Piano Co., Ninth and Grand, they will gladly demonstrate it for you.

The smartest frocks have very short sleeves.

I became quite excited at the Ville de Paris when I saw the cunning bead looms for weaving your own bead bags and the hundreds of dozens of brightly colored metal beads, bugles and cut crystals just unpacked. And there was such a lot of stamped canvas patterns—and, best of all, they have a splendid teacher who'll teach you.

Ask for Lee's Dye-It. A beautiful American dye.

Dora Dean's marvelous scalp treatment dissolves and removes dandruff. She proves this in one trial, 50 cents, with shampoo. Regular price $1. At Zan's, 331 West Eighth.

Too fat, too thin? Not exactly well? You can be brought to normal weight and measurements and be vastly improved in health by the Reiss system—without drugs, or starvation. It's intensely interesting, too. 802 Title Guarantee Building, 220 West Fifth. Phone 67815.

Another lot of beautiful beads just in from China—jade, ivory, blue crystal and amber—very choice and so reasonable at the Old Curiosity Shop, Pasadena, 30 South Los Robles avenue.

Feature lifting without surgery is guaranteed by Mrs. Barber. She removes mouth lines and sagging jaws permanently without cutting or inconvenience. Bessie L. Barber, complexion specialist, fifth floor, Brack-Shops. 19985.

My! those ugly elbows, and sleeves so short! Say, at the Bordeaux Beauty Salon, they beautify them and arms, too, are greatly improved. 227 Title Insurance Bldg., 458 South Spring.

Many of you who have read that delightful novel "The Street Called Straight," by Basil King, will be pleased to know that a splendid screen version of this dramatic love tragedy will be shown this week at the California Theater. The all-star cast includes Naomi Childers, Milton Fills, Lawson Butt and Alec Francis.

It's the peer of dyes, you'll say. Lee's Dye-It.

Just as in the Spring the wild flowers lift their lovely heads along the roads and on the hillside, so the gay pussy willow silks flaunt their charming colors—beckoning Miladi—each vying with the other for her favor! At Robinson's I saw them—covered as the fields with blossoms—the wild flowers of America!

Advance spring fashions favor the accordion-plaited skirt.

Reduce! Before ordering your new suit! Take the flesh off where you wish and regain that youthful contour without effort, diet or drugs. Relieves rheumatism and constipation. Weight Reducing Company, 618 Brockman Bldg.

Novel embroidery in silk floss trims a smart suit of navy blue trico.

Have you tried on one of those improved Hoover dresses made by the "Williams-Wear" folks? If you haven't you cannot know how really attractive a housedress can be! And they are so practical, too; always hang right and never flare open. For sale at 734 South Hill street.

Lee's Dye-It so simple to use a child can use it.

A visit to Los Angeles is really not quite complete without taking a trip to the famous Cawton Ostrich Farm in South Pasadena. This is a trip that you will remember always as it is a most interesting excursion. You are conducted over the farm by a guide who gives a most entertaining lecture on the life and habits of the strange, big birds whose plumage is so much in demand for woman's adornment! The girls and their mothers will be especially interested in the wonderful display of fans in the showrooms, as they are made up in every beautiful shade imaginable.

The simple, straight-line frock in navy blue has never been more popular than it is this season.

Girls, you can go hiking or motoring with no qualms about your "evening complexion" — if you always use Fletcher's Bleach Paste as a powder base before going out. Sold at all toilette counters.

Have you been to the Mary Louise? Well, don't miss it whatever you do—it's really one of the show places of the city. A perfect gem of loveliness, where one can lunch or dine in beautiful, harmonious surroundings. Twelfth floor Brack-Shops.

Well, I wouldn't throw away that hat—you've always liked it, so take it to the original Make-Over Hat Shop—they'll work a charm with it. Of course, they have the most stunning new hats, too, in the very newest modes. 688 S. Alvarado, opposite Westlake Park.

When in doubt about having your pictures correctly framed try the Art Novelty Shop, they show artistic class. 250 S. Broadway.

Those fur scraps of yours can easily be transformed into a spiffy little choker and they're all the rage you know! Take them to the Bogue Fur Shop, 746 South Hill. Evelyn Myers (formerly with Colburn's) is offering 50 per cent. discount on remodeling. She is making over fur coats from $25 up!

The clever cami-vestee, to be worn with suits, coats, sport costumes or under sheer blouses, is shown in original designs of net, lace and ribbon, at Ye Hande Made Shoppe, fifth floor Brack-Shops. I saw some adorable opera or evening caps with gold bandeaux and hand-made flowers.

The "Key to Beauty" cleansing cream has been compounded to prevent the bad effect of this climate. It is for sale at H. Jevne Company, or by Anna M. Bergeron, the manufacturer, who has been in business here eighteen years, and who gives individual instructions in the home care of the skin. Top floor Haas Building, corner Seventh and Broadway. Phone 12937.

I know you're fond of that dancing frock and you hesitate to send it to the cleaner's—but my dear, it's actually dirty, so there! I know where they will clean it beautifully and handle it tenderly—you will not have to worry. The Cooper Dye Works have some of the finest operators in the world. Phone 25109 or call at 1369 West Washington.

Indeed, it is quite a problem for some of you mothers to keep the little miss in school clothes. I know, so I'm going to tell you about the really smart and clever togs at Everywoman's Shop. There are dresses, shoes, coats, sweaters, hats and many needfuls at the most reasonable prices—yes, there's a reason! Call at 448 South Alvarado, first house north of Sixth. 558983. There's to be a special sale on evening dresses this week, too.

You'll find forty undecorated and gold and white Haviland plates, also a few odd pieces. Mrs. B. Cook, Mariposa apartments.

The home-cooked lunch served at the Boston Lunch Room, 709 South Hope, is very popular—so are the dinners, at 60 cents — folks say they can't be beat!

FIXING ITS WHEREABOUTS.

"Good morning, professor," said the landlady sweetly as that individual entered the breakfast room.

"I hadn't noticed it," returned the professor.

"Hadn't noticed what?" asked the landlady.

"That it's a good morning," retorted he. "It's raining cats and dogs outside. Where is my umbrella, Mrs. Gog? I left it in the corner of my room on going out yesterday morning and it's not there now. I can't understand why it is that the morality, integrity, the—the common, every-day honesty of life seem to disappear when one gets within the portals of this house. Where, madam, I demand to know—where is my umbrella?"

"Where?" replied the landlady, striking a high C and pouring hot water over the cat in her excitement. "Where? Why, the owner came here yesterday and took it away."—[Unidentified.

HIS CONSIDERATION.

"Looky yur, Gap!" chided a friend. "What in thunder made you tell your wife you'd be home from the speaking dead shore by 9 o'clock, when you know good and well it won't let out till half past 10 or 'leven?"

"She always begins to worry about me as soon as she thinks it's about time for me to show up," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, Ark. "So I figured I'll give her plenty of time to worry. My wife is like all the rest of the women; she hain't happy unless she's pestering about nuth'n."—[Kansas City Star.

How Many Women Are Like This?

Can anything be more wearing for women than the ceaseless round of household duties? Oh! the monotony of it all—work and drudge; no time to be sick; tired, ailing, yet cannot stop. There comes a time when something "snaps" and they find themselves "simply worn out," and to make matters worse, have contracted serious feminine disorder which almost always follows the constant overtaxing of a woman's strength.

Then they should remember that there is no remedy like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—the experience of these two women establishes that fact:

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells that would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-two years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. E. Koenig, 617 Ellis Blvd, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. Paul Papenfuss, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.

well-trained claque with horny palms. People who pay to hear the operas don't like it, but that doesn't matter. I noticed during the current week several people turn angrily toward groups of standees who bore all the earmarks of belonging to the claque.

In the Lexington the claque was also plying its lucrative trade during the introductory New York performances. You'd have thought, to hear and see these "bought-and-paid-for" persons belaboring their palms that the particular artist was nothing short of a genius. Perhaps, some day, the claque will disappear, though I do not expect to live long enough to see it. Claque-ing, if you chance to be leader, is a profitable business even if it isn't listed as such in the classified section of the telephone directory.

BOOKS ABOUT THE VOICE.

Every new book which reaches my desk—a book about the singing voice—fills me with interest. There was, however, a double interest attached to Sarah Robinson Duff's "Simple Truths Used by Great Singers," because Mrs. Duff was Mary Garden's first teacher. For the expert I can recommend this little volume as one that will entertain, not for the writing, which is sophomoric, but because some of the statements command the attention.

It is one of those sketchy [illegible]bling affairs which does not [illegible] conclusively with any single topic taken up for discussion. On that account the aspiring young singer who has not had much study may become confused as he reads. I must admit, however, that Mrs. Duff is an optimist. Says she: "I go so far as to say that anyone with health, good ear, great love of the art and willingness to listen and work can be made to sing."

I doubt if Mrs. Duff really means all she says. It is an extravagant statement, unwarranted by any facts and likely to unduly encourage our young people who seek careers for which they have unsufficient qualifications. For, I take it that Miss Garden's former teacher, in her utterance, referred to "good" singing.

OUT OF OPERA'S PATH.

Concert instrumentalists and singers, and the symphony orchestras, too, are all having merry times. Also, the choral societies. At a recent "Messiah" by the New York Oratorio Fred Patten commanded our admiration. A splendidly-trained basso-cantante and an equally admirable musical equipment. You'll hear more and more about him as time goes on.

Kurt Schindler, who has a mania for digging up unheard-of choral compositions, has just conducted the Schola Cantorum in its first concert of the season. While he did not get off scot free in the critics' consideration, his effort prompted some of us to congratulate ourselves that we have in our midst so serious a musician.

People are talking about:

The superior pianistic qualities of Aurore La Croix.

The gratifying vocal and artistic improvement displayed by soprano Inez Barbour after an extended absence from public singing.

The all-star programmes at the Biltmore and the Commodore musicales.

The increasing popularity of all our symphony orchestras, home and visiting.

The exceptional talent displayed by a newcomer violinist, Gabriel Engel, who won, in an astonishing degree, at his recent debut here, both audiences and critics.

The persuasive abilities so many incomptent young musicians must have to induce their friends to back them in giving New York recitals.

HOLLAND STILL HAS INTERNMENT CAMPS.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

HARDERWIJK (Holland) Jan. 10.—Hundreds of men and women of all nationalities, considered undesirable, but accorded refuge and hospitality by The Netherlands, are still confined behind barbed-wire fences in the big war internment camp here. They still are sources of trouble to the Dutch government.

Many of them are war refugees, escaped from Germany, or Belgium, and to their number, since the war, have been added several scores of Russians, of Bolshevik tendencies, whom the government has confined here for safe-keeping.

The Russians have been particulary troublesome, but the means taken by one of the Dutch military officers in charge of the camp to control their actions are reported in the Dutch press to have been so severe that recently a number of Dutch soldiers are said to have mutinied rather than obey the orders.

AMERICANS ROUT THE COBLENZ PROFITEERS.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

COBLENZ, Jan. 8.—American intelligence officers in the occupied area recently started a campaign against German food speculators, who were held responsible for the high prices of food in Coblenz and vicinity. The first day of the "round-up" twenty profiteers were deported to unoccupied Germany, with instructions not to return.

As an example of the nature of the dealings carried in by the speculators, or "schiebers," as they are called in German, an incident is cited by the Americans of a carload of starch shipped into Coblenz. It cost the original purchaser 40,000 marks. The car remained untouched in the railroad yards while it was sold from one man to another, each time at an increase in price, until the carload was finally disposed of for 80,000 marks, just double what the first purchaser paid.

Dutchman's Long Walk on Wager.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 8.—Carl Dericks, a Hollander, 37 years old, arrived here a few days ago from Amsterdam and announced his purpose to walk from this city to San Francisco, Cal., in eighteen months in order to win a purse of 100,000 florins offered by a party of Dutch sportsmen.

Dericks said his route would be from Rio to Montevideo, to Buenos Aires, thence across Argentine and the Andes to Santiago and Valparaiso, up the west coast to La Paz, Lima, Quito, Bogota, through the republics of Panama, Nicaragua, Honduras and Mexico; through southwestern Texas, into California.

Had Done His Share.

An old gentleman in the South Station waiting room, annoyed by some youngsters playing tag around his feet, exclaimed, "Stop that racket, children!"

"Well, I like that!" said the mother in a loud, angry tone.

"Now look here, madam," said the old gentleman, "I've raised three families of children and not a single child was ever allowed to annoy people."

"Well," replied the irate lady, "if you've raised three families you've certainly done your duty and I'll thank you to allow me to raise mine."—[Boston Transcript.

Afraid of Evil Spirits.

Chinese parents are afraid to give their children the fine high-sounding names their love suggests, lest the evil spirits, of whom they stand in constant fear, should come to understand how precious they are and cause them some calamity. So the little ones are called by such names as Little Stupid, and the like, the idea being that when the spirits hear the children called by such uncomplimentary names they will imagine that the parents care very little for them, and will not take the trouble to molest them.—[Indianapolis News.

THE ROAD OF LIFE

IS LACK OF IRON IN THE BLOOD HOLDING YOU BACK?

Life is like a mountain road. At the start the climbing is easy. But at the "Dreary Middle" when overwork and worry have sapped his energies, many a man falls down—his progress stopped by Lack of Iron in the Blood. Only by tremendous force can he release himself from such a set-back—only by building up the health and strength he has blindly allowed to slip away. Then it is he must fill his blood with iron. "Tender-Hearted!"

"That girl of mine is the most tendered-hearted in the world," said old Mrs. Smuggles.

"She doesn't look it!" thought her hearer, but, aloud, said politely: "What makes you say that, Mrs. Smuggles?"

Squared the Handkerchief.

Up to 1785 handkerchiefs were of every conceivable size and shape. Then one evening Queen Marie Antoinette in a fit of passion or indignation at Versailles, said that all 'kerchiefs should be uniform if they were to indicate good taste. The result was that Louis XVI issued a decree early in 1785 that all pocket handkerchiefs should have right-angle edges. So—right-angle they are and have been ever since.—[Portland Oregonian.

Whatever You Do Don't Neglect Your Eyes, Says Dr. Lewis, Who Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances.

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. — Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing. Many whose eyes were failing say they had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto Tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent. in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all good druggists.—[Advertisement.

Film on Teeth
Is What Wrecks Them

Dental science has found that most tooth troubles are due to a slimy film. You can feel it with your tongue.

That film clings to the teeth. It gets between the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice cannot dissolve it. So its damage is unceasing.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of many other troubles, local and internal.

That is why brushed teeth discolor and decay. Why tartar forms and pyorrhea starts. You may remove the debris, but the real cause of tooth troubles—the clinging film—is largely left to do its damage.

Now dental science has found a way to combat that film, after years of searching. We ask you to accept a ten-day test and see the results for yourself.

See How Teeth Glisten
When the Film is Gone

The results of Pepsodent show clearly in white, glistening teeth. You can see them everywhere, for a million folks now employ it. You can see them on your own teeth when you remove the film. And that's the purpose of this ten-day test.

Based on Pepsin

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The purpose of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

But pepsin must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. So pepsin long seemed impossible.

What science has now done is to invent a harmless activating method. That method is employed in Pepsodent. The result is a tooth paste which will do what nothing else has done. And five years of tests seem to clearly prove that it opens a new dental era.

Pepsodent has been submitted to every form of clinical and laboratory test. Dentists everywhere have watched its effects and now urge its daily use. This week we offer a test to you, and we ask you to accept it.

Look in Ten Days

We urge this test for your sake and your children's sake. Children have most to gain from cleaner, safer teeth. Try to avoid the troubles we have had.

Present this coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Use like any tooth paste. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

A book comes with the sample tube, explaining the results. Learn the reason for them. Compare them with the results of old methods. Then let your own good sense decide what method to employ.

This test is of lifetime importance, both to you and yours. It has shown at least a million people the way to whiter, safer teeth. Someone in your home should make it. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

AN EGGS-TRAVAGANZA.

By Katheryn Leone Wood.

The hens of Cooper Hollow were holding a convention.
Discussions of their native rights were heard with rapt attention;
When suddenly the order of the meeting was upset
By the advent of the farmer in whose barnyard they had met.

"Your pardon, ladies," said he, "for this masculine intrusion;
My presence here was not designed to bring about confusion.
I come to ask a question in a serious frame of mind
On a subject close to all the hearts of Cooper Hollow kind.

"In fact, it is our stomachs that it touches, and, you see,
Our purses are affected by it incidentally.
This is why I dare to meddle in your personal affairs,
Because of the reduction in the product of your wares.
"Not an egg have I discovered on this farm for many a day,
And I'd like to know the reason why you ladies do not lay.
Eggs-cuse my eggs-ercise of puns, but I eggs-pressly beg
An eggs-act eggs-planation of the eggs-it of the egg."

There was momentary silence, then, among the feathered flock,
When the chairman of the conference, Madame Plymouth Rock,
Fixed her comb and cleared her throat, then rose to the occasion,
Addressed the speaker in behalf of all the congregation.
"You ask for our eggs—cuse why eggs are so eggs—tremely few,
And so it is eggs—pedient that I eggs—plain to you.
The trouble is this latest fad, this craze of Chanticleer,—
The fuss and feathers over him is all that you can hear.

"It's Chanticleer where'er you go, from theater to store,—
Such 'eggs-aggerated ego' was never heard before,
That we hard-working hens should get so little commendation
And the conceited Chanticleer receive so much ovation
Has caused us to eggs-postulate against this sad display
Of popular ingratitude and gross partiality.
And this discrimination in favor of the man
We think a foul eggs-ample of injustice to the hen."

The farmer listened quietly, and when the speaker finished
He said, "So this is why my hen-fruit has diminished:
Because your jealousy has overcome your usual common sense,
You take eggs-ceptions to this rooster fad at my eggs-pense.

"All you have to do is just to lay around and set,
And still you kick on furnishing a single omelet;
Your eggs-traordinary reason for thus eggs-terminating
This eggs-cellent industry is quite eggs-asperating.

"My patience is eggs-hausted and there'll be an eggs-odus
Of hens from this vicinity unless you stop this fuss;
My eggs-chequer has fallen lately with a sudden drop,
My egg crop is eggs-tint because you've something in your crop
That needs to be eggs-pelled with a strong eggs-pectorant.
A good, sharp axe would cure you, I am quite confident;
To thus end your eggs-istence is a thing I hate to do,
But if you will not lay for me, why I will lay for you."
The hens looked at each other with significant alarm,
Then rose with one accordance and dispersed about the farm;
And, as they flew, the farmer heard Miss Cochin-China say:
"I am not chicken-hearted, but I must be on my way.
Of these eggless conventions I never did approve,
And when folks talk to me like that, I think it time to move.
Did someone mention Chanticleer? Well, I should say I shall!
I've no desire to hang around to my own funeral.
I hear the call of duty from that haymow over there,
So please do not detain me, for I have no time to spare."

And Madame Plymouth Rock was heard thus to soliloquize:
"I think on this occasion it is best to compromise.
All this eggs-citing talk on this egg proposition
Has had a tendency to sour that farmer's disposition.
I may not be progressive, but I'm willing to proceed
To follow his suggestions with eggs-celerated speed;
So I'll make an eggs-peditious eggs-cursion to the hay,
And life for me henceforth will be one glad, eggs-tatic lay."

MORAL:

One live hen on the nest is worth a dozen in the pot,
And one wishbone within the breast worth ten you haven't got.

LIONS ATTACKED AIR CAMPS.

In East Africa it was almost impossible to find any open ground suitable for an aerodrome, and space had to be cleared in the dense bush sufficient to allow a skillfully-piloted machine to rise and land. Frequently the airman were away from headquarters for weeks at a time, dropping their reports in message bags at headquarters and then returning to their lairs in the bush. Lions and leopards attacked the camps and waited for any one who dared move far from the tents at night; on at least one occasion elephants charged down upon an aerodrome and did tremendous damage.

A forced landing in the bush meant almost certain death, for even if pilot and observer survived the crash it was highly probable that they would lose themselves in their efforts to return, or be killed by wild beasts during the journey.—[Maj. W. T. Blake in Wide World Magazine.

KNEW WHERE THEY'D BE.

Mrs. Hughes, wife of the Australian Premier, is very fond of children, and has a fund of anecdotes concerning a visit she paid to a certain elementary school in Melbourne, shortly before starting for England.

Among the questions put by the mistress to her little pupils was the following:

"Suppose we had boarded a ship last night, and steamed a hundred miles due southwest, where should we be now?" the correct answer being, of course, "Off the coast of Tasmania."

There was a moment of breathless silence and then a tiny girl in the front row, who had just recently, it transpired, returned from a rather rough and stormy sea trip, piped out shrilly:

"In the cabin, ma'am, sick."—[Exchange.

THE HELPING HAND.

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

Under the auspices of the reorganized Atlanta Humane Society, a very successful work-horse parade was held in that city. One hundred and fifty horses were entered and over $100 in prizes distributed. The first blue ribbon for the best exhibit went to the remount station horses from Camp Gordon—six blaze-face bays. Boy Scouts participated, bearing banners with such mottoes as "Be Kind to Animals." Twenty young women store clerks marched, carrying flags.

It is planned to make the work-horse parade an annual event in Atlanta hereafter. Mrs. Katherine Weatherbee, secretary of the Humane Society, was very active in promoting this new venture.

The Philadelphia Society for Organizing Charity is supplying more than $7600 a month in cash allowances and other forms of material relief to widows with dependent children, according to a report made at a meeting of the committee on special relief.

Members of the committee urged the importance of a special appropriation to the mothers' assistance fund by the city for the care of mothers with fatherless children.

In pensions to widows, or in other forms of relief, Boston is spending $890,000 a year; Buffalo, $245,000; Chicago, $610,000; Detroit, $534,000, and New York City, $2,000,000.

Pope Benedict XV recently, through Cardinal Gasparri, made a contribution to the Roman Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of $200, expressing the hope that this gift might encourage others throughout the world to help on all such beneficent work.

Six hundred and seventy-two new bands of mercy were reported in December. Of these, 197 were in schools of Ohio, 167 in schools of Massachusetts, 115 in schools of Connecticut, eighty-six in schools of Rhode Island, fifty-one in schools of Pennsylvania, thirty-eight in schools of North Carolina, twenty in schools of South Carolina, thirteen in schools of Texas, two in Washington and one each in New Jersey, Virginia and Wisconsin.

Though most of the memorials being erected to the soldiers and sailors of the great war are community houses or other buildings, Chatham, N. J., decided that its memorial shall be a park and playground. Six acres on the main street, on a site formerly occupied by a hotel, have been set aside for this purpose.

The portion near the street is covered with shade trees and lends itself well to park development. To the rear the land is well adapted for a playground area, and here baseball, basketball and football fields are provided, together with a running track, tennis courts and individual playgrounds for younger and older children.

TOWN TO BE SOLD.

Weymouth, "Naples of England," Goes to Auction Block Soon.

The greater part of the town of Weymouth is to be sold early in the spring by order of Lord Wilton. The property was purchased some years ago by the late Lord Wilton from the late Sir Frederick Johnstone, who represented the borough in Parliament. It embraces a large proportion of the principal business premises in Weymouth, three or four large hotels, many licensed houses, entire terraces of houses on the sea front, detached modern residences standing in their own grounds, many sites of various sizes, ripe for building development, and other interests. The town has a population of 22,000.

Dorset competes with Kent for the title of "the garden of England," and Weymouth is the center of a combination of its maritime and territorial attractions. An old writer says that Dorset's reputation is partly owing "to the mildness and salubrity of its climate, which, notwithstanding its vicinity to the sea, is likewise dry." Historically, the neighborhood of Weymouth is interesting, evidence of its occupation by the ancient Britons and the Romans being still traceable. Proof of the residential desirability of Dorset is abundant in the remains of the religious houses, for the monks were ever the shrewdest judges of a suitable locality for a settlement.

Weymouth, one of the chief towns on the coast of Thomas Hardy's "Wessex," is an amalgamation of the ancient boroughs of Waymouth and Melcombe-Regis—quoting the spelling of the former name from a grant by Athelstan in the year 938. The Domesday book contained references to "Wai" or "Wais" and the adjacent lands. A long and bitter rivalry between Weymouth and Melcombe-Regis was closed in the reign of Queen Elizabeth by their union in one borough, enclosing the whole of the land around the harbor.

Weymouth has been called "the Naples of England," and its situation on the western shore of the bay commands magnificent scenery, especially the hills and cliffs to the spectator's left as he stands on the sea front. The shore is of fine sand, and the bathing exceptionally safe. The air has rightly been described as "mild and pure." As a pleasure resort and watering place Weymouth appeals strongly to the people of the Midlands, and the town is served both by the London and Southwestern and the Great Western railways. Commercially, Weymouth is of importance, being one of the chief ports for the channel islands. It enjoys, too, the large trade incidental to its proximity to the naval base at Portland.

The sale is one of the most important of its kind ever held, and is one of two or three recent transactions in which practically the whole of a town has been involved, others being the Shaftesbury sale a few months ago, and the sale, and impending resale, of the greater part of Brigg, in Lincolnshire.—[London Times.

The Miss and Woman of Slight and Slender Figure

—Trig little affairs they are—of Polo Cloth, Velvet or Jersey—in black, golden brown, purple—and everything about them is completely the spirit of the mode—

—Bouffant hips, of course, (as the prim miss at the left discloses)—flaring bell cuffs turned backed from trim-fitting sleeves—and narrow patent leathered belts—are a few of the nonessential essentials that combine to make these new jackets the attractive individualities that they are—

—And the collars are so different—a few of Angora—others flat-fitting round collars of velvet—and some are long narrow Tuxedo styles—

—There is one exceedingly smart model (illustrated at the right) that has no fastening except a single double-button at the top of a low cut Buster-Brownish collar—

—And the prices varying from $20 to $40 are surprisingly reasonable—

—In that section for the Miss and Woman of Slight and Slender Figure. —Third Floor.

The Snow White Moods of New

Spring Footwear

—reveal the smart, distinctive ways to tread the footways of our Southland—

—The footways leading straight to Bullock's and to that Bullock Shoe Store—where newest modes and fascinating moods of footwear find expression—

—The new trim-fitting tongue pump—with hand turned soles and Louis covered heels—is beautiful both to wear and to gaze upon and $14.00 is a low price—

—A white kid welt Oxford with welt soles and Cuban heels of white is a firmly constructed and attractive Oxford at $12.00—

—And the white Buck Oxfords with white welt soles—smartly perforated toes and low military heels—are another fine value at $12.00—

—The moment for white footwear is here—and those who are familiar with price will make early selection now at Bullock's.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIRS—
WARTS AND MOLES.

Pulling a few stiff hairs from the face may start a serious growth. Let me demonstrate free of charge how pulling, cutting, using wax depilatories and the so-called hair removers promote growth of hair on the face. My electric machine is the only known method of killing superfluous hair, fuzz, warts and moles, without destroying the surrounding tissue. This machine destroys 300 hairs an hour. I have had 19 years' experience and devote all my time to the work. A binding guarantee that any hairs or moles I treat will never return. Many L. A. satisfied customers will testify to my skill as an expert.

MRS. F. A. SCOTT,
Suite 407 Bumiller Bldg.,
430 S. Broadway.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR—
HUMILIATING AND UNSIGHTLY.

There is only one method known today of permanently removing superfluous hair, and that is Electrolysis (electric needle.) This process in the hands of a reliable and expert operator insures absolute satisfaction. I stand back of my work and guarantee any hair treated by me will be permanently destroyed, leaving no scars.

RENU-LIFE HIGH FREQUENCY VIOLET RAY FOR HOME TREATMENTS.

Treatments for rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, nervous diseases, headaches, constipation, indigestion, prostate diseases, poor circulation and over 100 ailments; recommended by the leading physicians in U. S. Health Book free; learn the whole marvelous story of the violet rays.

WHAT PROMINENT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE VIOLET RAY H. F. CURRENT.

"Their value in many acute and chronic conditions which are common in medical practice has become so marked that mere acquaintance with the results obtained by others should prompt a desire to employ them by all who read of their work.

"If the equivalent of this great pain reliever, antiseptic, and promoter of metabolism had been a new serum or anti-toxin, or some psychic fad, half pseudo-science and half quack religion, the fame of it would have swept around the world in three months. Yet this remedy—more far-reaching for good than exploited catarrh and cough cures, and vaunted 'vegetable compounds,' and all the combined best-sellers of patent medicine factories, in which the American public invests some hundred million dollars and 20 per cent. of its health per year—happens to be only one phase of an electric current, modest, reticent, and conservative, the study of skilled men, the subject of a decade of scientific investigation; and so it has patiently crept into quiet recognition during the past ten years, tested by progressive physicians here and there, and more in Europe than here, yet never losing ground once made, ever gaining increased confidence and now slowly coming into its own."

—S. H. Monell, M. D., (a foremost thinker in the medical world, and in electro-therapeutics has done more for electricity than any other living man.)

Call or phone for demonstration. Price $24, $30, $45, sold on easy-payment plan, or rented by the month.

BUILDERS, ATTENTION!

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO START THAT NEXT CAMPAIGN?

VAN NUYS, Hub of the San Fernando Valley, offers exceptional opportunities for persons who will engage in building houses for sale or for rent. In spite of a building record of nearly $450,000 during the year 1919, the demand for homes and housing accommodations in this community is greater than ever.

Desirable, well-located lots and blocks of lots may be secured at very reasonable prices, which will allow a good margin of profit in a building-for-sale campaign.

It will pay you to investigate the Manufacturing, Canning, Agricultural, Horticultural, Poultry, Dairying and other industries that are the real substantial basis for the demand for homes in Van Nuys, and which demand is growing beyond the capacity of present local facilities.

WE WILL BE PLEASED TO SHOW YOU AT ANY TIME.

WANTED—A LARGER SALARY.
YOU WANT MORE MONEY.
It's yours if you'll put in that extra hour or two each day—in recreation. Sure it's recreation to make pleasant five or ten-minute visits on a different line of merchants than the regular line you call on. You get a new viewpoint of business—you're in a different atmosphere. The handy pocket sample—the big commission getter makes your salary what you want it—no limit except the limit you set for yourself. One man's side line commissions one week, over $400. Everything FURNISHED FREE to work with—we even show you how to sell it—you learn that in 10 minutes. Write us—you'll at least have the satisfaction of knowing that you have not passed up a big spare-time money-maker without investigation. C. E. ERICKSON CO., Inc., 580 Erickson Bldg., Des Moines, Iowa

1917 VELIE TOURING
This is a car that has really been renewed. The motor has been rebored and fitted with new pistons, which means that it is as good as new. The top is covered with Chase Dreadnaught material, having a large plate glass window in the rear and Gypsy sides. The car has been refinished in its original color, a dark blue, and the fenders, hood, radiator shell and headlamps have been baked enameled—and added to all this, the tires are extra fine and the price is only $1185.00, terms to suit you.

SHERWOOD

IS DIFFERENT FROM THE REST.

If you will read my ads, compare my prices and come to see my cars, you can easily see why I sell more cars than the average dealer.

Come in and drive them yourself, take them to a mechanic, try them on the hills. Sherwood's plan is you sell them to yourself.

I don't advertise the fact that I am honest and reliable. But nobody has ever accused me of being otherwise.

I have sold over 300 cars in Pomona and about 100 here, and will gladly furnish a prospective buyer a list of my satisfied customers.

NOTE THESE LOW PRICES.

1917 WILLYS-KNIGHT 7-PASSENGER.
Sedan, new cord tires and looks like new; $1250.

CHALMERS MASTER SIX.
New plate glass top, new paint and battery; $785. This car is really worth $1500.

1918 CHALMERS LIGHT SIX.
Been driven only 11,000 miles; $1250.

1918 OLDSMOBILE EIGHT.
Light 7-passenger; $1050. Nobody ever quoted a price like this on this kind of a car.

1918 STUDEBAKER FOUR.
Plate glass top, new paint, good tires; runs fine; $750.

HUDSON.
Two-passenger closed car; beautiful blue; new Kelly tires; $1250. Other dealers would have a fit, just to have it on their floor. Don't overlook it.

CHANDLER.
Beautiful blue; $100 top; $1100. Others would ask you $1650.

STEARNS-KNIGHT.
Seven-passenger, new engine, new paint; runs perfect; $1350.

'18 BUICK, a good one; $1350.
I have 30 others in my Pomona store, where I came from.

SPECIALS SPECIALS

1918 PAIGE TOURING CAR.

$1280.00 $1280.00

This car is in exceptionally fine shape mechanically, tires are practically new, has recently been revarnished, upholstering, running boards, fenders and top are just like new and the car is ready for immediate delivery. Terms to suit you.

1919 VELIE TOURING

$1450.00 $1450.00

Quite frequently we take in trade a late model Velie that has served in a family that seldom drive off the boulevards and never take long, hard trips. This is one of that kind. It is without a fault mechanically, the tires are practically new, and the rest of the car is like it was when we delivered it new, with the exception that extra fine side curtains with plate glass windows have been added to the top. This car carries our regular service guarantee.

1917 VELIE TOURING

$1185.00 $1185.00

This is a car that has really been renewed. The motor has been rebored and fitted with new pistons, which means that it is as good as new. The top is covered with Chase Dreadnaught material, having a large plate glass window in the rear and Gypsy sides. The car has been refinished in its original color, a dark blue, and the fenders, hood, radiator shell and headlamps have been baked enameled—and added to all this the tires are extra fine and the price is only $1185.00, terms to suit you.

1917 REO 4-CYLINDER TOURING

$685.00 $685.00

In extra fine shape mechanically. Just refinished with the best job of refinishing that we could get in the city. The top is almost new and the tires still have at least one-half of their original mileage left. This car has hardly ever been off the boulevards. Offered for sale for the first time Monday and priced at $685.00, terms to suit you.

SUPER-SIX, 1918 HUDSON 3-PASSENGER CABRIOLET

$1975.00 $1975.00

Has been driven only 8100 miles, has Goodyear cord tires all around, worn but very little, has wire wheels and original paint. Mechanically the car is without a fault and our price is no more than other dealers are asking for open Hudsons of the same model. The price and the car will surely please you.

MURDER MYSTERY DEEPENS.

Officers Find Body of Man Suspected of Killing Sweetheart.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Feb. 14. — Cramped into the soft mud of the Colorado River, the body of Frank Romero, sought by Imperial Valley officers as the murderer of his sweetheart, was found this morning by the police near a seven-foot drop in a canal.

No trace of the missing girl, whose name is withheld by the officers, has been found.

The sensational discovery of the body of the man, when the canal had been drained with the expectation of finding the body of the girl, gave a new angle to the case which has baffled the officers. Late this afternoon Augustine Najabel was arrested on a warrant sworn to before Justice of the Peace Frank Roach, on a charge of murder.

Officers decline to state what information led to the arrest of Romero's friend, from whom he borrowed an automobile late Thursday evening.

The car, smeared with blood, was found yesterday near the seven-foot drop and was brought to the city.

A search of the county for miles surrounding is being made to discover the girl's body or, if possible, ascertain her whereabouts.

All Imperial has been aroused by the baffling mystery which bids fair to rival the famous murder of a woman near New River a year ago, when a body which had been burned in oil was found. No trace of the real murderer in this case was ever found.

CHILDREN'S THEATER MOVEMENT PROJECTED.

SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN WILL BEGIN WORK HERE WITH KIDDIE SPECTACLE.

Hattie Mooser, founder of the Aladdin Children's Theater Club, is to arrive here tomorrow from San Francisco to collaborate with Garnett Holme, internationally famous pageant producer in a campaign for the permanent establishment of a children's theater movement here.

Miss Mooser's efforts were given widespread recognition at San Francisco, where she has the support of the Board of Education, Parent-Teacher associations and prominent club and society women.

Men and women of Los Angeles prominent in civic and educational affairs have invited Miss Mooser to come here to carry on her work.

The opening gun in the campaign will be the presentation of a big kiddie spectacle, "Racketty Packetty House." It ran six weeks at the Savoy Theater in San Francisco and was considered of such educational value that Federal authorities removed the war-tax restrictions on admissions.

Rehearsals are to be started at once at 1324 South Figueroa street. Several hundred children will appear in the cast, and Mr. Holme is arranging to give tryouts to any children deemed qualified in any respect. Parents are invited to bring their children for tests. There is no expense attached to appearing in the play.

CHURCH IS TO HAVE "GYM" AND CINEMA.

LARGE SUM FROM METHODIST CENTENARY FUND GOING TO BOYLE HEIGHTS.

An appropriation of $25,000 to extend over a five-year period has been promised the Boyle Heights Methodist Episcopal Church from the centenary fund and plans have been made for an extensive community service programme, which includes the purchase this spring of $1000 motion-picture machine and the erection next year of a gymnasium building on a lot adjoining the church edifice.

It was announced yesterday that a lot adjoining the parsonage has been taken over by members of the congregation, giving the church property a frontage of 200 feet on St. Louis avenue.

A member of the congregation said yesterday that the parsonage will be moved from its present location to the recently-acquired lot, thus providing a site adjoining the church edifice for the gymnasium, which it is expected will cost $10,000. The motion-picture machine will be installed in the auditorium of the church.

It is expected that the gymnasium will serve as a social center for the young people of the neighborhood.

DR. AND MRS. PALMER GREETED BY FRIENDS.

Fifty-seven years ago Dr. Edgar Palmer sent a paper-laced valentine to a pretty lassie of Southern Wisconsin. Yesterday Dr. Palmer and the recipient of the valentine celebrated their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary at their home, 922 South Bonnie Brae street, and the faded valentine, bearing its tender message, was taken from the old treasure box and laid reverently on the table, where it was viewed by the many friends who came to congratulate the couple upon their long years of happiness together. Dr. and Mrs. Palmer have lived in Los Angeles for twenty-three years and are entitled to membership in the Pioneer Society of Southern California.

DRAFT OF "PLANNING" ORDINANCE FINISHED.

The draft of the ordinance providing for the creation of a city planning commission will be sent by the City Attorney to the City Council tomorrow morning. The ordinance as drafted proposes that the commission shall consist of fifty-one members, seventeen of whom shall retire each year, when new commissioners shall be appointed, and that an executive committee of nine shall be selected from the commission to have direct charge of work in hand. The powers of the commission cover city planning in its widest scope. The members of the commission are to be appointed by the City Council. They are to act in an advisory capacity and are to serve the city without pay.

SUES EXPECTORATOR.

Woman Asks Thousand Dollars Damages for Humiliation.

For "maliciously and wilfully" expectorating into the face of Lavera Howard while seated in her automobile, E. Escherich was made defendant in a suit filed yesterday in which the plaintiff asks $1000 for the humiliation and $1000 by way of punishment.

The complaint states that Lavera Howard was preparing to leave for a drive and was sitting in the machine in front of her home at 4433 Burns avenue when the act was committed.

E. H. CARTER ANNEXES BIG GOLF TROPHY.

E. H. Carter of the Hanover Golf Club, New Hampshire, defeated E. L. Horwood of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club, Canada, yesterday in the final round of the Hotel Raymond perpetual cup. The players were tied at the eighteenth hole and another round was played, Mr. Carter winning on the twenty-sixth hole.

DIVORCE SUITS ARE FOURTEEN.

St. Valentine's Day Marked Also by Lack of Other Domestic Actions.

Yesterday, St. Valentine's Day, the 14th of the month, was marked by the filing of fourteen divorce suits in the County Clerk's department. Also remarkable was the fact, as reported by Miss Emily Shumway, clerk, that no suits for annulment or separate maintenance were filed. Several annulment and separate-maintenance actions are usually filed every day.

CARRANZA CLUBBING GOVERNORS, CHARGE.

HUERTA SAYS CONFERENCE IS CALLED TO FORCE AGREEMENT ON ELECTIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Gov. Adolfo de la Huerta, of Sonora, Mex., has issued a statement attacking the conference of Governors in Mexico City, called this week by President Carranza, as a secret conclave to force agreement in advance on election procedure, according to advices from Mexico today. The Governor denounced the convention because it would not agree to give each Presidential candidate representation at the polls, and said he refused to attend the convention or bind himself to "respect its nefarious schemes."

Gov. Enrique Estrada, of Zacatecas, Ortiz Rubio, of Michoacan, and Itrube, of Sinaloa, were said to have taken the same stand. These States are regarded as strong for Obregon, who is due to reach Nuevo Laredo, on the border, next Wednesday, where he has announced he would make an important declaration of what he conceives the foreign policy of Mexico should be, and especially referring to relations between Mexico and the United States.

WIFE DEFENDS HONOR.

Declares Accusing Affidavits of Soldier Husband False.

Mrs. Mabel L. Davis, who was granted a divorce by Judge Crail yesterday, introduced certified records of the government to show that after her husband, Oscar B. Davis, entered the military service he filed affidavits to the effect that she had been supported by another man before he became a soldier. Mrs. Davis asserted that the affidavits of her husband were false and a corroborating witness was her mother.

TWO LADS MISSING.

Parents Seek Glendale Boys Who Started for Mexico.

Missing since last Saturday, February 7, Leo McGuire, aged 13, and Gordon Kingsley, aged 14, both of Glendale, are being sought by their parents.

The two boys, accompanied by a third, left Glendale Saturday after telling friends they were on their way to Mexico. Late Sunday the third boy returned. He said he had left the other two at Altadena.

Leo McGuire has light brown hair, light blue eyes and is 5 feet 8 inches tall. When he left home he wore a khaki shirt and gray plaid short trousers. Any information concerning either or both of the boys should be forwarded to the parents of Leo at 241 North Cedar street, Glendale, or to the Glendale police department.

NAB TWO AFTER THEFT OF FUR COAT AND GEM.

Charged with stealing a fur coat valued at $300 and a diamond ring valued at $2500, which was in the pocket of the coat, from the apartments of Miss Susan J. Lennox at 1126 West Seventh street, Floyd E. Adams and Taylor C. Conway, both of 333 South Grand avenue, were taken into custody yesterday by Police Detectives King and Cline. The fur coat, which was found in the two men's room, was recovered, but the ring could not be located.

According to the police, Adams and Conway, following their arrest, confessed that they entered Miss Lennox's apartments about a week ago and stole the coat. They stated, however, that they were unaware that the diamond ring was in the pocket. The men were both booked for burglary.

AMSTERDAM TERMED BOLSHEVIK BAILIWICK.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

THE HAGUE, Feb. 14.—According to the Handelsblad, Amsterdam has become a Bolshevik clearing-house.

A secret international Communist conference was held there early in February, at which representatives from the United States, Russia, Germany, England and other countries arranged to use the proceeds of jewels confiscated in Russia for propaganda purposes and the promotion of strikes in North America and Spain.

BUSCH GARDENS ON THE MARKET.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 14.—The world-famous Busch gardens have been platted and placed on the market. The plat was submitted to the City Commission today for approval before being filed. Mrs. Lilly Busch, owner of the property, reserves "Ivy Wild," her home place, but the remainder of the sunken gardens in the Arroyo Seco will be sold.

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY.

Here is your chance to get a beautiful suburban home, equipped not only for a home, but for an income producer as well.

An acre and a half of ground, double corner fronting on three streets; wonderful soil and cheap water.

Improvements consist of a thoroughly modern 12-room house with all conveniences, including hardwood floors, built-in effects, etc., so arranged and built that it can be used as a double house. Good-sized hay barn, cow barn and cement floor, stanchions for five cows, one chicken house 16x64, one chicken house 16x148, both having shingled roof, tongue and groove flooring and equipped with electric lights. Fine brooder house 1200 capacity. This property is between Gardena and Moneta, very conveniently located as to street car, stores, school and churches. The house alone today would cost to duplicate fully $7500, and the price of $8500 for the complete property is an exceptional value.

FOR SALE—

HOLLYWOOD'S MOST ATTRACTIVE SMALL SHOW PLACE.

Owing to the owner's decision to re-establish her residence in Paris this artistic small estate is being placed on the market.

Among the hills of Hollywood the owner discovered this secluded nook and built there among the sycamore trees, a rambling bungalow containing an entrance hall, large living-room, dining-room, 3 bedrooms, sleeping porch, 2 baths and kitchen. Garage has quarters for servant and stall for saddle horse. There are almost two acres of beautiful grounds, a tennis court, and almost every variety of fruit and shade trees.

A magnificent view of the city may be had from the spacious terrace and from the main rooms of the house.

If you are looking for a home with spacious, wonderfully improved grounds in the country, yet only 30 minutes by motor from the heart of the city, this is a most exceptional opportunity.

Shown by appointment.

PRICE $33,000.

THE NICEST SMALL HOME IN HOLLYWOOD

The architect who designed and built this house was awarded a first prize on it in a recent small-house contest. No detail necessary for comfort, and easy housekeeping has been overlooked. Cement plaster exterior, tile roof, large living-room, patio, 2 sunny bedrooms, hardwood floors throughout. Living-room walls decorated in oil. East front lot, centrally located. Price $7500.

2 ACRES OF GROUND—7-ROOM BUNGALOW

This solid concrete bungalow is located 2 blocks west of Sunset blvd., midway between Los Angeles and Hollywood. The large living-room and each of the 3 bedrooms, command a magnificent view of the city, ocean and mountains. The grounds are beautifully improved. Plenty of garden, fruit trees, flowers and lawn. This is an opportunity to secure an unusual home at a very reasonable price. Price $17,500.

CRESCENT HEIGHTS RESIDENCE

New 7-room house having 2 bedrooms, a large dressing-room and bath upstairs. Maid's room and bath down. Living-room has alcove for grand piano. Wall decorated in oil. Splendid east front lot, 80x190, in size is artistically planted to shrubbery and a variety of fruit trees. Double garage, chicken yard, automatic lawn sprinkler system. Price $11,000.

COMMERCIAL HOTEL.
PAYING 37 PER CENT. NET, FURNISHED.
$100,000.00 buys the equity in one of the finest 170-room hotels on the Coast. Has several business rooms on the ground floor paying good rentals. Paid over 37 per cent net last year at the low rates, run by a manager. Should pay from 40 to 50 per cent. at the new rates this year. Net returns for last month about $4500. If you do not want to run the hotel, the furniture can be sold for about $50,000.00, and leased at a high rental for 10 or 20 years to a good hotel man, giving first mortgage to secure the lease. I have other large interests that require my immediate attention. Act quick if you want the best and safest investment today.
B. W. CROWE, 427 Story Bldg.

FOR SALE—IN CALLING THE PUBLIC'S ATtention to income properties we do it with the assurance that they are worth more money than we ask. We control these properties, and after all, real estate is merely a means to an end. If we did not believe that you could make money by purchasing them they would not be offered. We have sold properties this winter for which the buyers have received offers as high as double the amount that they paid.

$30,000, consists of a frontage of nearly 100 ft. on one of our through business streets, improved with stores and apartments above; new, modern residence in the rear of ten rooms, is now being changed into apartments.

$29,750, new cement constructed 4 6-room flats, 2 baths to each apartment, spacious rooms, the best of woodwork, superior to any similar property anywhere. Adjacent flats not nearly as well constructed are held at $36,500—$37,500 each. This property to buy lot and put up the building will cost at least $32,000.

We are instructed by the directors of the Kenilworth Land Co., to close out the remaining lots of the beautiful Kenilworth Tract, at $400. These lots were selling 5 years ago at $575 upwards, and in our judgment the company is making a serious error in sacrificing them at such a ridiculous price just as Glendale is entering upon an unprecedented era of activity and prosperity. The corporation is liquidating its affairs and will immediately dissolve the corporation. The lots are free of all incumbrances and certificates of title are furnished by the Title Insurance and Trust Co.

FOR SALE—CATTLE RANCH.
Cattle ranch of 3000 acres in Northern San Diego county. Also has pasture right on 440 acres free of all expense. Excellent rainfall as ranch is on west side of divide about eight miles from ocean and in fog belt. Land in part is hilly and rolling but 400 acres are being farmed and from 800 to 1000 acres can be farmed if desired. Land raises fine wheat, oats, barley, beans, corn, etc. Plenty of water for cattle in three different places. Completely fenced and cross-fenced, having about 22 miles of barbed wire fence. Ranch lies nine miles southwest of Escondido and four miles from Lake Hodges Station. The new Lake Hodges is at north end of ranch. New roads now being built. Climate is absolutely perfect and rain fall far above country either north or south. 400 acres would be ideal for citrus or walnuts. There are several shallow wells on the place and if irrigating water was desired, there is very little question but what it could be developed in several places. Improvements are excellent, mostly new and cost probably $12,000 or more and include ranch houses with seven bedrooms, large living-room, kitchen, bath, porches, etc., also foreman's house of five rooms and bath, blacksmith shop, two seed houses, hay shed, cow shed, implement shed, oil house, large barn, pump house, with engine and pump for domestic and stock supply; 3000-gallon tank and water piped to every building, corrals, etc. Also a fine new 210-ton silo on concrete foundation. 400 acres all plowed and crop planted.
Everything needed in way of implements, including tractor, disc plows, mowers, drill, wagons, disc harrows, small harrows, plows, harnesses, saddles, blacksmith tools, etc. 200 acres in eucalyptus trees furnishing posts and shade. As to live stock going with the ranch, there are from 120 to 140 head of cattle, mostly high-grade Herefords, including extra fine registered bull and several young bulls. Twelve fine draft and saddle horses and an extra fine young Percheron stallion. This is a cattle proposition with extra fine feed but considerable farming can be done if desired. The price has been $125,000 for everything with a minimum cash price of $118,500, but the owner has just engaged in business in the city and wishes to put money in this business and also buy a city home. I can sell this ranch at a low cash figure and very much below the former price as named above. The owner will not accept any trade except possibly a small residence in Hollywood. He is willing to take back on ranch a reasonable mortgage and balance cash. I have been over every foot of this ranch and believe I am in position at this time to deliver this fine property at a great bargain and I consider it an extra fine cattle proposition. CHAS. B. STARR, 821 Investment Bldg., Los Angeles. Phone 11631.

FOR SALE—YOUR LAST OPPORTUNITY—IN Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands—open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees, which afford excellent shelter for stock. Here grain growing, dairying and live stock raising are being carried on successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming. The Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a large area of these fertile lands in Lloydminster and Battleford districts. This fertile land will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land Seager Wheeler grows the world's prize wheat. Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown, and butter of the highest quality is made. A man can soon become independent on a farm in this district. These lands can be bought now at prices averaging about $18 an acre. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions, no further payment of principal until end of fourth year, then sixteen annual payments. Interest is 6 per cent. M. E. THORNTON, Supt. of Colonization, Canadian Pacific Railway, 973 First st., E. Calgary, Alberta.

FOR SALE—

IT'S LIKE BUYING
SOW WITH PIG.

to purchase this 20-acre ranch in crop, and like the sow again, a part of the land that is now in crop will produce twice this year. A palm-bordered boulevard in front, a car line in the rear. Modern 4-room plastered bungalow. Just listen, 10 acres of this place leveled, checked and in alfalfa; thrifty little orchard of attractive fruit trees. Remaining land leveled and in irrigated barley, which promises an enormous yield of hay, which is bound to bring a big price in a dry year like we are experiencing. You can replant the barley land to corn or beans this summer. About 100 inches of pure soft water from your own pumping plant. Shallow lift.

FOR SALE—

"CARLSBAD BY THE SEA"

"PAYING COUNTRY HOMES."

Here is your dream place. Situated on State highway, railroad, near ocean, 85 miles south of Los Angeles.

Has the most equable climate in California. Here green peas have, during winter months, produced over $500 an acre.

Early string beans do just as well. Summer squash, cucumbers, green peppers, etc., all producing during the winter months.

We know of no other district where this is possible. Our even climate, rich, deep soil, and ample water supply assure us two crops per year.

Mr. Fruit Grower: We grow avocados, almonds, lemons, walnuts, figs, etc., to perfection. While these fruits are growing into bearing the bean and pea crops will pay for your land.

The Oceanside Mutual Water Company delivers water under pressure at cost. Nowhere can you equal Carlsbad.

The time to buy is NOW. When choice selections may still be had. Arrange to go with us any day. We are proud of this proposition and glad to show you. For further information, call on or write.

A BUSINESS MEN'S OIL SYNDICATE

Is being organized to handle a proven shallow field oil lease in Central California. One well on the property now produces 5 to 10 barrels of oil of a gravity of 32 degrees Baume.

This is a safe investment in that we have the lease and have proven it oil bearing and now want a small amount of capital to get the oil to market.

The oil is the finest Paraffine Base oil yet produced in California, and we are bid $3.40 per barrel for it as it comes from the well.

Syndicate divided into 60 units of $500 each.

See our advertisement on Financial Page.

Only a few units remaining.

FOR SALE—NEW MEXICO OIL LANDS.
LOS ANGELES INVESTORS ARE BUYING THEM
WHY?

One Los Angeles man just sold his ten-acre Louisiana lease for $7000 per acre. (Cost $2.50 an acre.) Another, his Texas lease for $60,000, (cost $1800.) Another Los Angelan refused this for adjoining land. They followed the big companies' lead, bought when prices were low. The big companies are buying New Mexico holdings heavier than ever. Follow their plan. Some prices now as low as 50c and $1 an acre. Geologists and oil men predict the deep test wells drilling in New Mexico will prove it the next great field. Come in for details.

NEW MEXICO PETROLEUM ASSOCIATION, (Licenses, city, state, government,) 222 Investment Bldg. Phone 11135. Open evenings, appointment only.

FOR SALE—

SURE OIL LAND.

OIL SHORTAGE IS INCREASING—

No better investment can be made now than test holes in new territory. The country needs all the oil you can find, and you have a safe and sure market.

But don't resort to old-fashioned methods of drilling, with large and expensive machinery. Never forget the cost of a hole increases in the approximate proportion to the "square of its diameter."

To drill smaller diameter holes with the latest and most efficient portable machines ever built for territories from 500 to 2500 feet deep. Write us for particulars and circular.

We are the oldest theater brokers in Southern California and know the history as well as current conditions of all the theaters. Such information would be of value to you. When deciding on a purchase to accept an agent's "guarantee" is not good business, and we don't ask it of you, but we do insist upon your checking the business in question through the box office as the only way you can satisfy yourself that everything is as represented. Regarding references we would not take the liberty of referring you to banking houses and film exchanges with whom we have no business relations whatsoever. But will put you in direct communication with (or the names of) numerous satisfied exhibitors who bought through us, cut this adv. out and get details on theaters.

BUSINESS CHANCES—
Of Many Kinds.

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED THE DIFFERENCE in the advertisements that appear in the daily papers over our name, and that of many others? When we read an ad that says, "Good business opening, clearing $500 a month, for $1000," we feel like telephoning the advertiser to keep his business for two months longer and he won't need to sell it. You never read that "BUNK" over our name. There are good business openings from time to time in many lines of business and that is the only kind that you will ever have presented to you through this office. Just as fast as we get hold of these, we can find buyers for them, and the only regrettable fact is that the ones that are really good and legitimate, do not always sell first. One would almost think that the people in California are so accustomed to being hoodwinked that they really look for it and expect it. Now what we are driving at in all this criticism is that this office is one of the places that you come to in safety and ask for information on any business proposition whether you want to buy or sell, and you will get the truth as far as it is in our power to give it.

OIL STOCKS ARE SPECULATIVE

And while they offer large returns do not speculate unless you can afford to take a loss. The recently discovered oil fields are bringing wealth to a great many people. Profit by first-hand information. Many millions will be made, as this year promises to be the biggest in the history of the petroleum industry. If you are holding oil stocks in companies operating in the Mid-Continent, Texas, and Burkburnett fields, or interested, you should read the OIL PRESS and get the real facts; each issue brimful of valuable data, and interesting news about the oil industry, and the recent successes. More than 200,000 readers a month. Thousands have made money by its advice. A late issue, together with the "Markets," containing quotations on listed and unlisted oil stocks, and colored map of the Kansas and Oklahoma oil fields FREE on request. Address OIL PRESS, 1505 Republic Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

BUNGALOW GROCERY SNAP—
If you were in the gambling business, we would give odds of about 100 to 1 that we will sell this business with this one ad, and you'll say so too when you read what we are offering. A cash business, no delivering, or soliciting, doing an average of $45 a day, located near the foothills, with beautiful view of the mountains; fine little bungalow on a corner lot 50x150, fine garage and good garden; all furnished ready to step into with no rent to pay on either the store or your home. The stock all nice fresh and well bought, invoicing about $1200; the fixtures just $500, but worth more. The house and lot could not be duplicated today for $4500, so that the total of this proposition is $6200. Now here is what we will do if we can turn this over on this ad: We will give a discount of $1000, in other words practically giving you the grocery stock for nothing to say nothing of this fine paying store business, and if you haven't enough cash to swing the balance, we will take back a mortgage for $1500. The best reason in the world for making this ridiculous offer. Now let's see what kind of red blood you have.

BUSINESS CHANCES—
Of Many Kinds.

A VERY EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY WILL be open shortly for a clean-cut man with business ability to connect himself with an old established real estate and investment business in Los Angeles. The investment required is $5000, and if agreeable an arrangement will be entered into for a year on a salary basis of $200 a month, with the ultimate object in view of taking party into the business. This is not a proposition where the concern is creating a position in order to get the use of the investment, as the services are more essential than the money, but the investment is absolutely necessary, as it will simply replace other money now invested in the company. Ample protection will be made for same, and the company positively will not accept a man simply for the money alone. He must be a man with clean habits, willing to get down at 9 a.m. and remain until 5 p.m. The associations in the company are the very best, the business is in a healthy prosperous condition, and the man who we are looking for will appreciate the merits of this opportunity. Address K, box 155, TIMES OFFICE.

SPLENDID OPENING IN REAL ESTATE and building for party with few thousand dollars and native ability. If you are the right kind of a hustler you can make money without risk and get the exclusive handling of a close-in tract of beautiful building lots with all improvements. Tel. MR. BAKER, 54010.

TO INVEST—
CAPITAL AND EXPERIENCED SERVICES.

I can foresee the splendid future of Los Angeles, therefore I desire to associate myself with some established local enterprise, either manufacturing or merchandising. I am willing to supply ample capital together with proved executive service in developing a business lacking these elements. If you have a legitimate proposition that will measure up to an intelligent investigation and desire to share your future with a successful hustler, you will do well to communicate with me. Be prepared to exchange commercial and banking references. I do not know anything about motion pictures, oil, real estate or patents and am too old to learn, therefore, gentlemen, save your postage. If you are interested in this advertisement give your phone number and complete details pertaining to your business. We can then meet and talk it over. I want to deal with principals only, we will both be better satisfied. Address P, box 257, TIMES OFFICE.

A PROPOSITION OF EXCEPTIONAL MERIT needs a party who is willing to invest from $50,000 to $75,000. This proposition is particularly lucrative and would undoubtedly interest some elderly person who is about or has retired from active business interests, but is desirous of a good investment, with fair returns, without the responsibility of business cares. Party would at all times have control of his investment. This is not a stock proposition, oil well or gold mine. Every minute of our time is taken, and we do not solicit answers from agents, information seekers, investment brokers or realtors, but desire to deal directly with anyone looking for a proposition as described above. Address H, box 325, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

WANTED—LIGHT MANUFACTURING BUSINESS.

SEEK CAPABLE MAN FOR HANSEN'S PLACE.

SNYDER FEARS $5000 A YEAR WILL NOT ATTRACT AN ABLE ENGINEER.

An important subject of discussion at the City Hall is that of the prospective appointee as Chief Engineer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of City Engineer A. C. Hansen. Members of the Board of Public Works held a conference with Mayor Snyder on the subject yesterday, but no decision was reached as to an appointee.

"We are in full harmony," said Mayor Snyder last evening, "on the plan to secure the very best possible man for this position. It is a big job, but the salary of $5000 a year will not be very attractive to the man who is really fitted for the place. It may be that some engineer of high standing will be willing to take the position as a matter of civic pride. There is no urgency in filling the place, and I feel certain the Board of Public Works will look over the entire field before taking action."

Commissioner P. P. O'Brien has declared himself in favor of appointing a City Engineer from the corps in the department if the suitable man can be found. The Board of Public Works expects to receive applications from various engineers within the next few days. It was learned yesterday that friends of H. Z. Osborne, Jr., chief engineer of the Board of Public Utilities, and for many years connected with the City Engineer's department, are urging his appointment.

CALL TEN MORE FOR GRAND JURY SERVICE.

SEVENTEEN INCLUDING WOMAN HAVE BEEN ACCEPTED TEMPORARILY.

Seventeen members of the panel for the 1920 county grand jury were passed temporarily yesterday by Judge Willis and instructed to report again next Saturday for further examination. Because of the failure to obtain a full jury of nineteen, ten additional names were added to the panel and those so named were notified to appear Saturday for examination.

Mrs. Maud Davis Baker of 1616 Vine street, this city, was excused from service, but Miss Flora N. Hunter, 2803 South Vermont avenue, was accepted temporarily. This leaves Miss Hunter as the only woman on the panel. Frank Burke of Downey was ill and unable to report yesterday. It was learned that G. W. Gould, whose address was 1421 East Wilson street, Glendale, is dead.

The ten called for the new panel are E. P. Bosbyshell, 1910 Oak street; Terrill R. Crawford, Downey; George C. Flint, 255 East Ocean avenue, Long Beach; J. Johnston, 207 West Twenty-fourth street; James W. Long, 2503 West First street; Joe H. Martin, 2114 East Fourth street; George Rice, Jr., 303 East Fourth street; Leslie B. Higgins, 1221 Marengo avenue; Joseph Smith, Downey; J. T. Wilson, San Fernando.

Those passed temporarily are R. O. Bell, 125 North Grant street; C. F. Bailey, 1422 Wilton place; George Cross, Puente; Fred K. Dyar, 1910 Huntington drive, South Pasadena; George H. Frampton, Artesia; Miss Hunter; James Irving, 702 South Spring street; J. S. Killian, El Monte; A. L. Lewis, Santa Fe Springs; William D. Murray, 1721 New England avenue; M. F. McNie, 215 West Seventh street; Alfred R. Rubly, 6690 Sunset boulevard; R. W. Schwartz, 2424 Crenshaw boulevard; Charles A. Sessions, 1455 North Bronson avenue, Hollywood; D. E. Wellcome, 3980 Ingraham street.

WIFE WINNER AGAIN IN PROPERTY TANGLE.

JUDGMENT AGAINST HUSBAND AND SHERIFF UPHELD BY COURT OF APPEAL.

Department No. 1 of the District Court of Appeal yesterday affirmed the judgment of the Superior Court of San Diego county in case of Sarah A. Higgins against her husband, B. B. Higgins, and Sheriff Jennings, that contained some curious angles.

It was asserted that Mr. Higgins, a San Diego county ranchman, made a prenuptial pledge to deed his property to the wife in return for her caring for his two children. They were married in 1904. Before that Mrs. Higgins had been his housekeeper for some time. She had some property and disposed of it to pay a mortgage against the Higgins ranch and pave the way for Mr. Higgins to deed the property to her. The debts were cleared but the transfer was not made. Then Mrs. Higgins filed a homestead right without the knowledge of her husband.

Later the property was sold and by a mistake, the payment was made to Mr. Higgins. The wife protested and the $9000 note was handed to her but it bore the name of the husband. The Bank of Oceanside then sued to recover on that note for an old debt contracted by Mr. Higgins. Judgment was obtained and Sheriff Jennings took possession of the property in his official capacity.

Mrs. Higgins then sued to recover the instrument from the Sheriff. The lower court found in her favor and the higher court has just affirmed that judgment.

FORTY I.W.W. EJECTED.

Start to Los Angeles; Ousted from Train; Defraud Restaurant.

Deputy Sheriffs, constables and city marshals were notified yesterday to be on the watch for forty I.W.W., ejected from a train at Saugus, who walked out of a small restaurant at Saugus after refusing to pay for their meals. The I.W.W. were on their way to Los Angeles when a crew put them off a train. The trouble was reported to the Sheriff's office by Deputy City Marshal Patton of San Fernando. Shortly afterwards six stragglers were taken into custody by Constable King Collins of Newhall.

DAMAGE SUIT FAILS.

Judge Wood yesterday gave judgment in favor of Reuben Solomon, who was sued by Miss Winifred Hernan, after his automobile struck her. She was crossing the street when the accident happened.

COSTLY WEDDING JEWELS STOLEN.

"Meanest Thief," Cries Bride, "Took Precious Gifts."

Left Her Other Gems, Hidden in Silk Lingerie.

Loot Valued at $3000 Sought by Private Detectives.

The sneak thief who stole her jewelry, valued at $3000, from a suite in the Alexandria, was denounced yesterday by Mrs. Frank E. Peard, the victim, as "the meanest thief in the world." He not only took all of her precious wedding gifts, but also marred a happy honeymoon.

Mrs. Peard was formerly Mrs. Edith Arnell of Ventura. A few weeks ago she became the bride of Frank E. Peard, a wealthy land broker of 14 East Sixtieth street, New York City. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Peard started on their honeymoon and stopped off at Los Angeles for a few days.

On February 7, just a few minutes before they had planned to leave a local downtown hotel, Mrs. Peard discovered all her jewelry had been stolen. She had hidden it in a gem box, which was wrapped in silk lingerie and secreted in a wardrobe trunk. When she opened the gem box, all her wedding presents, given to her by her husband, were missing. These presents consisted of numerous platinum rings with settings of diamonds, pearls, rubies and emeraldes, a platinum and diamond lavallier and other valuable articles.

Detectives of the William J. Burns Agency in their investigations advanced the theory that the theft was committed by some person who knew of the hiding place of the jewels. The peculiar phase of the robbery was that nothing was taken but Mrs. Peard's wedding gifts. Other jewels, valued at $5000, were left in the gem box, which, after the theft, had been rewrapped in the silk lingerie and placed back in its hiding place. Though Mr. and Mrs. Peard had intended to leave Los Angeles on February 7, their honeymoon was postponed indefinitely while a search is being made by the Burns detectives.

HONOR MAYOR'S SON.

Boy Scouts Tell Father They will Decorate Soldier's Grave.

An affecting scene transpired in the Mayor's office Friday afternoon, when ten Boy Scouts—Alonzo Edmonds, Clifford Gill, Fred Smith, William Thomas, Emil Wienar, Addison Creitz, David Lyons, Kenneth Lynch, Carl McElvy and Louis Spring—in charge of E. B. DeGroot, scout executive, visited Mayor Snyder and spoke of the purpose of the Scouts to decorate the grave of the late Capt. Ross Snyder, son of the Mayor, when they visit Europe next summer to attend the international Boy Scout Conclave. The Mayor feelingly responded, urging the lads to devotion to their country and readiness to respond to the call of duty, wherever it may lead. Alonzo Edmonds was spokesman for the Scouts.

SPECIALIZED IN IT?

Inspector Says Peacock's Blackmail Attempt was Second One.

Fred Peacock, who is in the County Jail on a charge of trying to extort $2000 from Louis Rudniak, a South Main-street pawnbroker, made a specialty of attempted blackmail, according to Postoffice Inspector Cookson.

Mr. Cookson stated that about the time Peacock wrote the letter to Rudnick, asking him to put $2000 in a certain place in Puente, he wrote a similar missive to Mrs. N. C. Panton, a guest at the Gates Hotel, demanding that she leave $500 in cash in a designated spot, in return for which Peacock would restore a valuable lot of jewelry that was stolen from Mrs. Panton's room some time ago.

BUSINESS MEN UNITE.

Northwest Property Owners Complete Organization.

With F. E. Johnson as president the organization of the Northwest Property Owners' Association was completed Friday night at a meeting in the Logan-street schoolhouse. L. B. Rector was elected vice-president, Clarence W. Horn, secretary, and H. M. Lee, treasurer. The executive committee is composed of S. H. Jacobs, Frank H. True and W. E. Root. J. Mills Davies is chairman of the publicity committee. The organization will press for the improvement of First street and the rebuilding of the Temple-street car line and its extension to Hollywood. It will also work for the union terminal depot and the civic center. Regular meetings will be held the last Friday in each month, the next meeting being in March.

PASS FRAUD SUSPECT WAIVES HIS HEARING.

POWELL WILL BE HERE SOON TO FIGHT COUNTERFEIT CONSPIRACY CASE

Information was received yesterday by Special Agent Connell of the Department of Justice that Theodore W. Powell, in custody at Portland, Ore., on a charge of conspiring with others to defraud the government in the issuance of counterfeit railroad passes, will waive examination and be in this city the early part of the week, accompanied by his wife, who also is under arrest.

O. E. Brown, secretary and treasurer of the Pacific Coast Service Bureau, a detective agency of which Powell was general manager, yesterday flatly denied his ex-partner's charge that he (Brown) was involved in the pass frauds. Mr. Brown stated that Powell advertised for a partner in the detective agency and that he went in with him, Powell showing what appeared to be excellent references. He says Powell had a lot of the passes which he disposed of outside the office, accounting for them by saying he was a United States railroad inspector. On February 4 Powell left a note in the office telling Mr. Brown he was going out to see about the bond for the agency. He has not seen him since.

Mr. Brown has given his information to the Federal agents, who take no stock in Powell's charges involving his ex-partner.

A statement of his part of the affair was made to Mr. Connell yesterday by Louis Gordon, one of the defendants. Dave Grosher, jointly charged with him, was released on a bond of $2000 furnished by a local bonding company. This leaves David A. Weatherby, father of Powell, and Gordon still in the County Jail. Ned Williams, the hotel porter, is also free on bond.

One of the peculiar features of the case is the fact that in spite of the supposed unimportant status of the defendants, several prominent people are interesting themselves in the prisoners.

A number of investors in the counterfeit pasteboards have turned them over to the Federal officers, all eager to get out from under the pending grand jury inquiry. Under the statutes, however, they would be immune from punishment unless it could be shown that they had used the transportation, or unless there were testimony directly connecting them with the conspiracy that resulted in the making of the false passes. The punishment under the Federal law is limited to those who secure a profit from the purchase of the cards, by using them for travel.

MRS. KENT ANSWERS MISSING MAN'S WIFE.

DENIES EARLY WAS EMPLOYED ON HUSBAND'S RANCH WHEN HE LEFT.

Statements made to the Sheriff's office by Mrs. W. Early regarding the disappearance of her husband, Robert Early, and his employment by J. W. Kent of Kent station were flatly denied yesterday by Mrs. Kent, who says that Mr. Early was not in the employ of Mr. Kent when he went away, that he had been permitted to stay on the premises temporarily on the strict condition that he stayed sober.

On February 9, 1917, the date when Mr. Early disappeared, Mrs. Kent says he had appeared at the ranch badly intoxicated and that he had been put to bed by Mr. Kent and one of the ranch hands. After Early had become sober he was told by Mr. Kent, Mrs. Kent says, that he could not stay. She says Early was remorseful and agreed to go away. He left and has not since been heard from.

Mrs. Kent says that Mr. Early had previously told her that he had troubles and that some day he would go away and stay away. Mrs. Kent brands the statement that Mr. Kent became insane about eighteen months ago as a falsehood. Mr. Kent died February 11, 1919, but was in his right mind to the last, she said yesterday.

In Mrs. Early's statement to Deputy Sheriff Manning, she said she believed that human bones found at 356 East Sixty-fourth street were those of her husband.

AGED WOMAN, HIT BY MOTOR CAR, MAY DIE.

MRS. WIER SUFFERS BROKEN LEG AND INJURIES TO RIBS, SKULL AND EYE.

Mrs. Joseph Wier, 73 years of age, of 2324 South Flower street, was probably fatally injured yesterday afternoon when she was run down while attempting to cross West Adams street between Hope and Flower streets by an automobile said to have been driven by R. F. Goings of 1688 West Twenty-fifth street, formerly a saloon owner.

Mrs. Wier was taken to the Receiving Hospital and then removed to a private hospital. According to the police surgeons she is suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, several broken ribs, a fractured right leg and will probably lose the sight of her right eye.

According to Goings he was driving west on Adams street at about fifteen miles an hour when Mrs. Wier crossed the street in front of him and was almost to the curbing when she darted back and ran directly in front of his auto. She was hurled to the pavement by the right fender of the automobile.

Police detectives of University Police Station investigated the accident, but made no arrests.

ENGINEER IS TAKEN TO HIS FINAL REST.

Funeral services for Arthur John Kearney of 3118 Arvia street, 48 years of age, were conducted at the Pierce chapel by Rev. C. C. Pierce last Wednesday. The funeral ritual of the Odd Fellows followed. Many members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of the local Scottish Rite bodies and of the Shrine witnessed the Masonic service later at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Kearney, a locomotive engineer who formerly lived at Geneva, Ill., and at Glenn's Ferry, Idaho, was a member of Geneva Lodge, No. 139, A. F. & A. M., Geneva, Ill.; Fox River Chapter, No. 104, Fox River, Ill.; Idaho Commandery, No. 1, Boise, Idaho; Freeport Consistory, Freeport, Ill.; and El Koran Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., of Boise, Idaho, and also of St. Charles Lodge, No. 14, I.O.O.F., St. Charles, Ill., of the Trapshooters' Association of Geneva, Ill., of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers.

There should be a close working contract between them and the cement manufacturers, to the end that a campaign of education be launched and the home-builder informed exactly as to what can be done with low-cost concrete.

Slack Workmen.

In seeking the causes of high building costs the public is disposed to view the material man, particularly the lumber dealer, as the chief culprit, and let it go at that. While it is true that there may be some reason for this, it is well to remember that the slacking, indifferent and inefficient workman is also a factor in adding to the burden. Not a few contractors, architects and investors are disposed to view the faults in the present situation as a fifty-fifty proposition, shifting half the apple of discord to the highly-paid workman who is sulking and hanging back in this time of great building stress and who refuses to render a highly efficient day's work.

Few building jobs, in fact, are without their troubles, harassments and delays due to the slacking workman who thinks of his relation to the work as entitling him to more pay than he returns in service to the boss. Sometimes, when he finds that the pay limit is fixed by the unwritten law which governs those things, he feels unjustly treated and takes it out in slighting his part of the job. He may be a painter, carpenter, plumber or brick mason.

When any one of these parts of a building job falls down on his work through ill-temper, indifference or vicious design, the whole job suffers, is delayed and the cost necessarily is heavier. In the end the slacking workman pays and his co-workers pay with him. Somebody is guilty of an old form of sabotage; and any destructive factor in building is the costliets burden it can bear.

STATE OFFICES IN NEWEST BUILDING.

BOARD OF CONTROL AND COURTS TO MOVE TO SIXTH STREET.

Announcement was made yesterday that the State Board of Control and the State courts have arranged for quarters in the new twelve-story office building being erected at the southwest corner of Sixth and Olive streets by the Central Business Properties, Inc. The three top floors will be taken over by the Board of Control, the uppermost of these to be occupied by the State courts. This building, plans for which were prepared by Architects Dodd & Richards, will be completed by January 1, 1921. It will be a reinforced concrete structure, with the interior faced with brick and terra cotta. The building will have a frontage on Sixth street of 201½ feet and 105 feet on Olive street.

Coincident with this announcement it was stated that arrangements have been made with the Hauser Company to dedicate fifteen feet for a private alley back of the building, running from Grand avenue to Olive street. This will afford alley accommodations for the new office building.

It has also been agreed between the Hauser Company and the Central Business Properties, Inc., to establish the building line five feet back from the new building line as established by the widening proceedings for Sixth street, and an additional five feet is also to be given for sidewalk purposes on Olive street. Under this arrangement, and with the setting back of the Pacific Mutual Life Building on the opposite side of the street, the block from Olive street to Grand avenue will have been widened twenty feet over its present width.

The officers of the Central Business Properties, Inc., are Lee A. Phillips, president; George I. Cochran, vice-president; Howard S. Dudley, secretary and treasurer, and Preston Hotchkis, assistant secretary.

NEW STUDIO.

Louis B. Mayer Enters Plant Just Finished on Mission Road.

Latest among the modern motion picture studios is that just completed for Louis B. Mayer adjoining the Seelig Zoo at 3800 Mission Road, into which that company has just moved. The new buildings are designed in early French architecture. They will be occupied by the executive and administrative offices of the Mayer Company. In addition to the studio buildings there are also two bungalows which will be used by Anita Stewart and Mildred Harris Chaplin, two of the Mayer stars.

Millard Webb, acting studio manager, is superintending the landscaping of the studio grounds. The buildings were planned and erected by Meyer & Holler, Milwaukee Building Company.

OPEN LOT SALE.

Broker Announces New Tract Near New Rubber Plant.

C. C. C. Tatum and the Guy M. Rush Company announce the sale today of a number of residential lots at the Baldwin tract opposite Ascot Park. This property, which has been improved with streets and curbing, water, gas and electricity, is being sold in liquidation of an old estate.

This property has been put on the market, according to the brokers, in order to make it available for home building. The need for new homes in that section, they point out, will be especially pressing when the new Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's plant is in operation. This plant will employ from 7000 to 8000 employees. It is also expected that many new stores will rise in that section to meet the demands of the tire and cotton plants.

AUCTION SALES.

C. H. Connor, realty broker, reports the following sales of properties at auction: For John P. Kennedy, to Gerald Gunnerson, house and furniture at 1818 Victoria drive, $36,500; for Carrie E. Rose to Bertha H. Whitney, house at 1060 Virginia avenue, Venice, $8500; for A. A. Byrne to Gaetano Gianquento, house at 14 Electric boulevard, $7650; for M. E. Kelby to John Boyd, house at 905 Flink avenue, Venice, $10,700; for A. H. F. Peck to Agnes M. McGourty and Mary R. Weightman, house at 941 Beacon street, $13,125.

NEWCOMERS BUY.

Former Akron Residents Purchase Homes at Angeles Mesa.

Three new arrivals from the East have just purchased homes at Angeles Mesa, according to the announcement of Sales Manager Nolan of the Angeles Mesa Land Company. Mrs. George Harter of Akron, one of these buyers, said that nearly 200 families from the Ohio city plan to leave shortly for Los Angeles to make their homes near the new Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company plant, now building at Ascot Park.

Two sales were made to former residents of Tulsa, Okla. Mrs. Clemy Plomobom purchased a bungalow for $7200, and Lester Rhoads a home for $6900. Both of these new arrivals predicted a heavy influx of people from the Oklahoma oil districts, during the next few months. The Angeles Mesa Land Company's building contractors are completing fifty homes now under construction.

BUSINESS LEASES.

Clothing and Auto Dealers Take New Quarters.

The W. Ross Campbell Company, through R. Q. Brown, reports the following business leases:

For Gray Brothers, through the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank to Norton Brothers & Norris, wholesale clothing dealers, the store at 270-72 South Main street; through J. A. Wells for Dr. Hill Hastings to Michael T. Barney, the property at 853 San Julian street, as an automobile salesroom.

APARTMENT DEALS.

E. W. Cason & Company, hotel brokers, report the sale of furniture and lease of the Regent Apartments, 2401 West Sixth street, to J. H. Davis, of Seattle. The seller was R. A. Kirkpatrick, and the consideration $40,000. The Regent contains 150 rooms. The same firm reports the sale of the Jamieson Apartments, 915 Carondelet street, for H. C. Edwards, to Mrs. Ruth E. Piver and Mrs. J. R. Crandall. The consideration for the furniture was $32,500.

SELLS CORNER.

M. D. Fox, with H. H. Cotton, reports the sale of the property at the southwest corner of Twenty-fifth street and Central avenue for A. Furlong to A. Franklin for $16,500 and the southwest corner of Hollywood boulevard to Vine street for Jacob Stern.

PREPARE NEW TRACT.

Investment Company will Soon Open Angeles Vista Heights.

Twenty teams of graders and a caterpillar tractor are working to get the streets in shape for the opening of the Los Angeles Investment Company's new subdivision known as Angeles Vista Heights. This subdivision is a part of a 500-acre tract facing on Mesa drive, overlooking the city. As part of the development work, ten new homes are being constructed, each of different architecture.

No part of the tract, nor any of these homes have been offered for sale. Notwithstanding this, however, the company reports that two of the homes have already been spoken for, one by R. F. Ingold, Federal income tax expert, and another by S. B. Robinson of the Home Savings Bank.

In Rodgers Park the Los Angeles Investment Company announces that it has eighty homes under construction and that the demand for these bungalows is increasing.

WILSHIRE SALES.

The Hubbard-Evans-Holt Company, realtors, report the following property sales: For Mrs. Margaret N. Morlan to Miss H. Kohlmeir, house at 706 South Wilton place, $10,500; Dean M. Kennedy to Joseph E Coberly, house at 369 North Wilton place, $10,500; Amanda S. Kimball to Joseph E. Crowley, house at 958 Fifth avenue, furnished, $9750; Mary E. Cannon to Robert J. Gans, house at 307 South Van Ness avenue, $12,000; Davidson Construction Company to Mrs. Ira Sweet, house at 1098 South Manhattan place, $13,500; Charles E. Wyant to Charles H. Burt, house at 4556 Lomita avenue, $7500; Miss Loma M. Stevens to Edward A. Mills, house at 990 Third avenue, $8750; Bryan & Bradford to August C. Goodright, lot at Wilshire Heights, $4600; Miss Florence Henderson to John P. Shank, house at 134 South St. Andrews place, $7000; Mrs. Grace W. Cochrane to August C. Goodright, house at 239 South Gramercy place, $8500; John Schlegel to Miss Louise Abricat, house at 249 South Gramercy place, furnished, $11,500; Ed Kelly to James F. Sinks, house at 1216 North Hobart street, $5500.

NEW REALTY FIRM.

Announcement is made of the organizations of the firm of Quinlen & Howard, realtors and builders, with offices at 129 South Western avenue. Both men have been identified with the real estate and building fields for several years.

MAGIC CHANGE AT NEW TRACT.

Improvements Fast Shaping at Windsor Heights.

Street Work Being Rushed to Provide for Homes.

Many Fine Residences Now Being Erected.

Improvements are going forward at Windsor Heights at a speed which illustrates in a striking way the determination of the subdividers of that attractive west-end tract to meet the requirements of the home builders eager to see the completion of their building plans. This new subdivision, adjoining Windsor Square and the grounds of the new Wilshire Country Club, was opened less than two months ago, yet, with such vigor and speed have the promised street improvements been pushed, that an amazing story of real estate development has been recorded almost overnight.

The transformation of a tract that but a short while ago was a barley field into one of the most attractive residential subdivisions in the city's exclusive Wilshire district has, in fact, amazed even those familiar with the rapidity of the changes in Los Angeles in the last few years. According to the subdividers of Windsor Heights, no development enterprise of this magnitude, involving the expenditure of approximately $100,000 for street improvements, sewer work, gas and electric mains and conduits and tree planting, has been undertaken in this city in a number of years, and they refer to it as probably the largest single piece of residential development now under way in the entire West.

While Windsor Heights was officially opened to public sale sixty days ago, it was not until about one month later that the contractors were prepared with their machinery and materials to proceed with the street improvements. Meantime, however, many homes have been started by owners eager to see their buildings completed. Since the street improvements were actually started, four giant excavating machines, grading machines, gang plows, carts and an army of workmen have been working at high speed to put the tract in shape. Thousands of yards of dirt have been moved, long lines of deep trenches have been excavated for sewer pipes, water mains, gas and electric-light conduits and each day sees the big task of installing these improvements a long step nearer completion.

In order to complete these improvements it will be necessary to move approximately 120,000 cubic yards of dirt, according to the Perry Construction Company, in charge of the construction job. About 80,000 cubic yards of this will represent the grading work at Windsor Heights and 40,000 yards at Marlborough Square, the subdivision on the north. It will also mean that approximately three miles of sewers, water and gas mains will be laid. The contractors expect to finish their work within fifty days unless delayed by rainy weather.

The street work is now progressing at rapid speed on Vine street, from Temple street at the north end of Windsor Heights to Third street on the south. Two of the excavating machines are now opening trenches on Vine street for the sewers, gas and water mains. As rapidly as these trenches are opened the pipe is laid by a crew of men working as rapidly as the progress of the big machines permits. On the completion of the street work, Vine street will be paved the length of the tract, permitting of passage from the Hollywood hills through Marlborough Square to Windsor Heights and on

CALLS HALT ON RENT GOUGERS.

Traffic Man Writes Mayor of Profiteering.

Declares Tourists Have been Driven from City.

Greedy Landlords Create a False Impression.

That profiteering in rents has caused many tourists to depart from Los Angeles and others to cut short their visits was indicated in a statement issued yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce. This statement also contained the information that because large numbers of visitors had left the city there were now many vacant rooms.

It was explained in this statement, however, that while numerous instances of rent profiteering have been complained of to the chamber, that organization desires it understood that the great majority of responsible landlords through the tourist rush have been sensible of their obligation to the public and have sought to deal fairly with them. The responsibility for rent profiteering, according to the chamber's information, rests with a group of landlords—some of them transients who purchased the leases of hotels and apartment houses with the idea of making quick profits from this season's tourist influx—whose names are known to the chamber. It is admitted that their rapacious methods of dealing with tenants have resulted in considerable damage to the city's reputation for fair dealing.

One of the most flagrant recent instances of profiteering came to the notice of Mayor Snyder yesterday in a communication from T. C. Peck, general passenger agent of the Salt Lake Railroad. It referred to a complaint of E. J. Chapin, an oil operator of 808 Merritt Building, who told of a personal experience with the proprietor of a Los Angeles apartment house.

"It looks to me," said Mr. Chapin, "as if landlords in this city are organized to counteract the very valuable publicity that the railroad companies have given Southern California for many years, and that with just one season's opportunity they are going to 'kill the goose that laid the golden egg.' My best wishes and personal co-operation if you wish it, to in some manner impress on these grasping individuals the utter folly of continuing this practice."

In another complaint to Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Peck relates a case where, on January 22, the lease of a well-known West Sixth-street apartment house was transferred to a lessee from Seattle. On January 29, according to Mr. Peck, the new lessee notified the tenants of a general rent increase of from $10 to $25 per month on every apartment. While it was not officially announced, the tenants were given to understand that there would be no summer rates this year, although it had been the custom of the previous management to reduce the rates from $5 to $15 per month during the summer.

"Prior to leaving this apartment house," explained Mr. Peck, "the retiring manager had on several occasions said that he was entirely satisfied with the rentals he was charging, as they were yielding him a very fair net profit upon his investment."

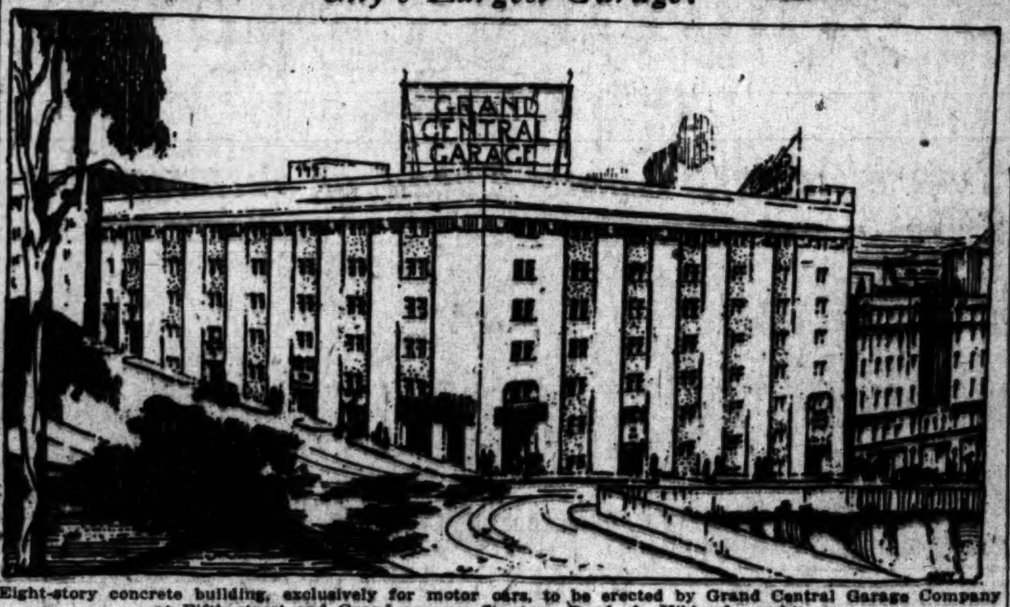
Many complaints have also been received by the Chamber of Commerce that the medium-priced hotels in this city are charging from two or three times as much for the same accommodations as is charged in San Francisco. It is also asserted that contracts with many rooming-houses, entered into two or three months ago, and expiring on March 1, are daily being broken and prices advanced from 30 to 50 per cent.

One of the evil effects of the impression which has spread to other cities that Los Angeles is unable to provide accommodations for its tourists is referred to in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce from L. Leighton Thomas, head of a travel bureau in Vancouver, B. C., inclosing a newspaper clipping in which a wealthy tourist is quoted as warning visitors to stay away from Los Angeles because this city is unable to supply accommodations for its guests. An extract from this clipping follows:

"One of a party of millionaires who have been making a tour which, when completed, will have encircled the United States and included Honolulu and Hilo, William H. Raah, director of the Todd Shipyards Corporation, is at the Hotel Vancouver. Mr. Raah states that everywhere on the Pacific Coast they have found the utmost prosperity. At Los Angeles they were informed there were no fewer than 49,000 tourists at the time of their visit. Hotel accommodation was at a premium; in fact, states Mr. Raah, Los Angeles is now advertising in the eastern papers advising people not to visit the city for the present as accommodation is unobtainable."

This impression, according to the Chamber of Commerce, is entirely erroneous. It is explained that it probably grew out of an impression gathered by tourists who have been imposed upon here by profiteering landlords. It is known that the same statement has been widely circulated in hotels in northern cities. The Chamber of Commerce is now taking steps to counteract it and bring the facts to the public, realizing that serious damage has already been done the community by its profiteering landlords.

City's Largest Garage.



Eight-story concrete building, exclusively for motor cars, to be erected by Grand Central Garage Company at Fifth street and Grand avenue; Stanton, Reed & Hibbard, architects.

NEW GARAGE TO BE LARGEST IN CITY.

EIGHT-STORY CONCRETE BUILDING TO RISE AT FIFTH AND GRAND.

Plans for the erection of the largest garage building in Southern California—an eight-story structure with storage capacity for more than 1000 cars—were announced yesterday by the Grand Central Garage Company. The building, of reinforced concrete and with every modern convenience for the handling of motor vehicles, will be erected at the northeast corner of Fifth street and Grand avenue, adjoining the rear of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company's new office building being erected at Grand avenue and Sixth street.

The garage building will have a frontage of 180 feet on Grand avenue and 168 feet on Fifth street. Plans for the structure have been prepared by Architects Stanton, Reed & Hibbard. The building will be unique in the fact that the first five floors may be entered from street level owing to the topography of the land. Access to the sixth, seventh and eighth floors will be by ramps, or runways, of easy grade and broad enough to permit of the passage of two cars without crowding. All eight floors will be used for storage. Attendants will be stationed on each floor to give assistance to patrons at all times, and lockers will be provided for the storage of accessories. A ladies' waiting room will be provided and there will be a reading and smoking room for chauffeurs.

On the roof, reached by a runway, will be the machine shop, paint shop, top factory and wash racks. An elevator will be provided to handle "dead" cars, while a passenger elevator will be installed in the southeast corner of the building.

The capacity of the garage will be 1032 cars. On the ground floor will be a store for the sale of accessories. It is estimated that the building will cost $650,000. Among the stockholders of the Grand Central Garage Company are J. T. Cooper, D. M. Baker, Lee A. Phillips, Richard Mier, Metcalf & Ryan, W. H. Davis, O. Rey Rule, F. B. Schwentker, Blankenhorn-Hunter-Dulin Company, E. J. Loeb, G. A. Bastenchury, George I. Cochran, A. W. Morgan, W. W. Beckett, Preston Hotchkiss, Harry E. Moore, Claude Wayne, W. A. Jenkins, W. Green, Danford Baker, Jr., A. G. Hann and Blake Franklin.

CHURCH GROUP.

Extensive Building Plan is Proposed at Santa Ana.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 14.—A building programme, which will call for the erection of at least four structures to cost more than $100,000, will be launched this year by St. Joseph's Catholic Church of this city, on the block bounded by Lacy, Vance, Garfield and Wellington streets, it was announced today. The block was recently purchased for $20,000.

The first building, construction on which will start this summer, will be a new parochial school, in which 108 students are now enrolled. Plans also call for erection of a new church, an academy and a new rectory. The building committee consists of Carl Klatt, J. A. Maag and Antone Borchard. Rev. Father Eummelen is handling the improvement programme.

ADD DEPARTMENT.

Metcalf & Ryan, realtors, announce the opening of a business property sales department in charge of W. W. Robson, formerly of 611 Security Building. This firm has for years specialized in business leases and the care of property. Increasing demand for desirable property, together with high rentals which offer a good investment return, has greatly stimulated the real estate field, Mr. Ryan said yesterday.

MAGIC CHANGE AT NEW TRACT.

to Wilshire boulevard. It will be a paved boulevard seventy feet wide and one of the most attractive thoroughfares in the city.

Temple street is also being paved and installed with sewers, gas and water mains through from Larchmont boulevard, at the east end of the tract, to the rim of the Wilshire Country Club tract. Similar improvements are under way on Larchmont boulevard from the east edge of Windsor Heights to the north side of Marlborough Square at Rosewood avenue. El Centro street is also being treated to the same development transformation. As soon as these principal improvements are completed, all these streets will be curbed, their pavements laid and trees planted. Larchmont boulevard, along which the tracks of the Sixth-street car line run, will be widened to ninety feet, and paved with asphalt, making it a superb thoroughfare connecting the Hollywood district with Wilshire boulevard.

It is also planned to change the names of Vine street to Fremont boulevard and Temple street at this point to Beverly drive. This latter highway eventually will be extended through the La Brea district to Beverly Hills to connect with the present Beverly drive.

Twenty or more contractors and material firms are now engaged in house construction at Windsor Heights. A majority of the homes under construction are for private investors, although a number of builders are constructing homes for the market. These homes are being erected on Larchmont boulevard, El Centro and Vine streets. Seven houses are nearing completion, while eighteen others will be started within the next few days, according to Tracy E. Shoults & Co., subdividers of the tract, who have reported the sale of more than $300,000 worth of homes sites at Windsor Heights since the tract opening.

Homes under construction are for A. F. Morlan, Rene Rivierre, John R. Avery, George P. Cordrey, Mrs. Jesse M. Walker, Mrs. Stanley Visel and Ben L. Gubser, two. Additional homes will be started within the next few days in accordance with plans prepared for Walter W. Smith, Frank N. Whitman, Chester D. Bonestell, Mrs. Sabina D. Burks, R. W. Monkman, Richard L. North, Mary A. Beyl, R. F. Skellenger, G. Harold Janeway, W. B. Holmes, Mrs. Clara B. Woodruff, Mrs. Minnie L. Johnson, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Macklin, W. N. Howard, Mrs. Katharine Woods and B. J. Bradner.

CONCRETE HOMES RISING IN FAVOR.

HIGH BUILDING COSTS DRIVE MANY TO SEEK CHEAPER MATERIALS.

Intending home builders whose plans have been halted by reason of the high cost of building are showing an increasing interest in the uses of cement for house construction, according to local builders and architects. Many individual investors, who, upon investigating frame, brick and hollow tile construction, have found these materials too high for the ordinary home, have lately turned their attention to cement construction, being encouraged by the statements of experienced builders and architects that concrete not only furnishes a satisfactory material for house construction, but that its cost is considerably lower than frame, brick or hollow tile.

Inquiry of the local lumber, brick and clay-products manufacturing companies shows that in less than two years lumber construction has advanced more than 100 per cent., and brick and hollow tile construction about 100 per cent. over pre-war prices. Cement, on the other hand, has advanced only about 25 per cent. over the pre-war price. This is largely accounted for in the fact that cement is a native product and is not subject to high transportation and labor costs. While both brick and hollow tile are native products, and their production is rapidly increasing in the State, their prices, according to the local companies, have advanced in sympathy with the rise in the cost of frame construction. It is also pointed out that, while lumber prices remain high, brick and hollow tile construction will also remain high, because lumber necessarily figures largely in both these types of construction.

Architects and builders contend that the amount of concrete house construction would measurably increase, with the result that smaller types of homes could be built at moderate cost, if it were not for certain provisions in the present Los Angeles building code. One of these provisions, which is referred to as a serious obstacle to the construction of small, cheap concrete homes, requires that all concrete walls must be supported with studding. This requirement, according to architects and builders, is not only unjust, but is manifestly unnecessary, because concrete walls of proper thickness are extraordinarily strong, and in one-story house construction require no reinforcement. The only load carried by the walls, it is pointed, is the roof load. It is also contended that concrete construction has the advantage of being fireproof, and its age is without limit.

MENTONE ACTIVE.

Considerable activity has been shown lately in citrus and olive lands at Mentone, a productive district, northeast of Redlands, according to reports from that section. The tract, which parallels the famous Redlands-to-Bear Valley boulevard, was opened some years ago by W. P. McIntosh, a well-known Los Angeles real estate operator, now associated with E. B. Goodrich. Of the original tract of about 2300 acres, 400 acres remain unsold. The land is watered by one of the most complete systems in that section of Southern California, the water being drawn from Mill Creek. The elevation is about 1800 feet.

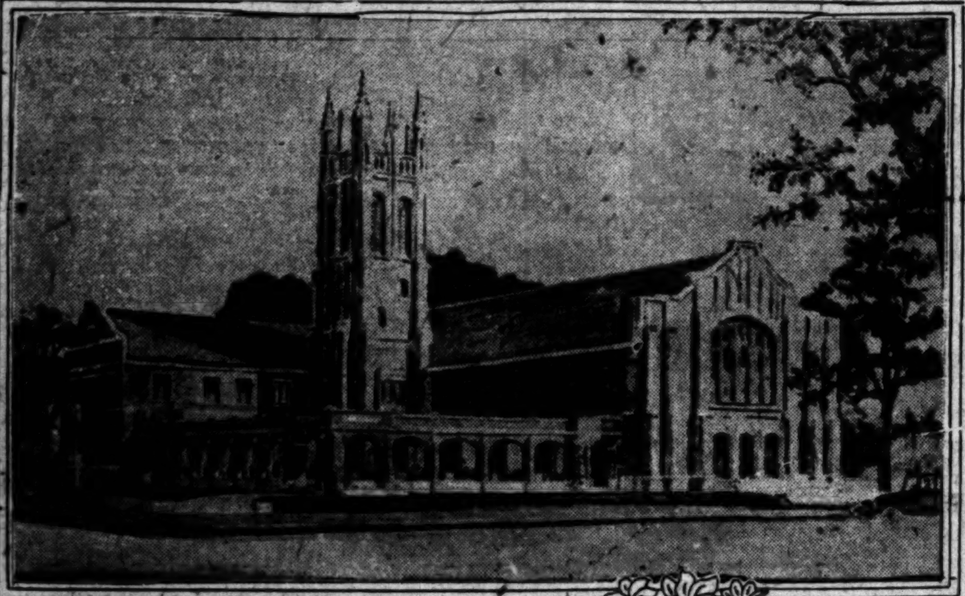
Wilshire Presbyterian Church.



Fine edifice proposed for corner of Western avenue and Third street to provide for growing needs of church and institutional work; Robert H. Orr, architect.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IS PLANNED.

WILSHIRE CONGREGATION TO HAVE FINE EDIFICE ON WESTERN AVENUE.

Of wide interest in Southern California church circles is the announcement of the Wilshire Presbyterian church that it will soon erect a fine church edifice at the southeast corner of Western avenue and Third street. Rev. John Albert Eby, D.D., pastor of the church, is at the head of the building committee recently organized to raise the building fund.

The new church, which will be of brick construction and of a modified type of Gothic architecture, will be an L-shape structure with a cloister surrounding an open court, inside of which will be an outdoor pulpit. Plans were prepared by Architect Robert H. Orr. The building will be 128 by 130 feet, and will be erected on a site 166 by 150 feet. On the main floor will be an auditorium 50 by 64 feet, seating 450 persons. There will be a gallery seating 60 persons. On this floor will also be the elementary division of the Bible School, with accommodations for the children's, primary and junior departments. In addition to these rooms there will be a choir room and Brotherhood room.

On the second floor of the Bible School will be the secondary division, intermediate department, with four class-rooms, and parlors. Provision has been made on the first floor for a banquet room, assembly room, social hall, kitchen and serving room. Dr. Eby said yesterday that every effort will be made to have the new structure conform to the highest church building standards.

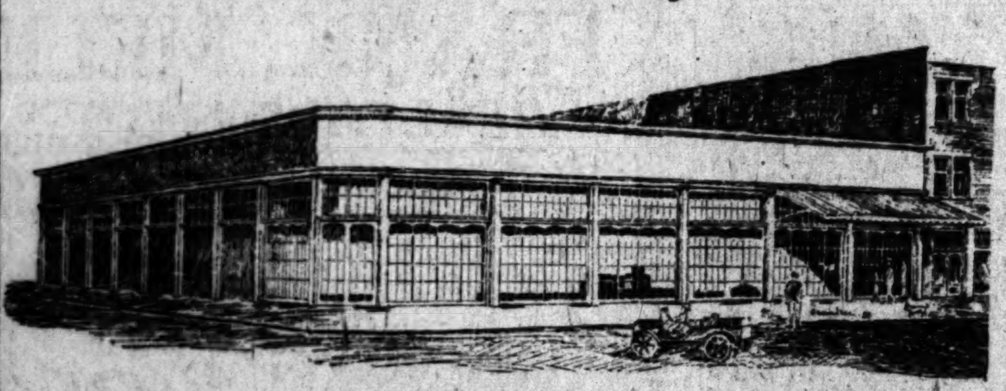
New Market Building.



Store to be erected at northwest corner of Pico and Figueroa streets by F. W. Braun for Sam Seelig Company; W. J. Saunders, architect.

NEW BUILDING.

Owner will Erect New Market for Seelig Company.

W. H. Rees & Co. report leasing the property owned by F. W. Braun, president of the Braun Corporation, at the northwest corner of Pico and Figueroa streets to the Sam Seelig Company. The Braun Corporation will erect a building for the lessee, to be occupied as a market. The building, designed by Architect W. J. Saunders, will have a frontage of 115 feet on Figueroa street, 150 on Pico and 113 on Trenton street. It will be equipped with an automatic sprinkler system, and the latest equipment in plumbing and lighting will be installed.

The Seelig Company will have about 19,000 square feet of floor space. This company, within the last three months, has opened three markets, and has under construction three others. The Seelig Company was organized in Los Angeles nine years ago, and is today operating thirty stores.

RANCH SALES.

District Around Visalia Reports Numerous Land Transfers.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, Feb. 12.—Real estate transactions which show the transfer of property during the past week valued at more than $200,000 were filed for record in the county offices here. Among the more important deals of the week were the following:

E. H. Stong of Porterville has deeded to Ed Meench forty acres of citrus land in the Deer Creek district, for $25,000; J. A. Phillips of Los Angeles has sold to Mr. and Mrs. William Adema and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Adema a tract of 295 acres of unimproved land in the Pixley district, for $3500; forty acres of the Cain place, near Visalia, has been sold to D. Moorsalian, for $19,500; Mrs. Sophie Graefner of Los Angeles has sold thirty acres in the Earlimart colony to the San Joaquin Farms Company of Los Angeles; George E. Case has purchased forty acres of land in the Yettem district, from Z. M. Boyd, paying $11,000. The largest single transaction of the week was in the sale of the McCann ranch of 8600 acres, lying in the Goshen district, north of here. Mrs. Mary L. McCann was the principal owner of the property. Peter Horn has sold forty acres of vine lands in the Dinuba district to D. P. Hofer of the Alta district, for $8000; C. R. Luten has sold two properties in the Woodlake district, one of 160 acres near the townsite to William C. Lewis for $12,000, the second to Phillip, Mike and Albert Sweeny, who paid $24,000 for a half section in the same district.

BUILDING LEASED.

New Tenants Soon to Enter G. W. Walker Stores.

R. A. Rowan & Co. report through their rental department that the new building, known as the George W. Walker Building, under course of construction at the southeast corner of Eighth and Grand avenue, will be completed in about two weeks, with practically all of the stores leased. The building, designed in the mission style, is owned by George W. Walker, and was planned by Architects Walker & Eisen.

The Rowan Company reports having closed the following leases in the building: To O. P. Sharp, 518-520 W. Eighth street, for a cafe; to Spier & Spier, 522 West Eighth street, for a jewelry and optical goods store; to Joe Dienstein, 526 West Eighth street, a tailor; to the United Cigar Stores Company of America, storeroom at the corner of Eighth and Grand avenue, to J. M. Whalen, 802 South Grand avenue, for the sale of electrical appliances; to William Chagalakas, storeroom at 804 South Grand avenue, for a candy store; to the Wistaria Company, storeroom at 541 South Broadway; to Joe Reeves and F. H. Swanson, storeroom at 250 South Figueroa street; to N. Paskos, flower stand in the entrance to the Title Guarantee Building at 220 West Fifth street.

ADOBE HOUSES.

Two of Twenty-two at West Adams Place that Material.

Twenty-two new homes are under way at Victor Girard's new West Adams place tract, all of which are under contract by intending owners, according to the company's office. These homes are of five and six rooms each. Two of them are being constructed of a specially-prepared adobe brick, the use of which Mr. Girard says has been remarkably satisfactory in connection with the construction of similar homes at Walnut Park.

These adobe brick, he explains, are prepared by expert Mexican brick makers, and are made on the ground. After the process of drying they are treated to a waterproofing and are then laid on an ordinary house foundation of concrete which is treated to eliminate all moisture. The house walls of this adobe brick are much thicker than ordinary frame and brick walls, and are declared to be virtually indestructible.

WEST-END SALES.

Brokers Show Heavy Property Demand in Report.

Giles & Laack report the following sales of residence property, totaling more than $200,000:

For Lute G. Gillelen, the residence at the southwest corner Harvard boulevard and Twenty-third street, including furniture, $75,000; Mary R. Balcom to B. A. Weyl, residence at 702 South Kingsley drive, $14,500; Jane Gray Hawkes to Leontine J. Kennard, residence at 515 South Norton avenue, $15,000; Alonzo C. Moses to Walker Stafford, residence at 122 North Ridgewood place, $11,500; Edward T. Kennedy to Anne P. English, residence at 936 South Norton avenue, $9500; Preston S. Wright to William H. Purdy and J. J. Sackett, bungalow at 308 North Harvard boulevard, $7000; Frank A. Steele to Robert S. Breyer, residence at 837 Fifth avenue, $14,250; Barbara C. Seymour to Joseph Chilberg, residence at 335 South Van Ness avenue, $12,500; Anne P. English to Mary M. Price, residence at 867 Fifth avenue, $13,250; Windsor Square Investment Company to Grace E. Pattison, the southeast corner of Plymouth and Sixth street, $12,500; Josephine Wells to D. F. McPherrin, residence at 827 Third avenue, $14,000; Aura F. Docker to H. E. Woolner southeast corner of Wilton place and Second street, $3250; Laura E. Ball to Helena B. Neece and Mary Burke, lot on Lucerne boulevard, south of Fifth street, $5000; Martin Knoll to Judge Gavin W. Craig, lot on West Seventh street, near Wilton place, $1700.

SEE MODEL HOME.

Many tourists and persons interested in home-building have recently visited the model home recently opened at Walnut Park, by the Victor Girard Company, according to that firm. This house, erected at Long Beach boulevard and California avenue, Walnut Park, will remain open for several months as an exhibit of artistic construction. It is built in the true Spanish patio style, the main walls being of specially-treated adobe and plaster construction. The house was furnished by Barker Brothers in Spanish period furniture. It contains seven rooms, and has a formal garden inclosed by a high cement wall. A. N. McCulloh prepared the plans.

IN DELANO SECTION.

Grape and fig lands are in demand in the San Joaquin Valley, according to the F. C. Ensign Company, general agents for the Richgrove Land Company and Terra Bella Development Company. This firm announces the opening of a new office on the State highway at Delano to handle properties of these two companies in connection with its Los Angeles and Terra Bella offices. Large financial interests in Fresno and Dinuba, according to the Ensign Company, have recently bought large considerable acreage in the Delano section and will plant it in grapes this spring.

SIERRA PARK.

The Janss Investment Company announces a series of excursions to Sierra Park, a bungalow tract on Huntington drive, between Los Angeles and Pasadena. The development plans of the Janss Company at this subdivision call for the erection of "bungalow-garages" as rapidly as material arrives on the ground. Ten of these "bungalow-garages" have ben started and forty more are planned, the company announces. The street improvements at Sierra Park have been completed.

ON GRAND AVENUE.

Harry F. Parker, realtor, reports the sale of the northeast corner of Grand avenue and Twenty-third street to Frank B. Amend and Marie F. Gardner. Considerable real estate activity has been shown in this district recently.

SANTA ANA GROWS.

Building Activities Making Many Changes in Near-by City.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 14.—With eighty-three building permits issued in January, aggregating $330,390, and twenty-five more issued the first three days of February, totaling $28,815, making a total for the year to date of $359,205, Santa Ana expects to exceed any former building record during 1920. January was by far the greatest month in history and the 1920 building total to date is approximately half the new mark set last year.

New residences are going up on every hand, costing anywhere from $2500 to $15,000, and there appears little prospect of meeting the demand for some time to come. The California Crate Company, whose factory is being replaced after the old plant was destroyed by fire, has taken out an additional permit for $4200 for an office and assemblying room. Included in the past week's permits are nine new residences as follows: Ed Barnett, $3000; Glen Breeding, $2000; Emma A. Scheets, $5000; J. B. Winters, $3000; F. W. Rollins, $4000; M. R. Henniger, $3500; Roger E. Robb, $3150; Inez Graham, $2000; Mrs. R. J. Jones, $2500.

TULARE PROSPECT.

New York Capitalists Said to be in Land Development.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, Feb. 14.—Thomas J. Ryan, New York capitalist, has been for the past several days on a tour of the Tulare Lake district, it became known here yesterday, investigating that district with a view to formation of a company to take over development work on a large scale. Mr. Ryan, who was accompanied by Daniel G. Reid and Henry Evans, all of whom are representing Wall street capital, is quoted as having said his report on the property was favorable.

While no details of the development work have been given out, it is reported that the plans of the new corporation contemplate an investment of from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000.

FLAT SALES.

Broker's Report Indicates Demand for Investment Properties.

W. I. Hollingsworth & Co., realtors, report the following sales of flat buildings:

For E. H. Barmore to C. A. Glass, formerly of Green Bay, Wis., two flat buildings on Twenty-fifth street between Main street and Grand avenue, $25,000; for E. Parmelee to Dora Hysham, four-flat building on West Twenty-third street, near La Salle avenue, $14,500; E. P. Wise to Elizabeth Eagleson, double bungalow on Brighton, near Santa Barbara avenue, $7500; G. F. Johnson to S. Myers, four-flat building on West Twenty-third street, near Normandie avenue, $15,000; J. B. Eaton to E. L. Eagleson, four-flat building on West Fortieth place, near Vermont avenue, $13,000; Mrs. O. Rowe to J. Higly, four-flat building on West Ninth street, near Vermont avenue, $16,000.

JOINS REALTORS.

The Norman Investment Company announces the association of J. Y. Blaikie as manager of the firm's mortgage investment department. Mr. Blaikie has been for years identified with the realty field as an appraiser.

No Profiteering Here

In the midst of higher prices for most commodities, as we are, there never was a time when you could get so much for your money in choice residence lots as you can right now.

Let us say to you, most emphatically, that if you ever expect to have a home in Los Angeles or ever hope to make money out of real estate, the foundation of all material wealth, now is the time to buy, if you buy wisely and where the most advantages are.

We are selling New Vermont Square lots cheaper than prices obtained at auction sales. Lots the same as formerly sold for $1000 you can buy now for $800—or $1250 lots for $1000.

And New Vermont Square lots have these advantages: They are well located, between Santa Barbara Avenue, Vernon Avenue, Van Ness Avenue and Western Avenue—the mountains to the sea boulevard—with three car lines direct to downtown; within walking distance of Manual Arts High School, grade schools, Vermont Square Library, University of Southern California, Exposition Park; all improvements and public utilities are in and paid for; the soil is excellent and the lay of the land is such that there is no water in sight anywhere immediately after the hardest rain; the property has desirable restrictions rigidly enforced; there are 533 well built, substantial and attractive bungalow homes now built, so that you have good neighbors and attractive homes all around you; there are no unkempt spots or place anywhere in the subdivision and none are permitted to exist; the whole subdivision looks decidedly clean, well kept and attractive.

If you ever expect to own any residence lots in Los Angeles, consider these truly splendid values in New Vermont Square now and make your purchases before the prices advance—for it must be—beyond the will of either you or me—that these lots will soon go to above their former prices. These lots could not be manufactured today for anywhere near the prices that you can buy them for now.

WOULD UNIFY WORK IN COLORADO BASIN.

SOUTHWEST LEAGUE SHAPES PLANS FOR MEETING HERE IN APRIL.

That the empire of the Southwest is on the eve of a tremendous development of the great Colorado River basin, is indicated by the elaborate preparations for the annual convention of the League of the Southwest, to be held in Trinity Auditorium, on April 1 to 3. The object of this convention will be to unify the various plans for development along the Colorado River, and to bring together in harmony these interests in favor of a single plan to include the entire Colorado River basin.

About thirty streams drain into the Colorado River. The total area of the Colorado River development territory is about 800,000 square miles and of this about 250,000 square miles is specifically within the proposed development section. Within this area is about 300,000 population. There are now about 8,000,000 acres, it is estimated, either under irrigation or capable of being rendered as highly productive as any lands now under irrigation there. Of these lands, some 2,000,000 acres are located within the State of California.

Much legislation has been enacted or initiated within the last three months. The general leasing bill just adopted at Washington is one. It gives the Secretary of the Interior authority to contract with private parties for developing oil and minerals on oil lands withdrawn by the Taft order from public entry. The rentals would be divided, fifty-fifty, between the State and the reclamation service. The general water power bill also recently adopted gives the Secretary of Interior the right to grant private parties and corporations privileges of developing power on inter-State streams. This affects the Colorado River, which has no less than twenty great power sites. The development of half of these would provide sufficient power for all the world, it was estimated.

Pending before Congress now is the general irrigation bill. This is supported by the representatives of thirteen States: California, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana, Nebraska, Washington, Idaho and Oregon. These States were represented actively at a conference in Salt Lake City last year, on a comprehensive development plan. They urged an appropriation of $250,000,000 for development of irrigation and reclamation projects in those States. Of this great sum about $100,000 will be spent in the development of the Colorado River basin.

Also there is the so-called Lane bill, which was introduced in Congress by Representative Mondell of Wyoming. This contemplates the construction of vast storage reservoirs to catch and control storm waters and store them for use in the dry periods on lands. The bill also provides for building of levees and other protective works.

ELSINORE PLANS.

The publicity committee of the Elsinore Chamber of Commerce, which is engaged in an extensive campaign to exploit the attractions of the country around Elsinore, announces that the booklets and statements covering the growth, crop yield, climate, soil, etc., of that section have been approved by James Stewart, director of the Farm Bureau Center. This policy was adopted by the Elsinore Chamber of Commerce to insure the accuracy of all information and thus protect prospective homeseekers against misstatements coming from unofficial sources.

NOTABLE WORKS.

Architect Submits List of Best Architectural Examples.

In connection with the public contest inaugurated by the Southern California Chapter of the American Institute of Architects to encourage interest in notable examples of architecture, John C. Austin, local architect, has submitted a list of fifteen buildings which he considers worthy of being called as notable architectural works. Mr. Austin's selections were forwarded yesterday to the contest committee composed of A. F. Rosenheim, chairman; D. C. Allison and Alfred W. Rea.

His nominations include the Los Angeles High School, Christian Science Church, West Adams, near Hoover street; Brack-Shops, Merchants' National Bank Building, northeast corner of Sixth and Spring streets; Knickerbocker Building, Olive near Seventh street; H. W. Hellman Building, northeast corner of Fourth and Spring streets; residence of M. H. Mosier, Fremont place; Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank Building, northwest corner of Sixth and Spring streets; grammar school at Downey, Cal., Administration Building, Throop College, Pasadena; Arroyo Seco Branch Library, Pasadena and Piedmont avenues; Orpheum Theater Building, the Little Theater, Figueroa street, near Pico; Hotel Savoy, northwest corner of Sixth street and Grand avenue; Hamburger Department Store Building, southwest corner of Eighth street and Broadway. Mr. Austin makes no nominations under the headings "notable examples of landscape architecture" or "notable examples of public sculpture."

IMPERIAL ACTIVE.

Lands Association Manager Reports Rapid Growth at Calipatria.

Real estate and building activities in the Niland-Calipatria district of the Imperial Valley are on the increase, according to H. H. Clark, general manager of the Imperial Valley Farm Lands Association, with headquarters in Calipatria, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to consult with Herbert L. Cornish, sales manager, and associates in the land selling enterprise. This association owns several thousand acres in this district.

"We have recently sold to Dr. E. G. Tillmans, a Calexico physician," said Mr. Clark, "320 acres six miles from Calipatria for $44,400. This land, now in barley, will be planted in alfalfa. Building is especially active in Calipatria just now, and the town is growing fast. The wonderful agricultural acreage surrounding it has only begun to be developed. The general activity in the valley will usher in a new era of development. Its possibilities have only just been sounded. Last year's crop production of more than $60,000,000 may easily be increased to $150,000,000 through intensive development of all tillable lands."

BUNGALOW GROUP.

Investor will Build on Site at Schloesser Terrace Tract.

Dr. A. G. Castles, owner of Castle Sans Souci, Hollywood, reports the sale to Frank Markman, a Minnesota capitalist, of a lot, 120x185 feet, in the Schloesser Terrace tract on Argyle avenue north of Franklin avenue for $12,000. Mr. Markman expects soon to erect ten bungalows in a style of architecture similar to Castle Sans Souci. According to Dr. Castles, about $100,000 will be spent on these improvements, including a formal garden and palm-lined drives lighted with especially designed electroliers.

Dr. Castles, who formerly practiced medicine and later engaged in gold mining in Lassen county, has recently entered the realty field. He expects soon to open an office in Hollywood.

VAN NUYS BUSY.

Record of Activity Shown in New Building Permits.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VAN NUYS, Feb. 14.—January showed the largest month's record of building permits in the Van Nuys community since annexation to the city of Los Angeles. There were seventy-two permits issued for a total of $84,296. The list includes twenty-four dwellings, one country club building, nineteen poultry houses, two business buildings and twenty-six miscellaneous structures.

In the last week alone permits totaled $32,895, which is a new high record for one week. Builders and contractors are crowded with work. They are greatly handicapped, however, by not having housing accommodations for the workmen who desire to come here. February is starting off with indications of even greater activity than ever. Among new buildings scheduled to be started in the next few weeks is a moving-picture theater for Johnston & Snow, proprietors of the Van Nuys Theater. New residences are being started at the rate of one a day. Another large real estate deal was closed recently in Van Nuys when the eighty-acre ranch, owned by Smith & Blakeslee, on the Ventura boulevard, was sold to Mark Grimes, a California farmer, for $100,000. The property is planted to walnuts and fruit.

FALLBROOK SALES.

The Fallbrook Development Company, owners of a large tract of citrus land in the Fallbrook district, reports the following sales: To Mrs. Flora M. Dunn of Los Angeles for William A. Keys, forty acres planted in lemons; Rollin H. Blacklidge, former City Engineer of Alhambra, sixty acres owned by H. H. Colestock of Los Angeles; Dr. W. H. Snyder, principal of the Hollywood High School, twenty-five acres, to be planted in oranges and lemons; Prof. W. A. Dunn, principal of the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School, fifteen acres; H. M. Fletcher of Whittier, ten acres from Cunningham Watkins; Capt. Allan Brice Miller of London, Eng., forty acres formerly owned by Robert Nesbit; Maj. Robert E. Crane, twenty acres from James B. Kolb; Willard F. Calderwood, fourteen acres from Mrs. Herbert Faust; Mrs. Louise Wallace and Odin Scott of Los Angeles, thirty-three acres from Mrs. Ida M. Groshong; G. R. Van Dike, twenty acres from Samuel Sproul; Clarence M. Stont, nine acres from Frank Fisher; William A. Keyes, ten acres from Fallbrook Development Company; Mrs. Fred Moore, twelve acres from Ernest Lauritzen; Misses Margaret and Lois Miller, twenty acres; E. P. Durbin, forty acres from G. F. Westfall; Raymond Wayman, ten acres from Mrs. W. C. Pittenger.

REDLANDS SALES.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 14.—The demand for citrus property continues here. Herbert L. Hubbard has sold his forty acres of navels and Valencias on Lugonia avenue to Carl McIntosh for $105,000. This is the finest grove in that section, and last year almost $40,000 of fruit was taken from it. The Olive Hotel on West Olive avenue has been sold by James F. Wheat to O. M. Parkinson, who recently came from the East.

The "first" has arrived at Angeles Mesa

Last week the "first" Akron (Ohio) former resident arrived at Angeles Mesa to see these "highland" homes—and purchased.

This "former resident" said she was the forerunner of 200 families of Akron who will be here shortly. They are a part of the big Goodyear Tire Company's project and must have homes convenient to this new plant.

Do you realize what this means to the "highland" view homes at Angeles Mesa—the high-class, fast-building residential district of the southwest, where $2,000,000 in homes and lots were sold in 18 months.

Your time to act is NOW—when several of these "profit" homes are available.

Where $400 is saved you on the cost of the required lumber ALONE by our building plan.

Real Homes $5175 to $9000

See Them at Angeles Mesa

Why pay at least 25% more for homes in a residential district of equal desirability. And without this wonderful view of mountains and city that is the delight of the resident of Angeles Mesa. Such a view adds dollars to home values—today you pay less. Every home carefully planned and built by experts. Inside and outside perfect jewels of good taste and modern comfort.

It will pay you to see the "highland" of the Southwest first. The high-class improvements, the excellent car service and the beautiful homes. Some homes now ready to move in—others rapidly nearing completion. Foundation and construction work started on fifty more to meet the demand.

After a small first payment—take possession and pay balance like rent.

ALL-AMERICAN CANAL OF DOUBTFUL EXPEDIENCY.

No More Land Should be Put Under Water Until Storage is Provided for, Says Col. Epes Randolph.

Following is a portion of a letter written to Representative Carl Hayden of Arizona by Col. Epes Randolph, Southern Pacific official who was in charge for E. H. Harriman, of the work of checking the flow of the Colorado River into Salton Sea when Imperial Valley was threatened with destruction.

The letter in its entirety is an exceedingly interesting and statesmanlike document, but because of the necessity for conserving paper some portions have been omitted. Col. Randolph is a profound thinker and, while it would at first seem that the Southern Pacific Company would be the first and largest beneficiary because thousands of acres of its unirrigated lands would be placed under the irrigation system, he sees clearly that not only the Southern Pacific but all other land owners are bound to suffer if more lands are brought under the system without provision for more water. All the water now available at low water periods is needed by the lands at present under cultivation. The all-American canal would not provide more water.

Col. Randolph knows more about the history of the Imperial Valley irrigation enterprise and the evolution of the valley from the beginning of its development to the present time, probably, than any other individual. He is in a position to speak with authority on the subject and his career of achievement and known good judgment inspire those who know him to have confidence in the correctness of his conclusions.

Hon. Carl Hayden,
Care House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Hayden:

Referring to your letter of August 14:

I have received and read with interest the pamphlet containing "Hearings before the Committee on Irrigation of Arid Lands," the subject being an all-American canal in Imperial county, California.

As you perhaps know, I was the instrument employed by the late E. H. Harriman when he once saved Imperial Valley from destruction. I am, therefore, familiar with the subject. I will not say that I know all that is to be known about it, nor more than any other individual, but I do know a great deal more about the whole subject than the combined information which has been given you, as set forth in the pamphlet above referred to.

THE ALL-AMERICAN CANAL.

An all-American canal is physically possible but, I should say, commercially of most doubtful expediency, both from the standpoint of the government and of the landowners. I note they want the government to lend them $30,000,000 to $35,000,000. This amount of money will be insufficient for the construction of an operative canal of the carrying capacity proposed. The minimum cost of such canal will be $50,000,000, and it may reach $75,000,000. The time required for its construction not three, but five years.

I will not enumerate the engineering difficulties with which this undertaking will be beset, but will assume that the canal can be built and that it will operate as smoothly as Mr. Davis seems to think that it will, and then let us see the situation.

There are some 415,000 acres of land now under irrigation in the Imperial Valley on the American side, 130,000 on the Mexican side, approximately 30,000 in the Yuma project—total, approximately 575,000 acres. The Yuma project has been conceded a preferential right to water for some 70,000 additional acres of land. 600,000 acres is about as much land as the flow of the river will irrigate during low-water seasons. Hence, no more land should be put under irrigation unless and until some storage capacity is provided in the upper stretches of the river. What such storage will cost and where the money is to come from, I do not know.

This is a matter that should be investigated and determined before additional acreage in the valley is reclaimed, unless the owners of such land are willing to accept a secondary water right. It is true, that if the entire flow of the Colorado River is diverted at Laguna Dam and land now under irrigation in Mexico allowed to go back to the desert, some new land could be put under irrigation in Imperial Valley, but not so much as 120,000 acres. This for two reasons: First, the Gila River empties into the Colorado below Laguna Dam and the water from that river is very helpful during the critical period—the months of August and September—which, as you realize, is our rainy season in Arizona, though no mention seems to have been made of this fact in any of the testimony given you at the hearing.

Another reason is, whatever water may be used in desilting at Laguna Dam will go into the channel below and not into the American Canal. If no desilting is done, the canal will be, practically speaking, inoperative if built in accordance with the design outlined. But let us waive these minor difficulties and give the American Canal the benefit of every doubt and assume that it can furnish sufficient water to bring the present area of irrigated land up to 500,000 acres. Five hundred thousand acres into 50,000,000 will go to 100 times. Hence, we have water rights cost of $100 per acre of land, to which must be added the present indebtedness, whatever that may be.

Now, let us consider Mr. Swing's testimony. We will assume that he is one of and representative of the people who are making a request upon Congress for this large sum of money. He tells you he went to Imperial Valley in 1907. He further says, "Everything I own and possess, and all I hope to own and possess is centered in Imperial Valley . . . . We represent the plain American farmers of the Imperial Valley, who are fighting for their homes and a chance to live. . . . The predicament in which Imperial Valley finds itself is not of its own choosing, nor of its own creation. The get-rich-quick promoters of the early California Development Company in the very beginning deliberately forged the shackles of slavery for the unborn Imperial Valley, in order to give themselves the maximum opportunity for gains with the minimum liability for their acts."

Let us see who these "get-rich-quick" fellows were and what became of them. They were Civil Engineer Rockwood, Mechanical Engineer Blaisdell, Dr. Hatternan and others, men of pronounced ability, high character and theretofore successful men of affairs. Imbued with the spirit of the pioneer, they saw the possibilities of profit in the irrigation of these desert lands, invested their money in and gave their time to the undertaking.

Their plan was to build an irrigation system and furnish water to the arid lands, and receive pay for water delivered at so much per acre foot. They conceived and founded this enterprise which is today the largest in the world, unless the Valley of the Nile be taken as a single irrigation project. Their struggle was earnest and desperate, but their means proved unequal to the task; they lost their time and their money, and retired like men, without begging aid of the government or holding others responsible for their misfortunes, but they created and left there a foundation upon which an empire has been built, and I should say that Mr. Swing's reference to these men as "get-rich-quick" promoters is most unkind and uncalled for.

It would be interesting to know if, in 1907, when Mr. Swing followed the trail that these worthy men had blazed, he brought with him "his all" and knowingly subjected it to the "shackles of slavery" which the aforesaid wicked people had forged for the "unborn Imperial Valley" or whether, perchance, he has created that "all" out of their misfortunes. Let it be known that these "plain American farmers" are the successors in interest to the irrigation works which were built by the "get-rich-quick" fellows.

They not only farm, but they sell water, and if they deliberately went down there as the legatees of the unfortunate pioneers and waxed fat upon the carcass they found there, it does not seem very nice to speak of them in that way, to say the least.

I am reminded of a story I once heard of a missionary who married a Chinese woman who was the widow of a rich Congo planter. In after years he desecrated the tomb of the dead planter because he (the missionary) found the half-breed step-children distasteful as they grew to manhood.

It is unfortunate that the original promoters did agree to give half of the water to Mexican lands, but I imagine they could not have procured a concession for a Mexican canal otherwise, and the Mexican canal at that date was a necessity to the creation of the project. But be all that as it may, the present farmers knew exactly what they were doing and what they were getting, and while it is entirely proper for them now to improve their condition if they can, I cannot see that they can consistently hold themselves entirely blameless for their present predicament.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION.

However, the Mexican situation is not nearly so serious, in my opinion as these people seem to think it is. It is a practice and generally a law in all civilized countries that water once beneficially applied to land cannot be taken from it, and I rather doubt if these 130,000 acres now irrigated in Mexico will ever go back to the desert, but I do not see any necessity for irrigating any more land in Mexico or in the Imperial Valley unless the water supply is increased. Perhaps, should the Imperial district (owners of the Mexican Irrigation Company) decline to furnish water to any new land in Mexico, the Mexican government would protest and an issue between the two governments be brought about, but I doubt not that an amicable adjustment through diplomatic channels could and would be made.

One might gain an impression from the testimony given that there is danger of the Mexicans or Mexican land owners attempting to take water from the canal in Mexico unlawfully or by force. I do not think there is the slightest danger of this. They pay for all the water they get; they have to build canals and headgates at their own cost before it is physically possible to take this water, and in advance of this construction it has been their habit to make application for such water as they need, and they pay for it according to contract price. This price was originally 80 cents Mexican money per 1000 cubic meters of water, or about 50 cents American gold per acre foot. During the last six months of the year 1918 the revenue received by the Imperial irrigation district for water sold in Mexico amounted, in round figures, to $143,000 American gold. About that time they requested the Mexican government to allow them to increase the price that they should charge for water to $1.40 Mexican per 1000 cubic meters. This request was granted. If the water rental collected from the Mexican lands is not yet sufficient to cover their fair share of the cost of maintaining the main canal, doubtless an application for further increase in rates would again receive favorable consideration at the hands of the Mexican government.

MUST CONTROL THE RIVER.

Imperial Valley is in a most precarious situation and should receive help, but the remedy, in my opinion is not an all-American canal, nor is the danger to be apprehended lodged in either the Mexican government or the Mexican land owners, but in the Colorado River itself, which, at this moment, overhangs the Imperial Valley like the sword of Damocles. Unless that stream is returned to its old channel and made to remain there by the construction of proper levees, or unless the present Volcano Lake levee is raised to an elevation of forty-two feet above the surface of the natural ground along the lake and extended eastward toward Hanlon Heading for a distance of some forty miles and made secure by rock rivetment or by concrete core wall, the river will continue to be liable to find its way into New River and thence into Salton Sink during every high-water period.

That such calamity has not already come to pass is due primarily to the grace of God, and, secondarily, to the fact that the earthen Volcano Lake levee has been raised from year to year and kept just above flood tide. But God Almighty may not always "temper the wind to the shorn land" and a muskrat may at any time burrow a hole through the earthen levee somewhere near the New River end when the Colorado is in flood, and then the valley will be in real trouble.

The Southern Pacific company in 1911 offered to restore the Colorado River to the original channel at a cost of not to exceed $1,500,000, and construct suitable levees for its retention. I presume to do that work now would cost around $3,000,000. I have never estimated the cost of making the Volcano Lake levee an effective and secure structure; but I should say it would be somewhere around $7,000,000 or $8,000,000. If you care to investigate the question of river control, you will find certain correspondence between Gen. Marshall and myself interesting, and I refer you to H. Document 504. At first we were in disagreement, but later on he came to my way of thinking, as is evidenced by his letter of February 2, 1915, copy of which I herewith attach.

THE YUMA PROJECT.

If the valley is to be saved, clearly the first thing to do is to control the river. The next, I should say, would be to take from the hands of the Yuma project the club which that active little agency now appears to hold over the head of Imperial Valley. The Yuma project is a thing of later birth, but it seems to be a lusty little tail which is wagging a pretty big dog.

Yuma project is in some danger, but that danger is not nearly so great as those interested seem to think it is. It is claimed, as I remember it, somewhere in the pamphlet, that by reason of the weir which from year to year has been constructed just below Hanlon Heading, that the water table has been raised and sends up alkali to the injury of the farm lands of the Yuma project.

The level of the river has been raised, but only to the level of Hanlon headgate, which was the normal level prior to the advent of the water into Volcano Lake, and the river, itself, will, in time, restore that level and no weir will be necessary. Hence, that indictment is without merit.

ALL-AMERICAN CANAL DOUBTFUL

The other charge is that the weir may at any time cause the current to change its course and go against the Yuma project levee. There is some ground for this apprehension, but very little—about one chance in ten, I should say, of its doing so—and there is as much danger during a flash rise of the river for the current to be diverted to the California side, as there is of its being diverted to the Yuma side, hence both projects are jeopardized alike from this cause. But the river can be held in place north of Hanlon Heading by properly constructed rock levees and that source of danger absolutely removed. I have made no estimate of the cost of such work, but my guess is that a careful estimate would show such cost to be not more than half that of building the Yuma leg of the proposed all-American canal.

ANOTHER REMEDY.

There is probably another way in which this danger can be removed, and that is by lowering the bottom of the canal from Hanlon Heading southward for a distance of some four or five miles. I am not willing to state positively that this can be done without first studying certain data regarding elevations, which I have not before me, but it is my belief that an investigation will show that it can be done. However, I am willing to state, without fear of successful contradiction, that the river can be secured above Hanlon Heading, as above stated.

Brushing aside the apprehended danger to the Yuma project from the weir dam, it is still not surprising that the good people of the Yuma project should favor the all-American canal, for the reason that $1,600,000 now charged to Yuma project would be transferred to the Imperial project. The pamphlet somewhere states that $9,000,000 has been expended by the reclamation service on the Yuma project. I understand the Yuma farmers now have some 30,000 acres of land under cultivation. Thirty thousand into 9,000,000, goes 300 times. It is proposed to increase the cultivated land to 100,000 acres. Even in that happy event, the water right charge would be $90 an acre.

The "get-rich-quick" promoters of Imperial Valley first charged the land owners of that valley $10 per acre, water right. A little later, $15. When I assumed the management of the California Development Company I raised this rate to $25 per acre, which, I believe, is the maximum that has been paid by any of the land owners in the valley. The comparison is not pleasing. A story is told of the late Jay Gould, who, on a certain occasion attended the church of the late Henry Ward Beecher and heard that great divine preach a powerful sermon, the subject being "The Tortuous and Ill-conditioned Road Leading to Heaven and the Smooth and Pleasant Road Leading to Perdition."

The divine took note of the fact that the financier seemed greatly impressed. After church these two gentlemen met and Mr. Beecher said: "Mr. Gould, I noticed that you were very attentive to my sermon. I trust it made an impression and that you are seriously considering becoming a member of my church." Mr. Gould replied: "It was a powerful sermon and I was impressed—deeply so—but I wasn't exactly thinking of embracing religion; I was thinking what a good plan it would be if those two roads could be consolidated."

Aesop, in one of his fables, tells us that the fox who got his tail cut off undertook to convince the other foxes that a bobtailed fox was a superior animal. Possibly the Yuma foxes have convinced the Imperial foxes that the reclamation service is a good institution.

MAKE VALLEY SECURE.

But, seriously, it seems to me that the proper thing to do is to make the Imperial Valley secure within its present scope, and then later investigate possible reservoir sites in the upper regions of the river, and if it be found that water can be there stored on a basis of commercial economy, let the owners of new or unirrigated land below pay the cost of storing this water and receive the exclusive benefit of the same, and thus leave the present farmers in undisputed possession of the amount of water they have already beneficially appropriated.

Before closing, I must correct a misstatement which Mr. Rose has made. He tells you I am president of the Inter-California Railroad and that that company owns some 60,000 or 70,000 acres of land in Mexico. He is mistaken. I am not the president of the Inter-California Railroad and never have been, but I know enough of the affairs of that company to know that it owns in Mexico only its right of way, and a portion of that is in dispute. The extent of my personal investments in Lower California is $300, and I had forgotten about that until I saw my name mentioned in the pamphlet. I did own a farm, as heretofore stated, on the American side, but I did not like the way things were going and sold it. The Southern Pacific company owns certain Mexican lands, perhaps 40,000 or 50,000 acres, and I will later show how and why it happens to own these lands.

I quote as follows from Mr. Swing's testimony:

> "The connection of these early promoters with Imperial Valley was ended in 1906, when, as a result of their short-sighted policy in spending insufficient money to provide ordinary safeguards for their intake, they lost control of the Colorado and allowed the whole river to break through into Imperial Valley. The Southern Pacific Railroad, to protect its own investments, then took control of the company and operated the system until 1909, when a receiver was appointed."

This is not a true statement. The Southern Pacific company never for a moment owned, controlled or managed the California Development Company, until some time in 1916 it bid in the property at receiver's sale as the principal creditor and immediately turned over its purchase to the Imperial irrigation district, in accordance with terms made prior to such purchase. A brief history of the California Development Company's affairs from the time the "get-rich-quick" fellows stepped out of the management to the date of the purchase of the property by the Imperial irrigation district may not be amiss.

Mr. Randolph concludes his letter with some early history of the valley, the California Development Company and its affairs, the break in the river and how the Southern Pacific, by order of E. H. Harriman, came to the rescue and prevented further loss.

Sincerely yours,
[Signed] EPES RANDOLPH.

What "Sterling" is to Silver "Heath" Hollow Tile is to Building Construction

A home built of "Heath" Hollow Tile represents a definite standard of quality, and its cost does not exceed the cost of ordinary frame construction by as much as 5 per cent.

If you are going to build with the thought of selling—you can consistently expect to command and get a better profit on your investment if you use "Heath" Hollow Tile. The buyer will know and appreciate that "Heath" means only one standard, while frame construction, especially under present conditions, unfortunately does not define any special standard at all.

If you plan to build for your own use, "Heath" Hollow Tile offers every advantage—not only of lifetime permanence—but of unlimited architectural possibilities and beauty, protection against extremes of heat and cold, and the pride which is always associated with the ownership of that which is recognized as superior.

"Heath" Hollow Tile is equally adapted to the building of the $5000 or the $150,000 home.

Measured in human happiness and all these features of home environment that the human heart yearns for, these $190 lots surpass anything in the $1900 class that you can find, because, to all the other charms is added that of 1600 to 2000 feet elevation above the level of the sea.

Compare these lots with Beverly Hills, Oak Knoll and Hollywood—except in age and degree of development.

They are in the valley of unlimited natural water resources of the Big Tujunga watershed, which sustained the city of Los Angeles until the building of the Aqueduct.

The surveyors, the grading teams and the clearing crew in the chaparral are day by day and week by week opening new realms of foothill garden retreats amidst this grandeur.

Right now, and during the next few weeks, the selection possibilities for your dream place are momentous.

If you have been out before just put on your old clothes and come, explore again. How well you remember that you couldn't visualize the Wilshire District, when it was a wild mustard patch, and how you failed to visualize the present Hollywood when it was a chaparral retreat. And you didn't even understand Los Angeles the first time you glanced it over. Come again and think.

Come all ye lovers of the Hills and Chaparral.

Another great era of foothill opportunity is passing you.

BUY SHIPS FOR OVERSEA TRADE

Local Company to Raise Five Million Dollars.

Cargoes Enough for Sailings Every Ten Days.

Our Business with the Orient Rapidly Growing.

The Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company, under whose flag the West Cajoot, the first local ship to carry a cargo from this port to the Orient, sailed last spring, will build or buy five big freight-carrying steamers to take care of the rapidly growing commerce between this port and trans-Pacific ports. The stockholders of the company have authorized their executive committee to raise $5,000,000 to purchase ships for overseas trade.

The sailing of the West Cajoot was an epochal event for Los Angeles Harbor. With that first cargo, carried across the Pacific under a Los Angeles flag, this port was definitely established as a world port and a new business link with foreign countries formed.

The West Cajoot is an 8800-ton ship, one of those built by the Los Angeles Shipbuilding Company for the government. This and other ships loaded for trans-Pacific ports were leased from the U. S. Shipping Corporation. The Los Angeles-Pacific Navigation Company now proposes to own five big ships, a shipping unit that will provide sailings every twenty days, and in addition to lease ships from the government corporation.

The cargo of the West Cajoot was composed of 10 per cent. Los Angeles goods and 90 per cent. of goods shipped here by rail from Chicago, St. Louis and other cities. Local shippers were alert to the opportunity and when the second ship, the West Montop, sailed, 62½ per cent. of its cargo was furnished by Los Angeles.

The third ship, the West Hika, now loading, has 70 per cent. Los Angeles goods, and Los Angeles shippers provide practically the entire cargo for the fourth ship, the Vinita, which will sail in April. The opportunities for trans-Pacific trade have expanded in the past few months so that an extensive and stable business is well established. Marius de Brabant, general manager of the company, says that shipments are being offered sufficient to load a ship of the size of the West Cajoot every ten days.

The ports of call of the Los Angeles-Pacific Navigation Company ships are Kobe, Yokohama, Shanghai, Hongkong, Manila and Singapore. Merchandise of many kinds is shipped from Los Angeles to those ports and, on the return trips, the ships bring rubber, enormous quantities of which are used here, and other products.

BUTCHERS TO MEET.

Would Start Back-Fire Against Orientals in Meat Business.

For the purpose of arranging a campaign to combat the Orientals who are engaging in the meat business in this State, the Retail Butchers' Association will hold a convention in Sacramento February 22 and 23, it was announced yesterday. According to a pamphlet issued by the association, the situation is assuming alarming proportions, and unless something is done immediately the American butcher in California will soon be a thing of the past.

The butchers plan to organize all of the retail shops in the State, it is stated, and to give the association widespread publicity so consumers may understand the situation. The association declares great inroads have already been made by the Oriental butcher, and preparations are being made by the Orientals for further aggression.

SEEKS GRANDSON.

Mrs. Beebe Thinks Lad is Hunting Father in South America.

The disappearance of Fred Gates, 18 years old, son of Swiftwater Bill Gates, Alaskan mining man, in April 1918, is a poignant grief to his grandmother, Mrs. Iola Beebe, a guest of the Westminster Hotel. When the lad left her home, he was incensed because she reproached him for not keeping steadily at work, the grandmother says.

Fred has not been heard from since. His father is believed to be in South America prospecting, and it is likely that the boy is on a blind search for his father. Yesterday Mrs. Beebe appealed to Probation Officer Timmons, to find the boy, whom she had raised in her home since a baby. His mother is dead.

BUYERS ORGANIZE.

Western Association is Formed by Purchasing Agents.

Organization of the Western Purchasing Agents' Association, a new body formed at Paso Robles the 7th inst., was completed yesterday. The association was launched by committees from the various Coast organizations. H. F. Feagans of the Sperry Flour Company, San Francisco, is president; J. C. McQuiston of the Santa Fe, Los Angeles, first vice-president; J. A. M. Sabin of Oakland, second vice-president, and W. G. McMillan, State purchasing agent at Sacramento, treasurer.

The purpose of the association is to give all purchasing agents west of Denver the same service the national organization gives to those of the East.

"MONKEY BURGLAR" UNDER HEAVY BAIL.

Elmore J. Reynolds, known as the "monkey burglar," who admits a number of burglaries, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Summerfield following a formal hearing. R. B. Messer testified regarding burglary of his residence. Bail was fixed at $5000 and Reynolds was committed to the County Jail in lieu of bonds.

-Inspect this District Carefully

It will pay you to do so. The opportunities this locality offers in all of those desirable advantages and resources which have made Southern California world renowned, are to be had here in complete and satisfactory combination—making this a district unsurpassed by other well-known inland communities, and superior to these in several respects.

The situation of this district (practically surrounded by hills and mountains) plus certain climatic and weather conditions; the bracing benefit of good altitude, and wonderful scenic beauties, makes it an ideal home spot. To these fine natural advantages are added all the modern conveniences, up-to-date utilities, and an almost central location from all southern cities.

This Is An Established Horticultural and Agricultural District

Our EARLY NAVEL ORANGES and GRAPE-FRUIT, our DECIDUOUS FRUITS, our WALNUTS, OLIVES, HONEY, VEGETABLES, GENERAL FARMING, DAIRYING, ALFALFA and ALFALFA SEED, GRAIN and STOCK-RAISING take equal rank with the products of the best districts—and in numerous gratifying instances, our products excel.

The abundant water, the rich, fertile soil, the equable climate, and good transportation facilities to be found here have created conditions which insure prolific and profitable production of crops on lands best suited to their needs.

40,000 Acres of Land Now Under Cultivation and 20,000 Are as Yet Undeveloped

A large amount of land now under cultivation can be more intensively cultivated. It is this, in addition to some of our undeveloped land that is here awaiting you at prices which, as a whole, are LOW when compared with those obtained elsewhere for lands of equal productivity. Considering all of our many advantages, the price of land here is lowest of any established district, favorably located in Southern California.

Lands in the Elsinore District are bound to be in great demand. As yet, these have not found their way into the hands of speculators for "booming;" and a wide choice to select from is offered.

Elsinore is but 88 miles from Los Angeles via Perris, Riverside and Pomona; or 74 miles via the Santa Ana Canyon Road, thru Corona, Anaheim and Whittier. San Diego is only 91 miles away and can also be reached over two highways.

We Invite You to Come Here and Inspect This District Thoroughly

Investigate its opportunities—weigh its advantages—discover for yourself its manifold charms. Here you will find a breathing place, bathed in sunshine, offering unlimited opportunities for activity—profit—and rest.

The Elsinore Chamber of Commerce Is Open All Day on Sundays and Week Days

Visitors cordially invited. Any information you may desire can be obtained here. Two motor bus lines to Elsinore; Pickwick Stages at 8 a.m. daily from Los Angeles, via Riverside and Perris. Murrieta Stages at 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. from Los Angeles, via Anaheim and Corona, to Elsinore.

CORN MARKET BEGINS TO SHOW STRENGTH.

ABSENCE OF EXPORT BUSINESS BECOMES A VITAL THEME FOR MUCH COMMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Fresh strength manifested itself in the corn market today with traders giving continued attention to the smallness of receipts. Opening prices, which ranged from ½ cent off to a like advance with May $1.32½ to $1.32¾ and July $1.29¼ to $1.29½, were followed by an upturn all around to well above yesterday's finish.

After opening ⅛ to ½ cent higher, including May at 79¾ to 80 cents, oats scored additional gains.

Provisions were dull and easier. Absence of export business was a subject of comment.

Later a reaction took place, influenced by slowness of shipping demand here and by gossip about increased importation of foodstuffs into this country from Denmark. The close was unsettled, ¼ to ⅜ cent net higher, with May $1.33⅛ to $1.33¼ and July $1.30⅛ to $1.30⅜.

Corn, No. 2 mixed and No. 3 mixed, not quoted; No. 4 mixed, 1.35@1.37; No. 2 yellow, not quoted; No. 4 yellow, 1.37@1.39½. Oats, No. 2 white, 87½@88¼; No. 3 white, 85⅜@87¼. Rye, No. 2, 1.55. Barley, 1.38@1.45. Timothy seed, 12.00@14.00. Cloverseed, 45.00@59.00.

Corn, May close, 1.33⅛; July, 1.30¼; September, 1.27⅝. Oats, May, 80⅝; July, 72⅝. Pork, May, 35.00; July, 34.65. Lard, May, 21.42; July, 21.90. Ribs, May, 18.42; July, 18.95.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Wheat, spot, quiet; No. 2 red, 2.60, nominal, f.o.b. steamer. Corn, spot, firm; No. 2 yellow, 1.66¼, and No. 2 mixed, 1.65¼ c.i.f. New York shipment. Oats, spot, steady; No. 1 white, 1.03.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF FINANCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Expressed in terms of market values, the week on the stock exchange was a duplicate of the preceding period, in that prices were again unsettled by progressive selling movements. At their worst a number of active issues fell 10 to nearly 40 points in the four full sessions and an extreme of 25 to 120 points from highest quotations of the early part of January.

Recoveries, which in many cases cancelled a large part of the week's reaction, occurred toward the end, the rally being concurrent with easier rates for demand loans and further strength in foreign exchange.

The rebound in foreign exchange, amounting to about 27 cents in the pound sterling from the low record of the last fortnight, was attributed more to cessation of offerings than to any actual improvement in the international credit situation. Local money conditions were better only so far as they concerned call loans. Rates for time funds, even the shorter dates, yielded little of their stringency, and acceptances and merchants bills showed few signs of relaxing.

Aside from further proof of extraordinary activity in several important lines of industry, notably steel and iron, discussion in authoritative quarters dealt chiefly with ways and means of readjusting latest conditions in international trade.

COTTON-BUYING MOVEMENT IS CREATED BY JANUARY CONSUMPTION STATISTICS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Higher foreign exchange and a larger consumption in January than expected created a buying movement among the shorts and prices were advanced to the best of the day at the close, with gains of 40 to 62 points. Weekly statistics were regarded as bearish, but had no effect. Higher prices for stocks was also a factor and the short interest was made uneasy. Consumption in January was 597,727 bales, compared with 511,581 bales in December and 566,721 bales in January, last year. Since August 1, consumption has been 3,143,201 bales, compared with 2,952,232 bales last year. The spot situation in the South showed more firmness, although the demand is light. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Previous close.
March	35.80	36.24	35.80	36.24	35.95

TEXAS CLOVER OIL COMPANY

Operating in DESDEMONA TEXAS OIL FIELDS

the Investing Public:

In submitting the Texas Clover Oil Company ck to you, I do so believing that it is the best, and surest oil investment ever offered in n Diego. This is a strong statement and one I will attempt to prove true to you. My rea- are:

1st. Desdemona is one of the three great r fields of Texas. Ranger and Burkburnett g the others. Desdemona—"the wonder field" is located about 18 miles S.E. of Ranger. It s hundreds of producing wells, pipelines and ry facility necessary. From March to Sept., in 919, Desdemona Companies completed 284 oil lls, and of these 245 were productive! Fur- more, these 245 wells came in with a flush pro- ction of 152,040 barrels per day, or an average 00 barrels of oil per well per day! That is one on it is called the "wonder field!"

2nd. Our leases in Desdemona. The Texas Clover Oil Company owns 40 acres of oil leases in proven section of Desdemona. Our leases are ing or as close to center of production as the wing wells: Magnolia Erwin Well, 1200 ; Magnolia Carruth, 5500 bbls.; Lewis Well, bbls.; Plains Company Nash Well, Phoenix 2, Sun Company's Van Well, 2600 bbls.; Mit- Production, 7000 bbls., and others. Glass- and Barker, ½ mile N. and E. of our lease, ght in their well on January 13, 1920. When feet in the sands they were getting 1000 bbls. day!

Our leases are just as good (in my opinion). y have refused (according to report) $400,000 for this well and 20 acres! And we have room for 8 wells.

3rd. Capitalization—The Texas Clover Oil Company is capitalized very low—only $300,000—or 30,000 shares at $10.00 each. I can cite numerous companies capitalized at $1,000,000 or more with less acreage than ours in a proven field. Our low capitalization means large dividends to you. Per example:

The average well in Desdemona (see item 1) came in with 620 barrels. When we have 8 of them on our 40 acres our total production would be 4960 barrels per day! Deduct ⅛, payable to land owner, leaves 4340 barrels net per day. This, sold at $3.00 per barrel, would bring $13,020 per day! Now deduct $390 per day for pipeline charges (3%), $1000 per day depreciation of leases, and $200 per day operating expense, leaving a net daily income of $11,430. Now multiply by 30, and you have a net monthly income of $342,900. This would enable the Texas Clover Oil Company to pay 100% plus per month—if the average well is found on its leases. Apropos of such a dividend payer—the Ocean Oil Refining Company was among the companies paying 100% monthly dividends in December. We have the possibility!

4th. Your viewpoint. Many of us have failed to make money in a previous stock purchase "in oil." Were you really in oil, really in the proven field? Was it a semi-wildcat company? Very, very few companies have failed in the proven fields of Texas or elsewhere! The losses in oil investments have largely been in what can be described as "near" oil territory. Dozens and dozens of companies in Desdemona, Ranger and Burkburnett have paid dividends and are paying them—but they are in proven territory. Don't confuse an oil investment with an oil speculation—Texas Clover Oil stock is an investment, it is backed by acreage right in a proven oil field. It is managed by honest, competent men. It has a small capitalization and no promotion stock. It is as safe as anything unknowable can be called safe.

The Corporation Commissioner of California has issued us Permit No. 9037 to sell $139,800 of stock at $10.00 per share. From this sale we will drill our wells—that is our reason for seeking to interest you.

There has never been any promotion stock, there is not now any promotion stock, and there never will be any promotion stock. Every gentleman connected with this institution has paid $10 for every share he owns, and every stockholder has and will pay $10 a share for his stock, the same as we offer it to you. The officers of this institution have not and are not receiving one dollar of salary, all the money realized from the sale of stock going into the treasury of the company and will be expended only for development of the property.

You now have before you all of the information pertaining to Texas Clover Oil stock. We invite your subscription—large or small—believing that it will prove to be your most profitable oil investment.

Call, write, wire or phone to us for reservations or for printed information.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Week in Review; Optimism Returns; Income-Tax Puzzles; Briefs.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Another week of shake-down, of disturbed and irregular speculative prices, low exchange, tightening credits, diminished buying and close horizon scanning. It ended better than it began. The stock market is stronger, exchange is higher, and confidence partially restored. The expected swing of the pendulum back to good bonds is under way. There have been no material commodity price changes but merchants are making ready. They are buying more for present requirements than for prospective needs, and it seems reasonably safe to assert that the much abused peak has again been passed.

We are so persistently assured through trade publications, by the publicity departments of the producing companies and by brokers that the oil shortage will be acute this year that the information assumes almost the proportions of propaganda. In any event it is having the effect of holding up prices for oil stocks and stimulating investment. The public has been pretty thoroughly prepared for an increase in the retail price of gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils. The latest story is that a kerosene famine impends in California as a result of which the price is soon to be advanced and supplies imported. That sounds like coals to Newcastle. I don't doubt the price advance, for the poor producers undoubtedly need the money, but it is likely that there will continue to be plenty of supply for those who have the price. It was a fair development week in spite of the fact that the Rice Ranch has abandoned a two years' effort to get a producing well in the Montebello field and some hoped-for results have failed to eventuate in other districts. At that there are heavy reserves in the midcontinent fields and Mexico remains the potential storehouse of the world. The oil situation is good.

FOOD PRICE LEVEL.

Food prices have not improved except in sporadic instances. Consumers are whistling to keep up their courage, and every now and then a jobber or producer who should know predicts a lower level soon. Fair price commissions are as busy as a moving picture director on a bad location, but the net results of their travail is so far microscopic. The demand for luxuries is showing a slight falling off and this is the first sign of the coming readjustment. Labor is fully employed at the same high scale, but collections are not quite so prompt as they have been. There is less of a rush to invest in every fool scheme advanced, and a continually growing contingent is buying parasols which may be used interchangeably on the bright days or the rainy ones. The public is displaying little patience with the demands of the railroad men for more pay, and if the strike is called the unions are in for the licking of their lives.

Liberty bonds have been thrown on the market in large quantity, and a good many persons are evidently paying their income tax with the proceeds. The price has naturally been depressed, but the unloading process seems to be about over and quotations may be expected to move upward. A good deal of water has been squeezed from the speculative stocks during the late unpleasantness, and that market looks healthier than it has for some time.

DEPOSITS GROWING.

The banks have plenty of money and deposits continue to grow at an amazing rate, but credit is not quite so liberal as it has been for the past half-year or so. Borrowers are thrown more upon their own resources and as a result are buying with more discretion and greater foresight. Building goes forward at top speed with no sign of catching up with local requirements for a long time. Incoming tourist travel continues heavy, and housing accommodations are still scarce, but there is also a growing outbound movement of guests who are returning to the doubtful charms of an eastern and northern early spring.

On the whole the situation is well in hand and the first steps towards a returning normalcy are being taken with reasonable confidence and some degree of sanity.

THE STOCK MARKET.

A better situation, broadly speaking, than local market conditions have shown for ten days was the opinion of traders during the short session yesterday. The market was in good shape, with a strong undertone and a general upward trend. The glooms were less in evidence. Interest centered largely in the oil list. Industrials were strong, but very quiet. Marginal advances in United Eastern and Tom Reed toplined the mines and bond activity was confined to a small volume in Liberties at prices slightly under those of Friday. The market appeared to be well shaken out and was in a much stronger technical position. The eastern market was also stronger and this had a stimulating effect. It looks as though the period of liquidation was about over, and opinion on the floor indicated the expectancy of a rising level this week. The general commodity and business situation has been anticipated, and it is pointed out that it is quite possible to have a better stock market even with deflation going on in commodities and manufactured goods.

Associated Oil opened strong at $113 and moved up to a high of $116.87½, reacting slightly to a strong close at $116. General Petroleum was also on the rise, selling to $145 and closing strong with a heavy buying demand. Mascot was strong at $2.36 and National Pacific comparatively quiet and steady at 12 7-8 cents. All of the lesser oils were strong.

Republic Petroleum advanced from an opening of 35½ cents to a close of 36½ cents, largely because of reports circulated on the floor that the Petroleum Midway had brought in a good well about 500 yards south of Republic's No. 6 lease, the further announcement that No. 1 Richfield is about to be started, and the probability that the Union well about 400 feet from the No. 2 lease will be brought in soon, while another Union well near No. 4 lease is also about due. Republic Petroleum owns six leases in the Richfield district totalling more than 100 acres and four of these are being proven by operations on adjoining leases. This stock is very widely held locally and the developments are being watched with interest.

Union Oil opened three and a half points up from Friday's close and was in strong demand at $175 with scattering offers at $176 and $177. Union of Delaware, on the strength of advances in the New York market, opened with sales at $31, but later reacted slightly to $30.75 and there was a demand at the close for blocks at $30.50. United Oil held steady at 74½ cents.

Income Tax Puzzles.

The income tax blanks continue to be a never-ending puzzle to the average man or woman with moderate income. They are complicated in arrangement and terminology, and it is a wonder that so many of them are as nearly correct as they are. Every agency through which aid is offered either free or in return for a fee is swamped with anxious inquiries, while the excess profits taxes befuddle and confuse, and undoubtedly have a tendency to check the growth of industry. One feature of this attempt to turn a whole people into expert accountants has resulted in the overpayment of large sums, and it has been discovered that there are now $40,000,000 in taxes illegally collected and held in the treasury for want of legislation which will permit a refund. In the meantime the government derives a large income from the use of these funds. The whole war-tax situation is becoming more and more untenable and the force of public opinion is likely to soon force some action on the part of our legislators, however unwilling they may be, on their own account, to tackle the barbed-wire entanglements.

Another Record Gone.

The clearinghouse record established on Friday lasted only a day. It went by the board yesterday when the total clearings reached the heretofore unmatched figure of $16,493,875.54, a gain over the corresponding day a year ago of $9,786,180.55. Friday's clearings, which held the record for a few hours, were $15,555,484.13. The clearings for the week, which consisted of but five business days, were $65,729,210.33.

America is Cotton King.

The world is looking to America for its supply of raw cotton, and so far as may now be seen, we will have to continue to supply the greater part of this necessary commodity. The American crop is approximately 60 per cent. of the world's total. The other producing countries have shown, since the beginning of the century an interesting but not a remarkable growth, that of China being the largest in quantity. The new high recently established for Salt River Valley (Ariz.) long staple, of 97½ cents, giving some indication of the demand for high-grade product.

Trust Experts Meet.

The first midwinter conference of the trust company section of the American Bankers' Association will be held in New York next Friday.

Bonds Are Stronger.

The bond index for January, based on average prices and yields of forty representative issues, was 64.18 against 63.38 in December, and 81.91 in January, 1917, when the high record for corporation bonds was made. The investor of small means who does not pay a surtax

WILLYS CORPORATION

600 Automobiles Per Day

The plans for the production of the new six are maturing rapidly. The Duesenberg plant at Elizabeth, New Jersey, is being expanded by the addition of the largest single unit of concrete construction yet erected in the United States. The forms are now in place and concrete is being poured. The factory will be in active operation by June, 1920, at which time it will be capable of producing 600 automobiles per day.

An idea of the Corporation's size will be gained from the knowledge that in addition to the above plant, the Corporation also owns and operates the New Process Gear plant at Syracuse, with 2000 employees, and the Electric Auto-Lite Plant at Toledo, with 2500 employees.

EDISON COMPANY TO ISSUE COMMON STOCK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—The issuance of 50,000 shares of common stock by the Southern California Edison Company was authorized today by the State Railroad Commission. The proceeds, amounting to $5,000,000, are to be held subject to orders of the commission. The company also is authorized to issue 3000 shares of stock to its employees.

PRODUCE MARKET FIRM, PRICES UNCHANGED.

POTATOES ARE HIGHER IN CAR LOT MARKET; CABBAGE DULL AND WEAK.

The undertone of the local produce market was very firm during yesterday's trading, with practically no changes in price recorded. Moderate arrivals from the country, together with an active buying demand served to keep the price list steady at the preceding day's quotations. Receipts of cabbage were very heavy on the floor of the market, and prices for this commodity showed a tendency to weaken toward the end of the session, but the decline was very slight, with fancy shipping stock showing no change.

Mexican tomatoes continued their downward movement, the majority of the sales being made at $2 per crate, repacked. Demand and movement were very dull for this commodity throughout the session, and supplies were again heavy. The quality of the recent offerings is only fair.

The demand for potatoes showed some improvement yesterday, particularly in the carlot market, where the only price changes were recorded. Burbanks in carlots were again selling as high as $5 per hundredweight. Choice grades brought $4.50 per hundred, an increase averaging 25 cents per hundred for all grades. Russets were firm and unchanged at Friday's prices. Wholesaler's quotations were unchanged.

The price trend for cabbage was again downward in the shipping market, with few sales being made, under a very sluggish demand. The weak market locally for this commodity is attributed to the dull and lower tone in the eastern markets, where prices have slumped sharply within the last week. A few sales of cabbage were made at $55 per ton in straight cars, while the predominating price in mixed cars ranged around $60 per ton. Lettuce displayed a little more strength in the shipping market, extra fancy Imperial Valley lettuce moving up 15 cents per crate in straight cars. Local stock, in mixed cars, was selling as high as $1.35 per crate, an advance of 10 cents per crate over Friday's highest quotations. Movement, however, was comparatively slow, with many cars going to the eastern markets unsold. The strength of lettuce in the shipping market was not reflected in the local wholesale market, where prices continued to range around 75 cents and $1 per crate for the better grades, and from 30 to 75 cents per crate for the inferior stock.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The brisk rally which accompanied yesterday's late dealings in the stock market was carried to greater lengths during today's short, but active, session. Leading issues continued to rise to levels where many recent severe losses were generally reduced. Shorts made involuntary contributions to the movement, which derived further assistance from improvement in foreign exchange.

Steels, oils, motors and shippings furnished the chief momentum at gains of two to five points. Rails also hardened with metals and numerous specialities.

The closing was strong. Sales approximated 600,000 shares.

The bond market was distinctly firmer.

Stocks made further substantial recoveries from their recent acute depression at the lively opening of the session, short covering contributing largely to the general advance.

Although the outcome of the railway wage controversy was still in doubt, traders seemed to be of the opinion that conditions favored an early adjustment of that situation.

Rails averaged one point gains, but among steels, equipments, motors, oils and shippings advances extended from one to almost four points within the first half-hour.

Mercantile paper, 6@6¼. Sterling, demand, $3.45½; cables, $3.46¼.

The actual condition of clearing-house banks and trust companies for the week (five days) shows they hold $23,162,160 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $3,769,220 from last week.

Bar silver, $1.31. Mexican dollars, $1.00⅝.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Bar silver, 82d per ounce. Money, unchanged.

An Array of Compelling Reasons

Why Silver Standard Mining and Extraction Company of Nevada Represents a Most Attractive Purchase

REASON 1

BECAUSE The company is sanely and conservatively managed under the direction of authoritative mining counsel and successful business men. Mr. G. A. Duncan, E. M., formerly connected with the Guggenheim Mining interest, will have charge of mining operations.

REASON 2

BECAUSE The company is conservatively capitalized. Upon completion of present financing, company will be in a strong position to carry on extensive silver ore development on productive ground. Half of the capital stock will still remain in the treasury.

REASON 3

BECAUSE The company's holdings are in favorable geological environment and embrace the same mine making conditions that enriched the famous Comstock Mine. The acreage owned and controlled is in excess of 600 acres. Company also owns Eldorado town site, buildings, water plant, etc.

REASON 4

BECAUSE The company's silver bullion can be sold at a price double that which was formerly received. The market for silver bullion is assured for many years hence. Average value of milling ores is estimated at $25.00 per ton, of which at least 50% will be clear profit.

REASON 5

BECAUSE The company's shares offer an opportunity in which the element of risk does not exceed the chance for large profits and continuous dividend returns. The new, modern 100-ton mill should provide earnings of upwards of 30% a share yearly.

A conservative mining engineer says:

"For invested money there is no security that is so safe as Silver and Gold of proven quality and quantity, blocked out in a vein of demonstrated strength."

A paragraph from geological report:

"The ore is sometimes found as native silver and silver sulphide impregnations of the almost unaltered porphyry, sometimes as a complete replacement of the porphyry and sometimes as an alteration and replacement of the old andesite along the later porphyry dike, which, as with all dikes, you understand, cuts the earth's crust to indeterminable depth, hence affording the channels for the circulation of the mineralized solution referred to above."

Fortunes Are Being Made in Oil

The question for you to decide is—where are you likely to get the surest and biggest return from your investment.

Analyze the Statistics

Records show the average daily production of oil per well in California to be approximately eight times the daily production per well in Oklahoma, and the daily production per well in the Montebello District to be approximately ten times the production of the entire State, or 80 times greater than Oklahoma.

The Southern California Oil Co. Owns a 40-Acre Lease in the Very Heart of the Famous Montebello-Whittier Field.

An analysis of the line of gusher development shows our lease to be directly in this path. And the particular part of this territory in which our lease is, indicates a high gravity oil which means a good price for our product.

The property is only 14 miles from Los Angeles, so you can easily go and see it for yourself. The company invites fullest investigation of every detail.

A limited amount of stock still remains to be sold at $1.00 per share.

Take Your First Step TODAY!

Repeated increases in the price paid for crude petroleum are enhancing the attractiveness of oil investments.

When you know that an investment awaits you that is backed by properties in the greatest of California oil fields—a field whose wells return profits over a long period—you must realize that you stand upon the threshold of opportunity.

Although "Montebello Crude" shares will not be long upon the market, we do not advise you to invest without securing full information about our offer of stock. Send the coupon above, if you cannot call personally at our office and visit Montebello oil field itself.

MONTEBELLO CRUDE OIL CO.

Announcement
Of a Syndicate Being Organized

to take over a 320-acre oil lease on proven shallow territory that yields oil of a gravity of 52, paraffine base, worth approximately $2.40 per barrel, also 62 acres in the Whittier-Montebello Field as yet unproven but in a coming field and near production. Our leases are all on deeded land.

On our shallow lease we have standard rig and equipment and one well 700 feet deep which yielded approximately 10 barrels per day while being operated and a second rig will be installed as soon as the Syndicate is organized.

Your investment in this Syndicate is in no sense a gamble as to whether you win or lose. We have production of the finest Paraffine Base oil produced in California. We have ground enough for 200 wells. If they only produce 5 bbls. each a day, an immense income will result from your investment in this Syndicate.

We have six months yet to commence drilling on our Whittier lease and anticipate the production from the shallow lease to pay for drilling there.

Syndicate to subscribe $30,000 divided into 60 units of $500 each. A company will immediately be organized and each unit will participate in the company in a ratio of 8 to 1. Each unit will receive 4000 shares of the stock of the Company.

The Company to have a capital of $750,000. Par value $1.00.

This announcement will appear only a few times in the papers as our Syndicate is nearly half subscribed and our papers arrived from our attorney only last Friday. When $30,000 has been subscribed our Syndicate will be closed, our work started and our Company formed, and a small block of treasury stock offered for sale at around par, $1.00 per share, to erect a small refinery.

We have secured the service of one of the head drillers of a large oil company here, after he examined our shallow lease, to superintend our drilling. He accepted the position for an interest in the Company, receives no money pay at all.

Mail subscriptions will be proportioned according to amount of subscriptions received to the number of units left on the day subscriptions received. Later subscriptions returned.

Subscriptions to Syndicate will be received by the California-Texas Oil Syndicate

"OIL ON MY LAND, MY FORTUNE IS MADE"

You might truthfully say this, one of these days; but if you never get the land, you never can.

STOP and THINK! The greatest investment you can make today is in land or leases near where OIL WELLS are going down. When one gusher comes in near you, then your dreams come true. You take chances every day. WHY NOT TAKE A GOOD CHANCE, one where you make at least $500 for $1.

HOLBROOK is very near a big boom. Some oil and several wells going down. BIG COMPANIES COMING IN. Get in on Holbrook field before a gusher is brought in. WE HAVE SOME VERY CHOICE LEASES IN HOLBROOK FIELD.

We also have some land in WYOMING near wells now flowing oil.

In New Mexico, where oil has been found at 325 feet, we control some very choice leases.

If you wait much longer, the golden opportunity to buy this land will be gone. ACT NOW.

ALL CEREALS FIRM ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

Further advances were made by milo and barley yesterday on the local grain exchange, with the market showing a firm tone throughout the session. Receipts were very small, amounting to one car of barley and two cars of milo. The rising value of exchange, together with increasing strength in the Chicago and Kansas City markets are contributing toward a firmer market locally. Milo for immediate shipment was unchanged to 25 cents per ton higher, with the futures making an advance ranging from 25 to 50 cents per ton all along the line. Milo for delivery during the second half of March sold at $3.05 and $3.06¼. Immediate shipment barley was from 25 to 50 cents per ton higher, with the futures unchanged to 75 cents per ton above Friday's quotations. Two hundred tons of milo were sold during the call. A car of No. 3 eastern kafir corn brought $2.67½, while a car of northern water wheat, mixed feed, sold for $50.50.

An undercurrent of strength continues to pervade the market on California navel oranges now that the uncertainty of frost-damaged cars is about over. Confidence and enthusiasm prevail among the trade as a result of the satisfaction the navels are giving. Prices continue their upward trend. An advance of 25 cents per box has again been recorded over last week's range.

F.o.b. California quotations are on a basis of $4.50 to $4.75, usual terms, for standard car. Extra fancy packs are going as high as $5 per box.

Cash brokers report a good volume of business on a basis of $4.25 to $4.50 per box for desirable sizes.

Some authorities are inclined to reduce the February 1 estimate on avels a full thousand cars, which would leave 9000 cars navels to move as against 12,000 cars for the corresponding period last season.

The fruit is sizing up rapidly and will run heavy to the larger sizes.

Florida packing-houses are all working full crews. Growers are anxious to get the fruit marketed to safeguard against the dropping of the fruit, which the best authorities claim can no longer remain on the trees.

Sales of Florida oranges on the trees are reported at $1.75 per box.

LEMONS.

The market on California lemons is in splendid shape with a strong demand from all markets.

The influenza epidemic is increasing the demand for lemons by leaps and bounds and shippers are moving every available car.

F.o.b. California quotations are on a basis $5 per box for best grades.

Wanted, Some Soldiers.

When Uncle Sam adopts business methods, which he often does not, he gets results. Army and navy recruiting lagged, and the army and navy needed men, so the government has laid out a newspaper advertising campaign which sets forth attractively the advantages of military training and travel. Foremost artists and advertising men are employed, and modern methods used to put the message across. The results are already promising.

Branching Out.

A. W. Coote announces the prospective opening on March 1 of a branch office of his Los Angeles plant at Hollywood in the same building which houses the Citizens' National Bank branch. This concern also maintains offices with leased wire and continuous service at Long Beach.

National Honors.

V. J. North, resident manager for the Maryland Assurance Corporation, is cited in the company's magazine as honor man for the life insurance department of the Maryland on the basis of new insurance issued and paid for in 1919. The Los Angeles office finished second in the United States, just being nosed out of first place by Chattanooga, Tenn. It was an eyelash finish, the mountaineers shading the decision by only $29,000.

Railroad Revenues.

Railroad revenues in 1919 passed the $5,000,000,000 mark, a new high record, but the high cost of labor and materials ate up so large a part of the receipts that the net return on the total railroad investment fell to 2¾ per cent., also a new low record. Government loss on operation of railroads in 1918 was $215,000,000 and in 1919, $390,000,000, or total of $605,000,000 in two years.

Exchange Situation.

Persons who never before took any interest in, or even understood, foreign exchange are watching the present fluctuations of the market with keenest interest. Foreign exchange goes to the basis of our foreign trade and cannot be settled overnight. Secretary Houston of the Treasury Department has pointed out that it took twenty years after the Civil War before exchange became normal.

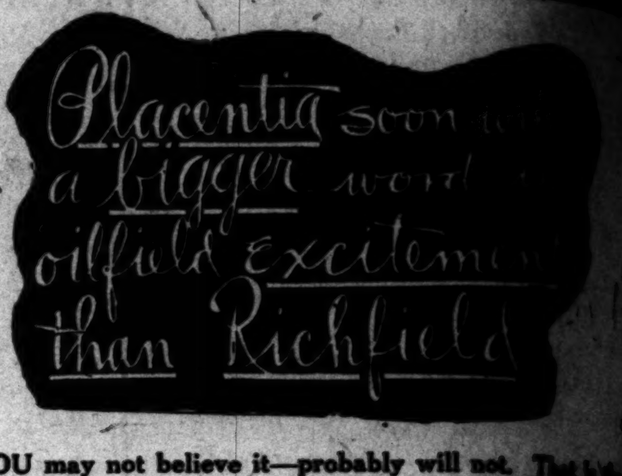
Handwriting of Prophe



YOU may not believe it—probably will not. That is the very reason we make our prophecy now, so that we may say, "We told you so" then.

When that day comes—and it's coming very fast—you will realize that our prophecy was based on common sense, sons and "real truth."

This is not intended as a reflection on Richfield, but is meant as a our overwhelming confidence in the "Placentia end" of the "gusher field," the "Richfield end."

We have leases at "both ends," so we are absolutely

Our Placentia leases are on the "gusher ridge," while our Richfield leases—like the leases of every other company that is offering stock for popular subscription—are "off the ridge."

Our prophecy is based on the theory that all "gushers" will be "brought in" "on the ridge."

We won't allow ourselves to remotely attempt to delude the uninformed public that we are looking for a "gusher" at Richfield, even though we have a far better right a future gusher than The truth is good enough for us.

We honestly believe that wells," which will pay their returns, will be brought in at the

Our two Richfield leases are field townsite, hence "inside" No. 1"—nearer the "gusher

The "logs" of wells now drilling are proving our prophecy

We are having our original theories fortified day by day, by wells now "on the sand" or drawing closer to them. When the investing public learns the full truth about their "logs," they will applaud our good faith for telling them this much of it. To say more might tives—to tell the "truth."

It is unfortunate that the have to do it.

Advice—buy your "Richfield Stock" in companies who have ridge." We have five leases divided between the two local can be impartial.

Moral—Our "dollar stock," covering all leases, is going fast. warn you to buy it while you can, before our prophecy" is proven by rapidly approaching events.

TRUE OIL COMPANY
715 Story Bldg. Phone 66874

A representative of our Company, just returned from the field, brings most gratifying news as to the actual condition of our Well No. 1.

He reports the showing of oil increasing and all the drillers in feverish excitement over the prospect of breaking through the cap-rock formation which the drill is now slowly penetrating.

Shareholders are advised to keep in close touch with our office. Write, call or phone.

E. E. PRIME, Secretary.
